"If a pilgrim is in doubt about the vocation of a gentleman whom he has met in a frontier town, and would apply a test sure to detect the most artful and deceptive rustler, he must utter the word syndicate while talking to him. And then listen to him lie. His eyes brighten at the word. He conjures up immense stacks of sacked gold. His voice quivers with excitement: he will talk till night of syndicates. Real estate is never bought by parties or by associations of persons. The Boston syndicate bought lots 3 to 9, inclusive, in block 2, Ball's addition, on which to build an opera house. The English syndicate, or the Wall street syndicate, or the French syndicate bought so few or so many lots on which to build a $1,000,000 hotel, 'with an elevator and electric lights.' One young man, whose hair was red and appearance foxy, told me that 'a Philadelphia syndicate bought that corner,' pointing a dirty index finger at a rocky, side-hill lot in Wartiner, Idaho, 'to build a dance-house on.' And he wondered why I laughed as I conjured up a group of obese Philadelphia Quakers building and running a dance-hall in a Rocky mountain mining camp.

Forgot to Hang Himself.

Among the early inhabitants of Buckfield was one Granville Maxim, a man of marked ability, but of very eccentric habits, says the Lewiston (Me.) Journal. He early manifested an ardent love of music, and for that day was said to have acquired a very thorough knowledge of its principles. He was an eminent composer, and author of many of the most popular melodies of that day, which are now known as continental, and by long and continued use have become so firmly established in the hearts of not only the people of this State, but throughout this union, as to render their author's name almost a household word.

In early life, as tradition tells us, he met with a serious disappointment in love. Tired of life and disgusted with the world, he one morning took a stout rope and wandered into the deep forest between the Ossi's head and Streaked mountain with the fixed purpose of putting an end to his existence. He continued his way until he came to a deserted logging camp, where he sat down to rest and think the matter over. On the old hovel sat a lone sparrow uttering her lament at the disturbing of her nest by some ruthless marauder. He sat for a long time listening to the plaintive song of the bereaved bird. At last he thought to leave some memento which might chance to meet the eye of his lady-love, and in some measure remind her of his sufferings.

Going to a birch tree he removed a piece of bark, on which he wrote the following lines:

As on some lonely building top
The sparrow tells her moan,
Far from the tents of joy and hope
I'll sit and grieve alone.

He then commenced to write a plaintive melody of most exquisite sweetness in the minor scale, justly befitting the language. When he had finished this he had become so interested in his work he began to affix the other parts, and his whole mind and energies seemed wrapped up in the work before him.

Evening had begun to cast its shadows over the valley ere his task was completed. When the whole was adjusted to his liking, his lively imagination, to his infinite delight, pictured the glorious harmony which must arise from his subject when performed by his competent choir. His love of life returned, and his idea of suicide vanished. Throwing his rope into the adjacent bushes he hastened homeward and became a very popular and useful man.

Mrs. Letitia Tyler Semple, a daughter of the late President Tyler, is almost totally blind, and is at present an inmate of the Louise Home, Washington, D. C. Mrs. Semple is a handsome, distinguished-looking woman, in manners and speech of the old school. Her profile is an exact reproduction of that of her famous father. Her finely cut features show no marks of age. Her snow-white hair is worn, according to the traditions of her youth, in soft curls about her shapely head. Mrs. Semple was the first woman to enter a hospital during the war as nurse.

SOME DOCTORS

honestly admit that they can't cure Rheumatism and Neuralgia. Others say they can but—don't. Athlophoros says nothing but—cures. That's the secret of its success. Years of trial have proved it to be a quick, safe, sure cure.

Concord, N. H., Sept. 5, 1887.

In my own family Athlophoros was used as a last resort, the user having suffered from rheumatism for years and having been treated for the disease by different physicians in this State and Massachusetts without even temporary relief. Upon my recommendation some of people have used this remedy with the same results claimed for it. C. H. WILSON.

Dubuque, Iowa, Jan. 5, 1888.

Athlophoros has completely cured me of nervous headaches, and I feel thankful for it. Mr. LORENZ OTTERBY.

INGALLS' MANDRAKE COMPOUND

Among the various organs of our system, none perform a more essential part than the Liver and Kidneys, and so many people are afflicted with diseases of these organs, causing the Blood to become impure, that it is our first duty to assist them in their work. This is done in a thorough manner by Ingalls' Mandrake Compound, which is purely Vegetable, and is worthy of a fair trial.

The mysterious origin of man has been partially disclosed by the Indianapolis Citizen, who found an infant in a tinpail at the top of a tree. It is to be remembered there is nothing mysterious about Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup; a few doses will cure your cough and cold.

The strike of French Canadian weavers in the Salmon Falls mill is practically unchanged. About half the looms are running, some of them under charge of new weavers, but the strikers are still out.

A Great Battle

Is continually going on in the human system. The demon of impure blood strives to gain victory over the constitution, to ruin health, to drag victims to the grave. A good reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla is the weapon with which to defend one's self, drive the desperate enemy from the field, and restore peace and bodily health for many years. Try this peculiar medicine.

Trouble Brewing.

A circular has been issued by the United States Brewers' Association from its headquarters announcing that its members will not renew any contracts with the brewery workingmen's unions. The association includes nearly all the breweries of this country, and a large share of the workmen are union men. The ale brewers have no contracts with their men, but the lager beer brewers nearly all have, and refuse now to renew their contracts, which expire on April 1st. The entire association is concerned, and resolved to act as a unit, claiming that they are not opposed to unions, and will not change the wages or working hours of the men, but will no longer submit to interference in their business rights by labor men.

For Easter Sunday.

BOSTON, March 30.—An important announcement is made this morning by the Globe. On next Sunday, April 1, the Boston Sunday Globe will contain three important articles explaining the significance of Easter Sunday, by Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore, Bishop Coxe of western New York and Rev. Dr. John Hall of New York. These articles will cause an enormous sale.

Saved by Their Imbecility.

This talk about shutting up shop and going out of business has a familiar sound. It was indulged in freely three or four years ago, as incidental to the success of the democracy, but the first concern has yet to be heard from that closed for that reason, and the country at large has rejoiced in a period of unsurpassed prosperity.—Manchester Union.

Yes, and that is because there has been no departure from the policy established by the republicans while they were in power. Not a promise which the democrats made during the late campaign has been fulfilled; not a threat has been carried out. The tariff and internal revenue laws, against which they inveighed so loudly, remain exactly as they were when Cleveland was inaugurated. Nowhere has there been an advance by so much as a hair's breadth towards revenue reform. Protection to home industries, as advocated by republicans, is still the law of the land.

A democratic president and house of representatives have failed totally and absolutely to force a democratic policy upon the country. For this reason and this only the shops which it was expected would be closed by democratic success are still open, and we are enjoying a period of "unsurpassed prosperity." We know of no stronger argument in favor of turning the rascals out than this. If republican policy is to rule it should be administered by republicans.—Manchester Mirror.

With the above statements of the case by the Mirror we entirely and unreservedly agree, and nobody on the face of the earth can dispute their perfect truth. What might have happened if we had had a democratic administration and a thoroughly democratic policy, it is not necessary to discuss or mention so long as we have had nothing of the kind.—Dover Democrat.

The State National bank of Raleigh, N. C., is in trouble, on account of the president and his friends having removed to Canada with between $250,000 and $350,000 of the assets. It was a family affair, and had $240,000 of deposits.

The schooner John H. Kranz, one of the vessels reported missing on the passage to Boston from Newport News, Va., has arrived at Savannah, Ga., in distress, having lost anchors and chains, broke foreboom and gaff, lost sails, and sprung a bad leak, in the gale of the 11th and 12th of March.

The schooner Ida E. Latham, a regular visitor to this port for a number of years past, was totally wrecked at Baiting Hollow, Long Island, in the gale of March 12th. She had been ashore there for some time, but was floated off by wreckers on the 11th, only to be driven on the rocks again a few hundred feet away next day.

The Easter cards this season present many new and handsome designs. The custom of sending flowers to friends on Easter Sunday is giving way to the newer custom of sending something as pretty as the flowers but more durable. An Easter card, presenting all the beauty of a bunch of flowers, makes an excellent substitute.

The York County Agricultural society has voted to give special cash premiums to raisers of corn, wheat, oats, barley and onions, as follows: For the best half acre of yellow corn, 1st, $5, 2d, $3; for the best half acre of wheat, 1st, $5; 2d, $3; for the best half acre of oats, 1st, $5, 2d, $3; for the best half acre of barley, 1st, $5, 2d, $3; for the best quarter acre of unions, 1st, $10, 2d, $5. One hundred and seventy-six prisoners were sent to the York county jail at Alfred last year, one hundred and eight of them being sentenced for drunkenness.

The buildings owned and occupied by Mrs. Mary A. Parker, about a mile outside of Saco, were burned March 27th, a little boy, a card of matches and a haymow supplying the necessary combination with which to start the fire. The furniture in the house was saved. Loss $700; insurance $300.

A lonesome looking hand-organ grinder tramped through the mud about town to-day. He ground out a few strains of "Carry me back to old Virginia" in front of a Main street store, and was struck square in the back by a snow slide. He shouldered his box and started for Saco without stopping to collect his fees. —Biddeford Times.

Want of Sleep

Is sending thousands annually to the insane asylum; and the doctors say this trouble is alarmingly on the increase. The usual remedies, while they may give temporary relief, are likely to do more harm than good. What is needed is an Alterative and Blood-purifier. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is incomparably the best. It corrects those disturbances in the circulation which cause sleeplessness, gives increased vitality, and restores the nervous system to a healthful condition.

Rev. T. G. A. Coté, agent of the Mass. Home Missionary Society, writes that his stomach was out of order, his sleep very often disturbed, and some impurity of the blood manifest; but that a perfect cure was obtained by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Frederick W. Pratt, 424 Washington street, Boston, writes: "My daughter was prostrated with nervous debility. Ayer's Sarsaparilla restored her to health."

William F. Bowker, Erie, Pa., was cured of nervousness and sleeplessness by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for about two months, during which time his weight increased over twenty pounds.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Combines, in a proportion peculiar to itself, the active medicinal properties of the best blood-purifying and strengthening remedies of the vegetable kingdom. It will positively cure—when in the power of medicine—Spring Debility, Headache, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Salt Rheum, Scrofula, and all Diseases caused by low state of the blood.

"I suffered three years with blood poison. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla, and think I am cured." MRS. M. J. DAVIS, Brockport, N. Y.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla beats all others, and is worth its weight in gold." I. BARRINGTON, 120 Bank Street, New York City.

Purifies the Blood

"I tried a dozen articles to cleanse my blood, but never found anything that did me any good till I began using Hood's Sarsaparilla." W. H. PEER, Rochester, N. Y.

"My wife was troubled with dizziness and constipation, and her blood has been in a bad order—in fact she has been all run down. Hood's Sarsaparilla is doing her a wonderful amount of good." F. M. BALDWIN, druggist, Blanchester, Ohio.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar.

Is so vastly superior to any other sarsaparilla or blood purifier, that one has well said: "Its health-giving effects upon the blood and entire human organism, are as much more positive than the remedies of a quarter or a century ago, as the steam-power of to-day is in advance of the slow and laborious drudgery of years ago."

"While suffering from a severe bilious attack in March, 1883, a friend in Peoria, Ill., recommended Hood's Sarsaparilla. I tried the remedy, and was permanently cured." J. A. SHEPARD, travelling agent for Devoe & Co., Fulton Street, N. Y.

"I was for five years a sufferer with boils, all run down, and was at one time obliged to give up work. Before taking all of two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, was entirely cured." R. M. LANE, Pittsburgh, Pa.

"I was severely afflicted with scrofula, and for over a year had two running sores on my neck. Took five bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and consider myself entirely cured." C. E. LOVEJOY, Lowell, Mass.

Municipal Affairs.

In Common Council, Thursday evening, March 29th, President Page in the chair:

The committee on bills on their second reading reported favorably on the ordinance in amendment of Section 24 of Chapter 17 of the Compiled Ordinances, recommending its passage; report accepted and recommendation adopted. [The amendment allows the use of firearms in the compact part of the city, on a written permit being given by the mayor and aldermen; it is aimed at English sparrows.]

The appropriation bill, as passed by the board of mayor and aldermen, was taken from the table, and amended as follows: Raise appropriation for county tax from $17,289.86 to $17,880.70; raise appropriation for schools (in addition to literary fund) from $18,000 to $22,000; reduce appropriation for school houses from $2,000 to $1,500. As thus amended the bill was passed, and sent up for concurrence.

Adjourned to the call of the president.

To-night.

Don't fail to attend the performance of the pleasing two-act comedy entitled "Box and Cox" by the Star Dramatic Club in Rechabite hall, this evening. Admission fifteen cents.

"The Grass Widow."

The story of "A Grass Widow," which is to be presented in Music hall next Monday evening by Charles T. Parsloe's comedy company, is as follows.

Septimus Ruffles is a wealthy old crank who has a hobby of collecting relics of the antique. His daughter Lillian is in love with Harry Tresham, who is somewhat of a scapegrace, and who has a most mischieveous valet named Wung Lung. Mrs. Letitia Barnes, a grass widow, whose husband long since wandered off into theosophy and became a mesmeric crank, and from whom she is seeking secretly a divorce, appears upon the scene, and Ruffles becomes smitten with her. A series of most ludicrous complexities then ensues. Through a misdelivery of missives by Wung Lung, Mrs. Barnes comes to believe that Tresham is enamored of her; Lillian believes her lover false; and old Ruffles, who knows nothing of his daughter's attachment, becomes jealous of Tresham, believing him to be a rival for the hand of the widow. Wung Lung, with a desire to throw Ruffles off the track of his master's attachment for Lillian, and ignorant of the old gentleman's aspirations for the hand of Mrs. Barnes, informs Ruffles that he has seen his master and the widow making love. The relic hunter is under the impression that if he can get a certain statue, of which he has heard, and present it to the widow, who is a great admirer of arts, it will prove a winning card in his race for the fair widow's hand. The owner of the statue, Erasmus Spook, then appears, and he proves to be the grass widow's husband. This creates a great sensation in the Ruffles household. Optimus Paw, a lawyer, turns up, and affairs are most happily straightened up. Tresham buys the statue and presents it to Ruffles, who abandons his affection for the widow, and gives his daughter to Harry. Spook, who is constantly going into a trance, is corralled by Wung Lung, and secured with a harness. Paw wins the widow eventually.

Mr. Parsloe, who takes the part of the dude Chinaman, Wung Lung, is the best Chinaman ever on the stage, and it is said there is not a dull line nor a dull character in the piece. Tickets on sale at Goodrich's to-day.

Ten minutes well directed work by the street department would remove the ice embargo from the much-used crossing between Exchange buildings and the post-office. The travellers could then find dry crossing. We wonder why this has not occurred to the Major.

Gorman's Spectacular Minstrels will be at Music hall on Friday evening next, April 6th.

Over one hundred Masonic brethren attended the meeting of St. John's Lodge, No. 1, A. F. & A. M., on Wednesday evening, March 28th, the occasion being the annual visit of the grand officers of the state. After the exemplification of the work they repaired to the banquet hall, where an hour was very pleasantly passed.

The snow and ice have disappeared very rapidly from our streets during the past week. Every day has been a "snow eater," and the legacy of the big storm is now only a memory.

An inspector of public buildings under the control of the treasury department has been in town this week. Collector Hanscom, custodian of the post-office building, pointed out the urgent need of repairs to the roof, which have long since been reported, as well as other needs of the building. Whether Sam. Randall will permit the democracy to expend money enough in the coming fiscal year to keep these buildings in decent repair is of course a matter of doubt.

The States & Union has been enlarged to eight pages of seven columns each.

The United States tug Fortune left the navy yard at ten o'clock A. M., March 29th, with a full cargo, for Washington via Boston, Newport, New York and Norfolk.

The U. S. S. Constellation, at the navy yard, was started into the dry dock about three o'clock P. M., March 29th, and was shoved about sixty feet by five o'clock, when work was suspended until this morning.

The schooner E. A. Creed, Capt Raymond, went to the Shoals on Thursday with a load of building sand.

The steamer Pinafore, Capt. Oscar Laighton, came in from the Shoals on Thursday. Capt. Laighton reported the water as very hubbly between here and the islands.

The schooner Henry S. Culver sailed from Baltimore for Portland on the 6th of March, and had not arrived there on the 28th, nor been heard from since sailing. Her loss with all hands is feared.

The schooner Peter H. Crowell, Olsen master, from Newport News for this port with coal, arrived at Boston on March 28th in distress, having had a very tempestuous passage, and been blown 250 miles off the coast. On March 12th, when ten miles off Shinnecock light, she was in the great storm, the wind blowing with hurricane force, splitting the jib, foresail and mainsail to ribbons, the seas sweeping over the vessel and carrying everything before them, and causing the schooner to strain badly. On the 14th the spanker boom and gaff were broken, two boats carried away, everything movable washed off deck, and the cabin flooded. The gale continued until the 16th, the schooner being hove to all the time under reefed spanker. From the 17th up to the time of anchoring in Vineyard Haven on the 19th, had moderate winds; and fair weather from there to Boston, where she arrived on the 28th, to procure new sails and repair damages. The schooner is not leaking.

Essential to Health.

The value of the phosphate of lime to the human system is everywhere acknowledged by the highest scientific authorities. This substance is found in wheat and other cereals, and constitutes the vital or nutritive element therein. Indeed, it may be truly said to be the essential and vitalizing constituent of all grains. If grains are deprived of their phosphates their life-sustaining properties are withdrawn in the same proportion. It is a well-known fact that fine white flour is deprived of a large portion of the phosphates in the process of bolting, and that such flour alone will not sustain life. It was a happy idea of Prof. Horsford to restore life-sustaining substances through the medium of baking powder, and his famous preparation has proved one of the most useful gifts which science has made to mankind. It contains the nutritious and strength-giving phosphates, and its use is positively beneficial to health. It makes biscuit, bread, gems, rolls and other articles that are far more light, white and wholesome, than it is possible to produce by any other process. The virtues posessed by this preparation should commend it to all careful and economical housekeepers. In a report on the relative value of the various baking powders, Prof. Charles A. Doremus, of the Bellevue Hospital Medical College says: "Unless a phosphate form one of the ingredients of a baking powder, there is no residue left of nutritive value."

THE VILLAGE BLACKSMITH.

Under a spreading chestnut tree
The village blacksmith stands,
And in a brimming basin he
Would wash his brawny hands;
But something else than water clean
His sooty palm demands.

Week in, week out, from morn till night,
He might have rubbed, I trow,
Had I not given him a cake
Of IVORY SOAP, when, lo!
Full soon those honest hands of his
Were spotless as the snow.

And when the soap escaped his grasp,
With wonder he did note
That on the water's surface dark
The cleansing bar did float,
As swims upon a turbid lake
A pearl white fairy boat.

"Thanks, thanks," said he, "my worthy friend,
For this which thou hast brought;
No village blacksmith should forget
The facts this Ivory Soap has taught;
For hands like mine it is the best
That can be found or bought."

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

Notice---Get Your Full Weight!

THIS CARD is intended to call the attention of every housekeeper in the city of Portsmouth and vicinity. The Spring Cleaning time is drawing near, when every housekeeper will have more or less domestic refuse, such as rags and old rubber, and all kinds of old paper stock, to dispose of; every one wants, and ought to have, the best prices of the market, and this can be assured by seeing John O'Brien or his man, as he is about sending out his carts on the different routes, and having made a contract with parties to take all his paper stock, he will be able to pay the best prices of any man outside of Boston. If you do not see O'Brien's teams, drop a postal card to "John O'Brien, No. 1 Holmes Court," and prompt attention will be paid to the same.

N. B. Beware of unprincipled men; they will call and weigh your rags, and give you about one-half of what they really weigh. My attention has been called to six different cases of late where parties got rags in that way and the housekeeper took them back again. Weigh all your rags, and catch the dishonest dealer. What I say to one I say to all—"Weigh your rags." Why should you sell your rags for ½ cent when you can get 1 cent per lb. for colored rags, 3½ cents for white, and 3 cents per lb. for your old rubbers. You can get these prices by seeing John O'Brien, cash or trade. If you should enter a grocery store and call for a bag of flour, and found it four or five pounds short, you would think that was not right; and why should you not have your weight in your bag of rags? I say to you again, weigh your rags, for me and for all.

Ten Per Cent.

A Madawaska clothing dealer in the last month of the last year took a business vacation trip to Portland, says the Lewiston (Me.) Journal, and dropped into one of the largest wholesale clothing houses in the city to purchase ready-made goods. He purchased goods to the amount of $239, and asked for credit. The Madawaska clothing man was a good-looking, fellow, and the Portland wholesaler trusted him. This week the Madawaska tailor came to Portland, paid his $239, bought $500 worth of clothing, and asked for time again. The proprietor called him into his private office and said:

"Five hundred dollars is quite a bill?"

"Yes."

"I thought it wouldn't be out of place to inquire a little into your financial standing, that's all."

"At what profit do you sell these goods in Madawaska?"

"Ten per cent."

"Of course you have to pay the freight on these goods, sell some of them on trust, and you find a poor customer once in a while?"

"O yes."

"I don't think the firm will be able to sell you goods unless you pay."

The Madowaska man stared at the Portland wholesaler and said; "I guess you don't reckon 10 per cent profit here in Portland the way we do in Madawaska. When I pay you $1 for an article Madawaska pays me $10 for it."

"Sell you? Well, I guess we'll sell you all the goods you want, my friend. I'd trust you soon as I would the Bank of England," concluded the wholesale dealer in trousers, dispatching a clerk to pack up the goods.

Mourning Rings.

"Did you ever see a mourning ring?" asked a Maiden Lane jeweler of a Mail and Express reporter yesterday. "Well, here is one."

It is a heavy gold band, perfectly plain and with a seal in the shape of a coffin. It has a glass face, through which can be seen a skeleton in gold. On the inside of the ring is the inscription in black enamel giving the initials of the deceased and the date of death.

"These designs were used over a century ago, and now they are to be revived as the latest fad. Some young widows who find it difficult to indicate their bereavement when indoors with hat and flowing veil removed, take advantage of the ring to announce to susceptible young men that they have returned to the matrimonial market. They need not look melancholy. A turn of the finger and the sad news is told."

"Do men use them?"

"Most assuredly. Widowers have no way of announcing their loss except by the band on their hats. With a mourning ring all embarrassing inquiries regarding the deceased wife may be avoided, and knowledge of the widower's restored eligibility quickly and neatly imparted.

You Can't Make a Samson

Out of an attenuated dude, with meagre legs, pigeon chest and a slight cough. But a man or woman whom constitutional vigor has been denied, can get it to a very considerable extent by the persistent use, in regularly proportioned, alternated doses, of America's chief tonic, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. To the nerves and muscles of the stomach that genial invigorant imparts tone, and to its operations regularity. The proximate result is thorough digestion and complete assimilation of the food, and the ultimate sequence, blood fertile with the elements of muscular tissue, a healthy appetite, nightly rest unimpared, and a disappearance of the nervous symptoms to which etiolated invalids are always subject, and which they are very prone to take for the manifestations of serious organic disease, and does accordingly. In diseases of the kidneys and bladder, always excessively weakening, and for constipation, fever and ague, and liver complaint, use the Bitters.

How Unpleasant

It is to see a beautiful child's face disfigured with vile humors, bursting through the skin in pimples, blotches, and sores, and sadder still, when the young and innocent are laughed at and twitted in all such cases. The Only Remedy
FOR Contagious Blood Poison.

Mr. D. B. Adams, Union, South Carolina, writes: "I was afflicted with a terrible case of blood poison for about thirteen months. I was treated by the best physicians, and used various kinds of remedies, but received no substantial relief. I finally tried the Swift Specific, and about four bottles cured me sound and well."

Col. R. H. Kieser, editor and proprietor of the Opelika, Ala., Times, under date of August 3, 1887, writes: "When I was a young man, through indiscretion, I contracted a disease which has stuck to me for years. Some five or six years since I was troubled with pains, so as to make it difficult for me to walk. Having advertised the S. S. S. in my paper for several years, I concluded I would try it to see if there was any efficacy in the medicine. I commenced using it according to directions and used half dozen bottles. I was then at a way station and, getting left, I walked the seven miles and have never felt any return of the old malady. After experiencing the good effects I must say I am satisfied with the remedy. I am sixty-eight years of age and I feel now like a young man and can go to the blood when necessary and set up from six to eight thousand cows without any inconvenience. I send you this without solicitation."

Mr. F. Woehl, 121 North Avenue, Chicago, under date of June 12, 1885, writes: "I deem it my duty to thank you for the cure I received from your excellent medicine. I contracted a very severe case of blood poisoning about two years ago. Hearing of your medicine, I went to a drug store, the proprietor of which persuaded me to buy a preparation of his own, which he said was a sure cure. I used six bottles of his stuff and grew worse all the time. At last I got disgusted and despaired of a cure. I met a friend who told me that your medicine had cured him. I went to the same druggist again and demanded your medicine. He reluctantly sold me twelve bottles, and I am now perfectly cured. I write this for the benefit of sufferers, to prevent their being deceived by false representations. I thank you again for the benefit derived from your medicine."

Dr. J. N. Cheney, a prominent physician, residing in Kilsville, Schley County, Georgia, in a letter recounting the infallible success he has in curing contagious blood poison cases in his extensive practice, writes: "Those who know the almost inevitable, permanently dangerous effects of mercury will welcome the discovery of S. S. S. as a boon to humanity. The medical profession, always wary of proprietary medicines, is coming slowly, and in some cases secretly, to the use of S. S. S. in cases of blood disorder. Of course a medicine that cures poisoning in the worst form must purify the blood of everything else."

A NIGHT VISIT.

We had gone up to spend a week, during the long, hot days of June, on one of the beautiful islands of a fine lake in Northern Maine. There was seven of us, including the cook, a bright, intelligent Nova Scotian, whom the ladies of the party "took to" at once, he was so attentive to their comfort.

There was a small cottage upon the island, in which these who desired lodged at night; but the days were spent out of doors, in the cool, swinging hammocks, listening to the soft lapping of the waves upon the little beach close at hand, or rowing lazily over the placid blue lake; sometimes fishing for pickerel or black bass, and sometimes shipping the oars and lying at ease in the shadows of the great sombre pines that lined the shores.

At evening we all gathered in the rustic chairs and benches on the piazza, or in the hammocks, and told stories for a time, the captain spinning his sea-yarns from Greenland to Southern India, the army surgeon giving his experience of the war, and the lively journalist his rather checkered adventures, both ludicrous and pathetic, in his peculiar line of business. Then the young teacher from the South contributed her share; the captain's wife, who was a fine violinist, gave us most excellent music; the scribe of the party cast in her mite; and then there was one night more to be enlivened, and we all fell upon the cook to furnish us entertainment.

After a good deal of protest and reluctance upon his part, and urging upon ours, he told us the following, well garnished with his Nova Scotian dialect, which, for the reader's benefit, we will translate into the "Queen's English:"

"I was a wild lad when twenty years of age, and was not content to stay at home and work with my father, who owned a farm not many miles from Truro, Nova Scotia; so I went to Halifax. From here, after some months of impecunious life, I shipped to Liverpool as assistant steward on one of the steamers, going back and forth for a couple of years; then, landing at Halifax after a particularly long and stormy voyage, I was nothing loth to join a couple of acquaintances who were going out to California to work for a wealthy gentleman, himself a native of Nova Scotia, who had purchased a sheep ranch in the Southern part of the State, and had an evident partiality for and high estimate of the sturdy and faithful character of his countrymen.

"The sheep range was in the San Joaquin valley, reaching out from the river far into the foothills of the Coast Range. The herd consisted of about twenty thousand sheep, divided up into flocks or 'bands,' as they are there called, of from eight to ten hundred, each band being under the charge of a competent shepherd.

"The twenty thousand sheep are scattered over a large area of territory, but each band has its own range and is kept there by the shepherd as long as there is sufficient grazing.

"When it requires removal, then the major domo (or master) sees that new pasturage is selected, and helps conduct the band thither. It is also his business to see that the shepherds are faithful; that corrals are in good condition; know when the sheep need new pasturage, and to deal out the rations to the shepherds—a round of duties which would give one man no spare time, I assure you.

"Upon each 'run' there is a strong corral, made of brush, and sometimes a stockade of posts besides, if in a dangerous vicinity. Into this sheep all have to be driven at night for protection against wild beasts, for the California lion, the coyote and the wildcat commit great depredations at times among the bands.

"There were grizzlies, too, in the mountains, but they are said not to trouble the sheep. But, one night, about six months after my starting out in the business, I had a very loud call from one. Whether he had been attracted by the sheep, or by more civilized fare, I can't say; but I had an idea at the time that he had been skirmishing about within smelling distance, and had been attracted by the scent of some newly-killed mutton—a shepherd is allowed a sheep once in three weeks for his meat—which I had hung up in an oak tree near my sleeping-place.

"The range that my band was grazing was up toward the foothills, and for my protection against attack the major domo had erected for me a tablado—a kind of platform ten or twelve feet high, built upon stout posts set firmly into the ground—to sleep upon nights. Some of the shepherds had huts, but during the hot dry season I preferred the platform, as safer and cooler.

"Here I not only slept, but ate my meals morning and night, and 'kept house' generally, building my fire for cooking off at a little distance. Up here, too, I kept my week's provisions of corn meal, bacon and other supplies the ration-master brought out from the home station once a week to all the shepherds; also my trusty rifle, with plenty of ammunition.

"To mount it I had a short ladder which, when drawn up, I felt quite secure.

"But nobody can describe the loneliness of the life of a shepherd. All day long he must wander about with his sheep, keeping them in sight, yet being careful to not herd them too closely together, with not even a dog to speak to. One gets to holding converse with a sheep even. There was one old ewe that I came to have quite a regard and affection for, she was so intelligent and docile. She would feed about me all day, never getting off far, and, when tired, would lie down somewhere near me, and chew her cud with great content. I used to call her Aunt Peggy, from an old dame in Nova Scotia whose cast of countenance I whimsically imagined the sheep's face resembled.

"But for all the days were so lonely, the nights were at first almost unbearable—miles away from any human being, and with only the wild howl of the coyote, the wildcat's scream, and sometimes the lonely cry of the mountain lion to lull one to sleep.

"Sometimes the sheep were restless and would bleat half the night, making such a din that there was no sleep for any one.

"Once a mountain-lion, which are rather cowardly creatures, after all, came about the corral.

"The sheep at once detected its presence, and stamped their feet and puffed as if in great terror. It was some time before I discovered it, creeping up from some scrub cottonwoods down by a stream at which the sheep drank night and morning.

"It was a moonlight night, and as it drew nearer I slipped a cartridge into my rifle, and made ready to defend my little citadel and the sheep under my charge.

"I wasn't sure at first which he intended to attack, for almost all wild animals, however fierce, dislike to venture inside an inclosure, even if the fence is quite low.

"But in a few minutes his determination to sup off mutton was evident. He crept along stealthily—a few yards at a time, like a cat watching a bird in the grass, and his long tail switched nervously from side to side—nearer and nearer.

"At length he reached a knoll not far from the corral fence. He raised himself for a moment to scan the surroundings before springing upon it, and I felt that was my time.

"Aiming my rifle as steadily as I could, I sent the heavy charge singing toward the enemy. With a scream that rang far and wide, the brute leaped into the air, then fell back on to the knoll.

"I thought I had made sure of him, and I was about to descend to have a nearer view, when the lion recovered and began making off toward the cottonwoods, snarling and growling.

"I didn't want him to get away, and running out a little way, fired again, but without effect, I think, for it didn't stop him, and he disappeared in the brush a moment later.

"He did not come back, and the next morning, when taking the band out to the range, I came upon the lion, dead, down by the stream. My first shot had probably given him his death."

"But about the grizzly?" interrupted the captain.

"Oh, yes," said the cook. "It was two or three months after I had the visit from the lion that the grizzly paid me a call. It was a cold night, about the middle of November, the time when the winter rains set in.

"I had about concluded that my tablado was a little open for the weather, and the next time the major domo came out I intended to order me a hut, such as most of the other shepherds had.

"It was rainy, yet not dark, for it was the time of the full moon. I had sewed together the skins of the sheep I had killed for mutton, and had them stretched for protection—such as it was—above my bed-place. Beneath this I had crawled and listened to the lonely howls of the coyotes till I had dropped asleep.

"Along in the night I was awakened suddenly by the tramp, tramp of heavy feet about the tabblado.

"For a moment I thought that the sheep had got out of the corral, and I sprang up to see; but instead of the white coats of my flock, I descried a big beast reconnoitering leisurely about my bed-chamber, and considering whether it was best to mount it.

"I was horrified, for I knew at once that it was a grizzly come down out of he mountains.

"I seized my rifle, which, for some unaccountable reason, I had gone to bed without loading, and feeling out my cartridge-box, quickly slipped in a charge. I peered over the edge, when lo! the brute, hearing my movements, was staring at me full in the face a few feet below.

"Taking careful aim down at him, I pulled the trigger, but, to my consternation, the rifle would not go off. Frantically, I pulled and tugged, but with the same result. It had rained in the night pretty hard, and the water had run down into the box of cartridges.

"Well, there I was, like a turkey roosting on a fence, with a fox within reach. The old fellow, after eyeing me awhile and growling ominously, began to claw into the posts which held up the tablado.

"I had now no doubt as to his intentions. He was coming up—if he could—to look me over. But I rather thought he couldn't get up.

"I hastily selected another cartridge, withdrawing the first; but this, too, was of no good. I tried another and another, and could hear the bear's claws tearing into the posts, trying to get good hold, for they were too small to climb—at least, that was the intention of the builder.

"At last one of the cartridges proved dry, but, in my excitement, I only grazed the animal, sending him into a terrible rage, and he began clawing in dead earnest.

"I tried another cartridge, but, like the first, it was wet, and, disgusted, I began hunting about the tablado for something to ward off the terrible beast supposing he could get up to me.

"My hunting-knife I always carried, which could be used at close quarters, and my big frying-pan, thick and strong, was by no means a weapon to be despised. I got that handy.

"The sheep were tearing about the corral, and I cannot understand why the bear did not attack them instead of me, unless it is true that wild animals are suspicious of a fence.

"The bear, by standing upon his hind legs, could stretch more than half-way to the top of the tablado. I stamped my feet, and shooed down at him. But this only enraged him the more, and, with harsh growls, he seized upon one of the posts, and by dint of much slipping and scratching, got up sufficiently to reach one big paw over the edge of the floor.

"His eyes glared up at me savagely, and I've no need to say that my hunting-knife was used for all it was worth—and that was a good deal in such an emergency.

"Then I seized the frying-pan in one hand, and between thrusts madly belabored the great foot, which still hung to the tablado.

"The onset was so sudden and fierce that with a deep, gruff howl the grizzly, whose hold upon the post was insecure at best, now dropped to the ground, and sat there a minute on his haunches, his mouth open, panting.

"Then, seeming to hate to give up the game, he made another trial, and in spite of me, this time got both feet over the edge.

"I was desperate, and with redoubled efforts, thrust my knife at the creature's neck, and whacked first one and then the other of the great paws, bringing the solid pan down with all my might, and not only across his feet, but square across his nose.

"Clinging with one powerful paw, he would make a sweeping cuff with the other, and once tore through my trowsers-leg a long rent.

"At last, with one tremendous thump, the handle of the frying-pan broke short off and the pan went whirling off over the ground. One of my weapons, and a very good one, was gone.

"But I hoped the bear could not hold on long enough, in the face of assault, to get up, and with courage I kept thrusting deep at his neck and hairy paws.

"Brain could not stand that a great while, and to my unspeakable relief he again dropped to the ground.

"This time he made no further attempt to scale the tabblado, but took a bee-line for the stream, grumbling hoarsely as he went.

"Next morning showed the tabblado bespattered with blood, two whole nails still clung into the boards, and several pieces of flesh and tufts of hair showed the struggle to have been a rough one. And on going out, his course was plainly marked by a sanguinary track, testifying to the good execution of the keen knife-thrusts.

"I was not disturbed again.

"Two days after, the major domo came out. I had scarcely got over my scare, and I let him know in plain English what I thought of his building and his ideas of a grizzly's climbing abilities, and demanded to be at once removed from the dangerous locality.

"He did not demur, and my band was taken farther away from the foothills."—Golden Days.

A Southern Soldier's Wounds.

A very remarkable application for allowance under the wounded-soldier act has been sent to the executive department. The applicant is Mr. S. A. Gade of Richmond county, who during the war was a private in Company E, Cobb's legion. The man was literally shot to pieces and has lived through all these years and now applies for a pension. Here is an inventory of his wounds: A minie ball entered his right leg, cutting the sciatic nerve and paralyzing the limb below the knee. A fragment of shell struck him on the right arm near the elbow, breaking the bone and destroying the joint. A minie ball entered the muscles of the right arm, tearing them apart. A fragment of shell hit him on the left leg below the knee, crushing the small bone and scaling off several parts of the main bone three inches in length. A minie ball passed entirely through the left leg below the knee. Another minie ball passed through the center of the left hand shattering the bones and breaking the joint of the middle finger, rendering disabling the hand. Besides all this he was struck in the right side with two fragments from a shell, making two distinct wounds. The application has not yet been passed on. When it shall be the probability is that Mr. Gade will get several pensions for limbs rendered substantially useless. This variously wounded man is in fair health and seems to enjoy life.—Atlanta Constitution.

The Temperate Zone of Alaska.

A correspondent writing from Juneau, the metropolis of Alaska, insists that the climate there is not cold. On the day he wrote the temperature there was about 60 degrees warmer than at many places in our northern territories. He says:

There is a great difference in point of climate between the northern portions of the two coasts. On this side, while there is snow, and a good deal of it, in the winter months, there is more rain than snow. While in Greenland, or even off the banks, at this time of the year, the thermometer would be several degrees below zero, here it is only 20 above, and averages about 25 degrees throughout the winter. The lowest it has been this year is 14 degrees, and it seldom in these latitudes touches a lower point than that, though at times it does go to zero. Throughout the summer the average is about 60 degrees, making, if it were not for the incessant rain and drizzle and mist, a very temperate climate when one considers how far north it is.

OH! MY HEAD.

The pain from Neuralgia and its companion disease Rheumatism is excruciating. Thousands who could be quickly cured are needlessly suffering. Athlophoros will do for others what it did for the following parties:

Williamsport, Ind., Oct. 2, 1887.

Having been afflicted with neuralgia for the past four years, and trying almost everything, but in vain, I finally heard of Athlophoros. After taking one bottle I found it to be helping me, and after taking four bottles of Athlophoros and one of Pills, I found that I was entirely well. I think the medicine is positively a sure cure.

CHAUNCEY B. REDDICK.

Mt. Carmel, Ill., Dec. 28, 1887.

I have used Athlophoros in my family and find it to be the greatest medicine for neuralgia in existence and having had its benefits lastened upon me for the past 8 years I know whereof I speak. MRS. JULIA CHILTON.

ADAMSON'S

BOTANIC COUGH BALSAM

More than twenty years ago Adamson's Botanic Balsam was introduced generally throughout New England as a remedy for Coughs, Colds and Pulmonary complaints. Since its introduction it has constantly won its way into public favor, until now it is the universal decision that ADAMSON'S BOTANIC BALSAM is the best remedy for curing Coughs, Colds and Asthma.

DEATH TO PAIN.

Proctor the astronomer has been predicting the world would go to smash this year, but this should not deter people from keeping on hand Dr Bull's Cough Syrup, the great household remedy for coughs and colds.

The Exeter News Letter has been purchased by John Templeton, for many years the foreman in its composing room.

A Great Battle

Is continually going on in the human system. The demon of impure blood strives to gain victory over the constitution, to ruin health, to drag victims to the grave. A good reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla is the weapon with which to defend one's self, drive the desperate enemy from the field, and restore peace and bodily health for many years. Try this peculiar medicine.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

FRIDAY, MARCH 30. 1888.

☞ Copies of the GAZETTE and of the DAILY CHRONICLE can be had of Moses Brothers, a their Newspaper Store in Congress Block.

Terrible Disaster.

By an explosion in a coal mine at Rich Hill, Mo., March 29th, twenty or thirty men were killed, and many others imprisoned. The superintendent and others worked nobly to save the entombed men, and succeeded in saving fifteen, when a second explosion took place, killing many more. The total number of bodies recovered on the 30th was said to be forty-five, and many others were still in the shaft, and hoped to be alive.

Bad Advice Closely Followed.

In Carlinville, Ill., March 27th, the twelve-years-old adopted son of John Dietz, who was murdered by William Wineland last fall, avenged the death of his father. Dietz on his dying bed told the boy never to rest until he killed Wineland. Meeting Wineland in the street the youngster coolly drew a revolver and shot him in the side, inflicting a fatal wound. The boy is in jail. He is cool and self-possessed, and acknowledges that he shot Wineland because Dietz told him to do so.

A Slight Change in the Wording.

They are telling a good story about Hon. Hannibal Hamlin. He attended a Grand Army campfire and entertainment at Portland, and in his remarks spoke of the great progress in science in his day, and much about the telephone, "which puts us in communication with those we love a hundred miles away. If I were in communication with my good wife at the present moment I should hear her saying, 'Hannibal, be careful and not catch cold.'" An hour afterward, when his speech had been forgotten, and he sat surrounded by a throng of young girls who were begging him for his autograph, Past Commander Sawyer rapped for order, and said: "Ladies and gentlemen, we have received a telephone message from Bangor. It says, 'Hannibal, don't flirt with the girls.'" The Maine statesman was far once at a loss for a reply. The message, they said, actually came from his wife.

Newspapers in 1888.

From the edition of Geo. P. Rowell & Co's "American Newspaper Directory," published April 2d (its twentieth year), it appears that the Newspapers and Periodicals of all kinds issued in the United States and Canada now number 16,310, showing a gain of 890 during the last twelve months, and of 7,136 in ten years. The publishers of the Directory assert that the impression that when the proprietor of a newpaper undertakes to state what has been his exact circulation, he does not generally tell the truth, is an erroneous one; and they conspicuously offer a reward of $100 for every instance in their book for this year, where it can be shown that the detailed report received from a publisher was untrue.

The "Great Rock Island Cook Book."

Orders for this popular work will hereafter be promptly filled. The delay, of which some recent subscribers have had cause to complain, was due to the fact that the first edition of the revised issue (for 1888) was exhausted much sooner than anticipated. Another large edition, however, has been printed and is now ready for delivery. Copies mailed, postpaid, at ten cents (for postage) in stamps or coin. Address, E. A. HOLBROOK, Gen. Ticket and Passenger Agent, Chicago.

Also, copies of the famous scientific series of Christmas Annuals, dedicated to the Boys and Girls of America—"Watt Stephens," "Voltagal," "Petroleum and Natural Gas," and "Coal and Coke"—at ten cents each.

What Constitutes a Family Medicine?

A preparation which is adapted to the relief and cure of ailments to which members of a household are most subject, and which is not only alleged to do this, but has long and unfailingly proved its ability to do it, assuredly deserves the title of a reliable Family Medicine. Among time-honored preparations, which experience and the sanction of the medical profession indicate as deserving of popular regard and confidence, is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a medicine adapted to eradication of dyspepsia, constipation and billiousness, the three most frequently occurring ailments that vex mankind. Derived from a botanic parentage, it is efficient as well as pure and wholesome. It relieves nervous disquietude and inactivity of the kidneys, and counteracts a tendency to rheumatism. For renewing flagging strength and imparting appetite it can be implicitly relied upon. Fever and ague, rheumatism and debility are remedied by it.

Maritime Notes.

The work of putting the Constellation into the dry dock at the navy yard was finished on Friday.

The schooner Hattie Lewis was laid on the beach at Noble's island on Friday, to have her bottom cleaned. The D. K. Ham, which also laid up for the winter inside the Noble's island bridge, hauled out through the draw on Friday, in readiness to commence running in the brick-carrying trade on Monday.

The schooner Peter H. Crowell, which put into Boston in distress on March 28th, arrived at this port on Friday, the 30th, in tow of tug Wm. H. Clark of Boston, with 783 tons coal to J. Albert Walker.

The schooner Benjamin Oliver, Capt. Grove, sailed from Provincetown on Thursday, March 29th, for Tangier sound, Virginia, to load with oysters for W. Freeman.

The Coburn Shuttle Co.'s mill in Lowell, Mass., was burned March 30th; loss $200,000.

The First Symptoms

Of all Lung diseases are much the same: feverishness, loss of appetite, sore throat, pains in the chest and back, headache, etc. In a few days you may be well, or, on the other hand, you may be down with Pneumonia or "galloping Consumption." Run no risks, but begin immediately to take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Several years ago, James Birchard, of Darien, Conn., was severely ill. The doctors said he was in Consumption, and that they could do nothing for him, but advised him, as a last resort, to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking this medicine, two or three months, he was pronounced a well man. His health remains good to the present day.

J. S. Bradley, Maldon, Mass., writes: "Three winters ago I took a severe cold, which rapidly developed into Bronchitis and Consumption. I was so weak that I could not sit up, was much emaciated, and coughed incessantly. I consulted several doctors, but they were powerless, and all agreed that I was in Consumption. At last, a friend brought me a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. From the first dose, I found relief. Two bottles cured me, and my health has since been perfect."

The supreme court of New Hampshire has decided that an illegitimate child is as much heir to his mother as one legitimate. This is right as far as it goes. Now, says the Newburyport Herald, let the courts of Massachusetts declare that he is equally the heir of his father, when the fact of the fatherhood has been established. It certainly is no crime in the child to be illegitimate, and no person should be punished for the crime of his parents.

Are the best months in which to purify your blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best blood purifier.

At no other season does the human system so much need the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla, as now. The impoverished condition of the blood, the weakening effects of the long, cold winter, the lost appetite, and that tired feeling, all make a good spring medicine absolutely necessary. Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiarly adapted for this purpose, and increases in popularity every year. It is the ideal spring medicine.

"I must say Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine I ever used. Last spring I had no appetite, and the least work I did fatigued me ever so much. I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon felt that I could do as much in a day as I had formerly done in a week. My appetite is voracious." MRS. M. V. BAYARD, Atlantic City, N. J.

N. B. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to buy any other.

Were all wise enough to heed this advice in season, a world of suffering would be avoided. If you suffer from impure blood, scrofula, dyspepsia, biliousness, headache, take

To-night the directors will choose president, secretary and treasurer of the assotion.

Going North.

"One swallow does not make a summer," but the northward flight of the wild geese is one of the surest indications of the near approach of spring. A large flock of these birds passed over Market square, going in the direction of Great bay and flying very low, at half-past one o'clock this morning.

Attention! G. A. R.

The funeral of our late Comrade, Joseph J. Seavey, will take place from the Church at Rye Centre on Sunday, April 1st, at one o'clock P. M. G. A. R. services, by request of the deceased. All comrades who can are requested to assemble in G. A. R. hall, Sunday at 11 o'clock A. M., sharp, in order that their number may be ascertained and transportation provided for all.

ABEL JACKSON, Com. Post 1.

Police Court—Batchelder J.

FRIDAY, March 30th.

Fanny Hawthorne, drunk, $3 fine, $5.76 costs. If not paid, Brentwood in default. Miss Hawthorne is said to be the manager of a "new found out" on Water street.

Death of Joseph J. Seavey.

Joseph J. Seavey, an honored member of Storer Post, G. A. R., died last Thursday morning at his home in Rye, after a long and painful illness of chronic pleurisy. He enlisted August 5th, 1861, at Gloucester, Mass., as a private in Company F, 19th Mass. Regt., for three years. He re-enlisted Dec. 20th, 1863, in the same company, and was discharged June 30th, 1865, serving three years, ten months and twenty-five days. Mr. Seavey was born in this city, but has lived in Rye many years. He joined Storer Post on Jan. 31st, 1882. His age was about sixty years. Funeral services will be held at his late residence in Rye on Sunday afternoon at one o'clock, under the management of Storer Post.

More Liquor Raids in Dover.

Wednesday night, March 28th, the Dover police descended on the Hawthorne house, Railroad house, Kimball house and United States hotel, armed with search and seizure warrants, finding beer at the Hawthorne house and Railroad house, but nothing at the other two.

Later the officers searched David Mahoney's place on a warrant sworn out by a woman who said her husband had been drunk there all day, and beer was found and seized.

In the afternoon the house of Frank P. Hussey was searched, and three kegs of spirits found and seized, it being charged that Hussey's pool room was supplied with liquor from these kegs.

Easter Services.

Eucharistic Hymn, Hodges.
Gloria in Excelsis, Buck.
Nunc Dimittis, Warren.

The quartette will be assisted by the Choir Chapter of young ladies.

Programme of services at the North church, Easter Sunday:

Organ voluntary.
Responsive chant, arranged by Dr. E. B. Goodall.
Hymn, "Come, every pious heart," congregation.
Responsive reading, "The Resurrection."
Gloria, "Glory to God."
Veni, "Come, holy spirit," trio.
Credo, "Blessed be the Lord God of Israel."
Et. Resurrexit, "Be thou exalted."
Responsive reading, "Our risen Lord."
Com Sancto, "Oh, that men would praise the Lord."
Ecce Panio, "Quicken me, O! Lord."
Sanctus, "Holy Lord God of Sabbath."
Agnus Dei, "Save, O! Lord."
O Salutaris, "Shine on me, O! Lord."
Tantum Ergo, "Lord divine."
Hymn, "All hail the power of Jesus' name," congregation and choir.

Seemed Too Risky.

In Dover, last Thursday, Daniel Mahoney was fined $10 and costs, total $16.76, for keeping beer for sale. He appealed, and offered two men to go bonds for him. The clerk of the court informed the proposed sureties that if Mahoney sold another drop of liquor between now and next September, that they would forfeit their bonds. The Democrat says: "Such a look as went over the men was never seen before. They looked at each other in blank amazement, and refused to be come responsible. Mahoney then had to pay up."

Alonzo Place and Jacob H. Twombly, charged with the same offence, each pleaded nolo contendere, and paid $16.-76 each, making $50.28 paid by the three.

Michael R. Kennedy was brought into court on a charge of selling liquor, a young woman named Mattie Walton having sworn she bought of him the liquor on which she [got drunk. He asked the court to continue the case a day, saying he thought he would go out of the business. A continuance was granted.

Dover, which last year was slightly demented over base ball—quite considerably so until the Dover club secured a mortgage on the tail-enders' place—is now less enthusiastic in the matter than Portsmouth. Three meetings of the base-ball stockholders have been called within a short time, but the stockholders have not attended any of them.

The ice in the millponds is rapidly breaking up.

Massasoit Lodge, Improved Order of Red Men, was instituted and its officers installed on Friday evening by Grand Sachem Charles C. Bruce of Dover. The officers of the new tribe have already been named by us. The tribe starts out with over 200 braves.

A rumor was current on Friday that Mr. Joseph R. Holmes, ex-commissioner of streets, who has been sick for some time, was dead. The rumor was probably caused by the death of Mr. Joseph A. Holmes of Greenland, notice of which can be found in another place in this paper. We are pleased to be able to say that Mr. Joseph R. Holmes is improving in health, and will shortly be able to attend to bnsinees.

The "silent manual" in military parlance means the execution of the manual of arms without verbal orders. It is considered specially difficult by regular troops and crack organizations, and was a feature of great excellence in the drill of our old Heavy Artillery. The Cadets at their picnic on the evenings of April 4th and 5th, will not only attempt it, but successfully perform it.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO. 106 Wall street, NEW YORK.

Personal.

Misses Alice and Edith Sheldon of Richards avenue, and Lizzie and Annie Foster of Pleasant street, went to Boston on Friday for a brief stay.

Mrs. Henry M. Putney, wife of Railroad Commissioner Putney, of Manchester, and daughters, were in this city on Friday, visiting friends.

Mr. John Salter of Brooklyn, N. Y., is visiting his sister, Miss Carrie Salter of Court street.

Mr. J. Foster Shores, who has been in business in New Jersey for the past year, was in this city, his native place, on Friday. He proposes to open an office in Boston shortly.

Mr. B. F. Webster lost a valuable horse a few days ago, by lung fever. He had owned the animal thirteen years.

Gallery tickets for "The Cadets' Picnic" will be sold for twenty-five cents each, and can be obtained at the door only. Admission to the lower part of the theatre has been placed at fifty cents. The reserved seat sale commences this morning at nine o'clock, at Preston's pharmacy.

Eastertide.

The following is the order of services in St. John's and Christ churches during Eastertide:

Saturday, March 31st (Easter Even:) 10:30 A. M., service in St. John's church; 5:00 P. M., evening prayer in Christ church.

Easter Day, Sunday, April 1st: 10:30 A. M., service, address, holy communion, offertory for diocesan missions, in St. John's church; 3:30 P. M., Sunday school celebration in St. John's church, Easter offerings by the two schools; 7:30 P. M., evening prayer, with sermon, music by full choir, in Christ church.

BETTER AND CHEAPER

— THAN —

Cream of Tartar.

Horsford's

BREAD PREPARATION.

A TRUE COMPARISON OF THE NATURE AND RESULTS OF THEIR USE.

Cream of tartar is a bi-tartrate of potash. It is not a constituent of the grains, is not a nutritive principle, and often disagrees with the system.	Horsford's preparation is a simple phosphate, contains nothing but what is found in beef, corn, and wheat, and is highly nutritious.
Cream of tartar makes bread and biscuits which are dry and tasteless when cold.	Horsford's preparation produces bread and biscuits that are sweet and moistwhen cold.
Cream of tartar requires considerable shortening.	Horsford's preparation does not.
Cream of tartar supplies nothing which the system requires.	Horsford's preparation supplies to the system what it constantly demands, the phosphates.
Cream of tartar retards digestion.	Horsford's preparation assists digestion, and makes biscuits that dyspeptics, even, can eat hot.
Cream of tartar is condemned by many physicians.	Horsford's preparation is commended by the highest medical authorities.
Cream of tartar varies in strength, and is often adulterated.	Horsford's Bread Preparation is of uniform strength and quality, and always pure.

Paine's Celery Compound

CURES Nervous Prostration, Nervous Headache, Neuralgia, Nervous Weakness, Stomach and Liver Diseases, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, and all affections of the Kidneys.

WEAK NERVES

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND is a Nerve Tonic which never fails. Containing Celery and Coca, those wonderful nerve stimulants, it speedily cures all nervous disorders.

RHEUMATISM

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND purifies the blood. It drives out the lactic acid, which causes Rheumatism, and restores the blood-making organs to a healthy condition. It is the true remedy for Rheumatism.

KIDNEY COMPLAINTS

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND quickly restores the liver and kidneys to perfect health. This curative power, combined with its nerve tonics, makes it the best remedy for all Kidney complaints.

DYSPEPSIA

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND strengthens the stomach, and quiets the nerves of the digestive organs. This is why it cures even the worse cases of Dyspepsia.

CONSTIPATION

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND is not a cathartic. It is a laxative, giving easy and natural action to the bowels. Regularly surely follows its use.

You Can't Make a Samson

Out of an attenuated dude, with meagre legs, pigeon chest and a slight cough. But a man or woman whom constitutional vigor has been denied, can get it to a very considerable extent by the persistent use, in regularly proportioned, alternated doses, of America's chief tonic, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. To the nerves and muscles of the stomach that genial invigorant imparts tone, and to its operations regularity. The proximate result is thorough digestion and complete assimilation of the food, and the ultimate sequence, blood fertile with the elements of muscular tissue, a healthy appetite, nightly rest unimpared, and a disappearance of the nervous symptoms to which etiolated invalids are always subject, and which they are very prone to take for the manifestations of serious organic disease, and does accordingly. In diseases of the kidneys and bladder, also in excessive nervous weakening, and for constipation, fever and ague, and liver complaint, use the Bitters.

How Unpleasant

It is to see a beautiful child's face disfigured with vile humors, bursting through the skin in pimples, blotches, and sores, and sadder still, when the young and innocent are laughed at and twitted in all such cases. Parents should give them that good and pure remedy, Sulpher Bitters, which will search and drive out of the blood every particle of humor.—Health Gazette.

When I began using Ely's Cream Balm my catarrh was so bad I had the headache the whole time and discharged a large amount of filthy matter. That has almost entirely disappeared and I have not had the headache since.—J. H. Sommers, Stephney, Conn.

I thank God that you ever invented such a medicine for catarrh. I have suffered for five years so I could not lie down for weeks at a time. Since I have been using Ely's Cream Balm I can rest. Frank P. Burleigh, Farmington, N. H.

Recorder Smith of New York, in the court of general sessions on Thursday, March 29th, made public a letter he had received which was marked "Personal." The letter said that when a decision favorable to Mr. Jay Gould should be rendered, $250,000 in $1000 bills would be left at the recorder's residence. There was no signature to the letter. Recorder Smyth said that he had no comments to make, and that none seemed to be necessary.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

"A GREEN OLD AGE."

Few Men or Women Reach It, But Nearly All Might—The Remarkable Experience of an Octogenarian.

"There is only one thing I dread," said the late Charles Sumner, "and that is the coming on of old age."

Mr. Sumner was a brave man, and could face danger unflinchingly but to watch the hairs whiten, the lines of pain and care grow deep in the face, to feel the strength and activity going and death coming on, were more than he could bear. Alas! how many others feel the same today. Pains, loss of sleep, weakness, poor appetite, and feebleness, all break the spirit! Have you never heard of Mr. Nathan Chase, of New Bedford, Mass.? A man nearly four-score years old, and hale and hearty as in youth. And yet he was supposed to be dying of heart trouble less than two years ago. Here is what he says:

"A year ago or more I began to lose flesh and strength. I sent for my physician to know the cause. He examined me, and said it was my heart; that the old machinery was wearing out, and I must be careful. Still I grew worse. Finally I got so bad I could scarcely breathe; I could not lie in bed but had to sit up all night with possibly one hour's sleep out of twenty-four. And yet to-day, I am in fine condition; can go up three flights of stairs without inconvenience, and feel as well and about as young as ever in my life before. What accomplished this? Hunt's Remedy—nothing else. It has made a new man of me, and I bless God for it every day."

Such an experience should be a valuable lesson to all readers, both old and young. It shows that a long and happy life is possible. It shows that men or women need not despond. It shows that by care and the use of the right remedy health, happiness and long life may be secured by all.

Negroes Worth Millions.

When the New York papers a few days ago referred to N. W. Cooney as being the wealthiest colored man in Texas they had evidently not heard of the Lincoln family, now residing in Dallas, six children in all, who have come into possession of $48,000,000, giving them the snug little fortune of $8,000,000 apiece.

One of the heirs to this immense property is at present in Galveston, and a News reporter looked him up yesterday, as much out of curiosity to see a negro possessed of such enormous wealth as in search of an item.

The following item from a paper published in Paris, Tex., in connection with the information that one of the heirs was in the city, is that which directed the reporter in the search:

"The Lincoln heirs (colored) living in Dallas, who a year or so ago became the wealthiest colored people in America, have recently come in possession of all their property. The amount due them was on deposit in the Bank of England, and aggregated the enormous sum of $48,000,000. Forty-eight million dollars! This has just been divided among the heirs—Abraham, Ed, Burr, Matt, Fannie and Lula—each having received $8,000,000. Eight million dollars!"

The party in Galveston bears the illustrious cognomen of Abraham Lincoln. He was traced to a colored boarding-house on Twenty-fourth street, between Postoffice and Church, but not being found in he courteously responded to the News man to call at the office, which he did last night, coming in as meekly as though he wanted to borrow a dollar, instead of owning $8,000,000. Abraham is a young man, apparently not over 35 years of age, of a saddle-colored complexion, and evidently a man of more than the average intelligence of his race. He has credentials, printed letter-heads, etc., wherein he is styled Governor Abraham Lincoln, showing him to be the manager of the estate.

When asked by what means such enormous wealth had been acquired by his family, he replied that it was an inheritance from his grandmother, Fannie Ellis, who resided at Dallas, where she died a year or two ago. Fannie Ellis was a Mexican woman, and some 40 years ago her husband acquired immense wealth in speculating in Mexican mining claims, which was deposited in the Bank of England. Preceding the late civil war they bought and sold slaves. Among one of their purchases from a slave-trader was the father of the six children who recently came into the possession of the $48,000,000. The father married the daughter of his mistress, by whom he was set free, and the six children, being the direct issue of their marriage, established the claim of direct inheritance.

Some litigation was necessary in establishing their claim, and it was only a few days ago that they acquired actual possession of their fabulous inheritance.

Abraham Lincoln is here, as he says, with the view of probably locating at Galveston.

When asked if he had matured any plans for investing this vast estate, he replied that they had decided to invest all on Jan. 1 in United States bonds. The interest on the bonds, he said, would give us more than enough to live on, with a good margin for speculation without touching the principal. It is also a safe investment and carries with it immunity from taxation.—Galveston News.

A Tricky Baboon.

Frank J. Thompson tells in Forest and Stream a funny story about a chacma baboon he bought at Port Elizabeth, Algoa Bay, South Africa. When first seen it was leading a team of oxen, walking on three legs and holding with the fourth the reins attached to the horns of the oxen. At the command of its driver it gave a very good imitation of a Kaffir dance. Mr. Thompson soon found it necessary, on account of its various tricks, to cage it. On the passage the sailors gave the cage a wide berth, but an unfortunate dog, coming too near one day, was caught by the tail and kept at a respectful distance ever after. On arrival in New York harbor a sailor boarding-house runner backed up within reach of Jacob's paw. He lost a part of his pantaloons, and in his fright leaped overboard, much to the amusement of the Captain and all hands.

I have measured a great many Roman coffins, and my average shows that the Roman could not have greatly exceeded five feet five inches. In taking measurements of ancient armor I find that the English aristocracy have decidedly increased in average height within five hundred years.

I measured twenty-five mummies in the British museum, as nearly as I could through the cases, making estimates for wrapping, and I found the average height of males sixty-one inches, females fifty-five inches.

The mummy of the celebrated Cleopatra measures about fifty-four inches, about the height of the present European girl of 13. The most ancient mummy of an Egyptian king yet discovered measured fifty-two inches.—Nature.

In all cases of neuralgia there are certain localities where pain is more intense — these are called the "painful points." Rub the "painful points" thoroughly, when afflicted with this disease, with Salvation Oil, the great pain annihilator. Price 25 cents a bottle.

The Unitarian church at Laconia, which has been closed for several months, was opened last Sunday, when the new pastor, Rev. N. S. Hill, began his term of service.

A Great Battle

Is continually going on in the human system. The demon of impure blood strives to gain victory over the constitution, to ruin health, to drag victims to the grave. A good reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla is the weapon with which to defend one's self, drive the desperate enemy from the field, and restore peace and bodily health for many years. Try this peculiar medicine.

The engineers, firemen, switchmen, brakemen and some of the conductors on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad struck on Saturday.

Murderous Assault in Stratham.

An assault was made at Stratham on the night of March 27th, upon George P. Hoag, a farmer of that town, which may possibly prove fatal. The particulars, as stated, are that Hilton Otis, a young man, married Hoag's daughter a short time ago against the wishes of her father, which caused bitter feeling between the two men, since which Otis has made serious threats, which on the night mentioned put into execution by waiting in the highway for Hoag's return from town. On their meeting, Otis stopped Hoag, and after some words took a club from his wagon and dealt his victim terrible blows, knocking him down and leaving him senseless. His recovery is doubtful.

Otis was arrested at his home on Friday evening by Sheriff Coffin, and put in Exeter jail; and on Saturday he was taken before Police Justice Shute of Exeter, who held him in $500 for his appearance on Thursday, April 12th, continuance being granted to that time at the request of the prosecution. Hoag's deposition was taken on Saturday. He was badly cut and bruised by his son-in-law, whose character appears to have been better read by the old man than by his daughter.

Have a Care.

If sickness is often in our midst, and invalids are many among our people, we would suggest that they turn their attention to the sources of malaria and disease, that, too often, lie beneath their feet.

It is too common an occurrence to find a foul, dark, and unventilated cellar filled with noxious gases from decaying roots and vegetables, till we almost wonder that the vermin, that love filth and darkness, are not poisoned in their own haunts. Certainly the family is.

No less poisonous, and more public, in the general waste from the sink, in a slimy pool at the door, where flies swarm, and grass refuses to grow. Some of our people, more progressive, boast a covered drain; but that the receptacle gets clogged with rubbish, and is a den of iniquity, never seems to occur to them. Doubtless they would wonder at a man who would keep a decaying animal under his window.

Meanwhile our good people wonder at their poor health and general debility, while the Shadow of Death is grinning at them from behind every post. Why can't they awake to the fact that they are committing suicide by their own sloth and negligence? KITTERY.

Election Frauds in New York City.

The grand jury of New York have made a startling presentment in relation to the frauds at the last November election in that city. They say:

"The evidence discloses the fact that in many election districts, the entire control of the polls and the election machinery were in the hands of well-known professional criminals, who manned the polls, terrorizing and intimidating respectable voters and openly buying up the votes of the low class of tramps and criminals who had votes to dispose of.

"Evidence has been given that money was openly paid for votes and that this was done in the presence of the officers of the law, detailed to protect the purity of the ballot, without interference at their hands. The criminals about the polls carried things with a high hand in the manner indicated, while respectable voters not only received no protection, but were openly and defiantly intimidated. From the facts testified to before us, as to the manner in which this bribery of voters was carried on, it is plain to us that an honest investigation, vigorously prosecuted, would easily unearth the whole scheme as it was planned at the late election, and bring to the surface the men who were the guilty promoters of this corrupt system.

"The grand jury could have presented, upon the evidence before it, more of the minor criminals against whom there was evidence of direct bribery of voters, but in our judgment the matter deserved so much sterner treatment that it was not considered advisable to put the really guilty parties upon their guard by putting upon trial at this time a few of the minor offenders. Such a thorough sifting as the whole matter should receive would bring to punishment the leaders in this dangerous conspiracy against the purity of the ballot. It was made to appear to us from the evidence that this assault upon the purity of the ballot was far-reaching and widely extended in its ramifications, and that, if such investigation as we earnestly recommend can be had, there is every prospect of developing facts which will startle the public conscience."

Gov. Hill of New York has affixed his signature to a bill which gives to the health officer of the port of New York a salary of $10,000 a year, and abolishes the fee system, which has heretofore enabled that official to put anywhere from $75,000 to $100,000 a year in his pocket, so long as he turned over a liberal percentage of that sum to the political organization which he happened to represent. The new order of things instituted by this bill is a very salutary reform.

The April issue of the Eclectic Magazine appeals strongly to the tastes of thinking and cultivated readers. This number even surpasses in the variety and interest of its contents the general average of the magazine. Prof. Huxley's opening paper on "The Struggle for Existence" is a brilliant application of the evolutionary theory, put with all the literary art of this great scientific authority. H. D. Traill contributes a most suggestive article in "The Evolution of Humor," which can be read more than once with benefit. The concluding paper on Cæsar Borgia is published, and other contributions of interest are "Robespierre's Love," "Chevalier Bayard," "A Night in the Jungle," and "Humors of Metaphysics."

Sunday was a lovely spring day, and the congregations of the several churches were larger than for some time past. In all the churches the services had especial reference to Easter, and the occasion the festival commemorates.

"Did n't know 't was Loaded"

May do for a stupid boy's excuse; but what can be said for the parent who sees his child languishing daily and fails to recognize the want of a tonic and blood-purifier? Formerly, a course of bitters, or sulphur and molasses, was the rule in well-regulated families; but now all intelligent households keep Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which is at once pleasant to the taste, and the most searching and effective blood medicine ever discovered.

Nathan S. Cleveland, 27 E. Canton st., Boston, writes: "My daughter, now 21 years old, was in perfect health until a year ago when she began to complain of fatigue, headache, debility, dizziness, indigestion, and loss of appetite. I concluded that all her complaints originated in impure blood, and induced her to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine soon restored her blood-making organs to healthy action, and in due time reestablished her former health. I find Ayer's Sarsaparilla a most valuable remedy for the lassitude and debility incident to spring time."

J. Castright, Brooklyn Power Co., Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "As a Spring Medicine, I find a splendid substitute for the old-time compounds in Ayer's Sarsaparilla, with a few doses of Ayer's Pills. After their use, I feel fresher and stronger to go through the summer."

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Combines, in a proportion peculiar to itself, the active medicinal properties of the best blood-purifying and strengthening remedies of the vegetable kingdom. It will positively cure—when in the power of medicine—Spring Debility, Headache, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Salt Rheum, Scrofula, and all Diseases caused by a low state of the blood.

"I suffered three years with blood poison. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla, and think I am cured." MRS. M. J. DAVIS, Brockport, N. Y.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla beats all others, and is worth its weight in gold." I. BARRINGTON, 130 Bank Street, New York City.

Purifies the Blood

"I tried a dozen articles to cleanse my blood, but never found anything that did me any good till I began using Hood's Sarsaparilla." W. H. PEER, Rochester, N. Y.

"My wife was troubled with dizziness and constipation, and her blood has been in a bad order—in fact she has been all run down. Hood's Sarsaparilla is doing her a wonderful amount of good." F. M. BALDWIN, druggist, Blanchester, Ohio.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar.

Is so vastly superior to any other sarsaparilla or blood purifier, that one has well said: "Its health-giving effects upon the blood and entire human organism, are as much more positive than the remedies of a quarter or a century ago, as the steam-power of to-day is in advance of the slow and laborious drudgery of years ago."

"While suffering from a severe bilious attack in March, 1885, a friend in Peoria, Ill., recommended Hood's Sarsaparilla. I tried the remedy, and was permanently cured." J. A. SHEPARD, travelling agent for Devoe & Co., Fulton Street, N. Y.

"I was for five years a sufferer with boils, all run down, and was at one time obliged to give up work. Before taking all of two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, was entirely cured." R. H. LAWS, Pittsburgh, Pa.

"I was severely afflicted with scrofula, and for over a year had two running sores on my neck. Took five bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and consider myself entirely cured." C. E. LOVEJOY, Lowell, Mass.

Easter Services.

There was a very large attendance at St. John's church, Easter day. The floral decorations were quite extensive. Within the chancel the panels were covered with white, and trimmed with smilax, the arch being decorated with palms and pot plants; the large gilt cross was placed upon a large mound of flowers; on the pulpit and reading desk were cut flowers, and the font held a pryamid composed of 250 bouquets, which were given to the children at their service in the afternoon. The services were by Rev. H. E. Hovey, the rector, assisted by Mr. Emil C. Pfeiffer; the singing was by the choir, assisted by the Choir Chapter, with Master Dudley Carpenter as soloist. At half-past three in the afternoon there was a celebration in St. John's by the Sunday schools of St. John's and Christ churches. At 7:30 there was service in Christ church, with music by the full choir, and a sermon by the rector.

At the Unitarian church the pulpit, font and altar rail were beautifully ornamented with cut flowers, growing plants and palms; and the music, by the regular quartette choir, was especially pleasing, the selections being appropriate to the day, and rendered with brilliancy, precision and feeling; a solo by Miss Becker, the contralto, was in itself a sermon. A repetition of the musical programme has been requested for next Sunday. The morning discourse, on the lesson of Christ's life and death, was earnest, thoughtful and encouraging. In the afternoon there was an Easter service for the Sunday school, in the chapel, with a short sermon by Rev. Mr. Gooding. At the vesper service the remarks were on Christ's intimacy with nature.

At the North church there was a large and tasteful display of flowers and growing plants; the forenoon congregation was a very large one, and in the evening, when there were special Easter exercises, the choir being assisted by the Orpheus quartette, the church was packed.

At the Middle street Baptist church the floral decorations were very beautiful. In the forenoon a special Easter service, "The portals of glory," was participated in by the Sunday school, choir and congregation, two violins being added to the instrumental support. At the evening service Rev. Dr. Alden preached an Easter sermon.

At the Universalist church the pastor, Rev. Lee H. Fisher, delivered an Easter sermon, and the music was selected with special reference to the day; the pulpit and rail were dressed with flowers and plants, and the congregation, as at the other churches, was large. There was no evening service. In the afternoon there were recitations, singing, etc., in the vestry, by the Sunday school.

Easter services were held in the Court street Christian church, morning and evening, the pastor preaching at the morning service on "The empty tomb." In the evening the choir and Sunday school gave an Easter concert, "The portals of glory."

The Methodist church was handsomely dressed with flowers, plants and evergreen, and the sermon and music were suited to the day. In the evening an Easter concert was given in the church.

At the Church of the Immaculate Conception flowers and evergreen in profusion, and tastefully arranged, added to the attractiveness of the handsome church. Three services were held: Mass at 8:30 A. M.; high mass at 10:30, with an Easter sermon by the pastor, Rev. E. M. O'Callaghan; and vespers at 7:30, with a discourse by the pastor.

At the Pearl street church the new minister, Rev. J. S. Harrington, late of Elmira, N. Y., commenced his pastorate.

Easter at the Jail.

A very pleasant and no doubt profitable Easter service was held with the prisoners at the jail, Sunday afternoon. A person unknown, feeling that something should be done to mark the Easter gladness for the prisoners, requested Mr. John S. Rand to conduct the services and to give to each inmate a Testament and Easter card. In accordance with this suggestion Mr. Rand, Rev. W. A. McGinley, Rev. Alfred Gooding, Mr. W. W. McIntire, the Chronicle representative and other gentlemen went to the jail at two o'clock Sunday afternoon, and a very interesting service was held in the corridor, opening with invocation and reading of scriptures by Rev. Mr. Gooding, followed by singing by the Orpheus quartette; prayer by Rev. Mr. McGinley; remarks by Mr. Rand; singing by the quartette; remarks by Mr. McGinley; singing, "My Redeemer," tenor solo by Mr. Thomas Chase, and the quartette. Mr. Rand then presented each prisoner with a large, serviceable New Testament and a handsome Easter card, with kind and encouraging words, all expressing pleasure at receiving them, though one man declined accepting the book offered him, saying he already had one which he was accustomed to read, and exhibiting one which showed evident signs of frequent use and good care. Mr. Gooding pronounced the benediction, and most of the visitors then departed. A more attentive, orderly congregation did not assemble in any church that day, than was that at the jail. Perfect stillness was maintained, and the prisoners expressed much pleasure at the visit, and hopes that they might be called upon again. After most of the party had gone, at the earnest request of the prisoners Mr. Chase sang several Gospel Hymns picked out by them, and in which many of them joined heartily. The sheriff and Mrs. Coffin expressed much gratification at the call, and their belief that it could not but result in some good, to some of the twenty prisoners at the institution; whether it does or not, it seems to us to have been in exact accord with the spirit of the Easter festival.

No Reduction Yet.

The retail milk dealers of this city at a conference on Saturday decided that in consequence of the high price of feed and the unusual cost of getting the milk into town during the past winter, the price should be kept at the present figure, six cents per quart, until further notice.

They Wanted Tickets.

The sale of reserved seat tickets for "The Cadets' Picnic" at Franklin theatre on Wednesday and Thursday evenings of this week opened at Preston's pharmacy on Saturday morning, and the eagerness displayed to secure the coveted bits of pasteboard was such as to assure large audiences for both nights. When the sale commenced there was a line of waiters extending from near the entrance of the store, where the plan was exhibited, to the rear of the place, across the rear, back to the entrance and down the sidewalk to the Congress hall door, the procession being kept full for some time by the addition of new members at the tail end as fast as the lucky ones at the head received their tickets and departed. The first in line when the sale commenced at nine o'clock were two boys, one of whom took his place at five minutes before five o'clock, and the other a few minutes later. A large part of the theatre was taken for both evenings.

Acknowledgment.

PORTSMOUTH, April 1st.

The undersigned acknowledges most gratefully the sum of Three Hundred (300) Dollars as "an Easter gift to the Cottage Hospital of Portsmouth, from a Friend,"—this sum to be added to the permanent fund that is being raised for the Hospital.

Also Fifty (50) Dollars as "an Easter gift from a Friend" toward the same fund. JOHN S. RAND, Treasurer.

Doings of the Ice.

The ice must be rapidly disappearing from up river, judging from the large quantities of it which have come down with the outgoing tides for several days past. Sunday forenoon the river between this city and the navy yard was almost covered with it.

More of the piles and cappings of the Dover Point bridge were displaced by ice floes last Thursday afternoon, this time under the span. The damage is not great, and will be easily repaired.

A big cake of ice coming down river with the ebb tide, last Friday evening, knocked adrift two piles of Portsmouth bridge.

A steam launch belonging to the U. S. S. Swatara, while coming across the river from the navy yard on Sunday morning, was cut through by floating ice, and had enough to do to reach the navy landing on this side without sinking. She was temporarily patched up, and returned to the yard under her own steam.

"The Grass Widow."

This evening, in Music hall, the successful farce-comedy "A Grass Widow" will be presented by Charles T. Parsloe's comedy company, which includes Charles B. Hawkins, Leslie Edmunds, Owen Wentford and other well known comedians, and Susie Russell, Ella Gardiner and other popular actresses. Tickets at Goodrich's.

Mr. E. B. Goodall, Jr., starts this morning for Denver, Col., where he has a business appointment.

Lieut. Col. C. D. Hebb, U. S. M. C., commanding the barracks at this navy yard, who has been absent a number of weeks in Florida, arrived back on Saturday.

Mr. Willis G. Myers starts the first of this week on a three weeks trip to the south and west, during which he will visit Kansas City, Mo., Dallas, Texas, and other thriving places in those sections.

We regret to say that our valued and reliable Kittery correspondent, Mr. William E. Noyes, is laid up in ordinary with a damaged hand, which is not only painful to excess but has a chance of becoming a very serious affair. Nearly two weeks ago, while at his desk, he accidentally struck his right hand against a pen, the point of which penetrated the inside of the thumb below the joint, probably reaching the bone. He paid no attention to it for several days, but on Tuesday of last week it became so painful he could not hold a pen, and next day the hand and arm had swollen greatly, blood poisoning having set in. The thumb was opened on Friday by Dr. Willis of Eliot, which gave some relief, but the hand and arm are still in a very bad condition. If our good wishes are of any avail, Mr. Noyes will be all right again very soon.

Maritime Notes.

The tug Cocheco went to Boston last week to be fitted with a new propeller.

The steamer Reading arrived at this port on Saturday from Philadelphia with 1663 tons coal to J. Albert Walker.

Coal freights continued low at the end of last week, the demand for tonnage being light. Quotations were from Baltimore for Boston, Bath or Portland, $1 per ton; to this port, $1.10.

The Flying Yankee runs through to Bangor on and after to-day.

In Boston, Saturday, Eastern railroad preferred stock sold at 127 1-2; Concord & Portsmouth, 167 1-2; Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway, 110 1-4.

The bill to authorize the Boston & Maine railroad company to purchase the Eastern, the Eastern in New Hampshire and the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway roads, has passed the Massachusetts senate with but one dissenting vote, and it is predicted that it will pass through the house with practical unanimity.

The trustees of the Odd Fellows' Home in Concord are to be in this city this evening, at Odd Fellows' hall, where they will be pleased to see all Odd Fellows and their wives, to whom they will be glad to explain the purposes of this beneficial home. Eight o'clock is the hour.

Tickets for "The Cadets' Picnic" for either Wednesday or Thursday evening, or both, can be procured at Preston's pharmacy. Good seats can still be secured—in fact, there are no poor seats in the theatre—but the number is not large, and the indications are that there will be none left when the doors open.

Better not kindle the fire with your snow shovel just yet—may need it again before the green corn season is here.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO. 106 Wall Street, New York.

Strawberries from the south begin to make their appearance in our market. We saw some very nice looking ones on Saturday.

Country teams were numerous in town on Saturday, and trade was livelier than for some weeks. The suburban roads are not yet in good condition, but the travelling is less abominable than for a considerable time past.

Mr. Daniel Dalton, proprietor and driver of the mail route from Rye Beach post-office to North Hampton post-office, has not missed a day this winter in carrying the mail, a distance of four miles. Mr. Dalton is seventy-three years old.

The ladies of the Methodist society are preparing for a grand musical and literary entertainment, to take place on the evening of April 11th. Mrs. Harris will read.

There is to be a Leap Year party in Franklin hall on the evening of the 11th inst.

Don't grumble at having to pay six cents a quart for milk. The article served out in this city is most of it real milk, the product of the mild-eyed cow, and not of the chalk quarry and aqueduct, such as the people in Boston have been paying eight cents a quart for all winter.

A marine who had been missing from the U. S. S. Swatara two or three days was found on Saturday evening hiding in the Catholic church, and was taken to the police station.

Two of the regular night police were on special day duty along the water front last Sunday, probably on account of there having been a good deal of disturbance the previous Sunday, consequent on a large number of men-of-war's men being ashore on liberty that day.

The headquarters of the Republican club will be in the rooms over Howard W. Akerman's store on Congress street—a very pleasant location.

The wild geese, the first reported flock of which passed over this city on their way to the Arctic regions shortly after midnight on Friday night, have evidently commenced their annual northern movement in force, three other flocks flying over the city early Saturday morning.

The superintendent of the fire alarm will pull in Boxes 32, 38, 46, 7, and 26, one round each, during the regular monthly inspection to-day; the remaining boxes will be designated by one blow from each of them.

Our line of Kid Gloves for Easter is second to none for quality and low prices; embroidered and plain backs from 50 cts. to $1.50. Lewis E. Staples, 7 Market street.

The Easter sale held by the Missionary society of the Middle street church in Franklin hall on Wednesday evening of last week netted nearly $200 for the benefit of the missionary fund.

Mr. Samuel Rowe, ex-sheriff of Rockingham county, was in this city Saturday from South Berwick.

"A new theory has been started with regard to the use of soap on the face. Women who for years have been careful of their complexions would never, under any circumstances, wash the face in soap, as it was said to roughen and coarsen the skin. Now, that Ivory Soap has been invented, this idea is exploded, and a well-known physician in the metropolitan profession recommends his women patients to use it freely every day, lathering the skin well. He states that none but the most beneficial results will be effected by this method of improving the skin.

He holds—with considerable plausibility—that the pores of the face become as much clogged by grease and dirt as the hands or any other portion of the body. And if soap is considered a necessary purifier in the bath, its needs must be felt equally on the face. By an abundant and regular lathering the facial pores, he claims, are kept open, clean, free from the clogging matter that produces unsightly blackheads, acne, pimples, and a pure, healthy, fresh and brighter complexion is the resultant. Not mincing matters, he says that the trouble with most women who have sallow, pasty skins is, that from year's end to year's end they never have a really clean face."

—Brooklyn Eagle.

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

A Greek named Raptoporllos was arrested in Dublin, Ireland, last Friday, for robbing the Numismatic Museum at Athens, Greece, of ancient medals and coins of the value of 30,000,000 francs. The house of the prisoner was searched by the Dublin police, who discovered on the premises most of the ancient coins which have recently been stolen from numismatists on the Rue Louvois, Paris.

You Can't Make a Samson

Out of an attenuated dude, with meagre legs, pigeon chest and a slight cough. But a man or woman whom constitutional vigor has been denied, can get it to a very considerable extent by the persistent use, in regularly proportioned, alternated doses, of America's chief tonic, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. To the nerves and muscles of the stomach that genial invigorant imparts tone, and to its operations regularity. The proximate result is thorough digestion and complete assimilation of the food, and the ultimate sequence, blood fertile with the elements of muscular tissue, a healthy appetite, nightly rest unimpared, and a disappearance of the nervous symptoms to which etiolated invalids are always subject, and which they are very prone to take for the manifestations of serious organic disease, and does accordingly. In diseases of the kidneys and bladder, always excessively weakening, and for constipation, fever and ague, and liver complaint, use the Bitters.

The French government is passing through another crisis, the ministry having resigned in consequence of being defeated on a vote by the extreme left, the Bonapartists and the royalists.

A rare comfort to lame backs, weak kidneys and sore chests—Hop Plasters.

Harry H. Leavitt, aged twenty-two years, was killed instantly by electricity at the electric light works in Lynn, Mass., last Friday morning.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla was the first successful blood medicine ever offered to the public. This preparation is still held in the highest public estimation both at home and abroad. Its miraculous cures and immense sales show this. Ask your druggist for it.

Miss Minnie L. Chapman, who was shot by Philip Cotell at Dennisport, Mass., was on Friday last considered in a very critical condition, blood poisoning having set in.

Will be found an excellent remedy for sick headache. Carter's Little Liver Pills. Thousands of letters from people who have used them prove this fact. Try them.

King John, of Abyssinia, has proposed terms of peace to General San Marino. It is understood that the Italian government will accept the terms.

When I began using Ely's Cream Balm my catarrh was so bad I had the headache the whole time and discharged a large amount of filthy matter. That has almost entirely disappeared and I have not had the headache since.—J. H. Sommers, Stephney, Conn.

I thank God that you ever invented such a medicine for catarrh. I have suffered for five years so I could not lie down for weeks at a time. Since I have been using Ely's Cream Balm I can rest. Frank P. Burleigh, Farmington, N. H.

The river and harbor bill was reported to the house last week. It aggregates $19,432,783, and is the largest bill of the kind ever introduced.

The body is more susceptible to benefit from Hood's Sarsaparilla now than at any other season. Therefore take it now.

The Crosby high license bill passed the New York assembly last week by a vote of 66 to 61.

Stop that cough or it will terminate in consumption. After suffering for months from a cough which, after using many remedies without any relief, threatened to terminate seriously, we were entirely cured by the use of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. J. G. WESTAFER, Editor of "Chronicle," Elizabethtown, Pa.

The New York aldermen have taken from Mayor Hewitt the control of the flags on the city hall, and vested it in the majority of the board. Their action means that the Irish flag must be hoisted on the city hall whenever there is an Irish celebration.

They pull the pain right out and wonderfully strengthen the parts—Hop Plasters. Apply one now.

Minister Pendleton, on behalf of American students in Germany, sent a letter to Count Herbert Bismarck expressing deep sorrow for the death of Emperor William.

A wonderful remedy is Adamson's Cough Balsam. It heals irritated parts, cures the cough and helps the throat and lungs to resist the influence of climate so severe at this time of year. Adamson's Cough Balsam has been used by the most prominent people with the best results.

Gen. Charles A. Stetson, formerly proprietor of the Astor house, New York, is dead.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. mon.wed,fri,ctjall

A Sensible Man

Would use Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs. It is curing more cases of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup and all Throat and Lung troubles than any other medicine. The proprietor has authorized any druggist to give you a sample bottle free to convince you of the merits of this great remedy. Large bottles 50c. and $1.

DON'T SCOLD

a man for groaning when he has Rheumatism or Neuralgia. The pain is simply awful. No torture in the ancient times was more painful than these twin diseases. But—ought't a man to be blamed if, having Rheumatism or Neuralgia, he went use Ath-lo-phoros, when it has cured thousands who have suffered in the same way? It has cured hundreds after physicians have pronounced them incurable.

"The skill of five physicians could not cure me of Rheumatism which had settled in the hips, neck and shoulders. So intense was the pain that sleep was almost impossible. The first dose of Athlophoros gave me relief, and the third enabled me to sleep for four and a half hours without waking. I continued its use, and am now well."

What Constitutes a Family Medicine?

A preparation which is adapted to the relief and cure of ailments to which members of a household are most subject, and which is not only alleged to do this, but has long and unfailingly proved its ability to do it, assuredly deserves the title of a reliable Family Medicine. Among time-honored preparations, which experience and the sanction of the medical profession indicate as deserving of popular regard and confidence, is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a medicine adapted to eradication of dyspepsia, constipation and billiousness, the three most frequently occurring ailments that vex mankind. Derived from a botanic parentage, it is efficient as well as pure and wholesome. It relieves nervous disquietude and inactivity of the kidneys, and counteracts a tendency to rheumatism. For renewing flagging strength and imparting appetite it can be implicitly relied upon. Fever and ague, rheumatism and debility are remedied by it.

W. E. Smith, late assistant secretary of the treasury, died at his home in Plattsburg, N. Y., last week.

The body is more susceptible to benefit from Hood's Sarsaparilla now than at any other season. Therefore take it now.

The simplest and best regulator of the disordered Liver in the world, are Carter's Little Liver Pills. They give prompt relief in Sick Headache, Dizziness, Nausea, &c.; prevent and cure Constipation and Piles; remove Sallowness and Pimples from the Complexion, and are mild and gentle in their operation on the bowels. Carter's Little Liver Pills are small and as easy to take as sugar. One pill a dose. Price 25 cents.

Dr. W. Bessels, the Arctic explorer, who acted as physician on the American ship Polaris in 1871, died at Stutgart, Germany, of apoplexy.

Horace Coolidge, of Frankfort, N. Y., took a severe cold which settled on his lungs. He was confined to his bed, had pains in his side, profuse sweats and restless nights. He expected to die. He was completely restored to health by using Wistar's Balsom of Wild Cherry.

Gordon, mate of bark Auburndale, fell overboard at Portland, Me., Friday night, and was drowned. Deceased belonged in Boston.

The best medical writers claim that the successful remedy for nasal catarrh must be non-irritating, easy of application, and one that will by its own action, reach all the remote sores and ulcerated surfaces. The history of the efforts to treat catarrh during the past few years obliges us to admit that only one remedy has completely met these conditions, and that is Ely's Cream Balm. This safe and pleasant remedy has mastered catarrh as nothing else has ever done, and both physicians and patients freely concede this fact. The more distressing symptoms quickly yield to it.

A Great Surprise

is in store for all who use Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs, the great guaranteed remedy. STARTLING STATISTICS.

What a High Official Has to Say About the Condition of the People—Some Serious Facts and Figures.

[Herald.]

"It is wonderful what figures will show." Such was the remark of a high official in the State Department to a representative of this paper. "How many really sick men do you suppose there are in New England?" Very few. But how many do you think there would be if people were physically and mentally sound and vigorous? New England people are active, restless and ambitious, and therefore neglect themselves. Not one man or woman in ten is in perfect health."

"Official figures show this, do they?"

"Precisely. There seems to be a New England disease. People do not seem to think that headaches, or tired feeling, or 'blues,' or loss of appetite, or nervousness mean anything. Then, the first thing they know they are in bed and on theros d to death.

"Do many die of this disease?"

"Thousands. Henry Wilson, Charles Sumner, Wendell Phillips and Governor Bedwell are among the number. James G. Blaine is also on the road, and his trip abroad is in the hope of recovering health."

"But what do you find to counteract it?"

"Very little. The only reliable medicine so far discovered is Hunt's Remedy. The faculty of one of our leading medical colleges, knowing the composition of this medicine, have been recommending it for some time, and the results have been wonderful. I know three ladies and one gentleman (one of the latter a State officer), who have been entirely cured by its use. I wish everybody might know more about it and use it."

Such facts and figures, and from so high a source, should prove invaluable to thousands whose success in life would be much greater were they physically and mentally sound and vigorous.

Edison and His Inventions.

Mr. Edison was interviewed recently by a Chicago reporter. He said: "I have been busy of late fixing up my labaratory near Llewelyn Park, Orange, N. J., and in perfecting the phonograph. As soon as the frost gets out of the ground we are going to build a new factory at Bloomfield and put in machinery capable of turning out 250 phonographs a day. You'll see it shortly. Our agents are now learning its use, and I expect by the middle of April to have the new instruments all over the country."

"Tell me something about it."

"Well, it is a little instrument smaller than the ordinary typewriter; it will record any sound transmitted to it—violin and piano-forte music, whistling notes, or anything you may give it. By the way, it will be a great help to you newspapermen when you are in a hurry to have your copy put in type. Suppose at night you come late. You get to your phonograph and begin talking to it. Each of your words is recorded to a little wax cylinder and repeated to the typesetter at the other end. It will take down anything you may dictate, and to prevent confusion, for the phonograph will talk faster than yourself, it repeats the last six words of every broken sentence. Where can it be used? Why, in any number of places. At the courts, to take down the testimony of witnesses; at the church, to record a sermon; at the opera-house, where a famous prima donna may be singing."

"I do not quite understand how this can be done."

"Let me try to explain. The phonograph is made up of the mouthpiece, where it receives the sound; a spirally grooved cylinder carrying a sheet of tin foil and wax, by which it receives the records of the movements of the diaphragm, the human voice, etc., and another mouthpiece on which the speech received in the cylinder is reproduced. A screw connects it with the cylinder; you talk and your speech is recorded; now move the screw and the second mouthpiece repeats the sounds the wax cylinder has received. The wax cylinders are about the size of an ordinary napkin ring and of the same thickness, with a capacity of 250 words."

"Will the public take kindly to it?"

"I believe so. It is no longer in the experimental stages, nor is it a mere curiosity. Correspondence can hereafter be performed through it, and the labors of private secretaries will be disposed with."

"Have you been working on any other new inventions?"

"O, yes; I've got at least 100 new ideas in my head still in the embryonic stage. Some of them I've been working on for years. Two or three I may bring out this year. I'm working hard on my scheme of house-lighting out of the waste heat generated by coals."

"How far have you succeeded?"

"I am trying to reduce the cost; the present method is so expensive. I will succeed, I think. The idea is to get electricity generated from coal; a hard thing to do economically. I'll strike a number of new things yet," he remarked parting with the reporter.

As to his system of telegraphing from sea he said he had not done anything in that line this winter. He has a laboratory in Florida where he can experiment in still water. His system of telegraphing from moving trains is working satisfactorily on a section of the Lehigh Valley Railroad.

A Stronger Gun Than it Looks.

Each day's progress at the Pittsburg Steel Casting Company's works on the new cannon shows the successful character of the work. The new engine of war is in the lathe now.

"The magnitude of the interests which would be glad to see the failure of the Pittsburg gun," said a gentleman who is interested in the new cannon, "can be understood by remembering that the entire expenditures of Europe for artillery have for some years been for the 'built-up' steel guns. The great Armstrong establishment in England is wholly devoted to making the cannon by shrining successive tubes on rings of steel one upon the other. The still vaster establishment of Krupp in Germany derives nearly all of its profits from the manufacture of cannon in the same way.

"Now, if you remember that the cost of the built-up steel gun runs from $4 to $8 per pound according to their size, while the solid steel gun just turned out is at the contract price of 25 cents per pound, you can see what a blow to these immense interests will be dealt if the firing tests show that the new cannon is as good or better than the older ones. If it is as good, the immense gain in cheapness will utterly destroy the business of the immense Krupp and Armstrong works. If it is better, it will turn the hundreds of cannon they made for the countries of the Old World into old metal. They will keep a close watch of the tests of this gun, and I have no doubt that if $50,000 would secure its failure under the firing tests, the money would be forthcoming."

"If the tests demonstrate the success of the six-inch solid gun, will that show the ability of Pittsburg to secure equally good results with the largest steel guns, such as have been made by Krupp and Armstrong in the other process?" was asked of a gentleman who is interested in the steel casting company.

"We will take a contract to-morrow to make a 150-ton gun if any Government wishes to order it," was the short but decisive reply.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Fowle's Almanack.

Mr. Frank T. Simes of this city has shown us an old book which is of special interest from the fact that it was printed by the founder of the New Hampshire Gazette, no doubt in the old building which was torn down some years ago to make room for the present residence of Mr. John E. Colcord. It is a pamphlet of sixteen pages, six inches by four in size, being titled as follows:

"An Astronomical Diary: or, an Almanack for the year of our Lord Christ 1758, being the second after bissextile or leap year. In the 31st year of the reign of King George II. * * Calculated to the meridian of Portsmouth, New-Hampshire, in N. E. Lat. 43. 24 N. * * Portsmouth, in New-Hampshire: Printed and sold by Daniel Fowle."

The little book is deeply browned, partly with age, perhaps, but more probably with the smoke of some wood fire of 130 years ago, the string by which the almanack was hung up beside the fireplace being still attached to it. In his introductory remarks on the first page, Fowle says that "instead of a variety of characters, to many untelligible, and the important changes of weather, some historical events, etc., are inserted, which, 'tis presumed, will be of as much service." He continues this sly dig at the probable value of weather predictions by saying:

"For the peruser will necessarily be obliged to form judgments of the weather (if he forms any at all) from the appearances of the heavens, and cannot, in case of mistake, blame anyone but himself. He will also have an opportunity to try his own judgment, in a matter of so much consequence; and will, no doubt, have a peculiar pleasure, so often as he finds the event coincide with his prediction."

This indicates that the almanacs before Fowle's day, like those of our own time, were accustomed to have "About—this—time—look—out—for—rain" strung out all the way from the top of the page to the bottom; and there is a subtle vein of humor and good-natured satire easily perceivable in his hints concerning the worth of such prognostications.

Another extract we make from the introduction:

"The last column [signs of the zodiac] is added to gratify such as still retain the antique notion of the moon's influencing the different parts of the human body, as she changes her situation in the ecliptic to different signs, * * which I esteem as romantick as any fable of Don Quixit. Not that I deny the moon, and other heavenly bodies, to have an influence on the sea, vegetables and animals; for 'tis too evident to admit of any dispute. But that the moon, merely by passing certain constellations (whose names are arbitrary) should effect any one part of the human body more than another, is an affront to common sense; and was introduced to deceive rather than instruct mankind. This is no more than my opinion, the candid reader will observe, and may take as little notice of it as he pleases."

This distinct declaration of disbelief in a notion at that time almost universally accepted, shows the fearless and self-reliant character of the man whose opinions on political matters were too radical and too openly expressed to allow of his remaining in the Massachusetts colony, and led to his making Portsmouth his home.

Under the heading of "Courts, Tides, Events, &c.," half of each calendar page is filled with proverbs and quaint sayings, notices of historical and current events, and phenomena, all "run in solid," in such manner that if read aloud by any person, a listener would find it a mass of jargon; but by the use of several kinds of type, and brackets and parentheses, the reader would find it clear. The following are selected from among the odd sayings referred to:

"Job's wife was the only evil which could draw a sigh from him: This was the only one he seemed to feel."

"Fight and die for thy country."

"Air is an elastic fluid, * and is a most valuable and important appendage of this earth."

"A father by an excess of parsimony gives his son an aversion to it."

"A judge ought to be indifferent." [Good many of 'em are, now-a-days.]

"The wise man is above any fear of a woman's anger, but he is wiser who is cautious of provoking her."

"Do not go to the doctor for every disease, the lawyer for every quarrel, or the bowl for every thirst."

"The more a man leaves behind him, with the greater reluctance he dies."

"They must hunger in frost, that will not work in heat."

"The press transfers within a day, or near, All that which can be written in a year."

"Love is a credulous thing."

"He who hath but one hog, makes him fat; but he who hath but one son often makes him a fool."

"An idle man is the devil's playfellow."

"When you are married study addition, practice multiplication, and avoid division."

"None guard so well against a cheat, as he who is a knave compleat."

"In the kingdom of the blind, he that hath but one eye is a prince."

"By doing nothing we learn to do evil."

"Idleness is the key of beggary."

"A gay coat doth not make a gentleman, nor a gilded cover a good book."

"Most courtships are little better than playing a game of blind man's buff."

Governor Jackson of Maryland last week pardoned seven democratic judges and clerks of elections who were found guilty of having perpetrated frauds at the polls two years ago. Their crimes were committed in the interest of reform, of course.

The April number of "The Cosmopolitan" (published April 7th) will strongly sustain the standing of that bright young magazine for the timeliness of its subjects and the crispness of its varied contents. The leading article is a description, by the poet-critic George Edgar Montgomery, of Shakespeare's "Midsummer Night's Dream," as produced at Daly's theatre, copiously illustrated by portraits in character, and many of the exquisite scenes (printed in color) which have made this play a conspicuous event in the dramatic season just closing in New York. Other timely articles are by Moncure D. Conway, Lucy C. Lillie, Max O'Rell, John Burroughs, Ella Wheeler Wilcox, May Riley Smith, J. Breck Perkins, and E. P. Roe with his southern serial story "Miss Lou," making all together an exceedingly attractive number.

The sensational discovery has just been made that a wholesale robbery of milliners and dry goods stores at La Harpe, Ill., is the work of four young girls, aged from ten to thirteen, daughters of respectable citizens of that place. For over two weeks goods amounting to a large sum in value have been stolen in broad daylight, but no clue could be found. A sweeping search was made and large quantities were discovered secreted in barns, outhouses and under sidewalks. Many goods were stealthily returned that had not been missing. The children's parents are prostrated with grief and offer to make amends. It is thought all of the thieves have not been secured and a thorough investigation will be made.

Three little children of T. S. Richardson, a farmer living near Macon, Mo., were burned to death during the absence of their parents from home.

What a Time

People formerly had, trying to swallow the old-fashioned pill with its film of magnesia vainly disguising its bitterness; and what a contrast to Ayer's Pills, that have been well called "medicated sugar-plums"—the only fear being that patients may be tempted into taking too many at a dose. But the directions are plain and should be strictly followed.

J. T. Teller, M. D., of Chittenango, N. Y., expresses exactly what hundreds have written at greater length. He says: "Ayer's Cathartic Pills are highly appreciated. They are perfect in form and coating, and their effects are all that the most careful physician could desire. They have supplanted all the Pills formerly popular here, and I think it must be long before any other can be made that will at all compare with them. Those who buy your pills get full value for their money."

"Safe, pleasant, and certain in their action," is the concise testimony of Dr. George E. Walker, of Martinsville, Virginia.

"Ayer's Pills outsell all similar preparations. The public having once used them, will have no others."—Berry, Venable & Collier, Atlanta, Ga.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Combines, in a proportion peculiar to itself, the active medicinal properties of the best blood-purifying and strengthening remedies of the vegetable kingdom. It will positively cure—when in the power of medicine—Spring Debility, Headache, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Salt Rheum, Scrofula, and all Diseases caused by a low state of the blood.

"I suffered three years with blood poison. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla, and think I am cured." MRS. M. J. DAVIS, Brockport, N. Y.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla beats all others, and is worth its weight in gold." I. BARRINGTON, 130 Bank Street, New York City.

Is so vastly superior to any other sarsaparilla or blood purifier, that one has well said: "Its health-giving effects upon the blood and entire human organism, are as much more positive than the remedies of a quarter or a century ago, as the steam-power of to-day is in advance of the slow and laborious drudgery of years ago."

"While suffering from a severe bilious attack in March, 1883, a friend in Peoria, Ill., recommended Hood's Sarsaparilla. I tried the remedy, and was permanently cured." J. A. SHEPARD, travelling agent for Devoe & Co., Fulton Street, N. Y.

Purifies the Blood

"I tried a dozen articles to cleanse my blood, but never found anything that did me any good till I began using Hood's Sarsaparilla." W. H. PEER, Rochester, N. Y.

"My wife was troubled with dizziness and constipation, and her blood has been in a bad order—in fact she has been all run down. Hood's Sarsaparilla is doing her a wonderful amount of good." F. M. BALDWIN, druggist, Blanchester, Ohio.

"I was for five years a sufferer with boils, all run down, and was at one time obliged to give up work. Before taking all of two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, was entirely cured." R. M. LANE, Pittsburgh, Pa.

"I was severely afflicted with scrofula, and for over a year had two running sores on my neck. Took five bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and consider myself entirely cured." C. E. LOVEJOY, Lowell, Mass.

The Thermometer at the CHRONICLE Office, at 4:00 o'clock this morning, indicated 32 degrees above zero.

Clear

Not a Broad View.

Alderman Seymour, in a communication to the Times concerning the stand taken by the board of mayor and aldermen in regard to cutting down the appropriation for schools to an inadequate sum, says:

As we [the aldermen, or perhaps the entire city government] are responsible only to democrats for our action we beg the use of your column for a few words.

* * After assuming the duties of the office last fall, several complaints came to me from my constituents in regard to the management of the schools. So thinking I would look into the matter, I gave some time to it. In looking after the facts to see how far I was responsible as the servant of said constituents, I found that the only means left to the parents was through the appropriation and the choice of members of the board of instruction. When the committee chosen deposited a draft for the appropriation bill with the city clerk I procured a copy, and after a careful examination of it formed opinions which I thought were for the best interest of the parties electing me, and I am still of the same mind. * * As a representative of my constituents I am ready to change my opinion and vote in this matter when convinced that it is for their interest I should so.

The idea that an elective administrative body, in its management of public affairs and the expenditure of the public money, is responsible only to the political party electing a majority of its members; that the interests of that party are alone to be considered, and the interests of the general public entirely ignored; that an alderman is representative of and responsible to only his constituents, and that "the best interests of the parties electing me"—not even the interests of the whole party, but of a section only of the party—are all he need have regard for in considering a question involving the welfare of the entire body politic, is not a broad view to take. Were this theory accepted as correct, the titles of our city officials would have to be changed; his honor Mayor Hodgdon, instead of being designated as Mayor of Portsmouth, would have to be called Mayor of the Democratic Party of Portsmouth; and in recognizing an alderman who might rise at a meeting of the board, would have to announce "the alderman from a portion of the democratic party of ward five," assuming that some members of the party had neglected to vote for the alderman at the preceding election. Then we should have the "fire department of the democratic party," the "health board of the democratic party," etc., which titles, while possibly entirely correct, would not sound very well to those who accept the creed that "A public office is a public trust." If the other members of the board of aldermen entertain the same views as Ald. Seymour in regard to their duties as public officials, there need be no further wonder at the attitude of the board toward the public schools.

Police Court—Batchelder J.

MONDAY, April 2d.

August Hiland, James McGowan, Patrick Daley, Patrick Rowley and William Rink, for drunkenness were assessed $9.90 each, fine and costs. As the culprits all belong to the navy or the marine corps, they will quite likely escape a sojourn at the county farm.

Ernest Porter, charged with the larceny of $5 from Alfred W. Libby, was held in $400 for his appearance at the April term of the supreme court.

Bank Election.

At a special meeting of the directors of the Portsmouth Trust & Guarantee Co., held in the directors' room Monday forenoon for the purpose of filling the vacancy in the president's position caused by the death of the late Dr. Jeremiah F. Hall, Hon. Frank Jones, vice president, was elected president, and Hon. Moses H. Goodrich was elected vice-president. The vacancy in the board of directors will be filled at a subsequent meeting.

Obituary.

Mr. Charles Place of Rochester, who died at his residence in Gonic village last week at the age of about eighty-four years, was born in that village, his father having been Capt. David Place of the Revolutionary army. Mr. Place was a skillful mechanic, having learned the cabinet maker's trade in this city with the late Langley Boardman, in the shop where such superior workmen as Edmund M. Brown, George W. Jenness, Charles E. Colcord and Samuel Dockum, all now deceased, learned their trades. During his active life Mr. Place held important and responsible positions in the cotton mills in Dover, Lawrence and Lowell, where knowledge of mechanics, sound judgement and fine workmanship were needed, in all of which he was equal to the requirements. For many years before his death he was an invalid. He was twice married, his first wife leaving him eight children, of whom four, two sons and two daughters, are living. His second wife, who survives him, was Mrs. Almira (Edgerly) Curtis of this city. He was greatly respected, and nowhere more than in Gonic, where most of his life was passed.

Marion Harland's Opinions of Baking Powders.

Our readers have doubtless noticed the numerous discussions by the scientists and hygienists as to the relative value of the various baking powders. A careful sifting of the evidence leaves no doubt as to the superiority of the Royal Baking Powder in purity, wholesomeness and strength, from a scientific standpoint. An opinion, however, that will weigh heavier than any other with our practical house-keepers, is that given by Marion Harland, the best known and most popular of American writers upon matters pertaining to the science of domestic economy, of house-keeping, and home cooking. In a recent letter to the Philadelphia Ladies Home Journal, the writer says:

"I regard the Royal Baking Powder as the best manufactured and in the market, so far as I have any experience in the use of such compounds. Since the introduction of it into my kitchen, three years ago, I have used no other in making biscuits, cakes, etc., and have entirely discarded for such purposes the home-made combination of one-third soda, two-thirds cream of tartar.

"Every box has been in perfect condition when it came into my hands, and the contents has given entire satisfaction. It is an act of simple justice, and also a pleasure, to recommend it unqualifiedly to American housewives.

MARION HARLAND.

Personal.

Miss Gertrude Priest is passing the week with friends in Boston.

Mr. Martin Hoyt arrived home on Friday last from a winter's sojourn in California.

Miss Nettie Crowell of New York is visiting at Rev. Alfred Gooding's on Middle street.

Mr. E. P. Kimball, president of the first national bank, has gone west on a business trip.

We regret to learn that Mr. Ed. W. Riley, of the firm of Frye & Co., expressmen, is confined to his house by sickness.

Miss Grace Varrell has gone to New York to join the Fifth Avenue Theatre Co., of which Mr. F. W. Moses of this city is also a member.

We are informed that Mr. George R. Brown, for some time past teamster for Mr. Oliver W. Ham, commences work with Mr. Wm. Conn to-day.

Owing to the illness induced by a severe cold, Mr. E. A. Tilton was unable to preside at the Christ church organ on Sunday evening, and Prof. La Brie officiated in his stead.

Pension Commissioner Black has appointed Dr. William O. Junkins of Greenland an examining surgeon for pensions to fill the vacancy on the board caused by the death of Dr. J. F. Hall.

The Boston Journal of March 31st says: "Mr. Judson Patterson Marvin of Tufts college has been invited to supply the vacant pulpit of the East Cambridge Universalist church during the month of April. The feeling is quite strong in favor of calling Mr. Marvin to the permanent pastorate as soon as he finishes his college course in June." Mr. Marvin is a son of Col. T. E. O. Marvin of this city, and is said to be a preacher of much earnestness and power.

Maritime Notes.

The old "pink-stern" schooner Lucy, owned for many years by Mr. Lemuel B. Caswell, and which is now at the old Railway wharf, where she has laid through the winter, full of water and ice, has been sold for $100 to Dover parties, who it is said will fit her up for taking out excursion parties during the summer. She registers between eleven and twelve tons, but the treasury list of merchant vessels does not say when or where she was built—possibly because it was so long ago that history does not reach back so far.

The schooner George W. Brainard, Mullen master, from Weehawken with Lackawanna coal to O. F. Philbrick & Co., arrived at this port on Monday, having been on the way since March 21st.

At the shipyard of Kelley & Spear, at Bath, Me., on the 30th ult., the schooner James O. Gray, 139 tons, was launched. She is intended for the brick and lumber carrying trade, and is owned by Capt. Richard F. C. Hartley and others of Saco, Me., and Capt. Frank P. Coleman of Newington, who will have command. Capt. Coleman has sailed out of Saco for the past three years, and been very successful, so much so that the owners he sailed for built the James A. Gray and allowed him to take only a small part, as she was in great demand among themselves.

The big schooner Bradford C. French arrived at Baltimore from this port last Saturday, and cleared the same day on her return here with a cargo of coal.

The schooner Grace K. Green, of this port, Seaward master, sailed from Horse island, Me., for Washington, D. C., on Thursday of last week.

The schooner Thomas Hyde from Richmond, Va., with 747 tons of coal, and the O. S. Barrett, from Baltimore with 950 tons, both to J. Albert Walker, arrived at the Concord railroad wharf on Monday.

Old Probs played an April fool joke Sunday,—gave us a fine day, raising high our hopes of the close proximity of decent weather, and then sent a wretched little snowstorm and drizzle for Sunday night, enough to make the travelling execrable on Monday.

There was a dress rehearsal of "The Cadets' Picnic" at Franklin theatre on Monday evening, and it satisfied those who were invited as spectators that the ladies and gentlemen who last Saturday waited their turns to get tickets to the entertainments on Wednesday and Thursday evenings of this week, will find themselves amply repaid by the feast of fun, music and beauty set before them.

Carrie Clark, five years old, daughter of Daniel Clark of Hunking street, fell overboard from the boat landing at the foot of Gates street on Sunday afternoon, and would probably have been drowned had not Mr. John E. Costello jumped in and saved her; she was insensible when landed.

Mr. C. W. Taylor lost a valuable horse by death one day last week.

The regular monthly test of the fire alarm was made on Monday by Superintendent Trafton, who found everything in good condition.

J. Albert Walker reduced the price of coal again on Monday, and until further notice the price will be $5.50 per ton on the wharf, or $6 delivered.

The annual parish meeting of St. John's was held in the church on Monday afternoon at four o'clock, but on account of the absence of the treasurer was adjourned to Monday evening, April 16th, at seven o'clock, at St. John's chapel.

Mr. Josiah Grover has purchased the Carroll house on Newcastle avenue, and will make extensive repairs on it.

An Easter concert was given in the Christian church at Newcastle last Sunday evening.

The spring vacation of the public schools ended on Saturday, having lasted but one week, and the sessions were resumed on Monday.

The several fire companies elected officers on Monday evening, those chosen by Col. Sise Co., No. 2, being as follows: Albert R. Junkins, foreman; Horace Mudge, first assistant; Fred A. Haraden, clerk; Charles Goodwin, steward.

The Boston, Concord & Montreal railroad, by counsel, on Monday filed in Concord a bill in equity against the Boston & Maine road, charging the latter with being unlawfully in possession of the B.; C. & M., and praying that the road be taken from the B. & M. and placed in the hands of a receiver. Judge Doe will grant a hearing on the petition this week.

In the supreme court at Laconia last week, John H. Canney of Dover, the Pirate of the Piscataqua, was sentenced to five years in state prison for breaking into the store of Jones & Son at Alton Corner last November, and stealing therefrom.

The following are among the recent transfers of real estate in York county, as left for record in the office of the register of deeds: Kittery—Benjamin Kennard of Eliot to Charles E. Brooks of Kittery, land and buildings in Kittery for $850. York—George Bracy to Malvina M. Welch, real estate for $1. Wells—Olive H. Hatch to Downing Hatch, real estate for $1; Syntha Witham to George H. Cole, land and buildings for $125; Betsey Crediford of Great Falls, N. H., to George H. Cole of Great Falls, land and buildings in Wells for $50; John F. Shapleigh of Dover, N. H., to Olive J. Wadleigh of Wells, real estate in Wells for $3,000.

Major James M. Andrews, a well-known quarryman and contractor of Biddeford, died Saturday morning, aged forty-four. He had served on the Biddeford board of aldermen, in the war was first lieutenant in the Ninth Maine regiment, and was a major on the staff of Gov. Chamberlain.

China advices received by the steamer City of Rio de Janeiro state that the British steamer Swallow was wrecked February 22d off Noama island. The vessel struck on some rocks and sank. The captain and a number of the crew and passengers saved themselves by clinging to the rigging, but thirty-one persons who put off from the steamer in small boats are supposed to be lost. The body of the engineer, who was one of the occupants of the boat, was recovered.

Notice--Get Your Full Weight!

THIS CARD is intended to call the attention of every housekeeper in the city of Portsmouth and vicinity. The Spring Cleaning time is drawing near, when every housekeeper will have more or less domestic refuse, such as rags and old rubber, and all kinds of old paper stock, to dispose of; every one wants, and ought to have, the best prices of the market, and this can be assured by seeing John O'Brien or his man, as he is about sending out his carts on the different routes, and having made a contract with parties to take all his paper stock, he will be able to pay the best prices of any man outside of Boston. If you do not see O'Brien's teams, drop a postal card to "John O'Brien, No. 1 Holmes Court," and prompt attention will be paid to the same.

N. B. Beware of unprincipled men; they will call and weigh your rags, and give you about one-half of what they really weigh. My attention has been called to six different cases of late where parties got rags in that way and the housekeeper took them back again. Weigh all your rags, and catch the distinest dealer. What I say to one I say to all—"Weigh your rags." Why should you sell your rags for ½ cent when you can get 1 cent per lb. for colored rags, 3½ cents for white, and 3 cents per lb. for your old rubbers. You can get these prices by seeing John O'Brien, cash or trade. If you should enter a grocery store and call for a bag of flour, and found it four or five pounds short, you would think that was not right; and why should you not have your weight in your bag of rags? I say to you again, weigh your rags, for me and for all.

JOHN O'BRIEN, Cash or Trade,

A Very Old Novel.

"I suppose," says James Payn in London News. "'Aucassin and Nicolette is the oldest work of fiction in the world, and on that account is deserving of a word or two. It was written 757 years ago in France and is entirely a love story—a much more pure and simple one than the French, or even, I regret to say, some of the English ones of to-day, while it is more full of incident than the American novel.

"The hero, the son of a great lord, declines to embrace any profession, but only Nicolette. 'I marvel that you will be speaking, father,' he says (a little disrespectfully, as it strikes one), when it is suggested that he shall go the wars, like other young persons of his quality; to which the 'governor' replies (for papas were really governors in those days) that if he goes the young woman 'at his will' he will 'burn her in a fire.' So the relations are a little strained between them from the first.

"How very much Aucassin is in earnest may be gathered from his reply to a friend of the family who points out that by marrying this young person (who is a slave girl) he never will enter into Paradise. 'Paradise!' replies the young fellow (who, I am afraid, must have imbibed some of the skeptical opinions of the Twelfth Century Review), 'thither go these same old priests, and halt old men and maimed, who all day and night cower continually before the altars and in the crypts; and such folk as wear old amices and old cloted frocks, and naked folk and shoeless, and covered with sores, perishing of hunger and thirst, and of cold, and of little ease. These be they which go into Paradise. * * * But into the other place,' which he indicates, 'would I fain go; for thither fair and goodly clerks and goodly knights that fell in tourneys and great wars, and all noble men. And thither pass the sweet ladies and courteous that have two lovers or three. With these would I liefly go, let me but have with me Nicolette, my sweetest lady.'"

It has been asserted that since the sunflower has been cultivated on certain swamps of the Potomac malaria fever has decreased. At the mouth of the Scheldt, in Holland, it is said that similar results have been observed. The sunflower emits large volumes of water in the form of vapor, and its aromatic odor, as well as the oxygen it exhales, may have something to do with the sanitary influence in question.

Why Women Are Not Masons.

"If women are not good enough to belong to the masons," said a fair one, with pouting lips, the other day, "will you please tell us why?" "My dear, that is the very trouble. You are too good. The necessity for your membership does not exist. Masonary was founded to make the men better, and the Lord knows they need it."—Masonic Record.

How Unpleasant

It is to see a beautiful child's face disfigured with vile humors, bursting through the skin in pimples, blotches, and sores, and sadder still, when the young and innocent are laughed at and twitted in all such cases. Parents should give them that good and pure remedy, Sulpher Bitters, which will search and drive out of the blood every particle of humor.—Health Gazette.

A Sensible Man

Would use Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs. It is curing more cases of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup and all Throat and Lung troubles than any other medicine. She Tried and Knows.

A leading chemist of New York says: "No plasters of such merit as the Ath-lo-pho-ros Plasters have ever before been produced." They are a novelty because they are not made simply to sell cheap, they are the best that science, skill and money can produce, and will do what is claimed for them. For sprains, aches, weakness, lameness, etc., they are unequaled.

404 Fulton St., Sandusky, O., Nov. 21, '87. The Athlophoros Plaster acted like magic. It is the best I ever tried and I have used many kinds. What Constitutes a Family Medicine?

A preparation which is adapted to the relief and cure of ailments to which members of a household are most subject, and which is not only alleged to do this, but has long and unfailingly proved its ability to do it, assuredly deserves the title of a reliable Family Medicine. Among time-honored preparations, which experience and the sanction of the medical profession indicate as deserving of popular regard and confidence, is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a medicine adapted to eradication of dyspepsia, constipation and biliousness, the three most frequently occurring ailments that vex mankind. Derived from a botanic parentage, it is efficient as well as pure and wholesome. It relieves nervous disquietude and inactivity of the kidneys, and counteracts a tendency to rheumatism. For renewing flagging strength and imparting appetite it can be implicitly relied upon. Fever and ague, rheumatism and debility are remedied by it.

Miss C. Alice Baker of Cambridge, Mass., has been lately appointed honorary member of the Montreal Numismatic and Antiquarian Society, and she has been requested to send her historical essays to the office of the Dominion Archives to be there preserved. Why Fortune Smiled Upon Augusta Flesne.

We heard that fortune had bestowed a smile upon Miss Augusta Flesne, 2,631 Archer Ave., Chicago. She was found to be a bright and intelligent German girl, in the employ of the Singer Sewing Machine Co. "Yes, I have been rather fortunate. I drew one-tenth of ticket 74 183 in The Louisiana State Lottery, costing $1, the drawing of which took place 16th, 1888, and drew $5,000. The money was paid promptly. I expect to buy a house for mother and I to live in, and you will now how thankful I am when I tell you that I am mother's only dependence."—Chicago (Ills.) Arkansas Traveler, Feb 11th.

Lessening Danger from Blizzards.

The loss of life resulting from the severe snow-storms in the Northwest, during the present winter, calls for serious consideration of the best means of avoiding these dangers in the future.

The blizzard gives little warning of its approach. It is liable to spring up in the afternoon of any day, the morning of which gave a promise of being fair and bright, thus overtaking people who may be traveling in any portion of the country, surrounding them with a blinding and furious snow and causing them to be lost before they can reach any haven of safety. These storms, prevailing in a region where there is a scarcity of trees, no fences and few habitations, make the venture far away from home very hazardous under present conditions.

It is clearly evident that some general method must be devised whereby people shall not lose themselves in the storms. If the farms were generally fenced, there would be little danger; but as a guard against being lost in snow-storms it is not probable that people will build fences. The next best thing as a protection, will be the setting of trees by the roadsides, which, in darkness and storms would guide people to their destinations. Especially in the vicinity of dwellings and outbuildings should they be set, for the treble purpose of giving shade, defending against the wind, and serving as guides when lost in the storm.

If unable to obtain and set trees this coming summer along all the roadsides, the authorities could have posts set at regular distances, which may serve as supports to young and growing trees when, in the future, they are planted. If, through public tax, remission of tax to those who set their trees adjoining their lands on the highways, or by individual public spirit, a sufficiency of trees may be planted by the roadways and around the homes, the blizzard will be largely shorn of its terrors.—Thomas E. Hill in the National Builder.

Bad Writing.

There is a growing tendency to encourage handsome and legible handwriting, and there was need for it; for among some of the older generation the handwriting has sometimes been a puzzle, and, as in the following instance, capable of being construed according to the reader's pleasure:

During the war a quantity of personal property belonging to a resident of Washington was seized and confiscated by the United States.

For years the original owner made repeated attempts to secure an order for its restoration from the quartermaster who had charge of it. But he was obdurate, and insisted that it should be restored only through an act of congress. Still the attorney for the plaintiff persisted, and again he wrote to Quartermaster-general Meigs for an order of restoration.

This was about the seventh attempt, and the officer had grown impatient. He wrote an exceedingly vigorous reply, in which he emphatically refused to do as requested. The handwriting was frightful.

The attorney saw his chance. He hastened to his client, and, thrusting the letter to him, said, "I have succeeded at last. Here is the order."

The "order" was taken to the corral, where the officer in charge recognized the signature and at once turned over the property.

When General Meigs asked what had become of it, he was told that it had been restored on his order. He saw the order, and, as he could not read it, he simply said, "I do not remember signing it."—The Argonaut.

A clever young German, who came from Heidelberg not long since to teach philosophy in an up-town school for girls, is made much of in certain circles of society, where poverty is partially atoned for by talent. Still, he says that in no society in the world does wealth play so prominent a part as in that of New York.

"I met vit a striking ecksemple of that q'vite recently," he replied to some friends over a modest table d'hote. "I was engaged vit a lady of some conseq'vence in vot you style here de social world, and hat occasion to mention a young man vort, I suppose, twenty-five tausand thalers.

"'Yes,' she said, 've know him.'

"Suptseq'vently I spoke of anoder young man vort, I suppose, fifty tausand thalers.

"'Oh, yes,' she sayed, 'he's a real nice young man, q'vite promising.'

"Later I mentioned a chentleman vort, I suppose, von hundred tausand thalers.

"'Oh, my!' she spoke up, 'he's a goot frent of ours.'

"'Are you acquainted,' I asked, more supseq'vently, 'vit Herr Weisnichtvas?' "A young man vit a fortune of nearly a hef a million," he explained to his companions.

"'My, my, yes,' she answered, qe'vickly; 'he's intimate at our house.'

"Intimate at our house," the professor soliloquised. "A q'veer phase. It sounds like an item, but it seems to mark de social rekognition of hef a million thalers."—New York Herald.

It is a Curious Fact

That the body is now more susceptible to benefit from medicine than at any other season. Hence the importance of taking Hood's Sarsaparilla now, when it will do you the most good. It is really wonderful for purifying and enriching the blood, creating an appetite, and giving a healthy tone to the whole system. Be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla, which is peculiar to itself.

Dartmouth Notes.

HANOVER, April 2d.

Prof. Quimby is improving slowly, but is still in a very critical condition.

Many of the students will remain in Hanover during the vacation.

Dade, '91, who intended to give a lecture for the benefit of the Athletic association, has been obliged to indefinitely postpone it.

At a recent meeting of the sophomore class, J. P. Canty was elected athletic director to fill the vacancy caused by the absence of E. A. Pond. It was also voted to buy a class pipe to take the place of the one that W. H. Hurd forgot to return. The following committee was appointed to arrange for the election of junior honors, and report next term: Safford, F. A. Macdonald, Hoyt, Fassett and Gault.

The last event on the lecture course was given last Monday, March 26th, by Mr. Frank Beard. This was Mr. Beard's first appearance in Hanover, and the lecture association did well to secure him. His rapid crayon sketches and accompanying humorous remarks kept the audience in continual applause and laughter.

Ex-Senator Patterson finished his Bible-class exercises yesterday, as he feels unable to continue them through the spring term. He kindly offered to resume the exercises during the fall term if the students wish. Those who have attended the class meetings have received much valuable information and knowledge, both as to the passage in the Bible-lesson, and the customs of the far east.

The most interesting entertainment yet furnished on the lecture course was the concert by the Glee club, March 20. It was with many misgivings that the Glee club was formed last fall, but the success which has attended it everywhere proves that Dartmouth can compete as successfully with its rival colleges in musical contests as it has in athletics. The club received valuable instruction of Prof. Collins of the Conservatory of Music. The club will visit Portsmouth April 7th. B.

Hampton Jottings.

HAMPTON, April 2d.

Easter morn opened clear and still except for the songs of birds again trilling their Easter carols. A very appropriate and eloquent sermon was preached by Rev. J. A. Ross; the house was full, and around the pulpit was very handsomely decorated with plants and spruce boughs; the day was lovely, and all enjoyed the Easter services. In the evening an Easter concert was held in the church.

We were pleased to see Rev. R. A. De Llancey out to church yesterday, and hope he will regain his health with good weather.

At the mills in this section large lots of lumber are seen stacked, and logs to be sawed are yet piled high.

Since the shoe factory started the churches are better filled; thus far quite a good class of people have come among us.

The time has arrived to hire farm laborers, and the wages are low compared with the hard work expected of men who work out.

The good news has arrived from Exeter that the liquor shops are closed, making long faces on some of our citizens who go there to buy liquors, and sell the same from their cellars with cider; this work is carried on to quite an extent in some parts of this town, and ought to be abolished. ——.

Matters in York.

YORK BEACH, ME., April 2d.

A fine Easter concert was given Sunday evening in the parlors of the Ocean house, by Miss Romie Ellis' Sabbath school class, assisted by the York Beach orchestra. The floral decorations were very elaborate; potted plants, evergreens and cages of singing birds were artistically arranged around the rooms, and presented a scene of rare beauty, to the children and also to the large audience of adults present. The programme was well carried out, the music being unusually fine, and in keeping with the beautiful Easter service of commemorating a risen Lord.

Miss Mary Jenks of Concord and Miss Jessie Morgan of Elyin, Ill., young ladies of Wellesley college, are passing their vacation here at the Abbott house.

The Globe Grocery Co. opened their new store under Hotel Atlantic, April 2d.

Mr. Moses French, proprietor of the Union Bluff house, returned the 28th ult. from Cincinnati, Ohio, where he and his family have been spending the winter.

A. D. Walker, of the Fairmount house, has returned from Dover, N. H.

It is reported that F. A. Gale of Concord, N. H., will have a glass front put in his store on the Bluff, and open a first class fruit store the coming season.

Caleb Saunders, Esq., of Lawrence, Mass., is having his cottage on Dover Bluff shingled.

Fred Frisbee is painting the Foss cottage and stable. SUB.

Of Interest to Sportsmen.

The Maine Central railroad managers have issued the following to their employes, which will be of interest to sportsmen:

The lines now operated by this company probably lead to more hunting and fishing resorts than any other in the country, and a large volume of travel results therefrom. It seems necessary, then, that some rules be established regulating the transportation of such articles and supplies as are incident to sportsmen. Hereafter gun and rod cases or boxes of sportsmen's supplies may be checked or carried in cars, same as other baggage. Guns not cased cannot be carried, except by baggage masters in baggage cars free of charge and at the owner's risk. Dogs will be carried in baggage cars free and at owner's risk. Dogs, if crated, may be checked same as other baggage. Boxes of fish and other game may also be checked during time when transportation of same is not prohibited by law, and provided there is not more in quantity for each person than the law allows, and that owners accompany the same, subject in all cases as to weight according to the established rules for transportation of baggage. Baggagemen may accept a personal fee for care of dogs and game when tendered them, but are not permitted to ask for such.

S. B. Elkins is getting his plans ready to build a great country house at Franklin, West Virginia, as soon as the West Virginia Central runs in there. It is just over the mountain from Deer Park. There is to be a central hall of enormous size running up through two stories of the structure, the fireplace in which will be something marvelous in size and construction. Mr. Elkins' daughter, by the way, has extended her travels into Syria, where she was last heard from. She has been travelling for about a year.

"Did n't know 't was Loaded"

May do for a stupid boy's excuse; but what can be said for the parent who sees his child languishing daily and fails to recognize the want of a tonic and blood-purifier? Formerly, a course of bitters, or sulphur and molasses, was the rule in well-regulated families; but now all intelligent households keep Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which is at once pleasant to the taste, and the most searching and effective blood medicine ever discovered.

Nathan S. Cleveland, 27 E. Canton st., Boston, writes: "My daughter, now 21 years old, was in perfect health until a year ago when she began to complain of fatigue, headache, debility, dizziness, indigestion, and loss of appetite. I concluded that all her complaints originated in impure blood, and induced her to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine soon restored her blood-making organs to healthy action, and in due time reestablished her former health. I find Ayer's Sarsaparilla a most valuable remedy for the lassitude and debility incident to spring time."

J. Castright, Brooklyn Power Co., Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "As a Spring Medicine, I find a splendid substitute for the old-time compounds in Ayer's Sarsaparilla, with a few doses of Ayer's Pills. After their use, I feel fresher and stronger to go through the summer."

March Are the best months in which to purify your blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best blood purifier.

At no other season does the human system so much need the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla, as now. The impoverished condition of the blood, the weakening effects of the long, cold winter, the lost appetite, and that tired feeling, all make a good spring medicine absolutely necessary. Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiarly adapted for this purpose, and increases in popularity every year. It is the ideal spring medicine.

TIRED OF LIFE!

Reuben A. Rand Attempts Suicide.

Reuben A. Rand, a young man who lives on Vaughan street, was arrested early Tuesday evening, taken to the police station, and locked in a cell. Shortly after eight o'clock Officer Hobbs, captain of the night watch, who was alone in charge of the station, heard a sound as of a person strangling, and entering the cell found that Rand had made one end of a handkerchief fast around a grating-bar of the cell door, tied the other end around his neck, and was trying to strangle himself by letting his weight come on the handkerchief, while his feet touched the floor. Mr. Hobbs drew his knife across the handkerchief and Rand's weight came upon his feet, upon which he stood for a moment, leaning against the cell door, and then fell forward like a log to the floor, to the surprise of the officer, who had not supposed him so nearly gone. Dragging him from the cell into the corridor, Mr. Hobbs sprinkled water on his face and chafed his hands until he partially revived, and then placing him a chair told him to sit there a moment, intending to get straps to secure him; but as soon as the officer's back was turned Rand attempted to butt his brains out against the wall, and for a few minutes the officer had a lively time of it, but at length got the prisoner under control. Dr. Clark, city physician, was called to dress an ugly cut on Rand's lip, made by his fall, and attend to his other needs; and a close watch was kept over him the remainder of the night.

Rand has been before the courts a number of times, for drunkenness and other offences, and is reported to have been drinking to excess for some time past, and also behaving very violently at his home. In the station he appeared insane, rather than drunk.

The Cadets' Picnic.

This evening, at Franklin [theatre, "The Cadets' Picnic," which gave such universal satisfaction when presented there some weeks ago, will be repeated, with additional attractions. The drill of the Cadets is marvellous in its precision, the costumes of the young girls are very neat and pretty, and there is much really good singing; the little old man and little old woman are extremely comical, and the trained owls immense. Gallery tickets, at twenty-five cents each, can be obtained at the doors, which open at 7:30 o'clock, the curtain rising at eight. Holders of reserved seat tickets are specially reminded that the performance commences "promptly at eight," and not "promptly between eight and half-past eight," as is usually the case at professional performances in this city. Reserved seats sold at Preston's pharmacy; there are still some good ones left for to-morrow (Thursday) evening.

The Somersworth toboggan slide not having paid expenses during the winter, has been sold.

The Gorman Spectacular Minstrels.

This company, advertised to appear in Music hall next Friday evening, is thus spoken of by the Indianapolis Sentinel:

The advance printing of "The Gorman Spectacular Minstrels," in proclaiming this organization the strongest and best on the road, certainly did not make any stronger claim than the company positively deserved. This company is made up entirely from the artistes who for years have been visiting us under the name of Haverly's Minstrels, and under the same management, Fred E. Wright, who successfully piloted the old Haverly party. Every act is new, and there is not a single feature about the entire performance that savors of "oldness." The three Gormans, so well-known as the only producers of minstrel novelties, may well feel proud of the programme they have prepared. They have shown rare tact in arranging their entertainment, as it gives scope to every description of theatrical talent, and there is such a variety offered that all tastes can be suited. There is not a hitch or drag in the entire show. Every moment is utilized in making their audiences merry. Neither do they have time to recover from one surprise before another is set before them. There is a sort of kid-glove air prevailing in everything presented, which is a strong indication that the management caters to the society classes.

Sale of seats commences at Goodrich's this morning; see advertisement.

Personal.

Mr. Charles W. Badger has arrived home from the south with his wife and child.

Mr. Frank A. Batchelder and wife, of Boston, are visiting Mrs. Batchelder's parents, Mr. G. W. Randall and wife, on Mulberry street.

Mr. J. M. Tebbetts and wife have gone to New York on a business trip of a week, to select the most fashionable and beautiful articles in imported and domestic millinery goods for their spring and summer trade.

The following-named New Hampshire people were booked at the Ebbitt house, Washington, on the 1st inst.: James F. Whitney, Mrs. Mary Whitney, Nashua; Amanda Pickering, Newington; J. Edward Pickering, Clara E. Woods, Kittie J. Ferren, Miss C. A. Abbott, Annie A. Webster, Mary E. Bunton, Nancy S. Bunton, Manchester; Alice Folsom, Carrie Tapley, Dover. At Willard's hotel, Ellen E. McKean, G. Susie Woodman, Manchester.

Maritime Notes.

The three-masted schooner Alice Montgomery, of Boston, 732 tons register, built at Bath, Me., in 1882, and partly owned in this city, was seen abandoned March 16th, about 200 miles off the Virginia coast.

The schooner Delhi, Capt. C. F. Green of Saco master, arrived at Wilmington, N. C., March 31st, after a voyage of thirty-three days from San Domingo. It was at one time feared that she was lost.

The British barque British Princess has been wrecked off Caminha, Portugal. Twenty-three persons were lost. It is reported that Spanish customs officers prevented the saving of a number of lives by firing upon a Portuguese lifeboat which had gone to the rescue.

The U. S. S. Richmond, flagship of the North Atlantic squadron, collided with the Swedish barque Lima at Key West, March 29th, slightly injuring the barque, and having her own bow and quarter rail considerably damaged.

N. H. S. P. C. A.

At the monthly meeting, on the 2d inst., of the directors of the New Hampshire Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, the following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, since our last meeting, the President of the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, Henry Bergh, has been removed by death.

Resolved, that in common with all kindred societies, we mourn the grievous loss which has thus befallen our cause.

Resolved, that his example should ever be an inspiration to the friend of humanity.

Resolved, that we can best honor his memory by emulating his energy, courage and faith in the good work.

Resolved, that we communicate to the American Society this expression of our sympathy and sorrow, and cause the same to be placed upon our records.

Fire Company Elections.

Kearsarge Co., No. 3.—John E. Harmon, foreman; Henry Kennison, first assistant; H. E. Fernald, second assistant; Charles H. Besselievre, clerk and treasurer; Morris Tobin, steward; C. A. Neal, pipeman; Seth Haley, Henry O. Batten and Thomas Lyons, assistant pipemen.

Moses H. Goodrich Co., No. 4.—John Turner, foreman; Frank P. Banks, first assistant; Charles Lydston, second assistant; Lorenzo T. Burnham, steward; C. L. Hoyt, pipeman; Elmer Eaton, assistant pipeman.

Extinguisher Co., No. 5.—Warren P. Webster, foreman; Edward A. Manent, assistant; Albert C. Anderson, clerk; Howard Grover, pipeman; Ordway R. Hall, assistant pipeman.

Extinguisher Co., No. 6.—Oliver W. Ham, foreman; Alvin Littlefield, assistant foreman; Frederick Thomas, pipeman; Gilman B. Randall, steward; Wm. Twombly, clerk.

Hook & Ladder Co., No. 1.—The officers elected were the same as last year.

Washington despatches say there is strong likelihood that Hon. Wm. L. Putnam of Portland, brother of Paymaster Edwin Putnam, U. S. N., of this city, will be appointed chief justice of the supreme court of the United States. We have little hope the president will make so excellent a choice.

The patronage already received by the Coffee House and Seamen's Home on Market street, recently opened with Mr. Hotchkiss of Boston as superintendent, is such as to demonstrate the need of such an institution, and that it is appreciated by the classes it is intended to benefit.

The entertainment announced to be given in Music hall on Tuesday evening by Mr. Leland T. Powers, the dramantic reader and impersonator, did not take place owing to the illness of Mr. Powers.

Watson, Smith & Co., of Boston, wholesale dealers in flour and produce, made an assignment on Saturday, with liabilities of $27,400. The firm have long had close business relations with this city, their agent having made weekly visits to the merchants here for many years past.

The Easter ball given by the St. Mary's Benevolent society in Franklin hall on Monday evening, in aid of the Nonpareil boat club, was largely attended and much enjoyed, the party not breaking up until nearly three o'clock Tuesday morning.

A year ago last Monday snow fell in this city to the depth of more than six inches; in Dover ten inches fell, and the horse cars had to abandon their trips. This isn't the worst spring that ever was, in this region.

On and after Monday, April 9th, the midday train on the Concord & Portsmouth railroad will resume running, leaving Concord at 10:20 A. M. and arriving here at 12:45 P. M., and starting on its return at one o'clock.

There were four marriages, eight births and thirteen burials recorded by the city clerk during March.

House No. 46 Vaughan street, belonging to the Eastern railroad, was sold by auction on Tuesday, to be removed within ten days. It was bought by Mr. Noble, for $25.

Mr. Fred F. Church has been chosen president of the Portsmouth baseball association.

Diphtheria is reported to be very prevalent in Kennebunkport.

Rev. Mr. Morse of Kennebunk has accepted a call to the pastorate of the Second Congregational church in Wells, commencing his duties April 15th.

There will be a meeting of the York County Horse Breeders' association at the Saco house, Saco, April 6th, to make arrangements for the annual exhibition, and to arrange a premium list.

Rev. S. A. Hutchinson of Franklin county, Ohio, formerly pastor of the Christian church in Kittery, has sold his land and buildings in that town to James E. Chase for $2200.

Capt. Redford W. Sargent of Kittery, master of the steamship Ohio, sailed from New York on the 31st ult. for Glasgow, Scotland, where he is to superintend the construction of a large steamer to be added to the line to which the Ohio belongs. Capt. Sargent was accompanied by his bride.

The steam tug Cocheco started for Boston at an early hour Tuesday morning, to be fitted there with a new propeller.

Police Court—Batchelder J.

TUESDAY, April 3d.

Thomas Fay, a drunk, promised to leave the city if allowed, and there being no special reason to desire his residence here he was allowed to depart.

John Foley, for drunkenness, was fined $3, costs $6.90.

Michael Norton, for drunkenness, was ordered to the county farm for sixty days, and to pay $6 90 costs.

Joseph W. Haines of Greenland has been drawn as a grand juror, and John L. Folsom as a petit juror, to serve at the April term of the supreme court for Rockingham county, which commences next Tuesday.

Felix Hanna of Exeter was robbed of $15 early Tuesday morning by Cyrus E. Chase and Andrew Newton, in front of the Metropolitan hotel, Boston. The thieves were arrested.

A block in Rochester owned by Zyrille Vallee was set on fire Tuesday forenoon by a child playing with matches, and was damaged $1000 by fire and water. Fully insured.

Three boy tramps arrived in Dover on a Sunday evening train, having ridden from Lawrence on a truck frame to which they lashed themselves.

Our line of Kid Gloves for Easter is second to none for quality and low prices; embroidered and plain backs from 50 cts. to $1.50. Lewis E. Staples, 7 Market street.

The U. S. S. Lancaster, which sailed from Montevideo for Gibraltar on the 17th of January, has not yet arrived, but as she is making the passage under sail alone there is no reason for uneasiness. She is a good ship, but not a fast sailer.

RIGHT HERE IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

A Matter of Vital Importance.

The following unsolicited opinions from your friends and neighbors, men and women, who you know and respect, ought to carry conviction to any doubting mind. These words of gratitude are from those who have been afflicted but are now well, and the persons giving them are naturally solicitous that others, troubled as were they, may know the means of cure. There is no reason why you should be longer ill from kidney, liver or stomach troubles. You can be cured as well as others. Do not longer delay treatment, but to-day obtain that which will restore you to permanent health and strength:

MANCHESTER, N. H., (288 Douglass St.) Oct. 29, 1887.—Some five years ago I was quite sick and feeble with a diseased liver, described as Cirrhosis of the Liver. I consider my condition was critical. It would be difficult for me to describe my sufferings. I was treated by different physicians for a number of months, without effect. In fact, I really grew worse, until I concluded to take my case in my own hands and do for myself. My attention was directed to "Warner's Safe Cure" and "Warner's Safe Pills," and in consequence I began taking them. I cannot say that I experienced any particular benefit at first. Not until I had taken several bottles. I was not discouraged, however, but continued its use and gradually began to recover. I improved a little every week, until at last I was completely and radically cured, after having taken some 27 bottles, and have remained so. To day I feel like a young man 18 years of age, although I am 49. I consider that it saved my life. J. W. Hewitt

CONCORD, N. H., (133 N. Main St.) Oct. 31, 1887.—I wish to say that I am still alive and in good health, thanks to "Warner's Safe Cure." I wrote you some six years ago, testifying to "Warner's Safe Cure," having saved my life from Bright's Disease, after the physicians had given me up, and promised that I might live until some fall. I thought it would afford you no little satisfaction to know that I am on deck and better than ever. John Doherty

ROCHESTER, N. H., Nov. 3, 1887.—I have taken "Warner's Safe Cure" with marked benefit; pain in back, &c. I consider it a valuable remedy, and take pleasure in testifying to that effect. J. Warren Dodge

CONCORD, N. H., 1st Nov., 1887.—I have tested the remedy known as "Warner's Safe Cure," and consider it a valuable medicine for the purposes for which it is recommended. F. P. Kellom

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., (40 Pleasant St.) Nov. 8, 1887.—I was greatly troubled with Catarrh of the Bladder and pains across my kidneys. Nothing relieved or benefitted me, until I began the use of "Warner's Safe Cure" and "Warner's Safe Pills." I have taken so far four bottles of "Warner's Safe Cure," and the result is that the pus and mucus in my urine have entirely disappeared, and I am apparently relieved from the pains in my back. ☞ Tickets bought of children authorized to sell them, can be exchanged for reserved seat tickets on Saturday morning, March 31st, at 9 o'clock, at Andrew P. Preston's Pharmacy. Tickets to lower part of the house 50 cents; Gallery 25 cents. ☞ Gallery tickets sold at door only.

Doors open at 7:30, curtain will rise at 8 o'clock promptly.

LACES, fine embroideries, and other articles too delicate to bear rubbing, may be cleaned satisfactorily and without injury, if you will pare into fine shavings one-fourth of a cake of Ivory Soap, which dissolve in a quart of hot water; fill a glass fruit jar half full of the solution and add the article to be cleaned, then shake well. Rinse in the same manner in clear, luke-warm water.

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

The best medical writers claim that the successful remedy for nasal catarrh must be non-irritating, easy of application, and one that will by its own action, reach all the remote sores and ulcerated surfaces. The history of the efforts to treat catarrh during the past few years obliges us to admit that only one remedy has completely met these conditions, and that is Ely's Cream Balm. This safe and pleasant remedy has mastered catarrh as nothing else has ever done, and both physicians and patients freely concede this fact. The more distressing symptoms quickly yield to it.

What Constitutes a Family Medicine?

A preparation which is adapted to the relief and cure of ailments to which members of a household are most subject, and which is not only alleged to do this, but has long and unfailingly proved its ability to do it, assuredly deserves the title of a reliable Family Medicine. Among time-honored preparations, which experience and the sanction of the medical profession indicate as deserving of popular regard and confidence, is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a medicine adapted to eradication of dyspepsia, constipation and billiousness, the three most frequently occurring ailments that vex mankind. Derived from a botanic parentage, it is efficient as well as pure and wholesome. It relieves nervous disquietude and inactivity of the kidneys, and counteracts a tendency to rheumatism. For renewing flagging strength and imparting appetite it can be implicitly relied upon. Fever and ague, rheumatism and debility are remedied by it.

There is reported to be a liquor drouth in Rochester, every one of the thirty places where liquor was formerly sold having been closed by action of the selectmen.

Great Falls has appointed three regular police officers, one for day service and two for night; they get $600 per year each, and all fees and fines go to the town treasury.

The body is more susceptible to benefit from Hood's Sarsaparilla now than at any other season. Therefore take it now.

Edmire Lingelier, a French woman 102 years old, walked into a furniture store in Biddeford a few days ago, and bought a bedstead.

The simplest and best regulator of the disordered Liver in the world, are Carter's Little Liver Pills. They give prompt relief in Sick Headache, Dizziness, Nausea, &c.; prevent and cure Constipation and Piles; remove Sallowness and Pimples from the Complexion, and are mild and gentle in their operation on the bowels. Carter's Little Liver Pills are small and as easy to take as sugar. One pill a dose. Price 25 cents.

Why Fortune Smiled Upon Augusta Filene.

We heard that fortune had bestowed a smile upon Miss Augusta Filene, 3,637 Archer Ave., Chicago. She was found to be a bright and intelligent German girl, in the employ of the Singer Sewing Machine Co. "Yes, I have been rather fortunate. I held one-tenth of ticket 72,185 in The Louisiana State Lottery, costing $1, the drawing of which took place 10th, 1888, and drew $5,000. The money was paid promptly. Stories of English Parsons.

Bishop Wilberforce was a magnificent instance of perfect composure of mind under agitating circumstances. He was to preach at the opening of a school chapel at which a royal party was expected. As was his wont, he dawdled about on his arrival, but was at last induced to put his robes on and on arriving at the robing-room, where half a hundred clergy were bustling about and adorning themselves, asked for ink and a pen and a chair, and coolly produced from his pocket an unfinished manuscript. In vain they told him that the royalist party had taken their places—with an impenetrable smile he wrote in a slow, stately hand several pages of the sermon, blotted it with the utmost deliberation, and then announced that he was ready to start. The head master had imagined that at least there would be some traces of confusion and hurry in their composition when these penultimate pages came to be delivered, but no! one after another the great periods unfolded themselves. The most delicate subjects were touched and handled not only in a finished but in a deeply emotional manner. No one would have guessed that the sermon had not been laboriously and sedately composed in the solemn quiet of Cuddesdon.

It is not only the great preachers who have need of self-possession. The writer of this was sitting one summer evening in a quiet church in a remote country district, hearing a moderate sermon run its course in a thoroughly unexceptionable manner. The day had clouded over, and it became obvious that the manuscript was becoming momentarily more difficult to decipher; there were no lights in the pulpit. Suddenly a tall figure started up in the squire's pew. "Calvert," it said in a soldierly tone. "You can't see." The clergyman quietly suspended his ministrations. "Indeed, Sir John, I can." "No, you can't, you can't, indeed; it has become quite dark." "I shall do very well, Sir John, thank you." "No, no, no; you must have a light. James (to one of the footmen in a back seat), where is my lady's lantern?" "In the porch, Sir John;" "Get it at once and light it." A long pause ensued; the footman left the church and the painful striking of safety matches was heard outside in the deathly stillness. To my intense relief no one present seemed even to feel that the scene had its ludicrous side at all. Presently he emerged bearing a lantern. "Give it to Mr. Calvert." The footman went up the pulpit stairs and the lantern was adjusted close to the manuscript. "Now I think we shall do," said Sir. John sinking back with the air of a man who has done his duty. "Thank you very much, Sir John; it is a relief after all," said Mr. Calvert, and the sermon continued.

The late bishop of London having just read the striking anecdote of John Wesley cutting out every word of a new discourse that was unintelligible to a servant maid, whom he called in to assist in the process, determined to preach a country congregation as simple a sermon as he could compose. He chose an elementary subject, taking as his text: "The fool hath said in his heart there is no God." On leaving the church he said to the parish clerk, who had been listening with mute attention: "Well John, and what do you make of the sermon?" "Oh, my lord, it was very fine—very fine and grand. I've been talking it over with Mr Beard, and we said how fine it was but, after all, we can't help thinking that there is a God." What wonder after this is there in the shrewd comment of the old verger of St. Mary's, Oxford, who being congratulated by a preacher on his appearance of perennial youth, replied; "Yes, sir, and there are other things to be thankful for; I've heard every sermon that has been preached from this pulpit for the last fifty years, and, thank God, I'm a Christian still!"—Murray's Magazine.

A Combination Fence.

Since the general introduction of barb-wire fences, says The Country Gentleman, the importance of hedges has greatly diminished, but for both ornament and utility they may still be employed to advantage. The most perfect and really substantial are a union of wire and hedge-plant. Formerly the honey locust and the Osage orange made the best barriers; but the honey locust requires much and frequent cutting back, and the Osage orange as much so, with the additional drawback of winter-killing in regions of severe winter. The buckthorn and the barberry are both hardy, and both have a hedge-like growth, but neither are stiff enough alone for farm barriers. But with two or three barb-wires included with them, stretched successfully while the hedge is growing in height, they become perfect—requiring but little cutting back, forming a stiff hedge and presenting a fine ornamental appearance when kept in good shape. The purple barberry is as hardy as the common sort and makes as good a hedge, and when in bloom early in the season, or in scarlet berries later, is an object of great beauty. The plants are easily raised from seed and are very readily and safely transplanted. The privet has naturally a hedgy growth, and is often recommended for hedges, but it is not perfectly hardy, and is liable to die out in patches.

It is a Curious Fact

That the body is now more susceptible to benefit from medicine than at any other season. Hence the importance of taking Hood's Sarsaparilla now, when it will do you the most good. It is really wonderful for purifying and enriching the blood, creating an appetite, and giving a healthy tone to the whole system. Be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla, which is peculiar to itself.

The Railroad Strikes.

The great railroad strikes in the west seem no nearer a settlement than ever. Engineers, firemen, brakemen and switchmen on some roads are leaving work rather than aid in handling Burlington freight; on other roads they have returned to work after leaving; outrages by striking engineers and switchmen are becoming frequent, which is a bad sign for their side of the contest; the Rock Island road has acceded to the demands of the strikers, and notified the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy that no more "Q" freight will be taken, and the latter has sought relief in the United States courts; the Michigan Central, which has declared that it will do all business offering, was absolutely devoid of men on the 3d inst., in its Chicago yard, but later they decided to return to work, and handle "Q" freight; the Santa Fe switchmen at Kansas City struck on the 3d, but returned on being assured the road would take no "Q" freight.

The whole business is greatly mixed up. The fight of the strikers is against the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy road; but that road has all the help it wants, and the only chance left to conquer it is to cripple it by preventing other roads from taking its freight. It is not easy to see how this can be permanently accomplished, for railroads hold their very existence as common carriers—carriers for the public, and not for such portion of it as the trades unions may allow to be served. On the other hand, there is no way that we can see, if the railroad men prefer to give up their jobs rather than handle boycotted freight, to make them keep at work against their will; and the places of so large a number of skilled men are difficult to fill on short notice. The Burlington managers, whose refusal to comply with the demands of the engineers' brotherhood was the cause of the strike, say those demands will not in any event be acceded to; the engineers say they shall be, or the road shall be bottled up. Whether the workers can bear the loss of ten of thousands in wages better than the railroads can the loss of hundreds of thousands in business, is doubtful; but just when and how the contest will end is not yet shown. About all that is clear is, that the business and industrial interests of a vast extent of country are at present suffering badly, because the Burlington road and its engineers had a dispute as to some minor point of classification.

The grand secretary of the Order of Railway Conductors has sent to the managers of the various railroads advance sheets of his annual report, in which the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers is strongly denounced.

The Lumber Exchange of Chicago, at a meeting on the 3d, resolved to take legal proceedings against any roads which should refuse to receive their lumber from the Burlington, and haul it over their lines; it was said over $80,000,000 worth of lumber was blockaded in the city by the action of some of the roads.

The Belt Line railroad of Chicago was temporarily enjoined on the 3d inst. by Judge Gresham of the United States court, from refusing to handle Burlington freight.

In the national house, on the 3d, the committee on commerce agreed to a resolution providing for the appointment by the speaker of a committee of five to proceed to the locality of the strike, and investigate as to its causes, its results, and what is necessary in the way of legislation to protect interstate commerce.

After the foregoing was in type, on the 4th, despatches from Chicago announced the utter collapse of all the strikes except that on the Burlington road, and on that one the strikers' places were long ago filled. In accordance with the resolution of a meeting of strikers on the 3d, all the men who left the St. Paul, the Fort Wayne and other roads presented themselves for duty on the 4th, and the great boycott was over. The insterstate commerce law fine of $5000 should now be enforced against all the roads which violated their duty by refusing to receive "Q" freight.

Horrible Affair.

While a bull-fight was in progress Sunday afternoon at Celaya, Mexico, the grass matting with which the bull-ring building was covered in was set on fire by one of a gang of prisoners who had been allowed to attend the bull-fight under guard, and the entire structure was in flames in a few moments. A scene of confusion and horror ensued, women and children being trampled under foot by the frantic crowd, and the bulls, breaking out of their stalls, charging through the terrified throng and goring all who came in their way. Many persons jumped from the top, a distance of twenty or thirty feet, and over a hundred were seriously injured. Nine persons were burned to death, and nine others died from their burns in a short time; sixty-eight others were badly burned, and at least ten of them will die. Fifty or more persons were seriously hurt by being trampled on, but it is hoped all will recover. Most of the victims were women and children. The prisoners all escaped during the confusion.

Personal.

Mrs. Joseph M. Edmunds is visiting Mrs. J. Horace Kent, of Islington street.

Mrs. Harry P. Kent left on Tuesday morning of this week for Montreal, Canada, to join her husband.

Harry Hutchinson, George B. Stavers, Arthur Locke and Clifton Humphreys arrived home from Dartmouth college on Wednesday.

The Misses Eastman, daughters of the late Comdr. Thomas H. Eastman, left this city on the 4th inst. for their permanent home in Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Harris, wife of J. Lewis Harris of Boston, New England agent of the Northern Pacific railroad, is visiting her sister, Mrs. John Sise, of Court street.

Mr. James E. Parker and family, who have been passing several weeks on a visit to friends in Boston, have arrived home, and re-opened their residence on Middle street.

Mr. Thomas Donegan, formerly of this city and for some years an employe in the Journal office, arrived in town this week on a short visit to friends. For several years past he has been in Vermont, and this is his first visit here for a year.

Medical Director John M. Browne, the recently-appointed surgeon-general of the navy, was born in this state, and entered the navy as assistant surgeon in 1853. He was commissioned surgeon in 1861; sailed from this port in 1862 as surgeon of the U. S. S. Kearsarge, and took part in the fight with the Alabama. He was commissioned medical inspector in 1871, and medical director in 1878.

Mr. Walter H. Page, late local editor of the Times, is to assume the editorship and business management of a new daily paper about to be started in Amesbury, Mass., in connection with a weekly which was established in 1832. Mr. Page has been a resident of this city and "local" of the Times for some eight years past, during which time he has made a large number of warm friends. Our own personal and professional relations with Mr. Page have always been of the pleasantest character, notwithstanding his political errors,—he is a democrat,—and he need ask no better luck than we wish him.

What a Time

People formerly had, trying to swallow the old-fashioned pill with its film of magnesia vainly disguising its bitterness; and what a contrast to Ayer's Pills, that have been well called "medicated sugar-plums"—the only fear being that patients may be tempted into taking too many at a dose. But the directions are plain and should be strictly followed.

J. T. Teller, M. D., of Chittenango, N. Y., expresses exactly what hundreds have written at greater length. He says: "Ayer's Cathartic Pills are highly appreciated. They are perfect in form and coating, and their effects are all that the most careful physician could desire. They have supplanted all the Pills formerly popular here, and I think it must be long before any other can be made that will at all compare with them. Those who buy your pills get full value for their money."

"Safe, pleasant, and certain in their action," is the concise testimony of Dr. George E. Walker, of Martinsville, Virginia.

"Ayer's Pills outsell all similar preparations. The public having once used them, will have no others."—Berry, Venable & Collier, Atlanta, Ga.

Another War Cloud.

A despatch of March 31st from Ottawa, Ont., says: "Considerable anxiety is felt here over the belligerent attitude of the British Columbia fishermen, who are arming themselves and propose to resist any attempt at seizure by American authorities in Behring sea. The cabinet considered the matter on two or three occasions this week. Lord Lansdowne, governor-general, wired the lieutenant-governor of British Columbia on Thursday suggesting to his government the advisability of issuing a public notice cautioning persons going on sealing expeditions to refrain from asserting their rights by force and from taking on board arms and ammunition in excess of their usual requirements."

March April May

Are the best months in which to purify your blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best blood purifier. At no other season does the human system so much need the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla, as now. The impoverished condition of the blood, the weakening effects of the long, cold winter, the lost appetite, and that tired feeling, all make a good spring medicine absolutely necessary. Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiarly adapted for this purpose, and increases in popularity every year. It is the ideal spring medicine.

"I must say Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine I ever used. Last spring I had no appetite, and the least work I did fatigued me ever so much. I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon felt that I could do as much in a day as I had formerly done in a week. My appetite is voracious." MRS. M. V. EDWARD, Atlantic City, N. J.

They Were Bound to Go Some Way.

The schooner Franklin S. Schenck, Capt. Thomas Jameson, was announced to start from this port on Wednesday evening, the 4th inst., with a party to witness the great race of crack fishing schooners announced to come off in Massachusetts bay to-day, which is Fast day in Massachusetts. Between twenty and thirty yacht-racing enthusiasts gathered on the wharf in the early evening, ready for the start, but the wind was very light, and from the wrong direction at that, and the Schenck did not cast off her lines. Most of the party went to Boston by the Pullman train at four o'clock this morning, to take passage on an excursion steamer from there, being bound to see the race should there be one.

WEDNESDAY, April 4th.

John Blute, for drunkenness, was fined $3, costs $6.90.

Parish Meeting.

At the annual parish meeting of Christ church, held on Monday evening of this week, the following-named officers were elected to serve during the ensuing year: Edwin B. Prime, Frank J. Philbrick, wardens; John H. Knox, clerk; E. B. Prime, treasurer; William Bates, vestryman.

The Gorman Spectacular Minstrels.

The Gorman Spectacular Minstrels, announced to appear in Music hall tomorrow evening, are made up mostly of the best men of the former Haverly Minstrels. The Buffalo Times says the company is "the best on the road, and this is written after a careful consideration of what such an assertion implies." The Haverhill Bulletin says their performance was "the finest thing of the kind ever given in the city." And similar commendatory notices have been given them wherever they have appeared. Tickets at Goodrich's; see advertisement.

Found Insane.

Dr. Parsons and Dr. Berry on Wednesday forenoon examined Reuben A. Rand, who attempted suicide in the police station the previous evening, pronounced him of unsound mind, and recommended his commitment to the asylum at Concord or Brentwood.

Persons who propose attending the entertainment this evening, should secure tickets early this morning, as there are only a few unsold, at Preston's pharmacy. First come, first served.

The wooden casing has been removed from the post-office steps.

The steamer Pottsville arrived at this port on the 3d inst. from Philadelphia, with 1662 tons coal to J. Albert Walker.

None of the gallery seats in Franklin heatre are reserved for the "Cadets' Picnic" this evening. Gallery tickets can be had only at the door—price, twenty-five cents each.

Our line of Kid Gloves for Easter is second to none for quality and low prices; embroidered and plain backs from 50 cts. to $1.50. Lewis E. Staples, 7 Market Street.

THE "CADETS' PICNIC"

Greeted With A Crowded House,

In Franklin Theatre, Last Evening.

A Very Successful Affair.

One of the most pleasing amateur entertainments ever given in this city was that of the "Cadets' Picnic" in Franklin theatre, last evening, under the direction of the ladies of the Unity club, with Frank S. Preston as manager, and it was enjoyed by as fine an audience as ever gathered in this city, every seat being occupied. Extensive preparations had been made for this (the second) performance; the cadets were kept in constant practice, new features added, and other changes made, and it was really a new play. Everthing tended to show that the members of the company had made great improvement since they appeared in public some weeks ago, and much credit is due to them and to those who had charge of the entertainment.

Previous to the picnic proper, the famous "Educated Cockatoos" were introduced, and were a very fine feature. It having been whispered that Mr. Frank S. Preston, on his last voyage to foreign parts, had purchased some very rare birds, we expected,—not knowing anything to the contrary,—to see a number of cages of very beautiful birds, but when the curtain went up promptly at eight o'clock no cages were to be seen. But instead of telling our readers what we did see, we advise them all to attend the entertainment, which will be repeated this evening, and see for themselves. It is worth the price of admission.

Passing over the first act, we call especial attention to the second. No prettier stage setting has been seen in this city than that which was presented to the audience at the rising of the curtain on the second act, and it was much applauded. The handsome costumes of the cadets, with the bright and happy faces of the girls, made the scene most charming. One of the principle features of the evening was the drilling of the cadets, in command of Captain Edward T. Kimball. Two much cannot be said in praise of this excellently drilled company. The "silent manual," which is considered one of the most difficult drills in military, was given by them in a most perfect manner, and brought forth applause that only ceased on its repetition.

We must now mention the singing of the entire company, and also the several solos. Miss Cora W. Barnabee, the charming little soprano singer, who has been heard many times by Portsmouth audiences, was "leading lady" of the company. The solos by Miss Barnabee of "Darkest the Hour" and the "Lullaby song" from "Erminie," were given in her best manner, and she received a beautiful bouquet and large encore, and was obliged to repeat her songs. The solo "Twinkling Stars," by Dudley Carpenter, the "leading man" and the duet, "Poor Little Man," and "Poor Little Maid," from "Ruddigore," by Miss Barnabee and Master Carpenter, were also very beautifully rendered. Master Carpenter also received a handsome bouquet. The chorus singing was very fine throughout.

Master Charlie Conlon, as "one of the finest" of police, took his part splendidly, and was loudly applauded by the audience. He seemed to feel quite proud in his uniform, and fully realized his importance when he caught the deserter and brought him into camp. Misses Bertha Vaughan, Fanny Stavers, Adele Yates, and Mary Louise Bennett deserve special mention for carrying out their parts so nicely; as do also Capt. Edward T. Kimball, of the cadets, and Master Harry Prior, the drummer and xylophonist; Master Prior was enthusiastically encored. Miss Yates received a handsome bouquet. Her waltzing and that of Misses Cotton and Hovey, was very fine.

At the close of the picnic the company joined the audience, to witness the dance of the "Accomplished Owls," which closed the evening's programme, everybody saying at the end that they had enjoyed a very delightful and pleasing entertainment.

Below will be found the cast of characters, the names of those in the company, and the costumes worn by the young misses:

Affairs in Kittery.

KITTERY POINT, ME., April 3d.

It is a warm spring morning, and the trees are full of singing birds.

Easter was observed by appropriate services at the different churches. The altar at the Christian church was decorated with flowers, and a very impressive Easter sermon was delivered by Rev. J. H. Mugridge of Newcastle. At the Freewill Baptist church, flowers and singing birds were prettily arranged; the sermon by the pastor was full of Easter cheer, and the choir of children added much to the interest of the occasion. The concert at that church in the evening was well attended. The singing of two tiny girls was one of the best features of the entertainment.

Sunday was the ninetieth anniversary of Mrs. Betsy Perry's birthday. Her children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren assembled at the old home to pass the day with her. About fifty of her relatives and friends gathered there during the day, and she received many beautiful presents. Religious services were conducted in the morning by Elder Mugridge. Between thirty and forty of her descendants ranged themselves around the family table at dinner. Her faculties are wonderfully preserved, and she seemed to enjoy the gathering as much as any one. One beautiful present was a birthday cake from the grandchildren; it was pure white, and bore the two dates, 1798—1888. She is a member of Elder Fernald's church, of which her husband was deacon; he has been dead many years, and since his death she has lived with her son, who fills his father's place in that church. She is now passing a comfortable old age in the pretty, cosy home that loving hearts and willing hands make so pleasant for her.

We have heard of a recent party which was not entirely enjoyable in all respects, to some of the participants. It seems that a group of young people wanted a candy pull one night. A young man volunteered to superintend the operations. The molasses was put on to boil, and all went well until it was almost done, when an unlucky movement upset the boiling candy in the middle of the floor. They were not easily discouraged, and believed in the motto, "If at first you don't succeed, Try, try again." The sticky mess was cleaned up, and more molasses put on to boil. It boiled and boiled, and at last was pronounced done. It was put out to cool, and when cool enough to handle was brought into the house and taken from the pan to pull. But "all things are not what they seem," and that candy stuck to both hands and ran down in a chair. After a strenuous effort it was captured and again put on to boil. The young man's courage failed this time, and a girl stepped in and took his place to boil that lasses. She boiled and boiled and "biled" it until it could hardly be stirred. Once more it was put out to cool. This time it was so hard one could hardly pull it at all. It was stretched out in one long rope, and taken to the door to cool. It cooled quick, very quick, and at a slight touch it lay in fifty pieces on the top step, whence it was gathered up and taken back in the house. The young man who boiled it first was so overcome that he sat down in the chair where the molasses was spilled; and the chair had such magnetic influence he was hardly able to tear himself away. When he did rise from that chair, oh, his pantaloons! He don't want any more candy this week.

Spring moving has begun. Capt. Charles Mills is moving into the house on Molly Miles' avenue owned by S. S. Fletcher of Portsmouth. Mr. Charles Tobey intends to move this week to the Dorr place on Keen's lane; and Chas. Tobey, Jr., will move into the Deering house.

Miss Millie Williams has recovered from her sickness in a measure, but is not yet able to go out of doors.

Several of the young people of this place are expected home soon on a spring vacation. AUNT MOLLY.

Notice---Get Your Full Weight!

THIS CARD is intended to call the attention of every housekeeper in the city of Portsmouth and vicinity. The Spring Cleaning time is drawing near, when every housekeeper will have more or less domestic refuse, such as rags, and old rubber, and all kinds of old paper stock, to dispose of; every one wants, and ought to have, the best prices of the market, and this can be assured by seeing John O'Brien or his man, as he is about sending out his carts on the different routes, and having made a contract with parties to take all his paper stock, he will be able to pay the best prices of any man outside of Boston. If you do not see O'Brien's teams, drop a postal card to "John O'Brien, No. 1 Holmes Court," and prompt attention will be paid to the same.

N. B. Beware of unprincipled men; they will call and weigh your rags, and give you about one-half of what they really weigh. My attention has been called to six different cases of late where parties got rags in that way and the housekeeper took them back again. Weigh all your rags, and catch the dishonest dealer. What I say to one I say to all—"Weigh your rags." Why should you sell your rags for ½ cent when you can get 1 cent per lb. for colored rags, 2½ cents for white, and 3 cents per lb. for your old rubbers. You can get these prices by seeing John O'Brien, cash or trade. If you should enter a grocery store and call for a bag of flour, and found it four or five pounds short, you would think that was not right; and why should you not have your weight in your bag of rags? I say to you again, weigh your rags, for no man forgiveth.

The Providence Journal says: "The case brought against the wardens and vestrymen of the Church of the Holy Trinity in New York for violating the contract labor law by engaging a rector in Scotland, should be means of putting the law on an intelligent basis by decisions of the court or legislative action. There is a serious question if the whole law is not an absurdity."

The best medical writers claim that the successful remedy for nasal catarrh must be non-irritating, easy of application, and one that will by its own action, reach all the remote sores and ulcerated surfaces. The history of the efforts to treat catarrh during the past few years obliges us to admit that only one remedy has completely met these conditions, and that is Ely's Cream Balm. This safe and pleasant remedy has mastered catarrh as nothing else has ever done, and both physicians and patients freely concede this fact. The more distressing symptoms quickly yield to it.

How Unpleasant

It is to see a beautiful child's face disfigured with vile humors, bursting through the skin in pimples, blotches, and sores, and sadder still, when the young and innocent are laughed at and twitted in all such cases. Parents should give them that good and pure remedy, Sulpher Bitters, which will search and drive out of the blood every particle of humor.—Health Gazette.

Bargain Tables.

One of the many uncountable things of common cognizance is the fact, that in all matters intimately connected with their own personal interests the majority of people seem to be guided by whim or impulse rather than sound judgment. At this season of the year when "bargain tables" are a feature of the shops in all large cities a word for bargain hunters may be of practical value. It must be conceded at the beginning, that however much they may pride themselves on their knowledge, the majority of people are not judges and do not try to become judges of goods, and herein lies the advantage of the unscrupulous merchant. It is a common thing for the shopkeepers to mix a few excellent pieces of goods with inferior ones on a general counter and, without stopping to consider, the average shopper is quite as likely to select one as the other. Merchants who pride themselves on their honorable name have been known to have two pieces of broadcloth of the same value, which were bought at the same price and yet sell one at two dollars higher than the other to accommodate over fastidious customers. There are shops in New York and Boston, where such practices as these are scorned, but they can be counted on the fingers of one hand. It is a common belief that the stock of dry-goods stores left over after the season has past is invariably reduced. This is true of ultra-fashionable goods, or goods which for some other reason have been found undesirable and the merchants believe will be unsaleable another season, but it is not true of standard goods. Merchants who buy in large quantities receive, in consequence, a heavy discount and are able to sell these goods at lower prices than a small dealer. This is true of dry-goods stores, also of groceries and all shops of whatever kind. Such merchants in dry-goods often take large lots at a low price, which contain a certain percentage of what are known to tradesmen as "seconds" and of other goods that the manufacturer is glad to be rid of. Seconds are manufactured articles which have fallen short in dye or weave of the standard of the manufacturer. It is an easy matter to dispose of pretty patterned, well dyed cloths. Such goods, in the tradesman's language, "sell themselves," but the undesirable patterns, the blunders of the dyer and the faulty goods of the weaver, must be disposed of by more adroit means, or, in the language of the trade again, "forced" on the market. The system of paying the employes a premium for selling such goods cannot be too strongly condemned; yet this is a practice which prevails in nearly all the large stores in cities. Unless goods are all seriously injured by a fire so that they are practically of little value, they are seldom, or never, sold at "burnt goods," or "wet goods" sales under the regular price. If any person wishes to verify this statement she need only to get a sample from such a sale and match it at the nearest dry-goods store. It is not an uncommon thing to drag a few blankets over the floor in some shops, and advertise a "soiled goods" sale, selling the blankets at regular prices. Even good old shops take advantage of a slight fire to advertise a sale of burnt goods, and it is a call that never seems to fail to bring a crowd of customers. Often certain grades of wool-cloths, hoisery and other articles are offered for sale at a price lower than they can be manufactured again on account of over-production. Such bargains, however, are found in shops at the beginning of the season and not at the end and the clerk seldom urges such goods on the purchaser; it is not necessary as there are plenty of purchasers for such bargains. — Good Housekeeping.

Meaning of America.

The meaning of the name Amerigo has often been discussed, the only thing certain being that it is one of those names of Teutonic origin, like Humberto, Alfonzo, Grimaldi, or Garibaldi, so common in northern Italy, which testify to the Gothic or Lombard conquest. Americ, which occurs as early as 744 A. D., is probably a contracted form of the name Amalaric, borne by a king of the Visigoths, who died in 531. A Bishop Emrich was present at the council of Salisbury in 807, and an Americus Balistarius is mentioned in the Close rolls (thirteenth century.)

It has been conjectured that the stem is im, from which we get the name of Emma. The meaning of this is not known with certainity, though Ferguson thinks it may denote "strife" or "noise." Since, however, the name is probable of Gothic origin, and since the Amalungs were the royal race of the Ostrogoths, it is more likely that the stem is amal, which was formerly thought to mean "without spot," but it is now more plausibly connected with the old Norse aml, "labor," "work." The suffix ric, cognate with rex, reich, and rick, means "rich" or "powerful," and therefore the most probable signification of Amerigo is "strong for labor."—Isaac Taylor in Notes and Queries.

Mrs. Oliver Wendell Holmes, who died a few days since, was not what is known as a "literary woman," but she was highly accomplished and a great assistance to her husband in his work. She was the author's model of the school-mistress in the "Autocrat of the Breakfast Table." Her maiden name was Amelia Lee Jackson, the daughter of Judge Charles Jackson of Massachusetts Supreme Court. She was married in 1840, and was the mother of three children.

A DISTRESSING COUGH.

How many, especially during the Fall and Winter months, are troubled with a Cough, sometimes dry and hacking, sometimes loose causing the sufferer to raise a large amount of offensive matter; this can soon be cured by using Ingalls' Throat and Lung Specific, which acts directly on the Throat and Lungs.

Cured her Cough.

MRS. JEREMIAH CLARK, Lowell, Mass., says: "Twelve years ago I first took a bottle of your Throat and Lung Specific. I had been troubled with a very bad Cough for months. A 50-cent bottle cured my Cough. Since then I have not been without it. I can heartily recommend it to any one who has a bad cough."

Saved his Life.

CHAS. A. WAITT, says: "No language can express the value I attach to your Specific. I believe it saved my life."

We would cite other testimonials did we think it necessary, but a trial bottle will convince you that it is all we represent. Give it a trial.

Ingalls' Throat and Lung Specific is sold by all Druggists. Price 50 cents and $1. Prepared only by the INGALLS MEDICAL CO., Lowell, Mass.

Harsh purgative remedies are fast giving way to the gentle action and mild effects of Carter's Little Liver Pills. If you try them, they will certainly please you.

The strikers at the Edgar Thompson Steel Works at Braddock, Pa., having refused Andrew Carnegie's proposition to settle the dispute, orders were given on the 4th inst. to shut down the works until Jan. 1st, 1889. This throws over 5000 men out of employment, and is a disaster for the town as well as the workmen.

It is a Curious Fact

That the body is now more susceptible to benefit from medicine than at any other season. Hence the importance of taking Hood's Sarsaparilla now, when it will do you the most good. It is really wonderful for purifying and enriching the blood, creating an appetite, and giving a healthy tone to the whole system. Be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla, which is peculiar to itself.

Rhode Island Election.

There was a state election in Rhode Island on the 4th inst., and the result of last year was reversed, one year of democratic rule being all the people could stand. Taft, the republican candidate for governor, had a plurality of 3324 over the democratic candidate, and of 1939 over the democrats and prohibitionists combined. The entire republican state ticket was elected, and the republicans have a good majority in both branches of the legislature. In Providence the democratic ticket of last year was defeated to a man; at Newport only one democrat was elected to the legislature; Pawtucket returned republican legislators, in place of last year's democrats, and similar changes occurred all over the state. The vote was one of the largest ever thrown, but some of the localities hitherto most strongly democratic gave greatly reduced majorities for that party, showing that many democratic voters either remained away from the polls or voted the republican ticket. The constitutional amendment abolishing the land qualification for foreign born citizens was probably defeated, the vote on it being comparatively light.

The Railroad Muddle.

All the railroads centering in Chicago which were recently crippled in whole or in part by their employes leaving work rather than handle Burlington freight, and those roads which had illegally refused to receive freight from the Burlington, were on the 4th in full operation, and freight for the Burlington which had been delayed on the other roads was being rushed into the Burlington yards, giving that road all it could do, and more, to transport it. One argument used at the strikers' mass meeting on the 3d to induce them to declare all strikes off, except that on the Burlington, was that the immense mass of delayed freight which would come down on that road would swamp it, and demonstrate its inability to handle the business with its present crew; this anticipation was to a considerable extent realized at the start, but such a state of affairs cannot long continue.

That the engineers, firemen, switchmen and other railroad hands who endeavored to coerce the Burlington by forcing other roads to refuse to receive its freight, were in a false position, is as plain as that the roads which did refuse to receive such freight acted illegally in so doing. They were in conflict with the law of the land, and neither labor unions nor corporations are above the United States laws, though some of the corporations do seem to care little for them, sometimes. The weak spot—and it was a fatal one—in the Reading strike, was that the first strikers demanded that the railroad should cease to be a common carrier, and transport freight only for such persons as the Knights of Labor approved of. There could be but one ending to a contest waged on such grounds, and that was total defeat; the railroad managers could not, if they would, grant such a demand, for the law is against it, and should be.

Can Men Live Forever?

BOSTON, April 6.—A very important announcement is made here to-day. A few weeks ago an article by Dr. William A. Hammond appeared in the Boston Sunday Globe taking the ground that there is no reason, barring accidents, why men should not live forever. This startling theory has set everybody to talking. Another article by this famous doctor will be published in the next Boston Sunday Globe, and in it he will tell why men should not die. The same issue of the Sunday Globe will also contain a number of interviews with leading doctors, ministers and philosophers on this most interesting subject. On account of the great demand for the Sunday Globe, you should order of your newsdealers at once.

Not Such a Total Failure.

The new United States cruiser Atlanta is one of the ships built by the late John Roach, concerning which Secretary Whitney made such a time, and which his specially-selected boards of examiners condemned in almost all points, enabling Whitney to break down Roach's business, and kill Roach with disappointment and chagrin. After she was commissioned, her commander made a report to the navy department concerning her, which as published fully bore out the statements of the examining boards. But now comes a report from one of the officers of the ship, who in a private letter written just after her arrival at Port au Prince, Hayti, in February, says:

"She is the most satisfactory vessel I have ever served in. Not one of the other ships that I have been attached to would have made such good weather in the heavy seas that we met off the Bermudas on our passage here. It has been heralded around as the opinion of some scientific cuss in Washington that her metacentric spot was so close to her centre of gravity that when she got a good knock from a heavy sea, under her quarter or abeam, she would 'turn turtle.' We did meet some very heavy seas, and we did not turn upside down. I stood on the after part of the superstructure, twenty-two feet above the water line, and more than a score of times the following seas were so high that they raised themselves between my eye and the horizon. Not a hogsheadful of water came over our taffrail all this time. I tell you she's a daisy in a sea-way, and every one on board is in ecstasies over her. All the officers agree that it would have been perfectly safe to have left all the hatches open. The next day we crossed the Bahama channel with a heavy cross sea on our port beam. We were under fore and aft sail, and she was as steady as a church. We took two or three old swingers, and the spray went clean over the superstructure. She went about her business like an old cart horse. She rises to the seas splendidly, and although we have not had a chance to put her head into it, I have the utmost confidence that she will do herself credit when the time comes to buck into a head sea.

"And now to the most satisfactory part of our run. On Monday, the 13th, Sandy Hook Lightship was abeam at six P. M. On the 17th, Watling's Island light was abeam at eleven A. M. In eighty-nine hours we ran 1,000 knots by patent log, or an average of 11 1-2 knots per hour. For heavy weather work in an untried ship it is hard to beat. When we left the Hook we were firing under five boilers. We held fires under them until we passed Hatteras the next evening at nine o'clock, when fires were hauled under one of them, and we made the rest of the passage under four. At no time during this very heavy weather would the sea have interfered with the working of the two eight-inch guns."

Death of Hon. B. H. Brewster.

Hon. Benjamin H. Brewster, ex-attorney general of the United States, died in Philadelphia March 4th. He was born in Salem county, N. J., Oct. 13th, 1816. He graduated at Princeton in 1833, and was admitted to the bar in Philadelphia in 1838, of which he became a most distinguished member. He was appointed by President Polk in 1846 a commissioner to examine into the claims of the Cherokee Indians against the government. From 1867 to '69 he was attorney general for Pennsylvania. He acquired a high reputation during his Philadelphia experience. In 1881 he was appointed attorney general of the United States by President Arthur, and served in that capacity until 1885, covering the trial of the celebrated Star route cases. When a young man he risked his life to save his sister from death by fire, and was himself terribly burned and disfigured for life.

J. A. Stanwood, a nephew of James G. Blaine, has been discharged from the New York custom house.

"Did n't know 't was Loaded"

May do for a stupid boy's excuse; but what can be said for the parent who sees his child languishing daily and fails to recognize the want of a tonic and blood-purifier? Formerly, a course of bitters, or sulphur and molasses, was the rule in well-regulated families; but now all intelligent households keep Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which is at once pleasant to the taste, and the most searching and effective blood medicine ever discovered.

Nathan S. Cleveland, 27 E. Canton st., Boston, writes: "My daughter, now 21 years old, was in perfect health until a year ago when she began to complain of fatigue, headache, debility, dizziness, indigestion, and loss of appetite. I concluded that all her complaints originated in impure blood, and induced her to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine soon restored her blood-making organs to healthy action, and in due time reestablished her former health. I find Ayer's Sarsaparilla a most valuable remedy for the lassitude and debility incident to spring time."

J. Castright, Brooklyn Power Co., Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "As a Spring Medicine, I find a splendid substitute for the old-time compounds in Ayer's Sarsaparilla, with a few doses of Ayer's Pills. After their use, I feel fresher and stronger to go through the summer."

March April May

Are the best months in which to purify your blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best blood purifier.

At no other season does the human system so much need the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla, as now. The impoverished condition of the blood, the weakening effects of the long, cold winter, the lost appetite, and that tired feeling, all make a good spring medicine absolutely necessary. Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiarly adapted for this purpose, and increases in popularity every year. It is the ideal spring medicine.

"I must say Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine I ever used. Last spring I had no appetite, and the least work I did fatigued me ever so much. I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon felt that I could do as much in a day as I had formerly done in a week. My appetite is voracious." MRS. M. V. BAYARD, Atlantic City, N. J.

To the Republicans of Portsmouth.

You are cordially invited to assemble in the Republican Headquarters in Akerman Block on Congress street, on Monday evening, April 9th, at eight o'clock, to participate in the organization of a Republican Club, under the auspices and rules governing the Republican League of the United States. Let there be a grand rally.

GEORGE W. PENDEXTER,
Chairman of City Com.

PORTSMOUTH, April 5th, 1888.

Municipal Affairs.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Tursday evening, April 5th:

Present the full board, Mayor Hodgdon in the chair.

Requests of Mrs. Warburton for leave to open McDonough street to repair drain, and of Mr. Boynton for a sewer on Lincoln avenue, were referred to the committee on drains.

Question of increasing the appropriation for sprinkling streets, was referred to the committee on streets.

Approved bills to the amount of $4357.-19 were ordered to be paid.

Bill of George A. Clough, $10, for damages to sleigh from alleged defect of highway, was referred to the committee on claims.

Voted that the automatic whistle at the Portsmouth brewery be retained there the present year.

Communication from the board of health in relation to the sanitary condition of the Walker school-house, on Hanover street, was referred to the committee on school-houses, with the mayor added.

Quarterly report of the city marshal was received and filed.

A joint resolution was passed authorizing the mayor to hire a sum of money not exceeding $25,000 for current expenses, at not over four per cent interest.

The appropriation bill was passed as sent up from the Common Council, the amendments fixing the sum for school-houses at $1500 and the sum for schools at $22,000, being concurred in. On the adoption of the latter amendment the yeas and nays were called, and it was approved by a vote of eight to one, Ald. Seymour being the only member to vote nay.

The resignations of Assistant Engineers Willard M. Gray, Willard J. Samson and Charles L. Hoyt, to take effect on the appointment of their successors, were laid on the table.

Adjourned for two weeks.

THURSDAY, April 5th.

William O'Brien, a man with but one arm, the other having been lost, he said, by an accident on the Iron Mountain railroad in Missouri, was before the court for drunkenness. The charge was not disputed, but O'Brien wished to be let off, saying he had no money to pay a fine, and would leave town at once if allowed to go. As a one-armed man would be of little value in aiding to do the spring work on the county farm, he was told he could go if he would depart at once. Then he suggested that the payment of his railroad fare to some other place would be the correct thing for the city to do, as the travelling by highway is frightfully bad, and to make a man foot it out of town in this catchy spring weather would be rather a hardship, not to say an imposition. He was informed that he could take his choice between stopping thirty days at Brentwood and at once walking out of the city, and as he "didn't want any imprisonment in his" he concluded to accept the latter alternative.

Cadets' Picnic.

Between three hundred and fifty and four hundred dollars, will the proceeds realized from the two entertainments.

Dover British-Americans.

The British-American Association of Dover dedicated their new hall in Law's block on the evening of the 3d inst., four hundred and eighty persons being present, including some ladies. Earnest speeches in support of the aim of the association—which is to advocate and advance the naturalization of British-born residents of the United States—were made by speakers from Boston who were among the starters of the British-American movement, and by others; and patriotic songs and recitations added variety to the exercises.

The Gorman Spectacular Minstrels.

Alderman Seymour certainly has the courage of his convictions.

The Woman's Independent Relief Corps, No. 1, will give an Easter party in Rechabite hall this evening; admission twenty-five cents; ice cream and cake served during intermission. The public are invited.

Alderman Wendell had a much stronger following on the school appropriation matter last Thursday evening than he did at a previous meeting of the board.

Notwithstanding the rain on Thursday evening there was another large audience in Franklin theatre to enjoy the Cadets' Picnic, the trained cockatoos and the educated owls.

We learn that the Messrs. Russell have purchased the building on the corner of State and Penhallow streets formerly occupied by Mr. Akerman, and will shortly remove their grocery business there from the store at the corner of State and Washington streets which they now occupy, and which is to be altered into a dwelling.

The time for taking the baby out for an airing, and putting what is left of the spring chicken—last spring's chicken, usually—near the ice, is drawing nearer every day. Baby carriages of all patterns and prices, also refrigerators of the most approved makes, are advertised by John P. Sweetser, No. 46 Market street.

"The law prohibiting the catching of trout in this state goes off the first of May. Be careful how you catch them before that time." The above item of information and accompanying advice we find going the rounds of the New Hampshire press. We have no need to be careful in the matter; we never could catch a trout any way.

Thursday was fast day in Massachusetts. The services announced for the day, in Boston, consisted mostly of yacht racing and base ball.

We regret exceedingly to learn that Stephen W. Clarke, Esq., of Manchester, formerly of this city and for a number of years principal of our high school, is in a very low state of health.

Mr. Alexander D. Rand, of Islington street, who has been confined to his bed for some weeks with general prostration, we are pleased to hear is improving, although very slowly.

Mr. William S. Willey, of Lafayette road, after being confined to his home several weeks with an inflammatory trouble, has recovered sufficiently to be able to get down town.

Maritime Notes.

The schooner E. A. Creed, with a load of building materials, was towed to the shoals on Thursday by the Pinafore.

The barque Furness Abbey, of this port, Quinn master, from Cebu for New York, passed Anjier, Java, Feb. 24th.

The ship Gov. Goodwin on the 4th inst. cleared at Philadelphia for Hiogo, Japan. The Gov. Goodwin is commanded this voyage by Capt. Samuel Pray of this city.

The schooner Emma, from Rockland with 510 barrels of lime, arrived at this port on the 4th inst., and the schooner M. L. Phillips, from Philadelphia with 1147 tons of coal, arrived on the 5th, both to J. Albert Walker.

Healthful Bread.

In spite of all that has been said on the subject, people will eat bread made from flour from which all the bran has been removed. Nearly all the phosphates, the most valuable elements for the nutrition of the nerves and the bones, are thus removed, and it is also a recognized fact amongst physicians that great injury results in consequence. Any preparations which will replace these valuable elements are certain to be of great benefit to those who use them, compensating as they do, to a great extent, for the absence of the bran. A number of years ago Prof. Horsford, of Cambridge, suggested the use of a baking preparation for raising bread, biscuit, etc., which would supply the requisite phosphates, thereby introducing these necessary elements into the food without cost or trouble. After years of experiment and labor he succeeded in producing the desired preparation, and if report be true, he has succeed wonderfully well in selling it. The preparation consists of an acid phosphate of lime which combined with bi-carbonate of soda in raising bread, biscuit, etc., leaves in the product the very phosphates required by the system, and which are essential to good health. The idea was an ingenious and valuable one, and needs only to be thoroughly understood to be fully appreciated.

A '49-er's New Home.

While taking a look around National City one day this week we chanced to stroll into Mr. Charles Boardman's place on Fourth avenue, and there found material for suggestive thought. We have from time to time insisted that our citizens should give more attention to tree-planting and yard ornamentation, and Mr. Boardman is merely one to set a good example. His front yard is a perpetual huge bouquet, blossoming and blooming with all the variegated hues of the rainbow—the back part of his residence lot and the vacant lot adjoining is set out with orange, lemon, fig, apricot, peach and other fruit trees, also with small fruits such as guavas, and shrubbery of different varieties. Mr. Boardman is also training very choice varieties of grape vines, which will prove both ornamental and profitable. His out-houses and sheds are covered with trailing, flowering vines, adding much to the beauty of the place. All this merely goes to prove that with even a twenty-five foot lot, a very elegant and pretty home may be made. Anything and everything that will grow anywhere under the sun can be grown in National City, and with as little care. Our friend Charles has proven that one of our town-plat residence properties can be made a home of beauty, where life may be passed among fruits and flowers, where the vine and fig tree may be made cool and refreshing bowers. The whole of Mr. Boardman's establishment is neat, tidy and pretty—just as every home in National City should be now, or might soon become.

The above is from the Record, published at National City, near San Diego, Lower California. Mr. Boardman is a native of Portsmouth, and went to California in '49 in the barque Martha, Capt. Grace.

Notice—Get Your Full Weight!
THIS CARD is intended to call the attention of every housekeeper in the city of Portsmouth and vicinity. The Spring Cleaning time is drawing near, when every housekeeper will have more or less domestic refuse, such as rags and old rubbers, and all kinds of old paper stock, to dispose of; every one wants, and ought to have, the best prices of the market, and this can be assured by seeing John O'Brien or his man, as he is about sending out his carts on the different routes, and having made a contract with parties to take all his paper stock, he will be able to pay the best prices of any man outside of Boston. If you do not see O'Brien's teams, drop a postal card to "John O'Brien, No. 1 Holmes Court," and prompt attention will be paid to the same.
N. B. Beware of unprincipled men; they will call and weigh your rags, and give you about one-half of what they really weigh. My attention has been called to six different cases of late where parties got rags in that way and the housekeeper took them back again. Weigh all your rags, and catch the dishonest dealer. What I say to one I say to all—"Weigh your rags." Why should you sell your rags for ½ cent when you can get 1 cent per lb. for colored rags, 3½ cents for white, and 3 cents per lb. for your old rubbers. You can get these prices by seeing John O'Brien, cash or trade. If you should enter a grocery store and call for a bag of flour, and found it four or five pounds short, you would think that was not right; and why should you not have your weight in your bag of rags? I say to you again, weigh your rags, for me and for all.

Wisdom of Animals.

Last week Sir John Lubbock delivered an interesting addresss in Queen Street hall, Edinburgh, to the members of the Edinburgh Philosophical institution, on the "The Sense and Senses of Animals." He said one would gratefully admit that the dog was a loyal and true and affectionate friend, but when we came to consider the nature of the animal our knowledge was very limited. That arose a good deal from the fact that people had tried rather to teach animals than to learn from them. It had occurred to him that some such method as that which was followed in the case of deaf mutes might prove instructive if adapted to the case of dogs. He had tried with a black poodle belonging to himself. He then went on to relate several experiments he had made with pieces of cardboard with different words marked upon them. He had taken two pieces of card, one blank and the other with the word "food" upon it. He had put the latter on a saucer containing some bread and milk and the blank card he put on an empty saucer. The dog was not allowed to eat until it brought the proper card to him. The experiment was repeated over and over again, and in about ten days the dog began to distinguish the card with the letters on it from the plain card. It took a long time to make the dog realize the difference between different words. In order to try and discover whether the dog could distinguish colors he prepared six cards, making two of them blue, two of them yellow, and two of them orange. He put one of each on the floor and tried to get the dog to bring to him a card with the same color as one which he showed the dog in his hand. After trying this for three months he found that his experiment in this direction was a failure. He had always felt a great longing to know how the world appeared to the lower animals. It was still a doubtful point whether ants were able to hear. From experiments which he had made he had come to the conclusion they had not the power of addressing each other. His impression on the whole was that bees and ants were not deaf, but that they heard sounds so shrill as to be beyond our hearing. There was no doubt about insects seeing. He related several experiments he had made with the view of discovering whether different insects could distinguish different colors and had any preference for particular colors. The colors of objects produce upon insects an impression very different from that produced on human beings. The world to them might be full of music which we could not hear, colors which we could not see, and sensations which we could not feel.—Nature.

What Constitutes a Family Medicine?

A preparation which is adapted to the relief and cure of ailments to which members of a household are most subject, and which is not only alleged to do this, but has long and unfailingly proved its ability to do it, assuredly deserves the title of a reliable Family Medicine. Among time-honored preparations, which experience and the sanction of the medical profession indicate as deserving of popular regard and confidence, is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a medicine adapted to eradication of dyspepsia, constipation and billiousness, the three most frequently occurring ailments that vex mankind. Derived from a botanic parentage, it is efficient as well as pure and wholesome. It relieves nervous disquietude and inactivity of the kidneys, and counteracts a tendency to rheumatism. For renewing flagging strength and imparting appetite it can be implicitly relied upon. Fever and ague, rheumatism and debility are remedied by it.

Some District of Columbia people are opposed to the proposed measure to give them representation in Congress.

Energy will do almost anything, but it cannot exist if the blood is impure and moves sluggishly in the veins. There is nothing so good for cleansing the blood and imparting energy to the system as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Price $1. Six bottles, $5. Sold by druggists.

Actor Bob Hilliard has been whipped by a red-headed burlesque actress in New York.

The body is more susceptible to benefit from Hood's Sarsaparilla now than at any other season. Therefore take it now.

Congressman Mills is worse, and has had to take to his bed again.

If you had taken two of Carter's Little Liver Pills before retiring you would not have had that coated tongue or bad taste in the mouth this morning. Keep a vial with you for occasional use.

A Baptist clergyman in South Farmingham, Mass., says the observance of Fast day has deservedly fallen into contempt.

The simplest and best regulator of the disordered Liver in the world, are Carter's Little Liver Pills. They give prompt relief in Sick Headache, Dizziness, Nausea, &c.; prevent and cure Constipation and Piles; remove Sallowness and Pimples from the Complexion, and are mild and gentle in their operation on the bowels. Carter's Little Liver Pills are small and as easy to take as sugar. One pill a dose. Price 25 cents.

The best medical writers claim that the successful remedy for nasal catarrh must be non-irritating, easy of application, and one that will by its own action, reach all the remote sores and ulcerated surfaces. The history of the efforts to treat catarrh during the past few years obliges us to admit that only one remedy has completely met these conditions, and that is Ely's Cream Balm. This safe and pleasant remedy has mastered catarrh as nothing else has ever done, and both physicians and patients freely concede this fact. The more distressing symptoms quickly yield to it.

Rev. W. H. Ryder of Ann Arbor, Mich., has accepted a call to the chair of New Testament Greek in Andover, Mass., Theological seminary.

How Unpleasant

It is to see a beautiful child's face disfigured with vile humors, bursting through the skin in pimples, blotches, and sores, and sadder still, when the young and innocent are laughed at and witted in all such cases. Parents should give them that good and pure remedy, Sulpher Bitters, which will search and drive out of the blood every particle of rumor.—Health Gazette.

How a Dying Child Was Saved!

CICERO, HAMILTON CO., IND., Sept. 19, 1887.—The following is a true account of what your S. S. S. has done for our little daughter, Hazel, now four years old. When 12 months old a lump appeared on her heel, which slowly grew larger. The family physician thought it was caused by a piece of broken glass or needle, but failed to bring anything to light. The child became feebler all the time, seeming to lose the use of her legs, and finally quit walking entirely. The middle finger and thumb of either hand became enlarged, the flesh becoming hard. The hip joints became involved, so that when seventeen months old she could not stand, having lost the use of leg and arm. Partial curvature of the spine also followed. The nervous system was wrecked, muscles contracted, and there was general wasting of flesh and muscle. At eighteen months of age she was placed under the treatment of a prominent physician of Boston, Mass., but at the end of ten months she had declined to such a degree that she was in a dying condition. This was in April, 1886. We took the child away not knowing what to do. In this dreadful dilemma we were over-persuaded by friends to try "one bottle" of SWIFT'S SPECIFIC, which we did, and before it had all been taken we saw a change for the better in her symptoms. We kept it up, and have done so to this day, and will keep it up, if the Lord wills, for many days to come, for it has brought our dying Hazel to life, to vigor, to strength and health again. The ashen hue of her cheeks has changed to a rosy tint. She is able to walk anywhere, her languor and melancholy have passed away, and she is now a blithe, cheerful, happy romping child. Should you wish to increase your testimonials of proof of the virtue of S. S. S., our names and what we have said is but a portion of what we owe to you, should you wish to use them.

Kindly yours,

BEN. F. SWIFT,
GERTRUDE E. SWIFT.

Notice--Get Your Full Weight!

THIS CARD is intended to call the attention of every housekeeper in the city of Portsmouth and vicinity. The Spring Cleaning time is drawing near, when every housekeeper will have more or less domestic refuse, such as rags and old rubber, and all kinds of old paper stock, to dispose of; every one wants, and ought to have, the best prices of the market, and this can be assured by seeing John O'Brien or his man, as he is about sending out his carts on the different routes, and having made a contract with parties to take all his paper stock, he will be able to pay the best prices of any man outside of Boston. If you do not see O'Brien's teams, drop a postal card to "John O'Brien, No. 1 Holmes Court," and prompt attention will be paid to the same.

N. B. Beware of unprincipled men; they will call and weigh your rags, and give you about one-half of what they really weigh. My attention has been called to six different cases of late where parties got rags in that way and the housekeeper took them back again. Weigh all your rags, and catch the dishonest dealer. What I say to one I say to all—"Weigh your rags." Why should you sell your rags for ½ cent when you can get 1 cent per lb. for colored rags, 3½ cents for white, and 3 cents per lb. for your old rubbers. You can get these prices by seeing John O'Brien, cash or trade. If you should enter a grocery store and call for a bag of flour, and found it four or five pounds short, you would think that was not right; and why should you not have your weight in your bag of rags? I say to you again, weigh your rags, for me and for all.

Jacob Sharp Dead.

Jacob Sharp died in New York Thursday evening, after a severe attack of coughing and vomiting. His wife, his two daughters, his son-in-law, Mr. Selmes, and his grandson, George, were present at the time. Mr. Sharp had been growing weaker all day, and fits of coughing and choking during the evening had lessened his strength still more. One of these spells came on just before nine o'clock and was followed by another, from which he could not rally, death resulting from heart failure. Dr. Loomis had been called away by an urgent summons shortly before, and returned a few moments after the patient's death. He says Mr. Sharp's final illness was capillary bronchitis, complicated with heart and kidney disease and diabetes. He was born in Montgomery county, New York state, and was seventy years old at the time of his death.

Fire in Amesbury, Mass.

The business portion of Amesbury, Mass., was almost entirely destroyed by fire on Thursday evening last. Fire raged for hours among the carriage manufactories, and as a result the town is $1,000,000 poorer than before the conflagation. Just how the fire was kindled is not known. It was discovered in the large carriage factory of F. A. Babcock & Co. The fire department came rapidly in response to the call, but before their arrival the fire spread to three adjacent buildings.

The high wind, together with the inflammable materials, such as oil and varnish, with which the factories were well stocked, soon caused the fire to spread beyond the control of the local department, and a call was sent to Newburyport, Haverhill, Lawrence and Merrimac for assistance.

Babcock's large factory was the centre of the carriage factories, which are the town folks' principal source of employment. This industry is to-day buried in the ruins, and the town is now talking of the largest fire in its history. Not only were seven of the large carriage factories destroyed, but also five dwelling-houses.

The fire was at its height just before midnight, and could be seen for miles around. All the townspeople were abroad and all of the male population turned out and fought the flames. At one time it looked as if the whole town would have to go to the fuel.

After midnight the efforts of the small army of fire fighters began to stay the spread of the flames and at one o'clock the fire was under control, although even at that hour it was raging fiercely.

One of the worst results from the big blaze will be the throwing out of employment of nearly 1000 men, who in many instances have families dependent upon them. It will take many months to replace the buildings destroyed.

It is impossible to ascertain at this time just how much of the $1,000,000 loss is covered by insurance.

The Fishermen's Race.

The great race of fishing schooners for a sweepstake of $1000 came off in Massachuset is bayon Thursday, the course being fifteen miles to windward from Boston light, and return. There was plenty of wind, from the start to the turning point being a dead beat to the windward. There were five starters, the names of the vessels and the time they made being as follows:

	H.	M.	S.
Carrie E. Phillips	4	32	26
I. J. Merritt, Jr.	4	36	18
Romitie	4	43	38
John H. McManus	4	54	45
Carrie W. Babson	5	09	45

There was no time allowance or other restriction, so the "Burgess fisherman" Carrie E. Phillips takes the prize, and for the coming year can claim to be queen of the fishing fleet. This result was anticipated by the other contestants, and the Burgess boat was at first barred out of the race by the challenging schooner; but afterward it was thought more seamanlike to race and be beaten than to refuse a race, so the Carrie E. Phillips was allowed to enter. The other fishing skippers take their defeat philosophically, saying they made the best race they could, and have no whimpering to do over the result.

New York Navy Yard Work.

The Army and Navy Journal publishes the following extracts from a letter written by an officer of the U. S. S. Nipsic, dated "At sea, Feb. 9th, 1888:"

Our trip has been an eventful one. No ship was probably ever so carelessly fitted out as this one. We have had a good deal of rough weather, and the fact that we are not worse off is not due to the Brooklyn navy yard people, but to our own efforts.

Before we had been out a week we had carried away both wheel-ropes. They gave way at different times, and were worthless, though supposed to last for years.

Our rigging became slack, and the way we swiftered it in until we got a fine day to set it up would have surprised you.

A very serious accident happened to us. We carried away both bobstays, and we were obliged to lower off before the wind at once, while we temporarily secured the bowsprit with a stream cable. Had this accident happened at night we might have lost our masts.

Though the culpable negligence and neglect of duty of the navy yard people, or those having charge of our repairs, our air-ports leak outrageously. The drip-pans provided are not sufficient to carry off the overflow, and our clothing has to be removed from the ship's side. To free the drip-pan some idiot has connected it with the bilge, and the latter is ventilated through the officers' staterooms—a fine thing to do, especially as men-of-war often go to sickly places. Then, to crown all, these same idiots have made no provision for cleaning the bilges.

The supports for our wheel spread so that the wheel unshipped, and we had to steer with relieving tackles until we could temporarily repair it.

The cradles for our waist-boats were not properly fitted, and both broke. The boats are shored up with supports from the deck.

It is difficult to see how the ship could have been prepared with greater negligence for her three years' cruise. During a heavy gale we shipped several seas, the deck overhead having been so poorly calked that the deck leaked like a sieve. Only one officer beside myself slept in the ward room during the worst night, when we shipped several seas. The only way it was possible to sleep in my bunk was to spread a canvas awning over it, which I did.

Going to sea is not all rose-colored, but going in a spit-box, like the Nipsic, is worst yet.

Ladies who are about to begin on their spring wardrobe, should not fail to consult the April number of "The Season," which contains many models of spring suits, a large variety of bonnets and hats of the newest shapes, and an attractive display of fancy work. These, together with the three colored plates, serve to make this one of the most desirable numbers of this most popular fashion publication. Published by International News Co., No. 29 Beekman street, New York.

Dr. Harrison and John E. Sullivan sue the Indiana attorney general for $40,000 damages, on account of alleged libel in the tally sheet forgery cases. The reputations of Dr. Harrison and Mr. Sullivan for political honesty are not worth forty cents.

What a Time

People formerly had, trying to swallow the old-fashioned pill with its film of magnesia vainly disguising its bitterness; and what a contrast to Ayer's Pills, that have been well called "medicated sugar-plums"—the only fear being that patients may be tempted into taking too many at a dose. But the directions are plain and should be strictly followed.

J. T. Teller, M. D., of Chittenango, N. Y., expresses exactly what hundreds have written at greater length. He says: "Ayer's Cathartic Pills are highly appreciated. They are perfect in form and coating, and their effects are all that the most careful physician could desire. They have supplanted all the Pills formerly popular here, and I think it must be long before any other can be made that will at all compare with them. Those who buy your pills get full value for their money."

"Safe, pleasant, and certain in their action," is the concise testimony of Dr. George E. Walker, of Martinsville, Virginia.

"Ayer's Pills outsell all similar preparations. The public having once used them, will have no others."—Berry, Venable & Collier, Atlanta, Ga.

The Brighton Beach hotel at Coney island, 460 feet long, 200 feet wide, estimated weight 5000 tons, has been safely moved 300 feet inland from its former exposed position on the beach. Trucks resting on rails supported the building, and six locomotives attached by ropes to the underpinning furnished the motive power. No damage was done to the building.

Cupples & Hurd will publish immediately two books of unusual interest. The first, "Stray Leaves from Newport," by Mrs. Wm. Lamont Wheeler, which is not unlikely to create considerable stir on account of the author's position in one of the most "exclusive" circles of American society; the other, "Social Life and Literature Fifty Years Ago," by a well known Salem litterateur, whose name is witheld.

Be Sure to Get Hood's

Sarsaparilla, my child. See that they do not give you anything else. You remember it is the medicine which did mama so much good a year ago—so reliable, beneficial, pleasant to take—my favorite spring medicine.

Spring Medicine

Hood's Sarsaparilla is the most popular and successful Spring Medicine. Nearly every body needs a reliable spring medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla to expel the impurities which have accumulated in the blood during the winter, to keep up strength as the warm weather comes on, create an appetite and promote healthy digestion. Try Hood's Sarsaparilla this spring and you will be convinced that it does possess superior and peculiar merit.

A Good Appetite

"When I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I was dizzy in the morning, had a headache, and no appetite; but now I can hardly get enough cooked to eat." EMMA SHEPARD, 1 Coral Street, Worcester, Mass.

"Last spring my whole family took Hood's Sarsaparilla. The result is that all have been cured of scrofula, my little boy being entirely free from sores, and all four of my children look bright and healthy as possibly can be. I have found Hood's Sarsaparilla good for catarrh." WM. B. ATHERTON, Passaic City, N. J.

Mrs. E. Clark Kimball, of Lawrence, Mass., spiritual medium, will lecture and give tests on Sunday at Rechabite hall, in the afternoon at 2:45, in the evening at 7:30; all invited; admission ten cents.

Harry Lombard, a well known veteran of the late war, and a member of Storer Post, G. A. R., who has for some time been very ill, was on Thursday reported to be at the point of death.

Mr. A. C. Heyt is engaged in surveying the proposed new route to Sagamore bridge, whereby the steep hill near the Hartshorn place may be avoided.

The agent of W. A. Greenough & Co., of Boston, who has been in this city several weeks collecting data necessary to be used for the Portsmouth Directory for 1888, finished his canvass on Friday.

The old wood and lumber sheds on the corner of Russell and Vaughan streets are being removed, preparatory to the erection of Swift & Co.'s refrigerator buildings, which, it is claimed, will have a capacity of storing two hundred head of dressed beef.

A number of young men of York on Wednesday evening of this week organized themselves as the Gorgeana Gymnasium club, and elected officers as follows: Albert M. Bragdon, president; Fred Winn, vice president; W. S. Putnam, secretary; E. W. Baker, treasurer. The use of the town hall has been secured for a year.

At a meeting of the Christian society of Rye on the evening of the 4th inst. it was voted that the committee provide plans and specifications for a new church, and submit estimates of the cost. It was also decided to accept the town's offer of the free use of the town hall for Sunday services. In the same connection a vote of thanks to the Congregational society was adoped for courtesies extended.

A Sad Ending.

The fishing schooner Golden Rule, of Swampscott, Mass., was one of the vessels which followed the racing fishing vessels in Massachusetts bay on Thursday, with a party of interested spectators. The pleasure of the party was marred on the return trip by a fatal accident to one of the crew. The particulars, as learned from Captain Hodgkins, are as follows:

When in the Lower Middles, going up Boston harbor, there came a slight lull in the breeze, and the mainsail began to shake. Charles H. Freeman, one of the sailors, attempted to push out the boom, and in so doing lost his balance and fell overboard. Captain Hodgkins, who was at the wheel, at once put the schooner about and lowered a boat, but Freeman had sunk and all efforts to find him were in vain. Assistance in the search was made by the tugboat William H. Clark, but to no avail. When all efforts at rescue had been exhausted, the schooner was headed for the city, and arrived at her wharf with her flag at half-mast.

The deceased was about forty-five years old, and has a family in Swampscott; he was well known along the Water street water front of this city, having been engaged for the past four winters in fishing out of this port in the Golden Rule. He was a quiet and industrious man, and was well liked and respected.

THE "CADETS' PICNIC"

Second Performance.

Frank S. Preston Receives A Valuable Present.

Notwithstanding the unfavorable weather on Thursday evening, Franklin theatre was well filled, and the entertainment was better, if anything, than it was the first night. "The Cockatoos," one of the principal features of the evening, was an Eastern diversion, supposed to transpire in an apartment in the United States Consulate at Calcutta; Masters Tobey, Winn and Conlon, the birds, were excellent, and Misses Gertie Cotton and Kittie Hovey, carried out their parts finely. The speaking of these little misses in this part of the programme should be mentioned, it being clear, strong and very distinct, and plainly audible in any part of the theatre. As on the first evening, they, as well as the rest of the company, seemed to feel at home and enjoy the entertainment as well as the audience. The staging of this piece was fine the whole, being arranged by Frank S. Preston; the fans, feathers, costume of Punkah Walla, etc., were brought from India by Mr. Preston on his last voyage to that country, and were very costly.

In our Thursday morning's report of the entertainment the previous evening, owing to lack of time and space we were obliged to shorten our mention of the two principal singers, and now add a few words. Miss Cora W. Barnabee, who has always shown remarkable vocal ability, as she grows older gives proof that her talent does not decrease, and that her voice, which is not only powerful but full of sweetness and melody when cultivated as it no doubt will be, will give us a singer who will take a high place in the ranks of pleasing vocalists. Master Dudley Carpenter's singing also made evident his possession of vocal powers by no means commonly found in youths of his years, and which are worthy of careful training. But whatever pleasure either of these young folks may hereafter give others with their voices, we doubt if any audience, private or public, will be more pleased than were the great audiences at Franklin theatre on Wednesday and Thursday evenings with the "leading lady" and "leading man" of the Cadets' Picnic.

Captain Kimball received handsome bouquets both evenings. Master Conlon, who was the "taking" feature of both evenings was presented with a handsome bunch of roses, and upon receiving them politely lifted his little silk hat, which set the audience in overwhelming applause. Master Edward Jones, one of the policemen, also received a bouquet. Miss Kittie Hovey received an elegant bunch of Bon-Silene roses. Other bouquets were given to those who received similar tokens the first evening.

The company are to have their photographs taken, in groups and together; the cockatoos, the owls and the three bats, each separate, and the entire company together, will be taken as soon as the weather is warm enough to enable them to set for the pictures out of doors, as there is not light enough in the theatre where it was at first thought to take them. It will make a fine group.

It has been said that the Cadets intend to form a permanent company. We hope this is true, as they would be an honor to the city.

The orchestral music was furnished by Mr. Clarence Joy, 1st violin; Mr. G. D. Whittier, 2d violin; with Miss Davis and Miss Helen Pearson as accompanists.

The managers wish to express their thanks to Frank T. Simes, and to the following gentlemen for their valuable assistance as ushers: William Newell, Ned Grey, Warren N. Davis, John McDonough, and M. B. Hetherington, and to the ticket takers, Leslie Norman, Morris Tobin, and Henry O. Batten; and to others who aided inany way to help make the affair a success.

The proficency of the Cadets in military exercises is to be ascribed to Capt. Frank Williams, formerly commander of the Portsmouth Heavy Artillery, he having had entire charge of the drill.

By the way we must not forget to mention the fine impersonation of "Punkah Walla" by Mr. Peter William Neal.

Mr. Andrew P. Preston has not been mentioned as deserving any credit for the successful carrying out of the programme, but a large share of it belongs to him, he having been an indefatigable assistant of the managers, Mrs. Alfred Stavers, Mrs. Amos Pearson, Mrs. Joseph W. Peirce, Miss Edith Gerrish, Miss Mary Hills and Frank S. Preston.

PRESENTATION.

Mr. Frank S. Preston, the general manager, was a very surprised man when at the close of the performance he was sent for to come quickly to the stage as he was wanted very much, and, so eager was he to answer the summons promptly that he came near upsetting the representive of this paper, who was on the stage at the time—but we forgive him; on arriving there he was met by the young lasses who had taken part in the operetta, and presented with an elegant extension book-rack of solid mahogany inlaid with white wood in wild rose pattern. Before he could recover from his surprise, Miss Lucy Sise, one of the members of the company, came forward and in appropriate terms presented the tribute to Mr. Preston. Always equal to an emergency the recipient quickly recovered from his embarrassment, and accepted the gift in well chosen words. The affair, impromptu as it was, will be remembered with pleasure by the participants. After the presentation the children cleared the stage and enjoyed a dance until about eleven o'clock. Thus ended an occasion which will long be remembered by the members of the company.

The gross receipts were $496.50.

Souvenir.

We would say to the members of the company, and all others who are interested, that we shall publish a full account of the "Cadets' Picnic," in the NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE, which is issued next Wednesday. It will be just the thing to keep as a memento of the occasion. Price 5 cents, to be had at this office or at Moses newspaper store.

When the Nipsic was being "repaired" at the New York navy yard, it was openly charged by the republican papers that the yard was being packed by Reformer Whitney with New York and Brooklyn "heelers" and ward politicians, who were neither mechanics nor laborers, but could do good work at aiding in the election of Fellows, the administration candidate for public prosecutor in New York, in favor of whose election Reformer Cleveland wrote his famous letter interfering with local political matters in a way no other president ever did. That these charges were true was not denied, and their correctness is shown by the condition in which the Nipsic was sent to sea for a three years' cruise. Had the vessel been repaired at the Portsmouth navy yard the cost would have been much less, and the work would have been done in the best manner; but the exigencies of the party demanded that she should be used to aid in carrying the New York election.

Steps are being taken by the members of the Washington bar and others to raise by voluntary contribution of the bar associations throughout the country a fund for the benefit of the wife of the late Chief Justice Waite. Judge A. P. Edgerton, an old an intimate friend of the family, has written a letter favoring the project. He said: The amount and the exact condition of the estate of the late chief justice require that the proposed effort to create a fund for Mrs. Waite should be successful.

The shooting at Chicago of two Chicago & Alton railroad watchmen was done by thieves, and not by strikers.

ADVANTAGES

— OF —

Horsford's

BREAD PREPARATION

OVER THE USE OF YEAST.

Yeast raises the flour by fermentation, whereby the nutritious elements of the flour are, in part, or wholly lost, and the product is a fruitful source of dyspepsia, especially if eaten while fresh.

Among the advantages resultlng from the use of Horsford's Bread Preparation are the following:

The saving of the nutritious constituents of the flour.

The restoration of the phosphates removed by bolting.

The saving of time; the phosphatic bread being prepared in a few minutes, while ordinary fermented bread involves preparation over night.

The bread retains its moisture much longer than fermented bread.

The bread, biscuit, gems, etc., made from it may be eaten warm with impunity.

It requires little or no shortening.

The results are uniformly excellent.

"IT WAS INHERITED."

The Fearful Effect of Heredity Upon the Lives of Men and Women—A Striking Case.

"The man or woman does not live who is free from hereditary influences." This remark was made by the celebrated Dr. Vanderville, of New York, to the Rev. Dr. Brooks, at a recent convention of scientists.

"I agree with you, doctor," said the divine.

"Pure blood," continued the doctor, "is the great cause of health; impaired blood the source of most diseases. It may serve go back to the grand or great grand parents."

"I have in mind a prominent man," said the reverend gentleman, "General Alfred C. Monroe, of No. 1 Pemberton Square, Boston. He inherited kidney troubles from both parents, one of whom died with it. He suffered terribly from pains in the back and head, and at times when walking the dizziness became so bad that he was compelled to lay hold of some convenient post for support. He was in a most desperate condition."

"And is he so still?" asked the doctor.

"No, he is in perfect health. Dr. McGregor, I believe of Maine, who had amputated an arm for the general, cured him."

"Do you know what medicine he used?"

"I understand it was Hunt's Remedy."

"Oh, Hunt's Remedy. I know it very well," said Dr. Vanderville. "I consider it the best remedy for kidney, liver, heart troubles, and female difficulties in the world. It is in no sense a patent medicine, but a standard remedy, which deserves to be used by all intelligent people. The fact is, no blood-taint can exist when the kidneys are in perfect order, and there is where Hunt's Remedy shows its marvelous superiority."

"I only wish," said Rev. Dr. Brooks, "that all people who inherit a tendency to disease could know of this remedy of which you speak so highly and use it. I am positive it would greatly lessen suffering and death."

The unspeakable Turk has his own way to run a newspaper. Sivas, the capital of the Turkish Vilayet, in Asia Minor, has a population of 40,000, but has only one newspaper, and that is owned by the local government. It is a badly printed sheet, about twelve by fifteen inches in size; has neither telegraphic nor local news, except of the official kind; has no reporters, and does not ask for subscribers. But it has subscribers, all the same. The publishers simply send the paper to all government employees, and deduct the subscription price from his salary. He can read the paper or let it alone, as suits him. The editor's duties consist of seeing that the official notes are printed when handed in. Sivas is the centre of a region rich in important minerals, and the city has a lively trade, but the editor does not bother his head about the development of the one or the increase of the other.

John F. Stone of Philadelphia, manager of a branch of the Pennsylvania School Supply company, is in prison awaiting trial on a charge of embezzlement. Stone is about forty-five years old, and has a wife and child. It is alleged that during the past twelve years he has been carrying on a systematic robbery of the concern, until his peculations are from $50,000 to $70,000.

M. St. Paul, a Paris physician, has offered the French Academy the sum of $5,000 to found a prize for the discovery of a cure for diptheria. He has evidently not heard of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, which has cured hundreds of cases of this awful disease.

OH! MY HEAD.

The pain from Neuralgia and its companion disease Rheumatism is excruciating. Thousands who could be quickly cured are needlessly suffering. Athlo-phoros will do for others what it did for the following parties:

Williamsport, Ind., Oct. 3, 1887.

Having been afflicted with neuralgia for the past four years, and trying almost everything, but in vain, I finally heard of Athlophoros. After taking one bottle I found it to be helping me, and after taking four bottles of Athlophoros and one of Pills, I found that I was entirely well. I think the medicine is positively a sure cure.

CLARENCE B. REDDICK.

Mt. Carmel, Ill., Dec. 26, 1887.

I have used Athlophoros in my family and find it to be the greatest medicine for neuralgia in existence and having had its fangs fastened deeply in my system for about 20 years I know whereof I speak. MRS. JULIA CHILTON.

THE JOB PRINTING

Business is conducted in the same office by RICHARD I. WALDEN, who keeps on hand a large and well-selected stock of all materials required in his line. Give him a trial and you will be more than pleased.

By a locomotive explosion at Newburgh, N. Y., April 6th, three men were killed.

A waterspout in Hungary on the 6th inst. caused damage estimated at 1,000,000 florins.

The Whole Vital Machinery

Depends for the fuel, which is the origin of its propulsory force, upon the stomach. In that hidden alembic the food undergoes the chemical changes with transmute it into blood, from which the system draws the material that reimburses it for its daily losses of tissue. These, of course, are greatly augmented in disease. If the stomach, therefore, is weakened or disordered, the system is deprived of sustenance. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters can be relied upon to facilitate and renew digestion when that function has been interrupted by weakness of the stomach. Biliousness, or a diversion of the bile from its proper channel, which causes constipation, is also remedied by it. Heartburn, wind of the stomach, sick headache, fur upon the tongue, and other symptoms of stomach and liver disorder, it speedily removes. Malarial complaints of every sort, kidney and bladder troubles, constipation, rheumatism and neuralgia yield when it is used regularly and persistently.

The nucleus of a steamship "trust" to crush out tramp steamers has been formed in New York. It is so far composed of the National, Anchor and Wilson lines, and offers certain rebates to shippers who will not employ tramps.

Energy will do almost anything, but it cannot exist if the blood is impure and moves sluggishly in the veins. There is nothing so good for cleansing the blood and imparting energy to the system as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Price $1. Six bottles, $5. Sold by druggists.

A written treaty between the Knights of Labor and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers is announced as one of the results of the railroad strike in Chicago.

If you had taken two of Carter's Little Liver Pills before retiring you would not have had that coated tongue or bad taste in the mouth this morning. Keep a vial with you for occasional use.

Hans Strockreid, a Polish Jew, and his wife Fanny, a handsome young woman of twenty-one, poisoned themselves in New York on the 7th inst. They and their five-months-old babe had for some time been living on crusts taken from garbage barrels. The child is all right.

The simplest and best regulator of the disordered Liver in the world, are Carter's Little Liver Pills. They give prompt relief in Sick Headache, Dizziness, Nausea, &c.; prevent and cure Constipation and Piles; remove Sallowness and Pimples from the Complexion, and are mild and gentle in their operation on the bowels. Carter's Little Liver Pills are small and as easy to take as sugar. One pill a dose. Price 25 cents.

Kennedy Porter, son of Ex-Governor Porter of Tennessee, was fatally shot at Paris on the 6th inst. by Will Edmunds, to whose sister young Porter was paying attentions.

The best medical writers claim that the successful remedy for nasal catarrh must be non-irritating, easy of application, and one that will by its own action, reach all the remote sores and ulcerated surfaces. The history of the efforts to treat catarrh during the past few years obliges us to admit that only one remedy has completely met these conditions, and that is Ely's Cream Balm. This safe and pleasant remedy has mastered catarrh as nothing else has ever done, and both physicians and patients freely concede this fact. The more distressing symptoms quickly yield to it.

Fifteen school children fell into a well at Palmyra, Ohio, April 6th, by the breaking of a plank, and one life was lost.

A Great Surprise

Is in store for all who use Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs, the great guaranteed remedy. Would you believe that it is sold on its merits and that any druggist is authorized by the proprietor of this wonderful remedy to give you a sample bottle free? It never fails to cure acute or chronic coughs. All druggists sell Kemp's Balsam. Large bottles 50c. and $1. 1mpb

THE LATEST DISCOVERY.

A Prominent Physician Reveals Some New and Startling Secrets.

"Do you know," said Dr. Bedlich, of Boston, at the club, one evening recently, "what the starting point of most physical troubles is?"

"No, indeed," replied a circle of anxious enquirers, as they crowded about the doctor.

"Tea and coffee," answered the eminent physician.

There was a look of horror on the faces of his listeners. The doctor continued:

"Men, and women even more, drink tea and coffee constantly, and wonder why they feel dull and stupid, have headaches, a bad taste in the mouth, pains in the limbs and about the body and irregularity of the secretions. Nine cases out of ten these things are caused by too free a use of tea and coffee. These drinks clog the system, weaken the tissues and destroy the most important organs. Few men or women who indulge in tea and coffee regularly have clear urine, but on the contrary, sediment, scum and brick dust, all of which invariably mean coming disease or death."

"But what are we to do, Doctor? Shall we give up tea and coffee altogether?"

"No. I do not advise that, but regulate it. Keep the kidneys clear and active. There is nothing in the world so good for this as the well known and popular Hunt's Remedy. Any one who uses this medicine regularly can drink tea and coffee moderately without fear. The reason is that Hunt's Remedy flushes or washes out the kidneys, and keeps them free and healthy. Any number of prominent men and women can confirm what I say, among the number scores of doctors and ministers, Gen. Butler, Gen. Monroe and Miss Alcot."

It was plain that the warning and advice of the doctor had made a deep impression on his listeners, as it also should upon the millions of men and women who are shortening their lives by the use of these drinks.

OH, WHAT A COLD!

This is the season for sudden changes in the weather, and a great many "take cold" either in their Head or on their Lungs, causing Coughs, Hoarseness, and Sore Throat. These troubles can be soon relieved and cured by taking Ingalls' Throat and Lung Specific, which acts directly on the Throat and Lungs, entirely removing these difficulties.

Cured his boy of Croup.

C. M. Brooks, Lowell, Mass., says: "I take great pleasure in recommending Ingalls' Throat and Lung Specific as a cure for Coughs, Colds, and Croup. I used it in my family last winter with the best results. Two or three doses cured my little boy of Croup, for which I am very thankful."

You can cure that Cough in a short time. You can cure your Catarrh if you persist in its use, as it will stop the secretion of Catarrhal matter in the head; it will relieve Croup in from three to five minutes.

The best he ever saw.

"The best medicine for Coughs and Consumptive Complaints that ever I saw is Ingalls' Throat and Lung Specific," so says JOHN MCLAUGHLIN, of Boston.

Ingalls' Throat and Lung Specific is sold by all Druggists. Price 50 cents and $1. Prepared only by the INGALLS MEDICAL CO., Lowell, Mass.

By Rail to Alaska.

The great project of building a railway across Siberia, now being pushed to completion by the Russian government, strongly holds out the idea that in the very near future a great iron belt from this side of the world will meet it half way, and travel by land from the New World to the Old will have been accomplished. Great railway corporations are now seriously looking into this, as it seems, stupendous project, but in reality not as great an undertaking as eastern people believe. The country that will necessarily have to be crossed in west-British Columbia and central Alaska is far from being the frigid zone that many believe it to be.

The line would undoubtedly in its course north strike the head waters of the Yukon river, then keep down the mighty stream to within one hundred miles of the coast, at or near Nulato, where it would leave the river and running nearly west would terminate at Cape Prince of Wales, with about fifty statute miles of the Siberian coast. Very little difficulty, except, perhaps, in crossing the ranges at the headwaters of the Yukon, would be apprehended from deep snows in winter. The climate along the Yukon is dry and very little snow falls there—from eighteen inches to perhaps two feet in depth.

Extreme cold from seventy to eighty degrees below zero, only prevails about two months in midwinter and this would be the greatest drawback to winter travel. Immense forests skirt the route nearly to the coast and about midway down the Yukon are probably the greatest coal banks in the world. Branch lines would tap all the coast settlements and the rich mineral sections of the interior. With such a fair country before them it will be wonderful indeed, in this enlightened and progressive age, if work has not commenced on such a line within a very short time. — Juneau, Alaska, Free Press.

Slaves in Turkey.

According to Mr. Cox, "there is scarcely a family in Turkey, which has the means, that does not possess a number of women and girl slaves, black and white. The black are from Central Africa and Nubia; the white are Circassians sold by their parents." The price of the female slaves varies with their pretensions to good looks, the comely ones being to some extent educated and taught to sing, dance and make themselves agreeable. We learn that a girl under 10 will bring $100, a maiden between 12 and 16, if she be attractive and can play upon the zither, from $3,500 to $5,000. If the young woman be a blonde, with black eyes and otherwise of rare beauty, she may bring from $4,000 to $6,000. An amateur will pay double that for a choice specimen, well educated in French and other graces." But Mr. Cox adds that "this tariff by no means applies to the slaves from Africa, the depots for whom are in Scutari and in the villages on the Bosphorus. The black male slave will bring $90, the black maiden $75, and a eunuch perhaps $400." We are assured by the author that "the slave has not a hard lot. The child of the slave has a part of the inheritance of the father. More than half of the marriages in Turkey are with slaves." Each so-called wife of the sultan, for instance, is a slave, his rank being too exalted to permit of his entering into any marriage proper. "The fact is," thus Mr. Cox sums up his observations on the subject, "slavery in Turkey is but a name. The slaves have nothing to complain of. The white slaves rush to slavery as an alternative to something else and worse; only the black slaves who are brought from Africa have (in the course of transit) undergone the horrors of the traditional slave trade. Once received, however, the house slave, though perhaps looked down upon as one of under-condition, is nevertheless, from infancy to old age, treated as one of the family. After a female slave has worked faithfully for awhile, say seven years, she is nearly always freed by the mistress or master of the household."—New York Sun.

Shadow Pictures on the Pane.

A very amusing incident was observed by a crowded house in one of the leading local restaurants a few days since. A nicely-dressed gentleman and a very pretty lady called for supper and were shown to the ladies' department, which is partitioned off from the main dining-hall. The richest viands in the house went back to the room, together with several bottles of yellow label. In a short while those who were sitting at the tables in the main hall were amused by two shadows which appeared on the frosted window looking into the ladies' apartment. The shadows dipped towards each other and seemed to glue together in a lovers' kiss. One shadow embraced the other, which seemed to sigh. Then there was a shuffle of feet and the shadows danced around on the frosted glass as though in a collar-and-elbow wrestling-match. The whole hall was in a titter by this time, and the proprietor, fearing scandal if the matter went any further, sent a servant to tap on the window and notify the guests that they stood between the gas-jet and the door, and that their every movement was painted on the glass.—Louisville Post.

"I'll teach you to play pitch-and-toss!" shouted an enraged father. "I'll flog you for an hour, I will," "Father," instantly replied the incorrigible, as he balanced a penny on his thumb and finger, "I'll toss you to make it two or nothing."—Boston Globe.

Notice---Get Your Full Weight!

THIS CARD is intended to call the attention of every housekeeper in the city of Portsmouth and vicinity. The Spring Cleaning time is drawing near, when every housekeeper will have more or less domestic refuse, such as rags and old rubber, and all kinds of old paper stock, to dispose of; every one wants, and ought to have, the best prices of the market, and this can be assured by seeing John O'Brien or his man, as he is about sending out his carts on the different routes, and having made a contract with parties to take all his paper stock, he will be able to pay the best prices of any man outside of Boston. If you do not see O'Brien's team, drop a postal card to "John O'Brien, No. 1 Holmes Court," and prompt attention will be paid to the same.

N. B. Beware of unprincipled men; they will call and weigh your rags, and give you about one-half of what they really weigh. My attention has been called to six different cases of late where parties got rags in that way and the housekeeper took them back again. Weigh all your rags, and catch the dishonest dealer. What I say to one I say to all—"Weigh your rags." Why should you sell your rags for ¼ cent when you can get 1 cent per lb. for colored rags, 3¼ cents for white, and 3 cents per lb. for your old rubbers. You can get these prices by seeing John O'Brien, cash or trade. If you should enter a grocery store and call for a bag of flour, and found it four or five pounds short, you would think that was not right; and why should you not have your weight in your bag of rags? I say to you again, weigh your rags, for me and for all.

An old story —Look at a human being when under the influence of that torture, rheumatism. Trivial symptoms were neglected until the disease became established, whereas all the long suffering could have been prevented by the prompt use of Salvation Oil, costing only twenty-five cents a bottle at all drug stores.

It is now said the constitutional amendment in Rhode Island was adopted at the late election.

For cuts, bruises, sprains or strains, burns, scalds, frost-bites, chilblains, and bites of poisonous insects, nothing equals Salvation Oil. It annihilates pain. Price 25 cents a bottle.

Henry Bergh's will is to be contested by the heirs.

That Tired Feeling

Afflicts nearly every one in the spring. The system having become accustomed to the bracing air of winter, is weakened by the warm days of the changing season, and readily yields to attacks of disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine needed. It tones and builds up every part of the body, and also expels all impurities from the blood. Try it this season.

Naval Intelligence.

The president has sent the following nominations to the senate: Commander Winfield Scott Schley to be captain; Passed Assistant Surgeon George E. H. Harman to be surgeon; Walter G. Isaacs, of Alabama, and Charles Henry Parks, of New York, to be chaplains in the navy

The Yantic has sailed from Key West for Pensacola.

Rear Admiral Luce, commanding the North Atlantic squadron, has transferred his flag from the Richmond to the Ossipee, and has sailed in the latter vessel from Key West to Havana.

Captain A. P. Cooke has been ordered to command the receiving ship Franklin, at Norfolk.

Captain G. O. Wil se has been detached from command of the Franklin, and ordered to command the receiving ship Minnesota.

Captain T. F. Kane has been detached from command of the Minnesota, and ordered to command the Lancaster, per steamer of April 21st.

Ensign P. R. Alger has been ordered to duty in the bureau of ordnance.

Engign George P. Blow has been ordered to temporary duty at the Norfolk navy yard.

Surgeon J. M. Flint has been detached from duty in connection with the fish commission, and ordered to special duty at the Smithsonian Institution.

The U. S. S. Lancaster arrived at Gibraltar on Friday, April 6th, seventy-two days from Montevideo, all well. There has been some talk in the papers about anxiety concerning her safety, on account of her long passage; but there has not been any anxiety at the navy department concerning her, and no ground for anxiety in any quarter. She was reported as having been seen "evidently disabled," and proceeding under sail alone, not using her steam; but our national ships have not for the past dozen years or more been allowed to use their steam in making long passages, and the Lancaster was simply obeying the orders of the navy department in proceeding under canvas and dragging her screw. A week or two in the "doldrums" on the line would account for the long passage of the vessel.

A Wonderful Printing Machine.

The American Bookmaker describes a machine which takes in paper at one end and turns out completely bound books at the other, at the rate of 5000 copies an hour. There are three great iron cylinders, segmental in form and each having a diameter of six feet, and weighing about three tons each. On one of these are the forms which do the printing in quadruple series, the other two acting solely as impression cylinders. In combination with the cylinders carrying the printing forms are ink fountains, form and distributing rollers, while in combination with the impression cylinders are novel appliances (automatically) revising, assembling, folding, covering and delivering the complete books. This remarkable contrivance requires eight tons of paper, with a corresponding amount of printing ink, and this it turns into books in a single day, and requires twelve box-cars, of 30,000 pounds capacity each, to transfer the output for a single week. This machine is built in Philadelphia by its inventor and patentee, at whose establishment the visitor may see in daily and nightly operation no less than six of them, turning with surprising rapidity and regularity their miles of paper into printed matter ready for the perusal of the reader.

The governor and council at their meeting last week received a communication from Hon. John Hatch of Greenland setting forth the fact that Joseph Whipple, late of Portsmouth, deceased, by his last will, duly proved, approved and allowed by the judge of probate for Rockingham county on March 15th, 1816, devised all the residue of his estate to four trustees, to be appointed by the governor and council of the state of New Hampshire, the income derived by them therefrom to be disposed of in bounties to manufacturers of woollen cloth and of glass, as provided in his will. That there is due from the government of the United States to the estate of said Whipple about $3140 under the French spoliation claims, which, if collected, would belong to the residue of the estate, and be disposed of by that cause in the will. That no trustees have ever been appointed, and that the executors are both deceased. Mr. Hatch asks that trustees be duly appointed to carry into effect the bequest as set forth in the will.

Mr. Leonard Jackson, a well-known printer of Boston in former times, died on the 2d inst. in Brooklyn, N. Y., where he had resided for the past six years. He was born in this city eighty-one years ago, and for a long period resided in Melrose as well as in Boston. Mr. Jackson was one of the early abolitionists, and was associated with Moses Dow of Waverly Magazine fame in printing the Liberator for Wm. Lloyd Garrison. He was also in the establishment of Gleason, of Ballou and of Rand, being foreman for Mr. Rand when the latter's house published "Uncle Tom's Cabin." Mr. Jackson leaves four children.

Commissioner Counce of Thomaston, Me., state commissioner of sea and shore fisheries, is making war on the dealers in short lobsters, and is determined to stop the traffic. Warden James Bailey has been actively engaged in the service of the commissioners since March 1st, and recently made a seizure of over 1100 short lobsters at Woolwich, and within two weeks captured four more different lots in Portland. Warden Bailey lately visited a large number of cars at Pemaquid, removed the short lobsters, and liberated them. He says there would be a very few short ones taken if it were not for the smacks, which proceed along the coast and purchase all they can find, and urge the fishermen to save their catch of illegal length, for sale to them. The short lobsters are largely shipped to Boston and New York on steamers, direct from the smacks.

Another reformer has gone wrong. Jesse Lee Hall, late agent of the Kiowa, Comanche and Wichita Indians, in the Indian territory, has been indicted for stealing $14,000 from the government. He was appointed in July, 1885, by President Cleveland.

The rebs having got full control of the national government, would like the army also. Senator Daniel of Virginia on the 6th inst. introduced a bill to repeal the statute which provides that no person who served in the military, naval or civil service of the "so-called Confederate States" shall be appointed to any position in the army of the United States.

Secretary Fairchild of the treasury, in the name of economy and reform has asked for $450,000 additional to run the New York custom house for the next fiscal year, beginning July 1st. It may not be amiss to remark in this connection that during the months of July, August, September and October there will be a lively canvass in New York, as there is an election to be held on the first Tuesday in November. An addition of $450,000 to the funds of Collector Magone will enable him to care for a goodly number of the boys who will bring out the democratic reform votes.

South Hampton expended $157.50 for the support of schools last year, with an average attendance of three pupils in the town.

Mme. Diss Debar, the alleged medium, has accepted Hermann's challenge to a spirit "painting" match.

It is Absurd

For people to expect a cure for Indigestion, unless they refrain from eating what is unwholesome; but if anything will sharpen the appetite and give tone to the digestive organs, it is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Thousands all over the land testify to the merits of this medicine.

Mrs. Sarah Burroughs, of 248 Eighth street, South Boston, writes: "My husband has taken Ayer's Sarsaparilla, for Dyspepsia and torpid liver, and has been greatly benefited."

A Confirmed Dyspeptic.

C. Canterbury, of 141 Franklin st., Boston, Mass., writes, that, suffering for years from Indigestion, he was at last induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla and, by its use, was entirely cured.

Mrs. Joseph Aubin, of High street, Holyoke, Mass., suffered for over a year from Dyspepsia, so that she could not eat substantial food, became very weak, and was unable to care for her family. Neither the medicines prescribed by physicians, nor any of the remedies advertised for the cure of Dyspepsia, helped her, until she commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. "Three bottles of this medicine," she writes, "cured me."

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar

March April May

At no other season does the human system so much need the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla, as now. The impoverished condition of the blood, the weakening effects of the long, cold winter, the lost appetite, and that tired feeling, all make a good spring medicine absolutely necessary. Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiarly adapted for this purpose, and increases in popularity every year. It is the ideal spring medicine.

"I must say Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine I ever used. Last spring I had no appetite, and the least work I did fatigued me ever so much. I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon felt that I could do as much in a day as I had formerly done in a week. My appetite is voracious." MRS. M. V. BAYARD, Atlantic City, N. J.

N. B. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to buy any other.

Are the best months in which to purify your blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best blood purifier.

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

To the Republicans of Portsmouth.

You are cordially invited to assemble in the Republican Headquarters in Akerman Block on Congress street, on Monday evening, April 9th, at eight o'clock, to participate in the organization of a Republican Club, under the auspices and rules governing the Republican League of the United States. Let there be a grand rally.

GEORGE W. PENDEXTER,
Chairman of City Com.
PORTSMOUTH, April 5th, 1888.

Fire at the Navy Yard.

There was a slight fire at the navy yard on Saturday forenoon, the old schoolhouse on Seavey's island, close beside the lower pond, being set on fire by the overflow of the water of the pond. The building, which was a diminutive old concern of wood, and of trifling value, was made still less valuable by having a number of holes burned through the roof. It contained twenty-five or thirty barrels of lime and cement, and the water rising beneath it slacked the lime, causing the fire. Some years ago a good brick building was erected on the navy yard, by specific appropriation of Congress, for a "lime house," but four or five years since it was diverted from its original use to be a stable, for which purpose it is still used. Wonder how the general storekeeper of the yard will manage to expend that damaged lime and cement?

Acknowledgment.

The Seaman's Home gratefully acknowledges the receipt of fifty dollars from the Missionary society of the Baptist church. H. C. KNIGHT, Sec.

Election of Officers.

At the regular meeting of Canton Senter, No. 12, Patriarchs Militant, of this city, held last Friday evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Com., Albert E. Rand;
Lieut., Willis E. Pinder;
Ensign, Newton W. Elwell;
Clerk, Charles H. Clough;
Accountant, William W. Cotton;
Past Com., Albert E. Juukins.

The canton voted to parade in Manchester on the 26th inst., that being the regular muster and field day of the Patriarchs Militant of this state.

Death of T. Gerrish Furber.

Mr. T. Gerrish Furber of Newington died at his home in that town about 8:30 o'clock last Thursday evening, of heart disease. He was born, passed his whole life, and died, on the old Furber homestead, which has been in the family name for 250 years or more, since the first Furber settled upon it within ten or fifteen years from the start of the Piscataqua colony. He was an honorable and upright man, of pleasant and kindly disposition, a good citizen, and enjoyed the respect and good will of the whole community. He was in the 77th year of his age at the time of his decease.

Mercantile Library Association.

The annual meeting of the Portsmouth Mercantile Library Association was held Friday evening, April 6th, and the following officers elected for the ensuing year:

Wm. G. Billings, president;
Joseph Cheever, vice president;
Albert H. Sides, secretary;
Charles A. Hazlett, treasurer;
Wm. H. Sise, J. R. Connell, M. Crowley, W. A. Hodgdon, L. G. Davis, W. J. Fraser, directors;
C. A. Hazlett, W. H. Sise, J. H. Lowd, trustees.

As trustees to represent the association in the Public Library, Wm. G. Billings and C. A. Hazlett were elected.

The treasurer reported a goodly sum in the treasury, which was increased during the year by the receipt of a percentage on the Austin legacy.

Another Reduction.

J. Albert Walker, proprietor of the Portsmouth coal pockets, Concord railroad wharf, has dropped the price of coal to $5 per ton on the wharf, $5.50 delivered, the reduction going into effect to-day.

The Ivy Leaf.

Next Thursday evening W. H. Powers and a strong company will present at Music hall "The Ivy Leaf." Of the play it is said: "The author has been brilliantly successful in making what he has written effective. There is no superfluous dialogue, the wit is natural and spontaneous; there not a coarse word, allusion or sentiment throughout; the scenes with the child are natural and charming; the songs and dances are legitimate portions of the acts in which they occur; and while every act has a fine climax, there is nowhere a straining for effect. It is an Irish drama, but not of the regulation stamp. There is no poverty or distress; there is no agent or process-server; there is not an allusion to either Ireland or England, and yet it is pervaded with a spirit of Irish sentiment which is unmistakable, and while it will please generally it will appeal with exceptional force to the hearts of Irishmen who still cherish one spark of love for the land of their ancestors."

Personal.

Mr. Andrew P. Preston left town on Saturday for a month's vacation trip to the west.

Mrs. Chester L. Caldwell left last week for her home in St. Paul, Minn., after passing the winter with her mother and sister in this city.

Miss Nellie E. Call, of Pleasant street, who has been passing some weeks in New York, has arrived home.

Mr. Daniel Collins and wife, of Brooklyn, N. Y., are visiting Mrs. Collins' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benj. Whitcomb of State street.

Mr. Wm. T. Raynes of Lowell, Mass., passed Sunday with relatives in this city.

Mr. Henry T. Moulton, of Boston, passed Sunday in this city on a visit to his parents, Mr. Edward J. Moulton and wife, of Court street.

Miss Emma F. Tarlton, of Livermore street, returned home last week from a visit of several months in Boston.

It gives us very great pleasure to announce that our Kittery correspondent, Mr. Wm. E. Noyes, who has been for several weeks (and is now) suffering from blood poisoning, is on the gaining tack, and pointing well to windward. He paid us a call Saturday morning, too early, however, for us to have the pleasure of greeting him personally.

Dr. C. M. Murphy, ex-mayor of Dover, was on Saturday reported to be hopelessly ill at his residence in Boston, Mass.

The Dartmouth Glee club gave a most enjoyable entertainment in Music hall on Saturday evening to a refined and appreciative audience of good numbers.

Rockingham Lodge of Good Templars will hold a festival and sale of fancy articles, ice cream, cake, etc., at the hall on Pleasant street, opposite the post-office, Tuesday and Wednesday, afternoon and evening. The hall will be open Tuesday afternoon at four; Wednesday afternoon at two. Season tickets thirty-five cents.

The old house No. 46 Vaughan street, last week sold by the Eastern railroad to Jos. W. Marden for $25, was on Saturday started on its removal to a new site, about 200 feet from its former location.

The Hanlon Brothers in "Le Voyage en Suisse" will be at Music hall on Saturday evening next.

Market square was quite lively on Saturday, with loads of hay and wood, and other country produce, and the auction sale of two horses, one of which brought $14 and the other $20.

The north millpond is clear of ice from the bridge about halfway to its head.

"The spook" is reported to have again made its appearance on the streets o' nights.

The Easter service of music at St. John's church was repeated yesterday, and was even more pleasing than on Easter day, the choir and Choir Chapter being reinforced by members of the Dartmouth Glee club, who also took part in the service at Christ church in the evening.

Our line of Kid Gloves for Easter is second to none for quality and low prices; embroidered and plain backs from 50 cts. to $1 50. Lewis E. Staples, 7 Market street.

Three civil engineers from Philadelphia are to arrive at the Dow farm, Rye, this forenoon, to commence a topographical survey of the farm, preparatory to the improvement of the grounds regardless of expense by the new owner, Mr. Parsons of Philadelphia, who intends to put up on the farm a summer cottage for his own occupancy.

A small sailboat containing one man was capsized off the navy yard last Friday afternoon. She did not sink, and the occupants clung to the gunwale until rescued by a boat from the U. S. S. Swatara.

The monthly list of securities issued by Brewster, Cobb & Estabrook, Boston, is a valuable assistant to investors in the selection of first-class, reliable investments, as entire confidence may be placed in the representations of this well-known house. The list will be furnished by them on application.

The Concord correspondent of the Boston Journal sends the following information to that paper: "The democrats are canvassing the situation in relation to the selection of delegates to their St. Louis national convention. There is a faction of the party, headed by disappointed democrats in Concord, who are doing all in their power to prevent the election of Hon. Frank Jones of Portsmouth and Hon. A. W. Sulloway of Franklin Falls as delegates-at-large. Their election, however, is probable, by a handsome majority." There is nothing "probable" about it. If Mr. Jones and Mr. Sulloway desire to go to the St. Louis convention they will go, and Mr. Jones will head the delegation; and that's all there is to be said.

Nine shipwrights were discharged from the department of construction and repair at the navy yard on Saturday.

The U. S. S. Swatara is about ready for sea, and will probably sail about the 25th inst.

It is reported that the U. S. S. Quinnebaug, now on the European station, will be ordered to this navy yard for repairs after the departure of the Swatara.

Passed Asst. Engr. John W. Gardner is ordered to duty at this navy yard.

The ship Gov. Goodwin, commanded by Capt. Samuel Pray of this city, passed out by Newcastle, Del., on the 6th inst., on the voyage from Philadelphia to Hiogo, Japan. Mrs. Pray accompanies her husband on the voyage.

Among the freight charters reported last week were a schooner with 1000 tons coal, Norfolk to Boston, at ninety-five cents per ton; a schooner with 1200 tons coal, Norfolk to Boston, $1 per ton; a schooner with 900 tons coal, Newport News to Boston, ninety cents per ton.

The brick schooner Hattie Lewis, which wintered inside the Noble's island bridge, hauled through the draw on Saturday, to commence the season's work this week.

The schooner Yale, Simpson master, a large vessel which has brought a number of cargoes of coal to this port during the past three years, was on the 6th inst. reported to be ashore on Poplar island, and full of water. She was on her way from Baltimore to Boston with a load of coal.

A new railroad station has been established at "the Elms" in Wells, with A. C. Clark of Wells as station agent.

Mr. Joseph S. Grant, who was recently burned out in Kittery, has leased the Washington Fernald farm in Eliot, and last week commenced moving his saved effects to the dwelling thereon, preparatory to occupancy.

The free high school at Kittery begins its spring term to-day. Mr. F. E. Rowell, the earnest and efficient principal of the school ever since it was established, has again been secured to act in that capacity.

The South Berwick Cadet band has been engaged for Memorial day by Storer Post, G. A. R., of this city.

John Quincannon slipped under a Boston & Maine train at Portland on Thursday evenidg of last week, and one of his feet was so badly crushed that it has been amputated. He is a newsboy, twelve years old He is at the Maine General hospital in Portland.

The grand jury at Concord last week found 132 indictments, 112 being for violations of the liquor law. Twenty-six of them are indictments as common sellers, and include all, or nearly all, the druggists in Concord. The penalty on conviction as a common seller is a fine of $100, and imprisonment not exceeding six months.

In the Beautiful and Picturesque Irish Drama,

THE IVY LEAF!

BY CON T. MURPHY, ESQ.

A carload of Special Scenery will be used in its production.

Hear the New Song "When Ireland has an Army and Navy of Her Own," and "A Whiff of the Pipe," written and composed especially for the "Ivy Leaf." A live Eagle carries off a Child in full view of the audience.

The "Ivy Leaf" Quartette will sing selected gems from the Irish Melodies.

See the genuine Irish Jig and Reel Dancers. An Irish Piper will be one of the many musical features. The Terrible Leap from the Tower, and the Rescue from the Crag, are most effective situations.

Prices: 35, 50 and 75 cents. Seats on sale at Goodrich's, Tuesday, April 10th.

"HOW clean one always feels after using the IVORY SOAP."

"Yes, that's because it rinses off so easily. My attention was attracted to the soap by seeing an analysis of it published, in which it was shown that the "IVORY" was a well made soap, that the alkali is so thoroughly combined with the oils, that it has more than ordinary cleansing power and there is nothing sticky or greasy about it."

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory'!" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

THE JOB PRINTING

Business is conducted in the same office by RICHARD I. WALDEN, who keeps on hand a large and well-selected stock of all materials required in his line. Give him a trial and you will be more than pleased.

"You can take the witness," said the prosecuting attorney in a trial before an Arkansas court, to the defendant's lawyer. "Judge," exclaimed a young man in the back part of the room, standing upon a seat and waving his hands wildly, "don't let him him take her! That witness has been engaged to me for more'n three years."

William Huntress, who went to Lowell from Dover, recently, died Saturday night, having swallowed an ounce of laudanum. He was out of work, had been drinking hard and was despondent. He was thirty-five years of age and unmarried.

The Whole Vital Machinery

Depends for the fuel, which is the origin of its propulsory force, upon the stomach. In that hidden alembic the food undergoes the chemical changes with transmute it into blood, from which the system draws the material that reimburses it for its daily losses of tissue. These, of course, are greatly augmented in disease. If the stomach, therefore, is weakened or disordered, the system is deprived of sustenance. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters can be relied upon to facilitate and renew digestion when that function has been interrupted by weakness of the stomach. Biliousness, or a diversion of the bile from its proper channel, which causes constipation, is also remedied by it. Heartburn, wind on the stomach, sick headache, fur upon the tongue, and other symptoms of stomach and liver disorder, it speedily removes. Malarial complaints of every sort, kidney and bladder troubles, constipation, rheumatism and neuralgia yield when it is used regularly and persistently.

Congress has passed a bill giving Dr. Mary Walker a pension of $25 a month for her noble services as nurse of union soldiers during the war. Cleveland has not yet vetoed it.

It never fails to cure acute or chronic coughs. All druggists sell Kemp's Balsam. Large bottles 50c. and $1. 1apr25

SAVED HIS LEG!

SCROFULA IN THE BONE CURED!

LITHONIA, Ga., August 11, 1887.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga.:

Gentlemen—I have been afflicted with ulceration of the legs ever since I was a child, the disease undoubtedly being hereditary, as my mother suffered from scrofulous symptoms. As I advanced to manhood my affliction increased until the malady became harassing and painful beyond the power of words to describe. My right leg particularly became fearfully involved, the left leg being less painfully affected. Finally, about fourteen years ago, the ulcers on my right leg had eaten through the flesh into the bone. In order to save my life the doctors determined to amputate my leg below the knee. The operation was successfully performed by Dr. H. V. M. Miller, of Atlanta, and Dr. W. F. Bond, of Lithonia. But the loss of my leg gave me only temporary relief. The poison was still in my system and soon began to show itself again. In a short time after large ulcers appeared on my left leg, covering it from the knee to the instep. Frequently while at work I would be tracked by the blood which oozed from the huge ulcers, and the sores and running holes were so offensive that my fellow-workmen could not stand the stench and would move away from me.

Last winter I was persuaded to try S. S. S. As a last effort I consented to do so, and about seven months ago I began taking the Specific. I soon began to feel the good effects of the medicine, the offensive running began to grow less and less and finally ceased, the ulcers healed, my flesh became firm and solid, and to day, after using twenty-one bottles, I am as hale and stout a man of my age as there is in Georgia. I am seventy-one years old, but feel now younger and stronger than I did when I was twenty-five. I weigh about 195 pounds. Nothing is to be seen of the terrible disease, or to remind me of the fortune I suffered for so many years, except the scars of the perfectly healed ulcers.

I want the world to know of the almost miraculous cure effected on me by S. S. S., and I call upon those who wish to know particulars directly from me to write, and I will consider it a pleasure as well as a duty to answer their letters. I refer to Dr. W. F. Bond, of Lithonia, as to the truth of my statement. Very gratefully yours,

B. DRAKE.

There Are Millions in Oil.

It has cost $50,000,000 to pay the storage and carrying charges on the stocks since Jan. 1, 1881, or very nearly twice what the entire amount of oil on hand would bring if sold at present prices. The annual loss to oil speculators on the fluctuations of the market has been $10,000,000, or a total of $70,000,000 since Jan. 1, 1881. This estimate of the annual loss may seem large, but prominent brokers say it is not large enough. One broker said his customers alone lost $3,000,000 in 1882 and $1,500,000 in 1884. It has taken about $21,000,000 to pay the brokers' commissions since 1881, making a total of $141,000,000, which loss has been carried by speculators in seven years. Is it any wonder that most of them have lost money? If a man is going to take a flyer in oil he had better do it on the producing side of the business. Few men have gone into producing oil but have made money, provided they conducted their business in a legitimate manner and do not try to capture the whole world.

Since 1859 there have been drilled about 57,000 wells at a total cost of $200,000,000. These wells have produced 350,000,000 barrels of oil, which have been sold for $575,000,000, leaving a net profit of $375,000,000. The three largest companies are the Forest Oil Company, the Anchor, and the Union companies. All these pay good dividends, the Forest paying 12 per cent a year.

Oil producers are divided into two classes; one is the daring wildcatter, who, going far from all other fields, leases huge tracts of land and tests them by drilling several wells. If he is lucky enough to strike a good well his fortune is made. The other class, as conservative as the wildcatter is reckless, go about the thing in a business-like manner and buy property where it has been proved that oil exists in paying quantities. They have business down so fine that they can tell you almost to a week how long it will take to pay for their property with oil at a certain price.

There are any number of men who, beginning with a few hundred dollars, have made $50,000, $100,000 and $200,000 in the last few years. The oil fields of Western Pennsylvania are the richest in the world, and there is more money in oil producing than there is in the United States mint.—Oil City Letter.

The Trials of An Inventor.

Among the inventors who have sacrificed enough for their brain-children to be called indeed "martyrs," is Charles Goodyear, the man to whom we are indebted for India-rubber. It was in 1820 that a pair of rubber shoes was seen for the first time in the United States, and then they were merely handed about as a curiosity. Goodyear found, in 1834, that for all practical purposes, rubber was a failure. Articles made from it melted in summer, and emitted such an offensive odor that it became necessary to bury them. At the time when his attention was turned to the subject, he was bankrupt, and his first experiments with rubber were made in jail.

Like all persevering inventors, he thereafter sacrificed not only his time and money, for the sake of his project, but all the funds which he could borrow from his friends.

His wife's jewels and family relics speedily found their way to the pawnbroker's, and Goodyear moved into the country in order that he might live as economically as possible. At length his invention was patented, and a wealthy partner joined him; but a commercial crisis soon swept away every cent of their joint capital.

Then Goodyear found that he had not even enough money to buy food for his family, and the pawnbroker became again his only resource.

He had become an object of general ridicule, and one of his New York friends having been asked how he was to be recognized in the street, said of him, "If you see a man wearing an India-rubber coat, India-rubber shoes, an India-rubber cap and in his pocket an India-rubber purse with not a cent in it, that is he."

For he constantly wore the material about, with the twofold object of testing and advertising it.

Sometimes he seemed to be on the road to prosperity. The government once gave him an order for one hundred and fifty rubber mail-bags, but when they were made, the handles dropped off and the rubber fermented.

But Goodyear was not disheartened. He baked India-rubber in his wife's oven, boiled it in her saucepans, steamed it at the nose of the tea-kettle, roasted it in ashes, and toasted it before fires quick and slow. And all this time he was regarded by most people as a harmless, but very wearisome, lunatic.

His children were often sick, hungry and cold, and it is said that he once sold their schoolbooks for five dollars, with which he laid in a new stock of gum and sulphur for his experiments.

His darkest hour came when he had in the house a dead child, with no means of burying it and five living members of the family, with no food for their next meal. But help was at hand. His immediate want was relieved, and his brothers advanced money for carrying on his experiments. In 1844, he was able to produce vulcanized India-rubber, with absolute economy and success.

But, having attained one object, he adopted another, no less dear, that of perfecting a life-saving apparatus, and after twenty-seven years of labor, having actually founded a new industry, he died insolvent, leaving his family an inheritance of debt.

Notice—Get Your Full Weight!

THIS CARD is intended to call the attention of every housekeeper in the city of Portsmouth and vicinity. The Spring Cleaning time is drawing near, when every housekeeper will have more or less domestic refuse, such as rags and old rubber, and all kinds of old paper stock, to dispose of; every one wants, and ought to have, the best prices of the market, and this can be assured by seeing John O'Brien or his man, as he is about sending out his carts on the different routes, and having made a contract with parties to take all his paper stock, he will be able to pay the best prices of any man outside of Boston. If you do not see O'Brien's teams, drop a postal card to "John O'Brien, No. 1 Holmes Court," and prompt attention will be paid to the same.

N. B. Beware of unprincipled men, they will call and weigh your rags, and give you about one-fifth of what they really weigh. My attention has been called to six different cases of late where parties got rags in that way and the housekeeper took them back again. Weigh all your rags, and catch the dishonest dealer. What I say to one I say to all—"Weigh your rags." Why should you sell your rags for 1 cent when you can get 1 cent per lb. for colored rags, 3½ cents for white, and 3 cents per lb. for your old rubbers. You can get these prices by seeing John O'Brien, cash or trade. If you should enter a grocery store and call for a bag of flour, and found it four or five pounds short, you would think that was not right; and why should you not have your weight in your bag of rags? I say to you again, weigh your rags, for, and for all.

The latest novelty in bonnets has a crown of alligator skin. If in wearing them the ladies take cold, we say to them confidently there is no better remedy for coughs and colds than Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

Samuel W. Brooks, father of Hugh M. Brooks, alias W. H. T. Maxwell, who is under sentence of death at St. Louis, has written a long and touching appeal to the American people to help him save his boy from the gallows. It fills nearly seven columns of the Post Despatch.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure
Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites,
For Lung Troubles and Wasting Diseases. Dr. J. Simonaud, New Orleans, La., says: "Scott's Emulsion is the finest preparation of the kind. In affections of the lungs and other wasting diseases, we may consider it our most reliable agent. In a perfectly elegant and agreeable form."

Touching the report that President Cleveland had tendered the chief justiceship to Justice Schofield, a special from Marshall, Ill., the home of the latter, to the Chicago Times, says that the Illinois jurist emphatically denies that he has been tendered the office, either directly or otherwise. He reiterates his former statement that he is not a candidate because he does not want the office.

That Tired Feeling
Afflicts nearly every one in the spring. The system having become accustomed to the bracing air of winter, is weakened by the warm days of the changing season, and readily yields to attacks of disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine needed. It tones and builds up every part of the body, and also expels all impurities from the blood. Try it this season.

The Indiana state prohibition convention put a woman suffrage plank into the platform.

Constipation is positively cured by Carter's Little Liver Pills. Not by purging and weakening the bowels, but by regulating and strengthening them. This is done by improving the digestion and stimulating the liver to the proper secretion of bile, when the bowels will perform their customary functions in an easy and natural manner. Purgative pills must be avoided. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Price 25 cents.

It is rumored that M. Bouguereau is to marry his favorite pupil, Elizabeth Gardner, an American woman, and an excellent artist.

I have not used one bottle yet. I suffered from catarrh for twelve years, experiencing the nauseating dropping in the throat peculiar to that disease, and nose bleed almost daily. I tried various remedies without benefit until last April, when I saw Ely's Cream Balm advertised in the Boston Budget. I procured a bottle, and since the first days have had no more bleeding—the soreness is entirely gone.—D. G. Davidson, with the Boston Budget, formerly with Boston Journal.

Must Pay the Duty.

Henry F. Gillig arrived in New York last January from Liverpool, and landed without offering to pay any duty on a diamond necklace worth $1280. The necklace found its way, by sale or otherwise, to a corset maker named Werner, who gave it to his wife. A few days ago Special Treasury Agent Ayer heard of Mr. Gillig talking about the necklace, and the ease with which the customs authorities might be avoided. The special agent worked up the case, and reported it to Collector Magone, and on Friday Mr. Gillig was summoned to show cause why he should not pay $305 duty on the necklace. Mr. Gillig will pay the duty. He claims that he acted only as a messenger for a friend in delivering the necklace.

An Uncle Worth Losing.

James Bailey, a miner of Shamokin, Pa., has fallen heir to $1,600,000 left him by the death of an uncle. Bailey has a wife and seven children, and for some months has lived in abject poverty. He went on a strike with the rest of the Philadelphia & Reading men, and failed to secure his place when the strike was declared off. He was, accordingly, compelled to seek aid from the poor district. Sunday morning he received a letter from an attorney in England informing him of his lucky windfall. Bailey has resided in that place for the last twenty years. Previously he was private secretary to the deceased uncle. He married a sewing girl despite his uncle's threats of disinheritance. He sailed for the United States immediately after his marriage, and, failing to secure work in the cities, went to the coal regions. Bailey will sail next week with his family for England to take possession of his fortune.

The Grand Lodge of Good Templars of Maine will hold its annual session in Bangor on Tuesday and Wednesday, April 24th and 25th. Half-rate tickets will be sold on the railroads.

It is a significant as well as curious fact, that some of the late Miss Alcott's earlier stories, including the ever-popular "Little Women," were written on the reverse of old manuscript of her father's which never gained any wide popularity.

Ex-Senator Roscoe Conkling of New York was on Monday announced to be in a very critical condition with an affection of the brain.

There is a good deal of feeling regarding the proposed removal of Libby prison to Chicago. It is thought that every dollar invested in it will be sunk, and the general sentiment is that it ought to be. Few, if any, soldiers west of Indiana were confined there. The western ex-soldiers will care nothing for it. Chicago has no bitter memories connected with it, and no desire to have the old tobacco warehouse brought there. It is somewhat remarkable that such a feeling should have manifested itself against what was intended as a purely business enterprise.

Gen. Boulanger has been elected to the French chamber of deputies from the department of Dordogne, by a vote of 59,500 to 35,750 for the "opportunist" candidate. This was a very unexpected result.

The country store of Irving Porter at Reed's Ferry, Merrimac, was burglarized Sunday morning. The thieves obtained entrance by breaking the glass in the front door. They took away boxes of cigars, clothing, underwear and other articles. The gang arrived in town with a horse and wagon, and drove off with their stolen goods.

It is said that there are farmers' wives on Long Island who make boys' trousers for three cents per pair, and that there are women in New York city who toil sixteen hours a day for sixty cents.

The Ohio Woman Suffrage association will hold its annual convention at Chillicothe, on the 9th and 10th of May.

Rev. J. T. G. Nichols, for forty years pastor of the Unitarian church in Saco, has resigned his pastorate, the resignation to take effect in July. He will remove to Cambridge, Mass., and retire from the ministry.

In the suit of Adam Forepaugh vs. the Maine Central railroad, to recover $30,000 damages for loss at Vassalboro, Me., when the circus train left the track and a large number of horses were killed, which was to have been tried in Boston this month, the plaintiff does not seem anxious for a trial, and as his show has gone on the road it is not likely that he will call for any trial at present.

It is learned that the Grand Trunk railroad company, on whose road Jumbo was killed in Canada, has settled with Barnum by remitting to him the price of hauling his cars over their road last summer.

Circus trains are evidently not in favor with the Maine railroad managers. The cars are usually old, of extra length and weight, and generally overloaded. Accidents in consequence are very liable to occur. The general manager of one of the most important Maine railroads recently asked the agent of one of the great shows $12 a mile to pull its trains.

Mrs. Sarah N. Goodwin died in South Berwick last Friday, at the age of eighty-eight years. She was born and always resided in that town. Three children survive her, Joshua Goodwin, postmaster at South Berwick, Mrs. G. W. Cheney of South Berwick, and Thomas N. Goodwin of Biddeford.

Deacon Samuel Pilsbury of Biddeford, who has for many years been clerk and treasurer of the Baptist church in that city, has resigned those offices on account of advanced years and feeble health. Deacon Pilsbury is father of Capt. Samuel H. Pilsbury, for many years, and up o the advent of the Cleveland administration, a resident of Kittery.

Mrs. Martha Rogers of Wells was found dead in her bed a few nights since. The probable cause was heart disease.

Don't Wait

Until your hair becomes dry, thin, and gray before giving the attention needed to preserve its beauty and vitality. Keep on your toilet-table a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor—the only dressing you require for the hair—and use a little, daily, to preserve the natural color and prevent baldness.

Thomas Munday, Sharon Grove, Ky., writes: "Several months ago my hair commenced falling out, and in a few weeks my head was almost bald. I tried many remedies, but they did no good. I finally bought a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor, and, after using only a part of the contents, my head was covered with a heavy growth of hair. I recommend your preparation as the best hair-restorer in the world."

"My hair was faded and dry," writes Mabel C. Hardy, of Delavan, Ill.; "but after using a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor it became black and glossy."

The same mysterious air of secrecy which has pervaded all the surroundings incident to the illness and death of Jacob Sharp, and which has been so strictly maintained throughout by his relatives, was kept up until the last. Only the immediate relatives of Mr. Sharp attended the burial, and these occupied four of the carriages. The fifth coach was filled with a number of choice flowers, wreaths, etc., and in the sixth was the undertaker. The burial took place in the family lot. Here with only the members of his own family, the grave digger and the two or three customary officials as spectators, the body of Jacob Sharp was laid at rest.

March April May

Are the best months in which to purify your blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best blood purifier. At no other season does the human system so much need the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla, as now. The impoverished condition of the blood, the weakening effects of the long, cold winter, the lost appetite, and that tired feeling, all make a good spring medicine absolutely necessary. Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiarly adapted for this purpose, and increases in popularity every year. It is the ideal spring medicine.

"I must say Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine I ever used. Last spring I had no appetite, and the least work I did fatigued me ever so much. I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon felt that I could do as much in a day as I had formerly done in a week. My appetite is voracious." MRS. M. V. BAYARD, Atlantic City, N. J.

Portsmouth Republican Club.

In response to the call for a meeting of republicans at the republican headquarters in Akerman block on Monday evening, to consider the advisability of forming a Republican Club, a large number gathered at the appointed hour. The meeting was called to order by George W. Pendexter, Esq., chairman of the republican city committee, and Mr. James A. Waterhouse was appointed secretary. Mr. Henry O. Batten was appointed janitor of the hall, and it was voted to put in 100 chairs at once. About seventy persons signed the club's roll of membership, and the following-named gentlemen were appointed a committee to prepare a list of officers, to report on Monday evening, the 16th inst.:

Ward one, Hanson Hoyt, Joseph R. Curtis; ward two, Stephen L. Marston, Lewis G. Davis, George Annable; ward three, Joseph Wain, John Hallan, Frank E. H. Marden; ward four, George M. Ayers, Milton R. Gardner, Charles O. Hanscom.

Police Court—Batchelder J.

MONDAY, April 9th.

John Currier and James Devine, for drunkenness, were assessed $9.90 each, fine and costs, with Brentwood in default of payment.

Cruelty Cases.

Col. Marvin, president of the N. H. S. P. C. A., visited Epping on Monday, the 9th inst., and prosecuted Joseph Jerrell of Epping for inflicting unnecessary suffering upon working oxen employed by him in a logging camp at Nottingham. Jerrell paid a fine and costs amounting to sixteen dollars.

James Jovell, of Tremont, was arraigned on a complaint charging him with driving an overloaded span of horses belonging to the above mentioned Joseph Jerrell, from Epping to Nottingham. The horses were whipped, and kept at work all day without rest or food. Jovell was convicted and ordered to pay a fine and costs, which he did.

Joseph Bushor was then brought before the court, charged with overworking and whipping a dog which he drove along the highway harnessed to a sled loaded with two chicken coops and a flock of poultry. The last offender received a reprimand which will probably make him careful not to offend again.

All of the above cases were tried before Justice J. M. Godfrey of Epping.

Personal.

Miss Eliza Haselton, formerly of this city, is passing a few weeks with Miss Christie of Middle street.

Hon. Daniel Barnard, attorney general of New Hampshire, and Walter C. Harriman, Esq., were in town on Monday.

The Army and Navy Journal of last week says: "The continued delay in reaching a conclusion in the Taunt and Fisher cases is regarded as indicating that the reports as to the findings of the courts by which these officers were tried were correct, and that strenuous efforts are being made to have set aside the sentence of dismissal in both instances. In the case of Lieut. Emory H. Taunt there is no doubt that both medical boards by which this officer has been examined—first as to his mental condition, second as to his physical state—have failed to find any reason for executive clemency."

Miss Mamie Naughton and Miss Minnie Schuallenberg of Annapolis, Md., arrived in this city on Thursday of last week to pay a six months' visit to Mrs. Robeck, widow of Frank Robeck, who is a sister to Miss Schuallenberg.

Mrs. Abbie Waldron, wife of Rev. J. D. Waldron, formerly pastor of the Pearl street church in this city, died of pneumonia in Strafford, Vt., Monday morning, after a short illness. Her remains were taken to Manchester, this state, for interment.

He Would Like $10,000.

United States Deputy Marshal Coffin on Saturday last arrested W. T. Wentworth, late keeper of the Strafford county house of correction, and William B. Martin of Somersworth, on a charge preferred against them by one Daniel O'Donnelly, alias Timothy O'Donnelly, in which it is claimed that the 17th day of June, 1883, he, the said Daniel O'Donnelly, alias Timothy O'Donnelly, was falsely and forcibly imprisoned and kept in confinement until the 19th day of June, when he was forcibly and against his will taken to the Strafford house of correction at Dover, where he was confined at hard labor for over five years, or until the 8th day of July, 1887, when he effected his escape. The plaintiff also claims that during his imprisonment in Somersworth he had the sum of $5.58 taken from him forcibly. The defendants were arraigned in Great Falls and bound over for their appearance at the May term of the United States district court which opens here May 8th. Bail being furnished by S. A. Seavey and A. J. Seavey of Great Falls, the defendants were released. The plaintiff, Daniel alias Timothy O'Donnelly, claims $10,000 damages.

Rockingham Lodge of Good Templars will hold a festival and sale of fancy articles, ice cream, cake, etc., at the hall on Pleasant street, opposite the post-office, Tuesday and Wednesday, afternoon and evening. The hall will be open Tuesday afternoon at four; Wednesday afternoon at two. Season tickets thirty-five cents.

Our line of Kid Gloves for Easter is second to none for quality and low prices; embroidered and plain backs from 50 cts. to $1.50. Lewis E. Staples, 7 Market street.

The Court street Christian society will give an entertainment and supper in Grand Army hall on the evening of Fast day; admission fifteen cents.

At a meeting of carpenters and joiners of this city at the Webster house on Saturday evening, to consider the advisability of organizing here a branch of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, Mr. J. G. Clinkard of Boston, general organizer of the brotherhood, explained the objects and methods of working of the order, after which a number of names were subscribed to an application for a charter, and preliminary steps taken to form a local union; another meeting will be held shortly, to complete the organization.

The alarm of fire about 1:30 o'clock this morning was caused by a slight blaze at the Eldredge brewery. It was all out before the firemen arrived.

The third annual ball of the Portsmouth Athletic club will be given in Franklin hall on the evening of Fast day, with music by Blaisdell's orchestra, of Concord. As on previous occasions of the kind, the dancing will be preceded by an instrumental concert of an hour's duration; but owing to Music hall being held that evening by a dramatic company, the concert will be given in Franklin hall.

Musical and literary entertainment in the Methodist church this evening, for the benefit of the church treasury; readings by Mrs. Harris and Mr. Newton Elwell; singing by Miss Flora Hayes of Kittery; piano solos by Miss Josie Chapman of Greenland; harmonica solos, and other attractions, will help make up an interesting and pleasing programme. All invited; admission 25 cents.

There will be a union service in the Methodist church on the forenoon of Fast day, commencing at the usual hour. All members and attendants of the churches, and the public generally, are cordially invited to join in the services.

Frederick W. Doring, for several years past principal of the Newmarket high school, has resigned that position, to take charge of the high school in Farmington at a salary of $1200. Mr. C. L. Judkins, a graduate of Bowdoin college, class of '81, and for some time principal of the high school in Hollis, was sought after by the Newmarket school committee to take charge of their school, but the Hollis committee have declined to release him. Mr. Doring was presented by the pupils of the school with a handsome watch chain and Masonic charm, on severing his connection with that institution.

The supreme court for Rockingham county comes in at Exeter to-day. Judge Allen is to preside.

Ammoniated Bread.

Ammoniated baking powders—that is, baking powders in which carbonate of ammonia is used as an ingredient, and which exhale an odor of ammonia when heated—are classed by many eminent physicians and sanitarians as superior to all others. Professor Hassell, of London, who is recognized as highest authority on the subject of food hygiene, commends in the strongest terms the use of carbonate of ammonia as a leavening agent, stating its greatest advantage to be in its perfect volatility, which permits it to be, by the heat of baking, entirely thrown into leavening gas whereby the bread is raised. The experiment with heat would seem to indicate the superior, not the inferior, value of such baking powder. The little heat that is imparted to it when held over a gas jet, lamp, or stove, suffices to resolve the carbonate of ammonia into leavening gas and throw it off. The first heat of baking, therefore, will effectually develop all the gas, thoroughly leaven the loaf, and dissipate the gas-producing ingredients of a powder of this kind; and this is the highest test of a perfect baking powder. Where other alkalies alone are used they are not infrequently retained, unresolved, through the whole process of baking, and remain an unwholesome ingredient in the finished bread. The carbonate of ammonia cannot be used as a substitute for cream of tartar.—N. Y. Weekly Tribune.

Christ church was filled to its utmost capacity some time before the hour for service to commence on Sunday evening, and hundreds of later comers were unable to enter.

The "beach train" on the Concord railroad, which was taken off after the first great snow storm of the past winter, resumed running on Monday of this week. It arrives in this city from Manchester at 12:45 P. M., and starts on its return at one.

Fast day is not ordinarily in this city—as from the spirit in which its observance was founded it was not intended it should be anywhere—an occasion of special hilarity; but every year the people of New England drift farther and farther away from the customs of the fathers in this regard, and yacht races, club dinners, scrub games of base ball, and evening dances, have taken the place of the old-time "humiliation, fasting and prayer." Thursday, April 12th, is Fast day in New Hampshire, and the people of Portsmouth will not lack for recreation, for although no yacht races or ball games are as yet announced to occur during the day, there will be in the evening a dramatic performance in one hall, a promenade concert in another, and a church supper and entertainment in a third.

At Appledore island, Isles of Shoals, more building has been done since the close of last season than during any previous year since the islands were first used as a summer resort. The buildings are of a high order of architecture, too, and add much to the appearance of the island. The largest one is a cottage, 45x30 feet on the ground, 2 1-2 stories high, containing eleven rooms, built by William Jones, architect, of Boston, for Miss Lillie Bowditch of the same city. Another, called the "Studio building," 25x35 feet on the ground and two stories high, is for Ross Turner, the well know Boston artist. Warren Shepard of New York, the eminent painter of marines, has had put up a small studio, 18x18, with hip roof, to show paintings; the windows and doors are to be of stained glass. Mrs. Celia Thaxter's cottage has been enlarged by an addition (an extension of the parlor) 18x18, finished in hard wood and with open fireplaces. These old-time contrivances for heating—or pretending to heat—rooms seem more and more to grow in popularity, as all the new buildings on the island are fitted with them; but one good stove will throw out more heat than a dozen of them.

The work of excavating for a cellar for the Portsmouth steam laundry's new building which is to be erected on the scale lot of Gardner J. Greenleaf, was commenced Monday morning. The new building will be about fifteen feet square at the base and two stories high, and will be completed about May 1st.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS. The cabinet organ was introduced in its present form by Mason & Hamlin in 1861. Other makers followed in the manufacture of these instruments, but Mason & Hamlin Organs have always maintained their supremacy as the best in the world.
Mason & Hamlin offer, as demonstration of the unequalled excellence of their organs, the fact that at all the great World's Exhibitions, since that of Paris, 1867, in competition with best makers of all countries, they have invariably taken the highest honors. Illustrated catalogues free.
PIANOS. Mason & Hamlin do not hesitate to make the extraordinary claim for their pianos, that they are superior to all others. They recognize the high excellence achieved by other leading makers in the art of piano building, but still claim superiority. This they attribute solely to the remarkable improvement introduced by them in the year 1882, and now known as the "MASON & HAMLIN PIANO SCHRIDER," by the use of which is secured the greatest possible purity and refinement of tone, together with greatly increased capacity for standing in tune, and other important advantages.
A circular, containing testimonials from three hundred purchasers, musicians and tuners, sent, together with descriptive catalogue, to any applicant.

A Typical Georgia Country Town.

Irwington is not so large a town as Chicago, but it has no anarchy and everything looks calm and serene. It is one of those old-fashioned towns that are off the railroad, and they don't care if it is, so they have the courthouse and jail and can hear the sheriff call twice a year. I like such places. I like their "otium cum dig," though they don't dig alarmingly much. I like the open welcome of their store piazzas where the lawyers, and doctors, and preachers meet to discuss affairs, public and private, and tell anecdotes, and whittle on soft pine, and hold down the chairs that used to have split bottoms, but now have rawhide with all the hair worn off except the suburbs. I like the slow and measured dignity with which these people come and go and move about the town. There is nobody tired when night comes. Nobody stoop-shouldered from overwork. Nobody's shoes worn out at the toes. When the merchant wants to go to dinner he can shut up and go and lose no trade by it, for the kind-hearted customers will wait till he comes back. The lawyers can go fishing and the doctor attend to his farm. The jail door stands open all the year round and the sheriff has a hungry look for lack of business. —Bill Arp.

A Mexican Snake Story.

A family in San Luis Potosi possessed a very fine rattlesnake. They had captured it by means of a forked stick when it was but a baby and succeeded in domesticating it. In the course of years it grew to be 14 feet in length and became tame and playful, never showing the slightest symptom of anger when handled by the children, but it would not allow its rattles to be touched. It became very much attached to its master and would follow him around the house like a dog. During the recent storm in San Luis many of the houses were struck by lightning. The bolts were falling fast about the dwelling which had sheltered the snake from childhood. Nobly determined to die for its benefactors the serpent crawled up the outside walls of the house, and mounting the roof it stood on its head in a perpendicular position for the space of several minutes shaking its rattles violently at the heavens, like Ajax defying the lightning. The electricity attracted by this living lightning-rod reduced to ashes the noble animal and also the house. There is no use in letting the American papers have a monopoly of these snake stories.—Two Republics.

A Lucky Dog.

"Papa," said a beautiful girl, "I found several cigars scattered about the front yard this morning. Did you drop them?"

"No, they don't belong to me," responded the old man. "Shortly after young Sampson left you last night I thought I heard a noise outside, and I shouldn't be surprised if Nero had been shaking him for the cigars. Evidently the dog won."—New York Sun.

"It is not lack of food."

An emaciated fox once asked a robust looking dog the cause of his fine healthy appearance. "It is not lack of food," he said, "that keeps me poor, there are several well stocked hennerys not far from here; but I feel bad here," and he laid his paw on his distressed stomach. "My master," said the dog, "uses Ingall's Mandrake Compound, and when a bottle is empty he throws it on the ash heap, and I chew the stopple." "Alas! Alas!" said the fox, "there is no hope for me, I never find such around the poultry yard."

Miss Mary Daly, 101 years old, was buried at Asbury Park, N. J., last week.

Good, square, honest goods. Hop Plasters never fail when applied to soreness or weakenness.

An ice gorge in the Shellrock river above Mason City, Iowa, broke last Friday, and the water came down, doing great damage; people had to fly from their houses to save their lives. The village of Rock Falls was completely inundated.

If you have a cold, cough, bronchitis, or any form of throat or lung disease, do not neglect it. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, if promptly taken, will speedily relieve and cure all ailments of this character.

John W. Doyle of Greenfield, Mass, a tramp printer, eloped with Kittie, the seventeen-year-old daughter of Peter McGovern, a saloon keeper and prominent man of Birmingham, Conn.

All disorders caused by a bilious state of the system can be cured by using Carter's Little Liver Pills. No pain, griping or discomfort attending their use. Try them.

While Mrs. Mary Sharp of Wanamic, Pa., was making whiskey last week, her clothes took fire, and she and three of her children, who tried to save her, were burned to death. Her husband has become insane.

Their gentle action and good effect on the system really makes them a perfect little pill. They please those who use them. Carter's Little Liver Pills may well be termed "Perfection."

The strikers at the Edgar Thompson Steel Works of Braddock, Pa., have given up the fight in which they have been engaged for four months, and will go to work on Andrew Carnegie's terms. It was really a fight of "organized" labor against the rights of the laborer as an individual.

How I Felt.

Why, two years ago I was just about crazy, and no wonder that my wife and children were fairly afraid of me. You just want to suffer with neuralgia with no relief as I did until I used Sulpher Bitters. They cured me, and now my wife says I am as meek as a lamb.—Robert Davis, American House, Boston.

OH! MY HEAD.
The pain from Neuralgia and its companion disease Rheumatism is excruciating. Thousands who could be quickly cured are needlessly suffering. Athlophoros will do for others what it did for the following parties:
Williamsport, Ind., Oct. 3, 1887.
Having been afflicted with neuralgia for the past four years, and trying almost everything, but in vain, I finally heard of Athlophoros. After taking one bottle I found it to be helping me, and after taking four bottles of Athlophoros and one of Pills, I found that I was entirely well. I think the medicine is positively a sure cure.
CHAUNCEY B. REDDICK.
Mt. Carmel, Ill., Dec 28, 1887.
I have used Athlophoros in my family and find it to be the greatest medicine for neuralgia in existence and having had the pangs fastened upon me for the past 30 years I know whereof I speak. MRS. JULIA CHILDZOM.

THE JOB PRINTING

Business is conducted in the same office by RICHARD I. WALDEN, who keeps on hand a large and well-selected stock of all materials required in his line. Give him a trial and you will be more than pleased.

Nearly every store in Falmouth, Mass., also the post-office, railroad station and several residences, were burglarized one night recently. The thieves got but little cash.

The Whole Vital Machinery

Depends for the fuel, which is the origin of its propulsory force, upon the stomach. In that hidden and alembic the food undergoes the chemical changes with transmute it into blood, from which the system draws the material that reimburses it for its daily losses of tissue. These, of course, are greatly augmented in disease. If the stomach, therefore, is weakened or disordered, the system is deprived of sustenance. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters can be relied upon to facilitate and renew digestion when that function has been interrupted by weakness of the stomach. Biliousness, or a diversion of the bile from its proper channel, which causes constipation, is also remedied by it. Heartburn, wind of the stomach, sick headache, fur upon the tongue, and other symptoms of stomach and liver disorder, it speedily removes. Malarial complaints of every sort, kidney and bladder troubles, constipation, rheumatism and neuralgia yield when it is used regularly and persistently.

With well known regularity the 215th Monthly Grand Extraordinary Drawing of The Louisiana State Lottery took place at New Orleans, on March 13th, 1888, under the usual supervision of Gen'ls G. T. Beauregard of La. and Jubal A. Early of Va. No. 54,320 drew the first grand prize of $300,000. It was sold in twentieths at $1 each, sent to M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La., and was paid one to Fred Reiter, Taylor Ridge, Ill.; one to E. H. Woodson, 1020 Main St., Lynchburg, Va.; one to Bank of Commerce, 6th and Walnut Sts., Cin., O., on a depositor, through Wells, Fargo & Co., San Francisco, Cal.; one to R. A. Lord, Emporium, Pa.; one to John Murphy, Aurora, Ill.; one to I. N. Woodcock, Sidney, O.; one to W. T. Ridgway, 142 Sixth Ave., New York; one through the American Exchange Nat'l Bank of New York; one through the First Nat'l Bank of Helena, Ark.; one to L. B. Morelock, 111 Olive St., Evansville, Ind.; one to parties at Petersburg, Va., through Southern Express Co.; one to M. F. Mock and Frank B. Gerard, 413 Genesee St., East Saginaw, Mich.; one to Fred Brenner, 3623 Locust St., St. Louis, Mo.; etc., etc. No. 60,675 drew second prize of $100,000, also sold in fractional parts, in like manner at $1 each, two paid to E. T. Gunnison, Manitou Springs, Col.; two to La. Nat'l Bank, New Orleans, for a depositor; two to a depositor, through Wells, Fargo & Co., San Francisco, Cal.; two to B. Rice, Seneca Falls, N. Y.; one to Max Haefner, 175 Greenwich St., N. Y.; one to New Orleans Nat'l Bank for a depositor; one to Nat'l Exchange Bank of Dallas, Texas, etc., etc. No. 82,114 drew third prize of $50,000, sold likewise in fractional parts; one to Ernest Tielmeyer, 35 Oliver St., Cleveland, O.; one to Arkansas Nat'l Bank of Hot Springs, Ark.; one to Indiana Nat'l Bank of Defiance, O.; one to Chas. Gentner, Canton, Miss.; one to P. A. Joyce, New York; one to Ignatz Sakowitsch, 85 Willett St., New York; one to Germania Bank of New York City; one to Alf. Libert, Lake Charles, La.; one to Frank Rail, 209 Magazine St., New Orleans, La.; one to H. Gluck, Tuscaloosa, Ala.; one to Miss Carrie Wisdom, care of Haymarket Theatre, Chicago, Ill. No. 76,189 drew fourth prize of $25,000, which was scattered in all directions, and it was the same way with over a million dollars. The next drawing will take place Tuesday, May 8th, 1888. Do not let the opportunity escape you, it may be your turn next.

A SCIENTIST'S WARNING.

"We are startled constantly by the sudden death of some man who seemed the picture of health. He thought he was well. He had felt strange pains shooting through his body, but as they did not remain, he forgot them. His head pained him periodically, he was somewhat paler than common and unaccountably tired, but he felt comparatively well and vigorous. And yet, he suddenly died! It is a shame to our boasted civilization."

"Look at the list of women who die in childbirth, and why is it? Simply because their maternal organs have been so weakened by the most terrible of diseases that they cannot withstand the fearful, sudde strain that is brought to bear upon them. How many women escape monthly agonies? And yet nature never intended that pain or inconvenience should attend the operation of her natural laws. The solemn and terrible fact is, that men and women drag along, die, and are buried, and their friends and the doctors say heart disease, apoplexy, pneumonia, congestion, convulsions, when the cause lay far back of all these things. The truth is that weakened kidneys are the cause of most of our troubles. The great question, therefore, is: How shall I preserve my kidneys, or, if diseased, how can they be restored?" I have seen numbers of cases and learned from unquestionable sources of many others, where the preparation, Hunt's Remedy, has been almost remarkable in its results. I use it freely among my patients, and shall continue to do so. It is a wonderful and invaluable remedy."

The remarks of the learned doctor should be carefully considered, and acted upon by all who desire long life, and freedom from pain and the danger of sudden death.

Art on the Pacific Coast.

The great and liberal man, J. C. Flood, is a patron of the arts, says The San Francisco Post, and he thought of a plan the other day whereby he could befriend a poor and struggling artist, so he contracted with a sculptor for two gigantic bears' statues to adorn his building on the corner of Market and Fourth streets.

"And what is yer idee, mee mon," said he to the artist, "as to the too statoos that you will erect upon mee spashus building?"

"Ceres and Bacchus, I think, will make good subjects," was the reply.

"But tut, mon; who do Oi want wid statoos of Sears and Backus. What did they ever do, Oi'd like to know, but be collector and postmaster. Be jabers, Oi might as well have statoos of auld Hager and Doc Bryan," and J. C. Flood fairly swelled with rage.

The little mistake was straightened out, and the artist was set to work, though in the mind of the would-be wheat-corner certain misgivings found harbor that the artist did not understand the nature of the job.

The sculptor worked away merrily on Ceres and Bacchus, and Bacchus in clay was completed when J. C. Flood strolled in to have a look at it.

"There's Bacchus," said the sculptor, pointing proudly at the clay figure.

But the great J. C. Flood sniffed the air haughtily, and upturned his nose in disdain.

"Why an't them little things on his feet?" he asked, in so sharp a manner as if he thought the sculptor was trying to beat him out of some work.

"What things?" asked the amazed man.

"Them little things," and J. C. Flood lifted up his feet and pointed to his heels.

"Oh," said the man. "Those things don't belong to Bacchus, they belong to Mercury."

"I don't care a cent to whom they belong," replied Flood, wrathfully. "How dare you contrahdict a mon of my standing tooice, sor, O'll tache you yer bizness, sor. Oi won't take 'em too statoos, sor. I won't."

And he did not.

Evolution of the Table.

It was late in the fourteenth century when the first evidences of art in the shape of silver cups were noticeable on the buffet. The dishes were made of pewter of wood, and spoons of bone, wood or silver. Knives were rare, and on that account guests invited to feasts carried their own knives. Forks came in general use still later, and for long years after their introduction they were considered ridiculous affectation and foppery, and not nearly so convenient as one's own fingers. The lord and his lady dipped their fingers into the same plate and sipped their wine from the same cup. Even the queenly Elizabeth, with all her elaborate ideas of etiquette, was content to carry her food to her mouth with her fingers, and at first despised the newly invented forks as unseemly and awkward.

Very gradually the dining-hall grew in comfort and splendor. Dishes of gold and silver were made, and no sugar were the nobles found them that they would sacrifice anything to possess them. The salt-cellar was for a long time the article of highest importance on the board. It was a great affair, and it stood directly in the center of the table; it was the dividing line; the nobles were seated above the salt, the commoners below; hence grew the proverb, "Below the salt." The passing of salt was a ceremonious custom, the guest throwing a pinch over his left shoulder and murmuring a blessing.

The salt-cellars were of the most curious devices. Sometimes they represented huge animals, sometimes a great full-blown flower, or a long slender stem, and again, they were in shape of a chariot, mounted on four wheels, on which they were easily run down the table.

The first glass cups came from Venice during the sixteenth century, and from that time on society began to lose many of its primitive ways, and become, in a sense, more refined.

Henry VIII. was born with luxurious tastes; he had his banquet chairs supplied with velvet cushions, and about this time the parlor or "talking-room," as it was called, was introduced, and there it was that the dames took refuge when the dinner had advanced beyond prudent limits, as it invariably did before the finish.

The cook that presided in the kitchen in those days was not the counterpart of our nineteenth century Bridget, but he was an artist, and generally a man of quality. The ladies of the household, even those of noble birth, attended to many domestic duties, making the bread, preserving the fruits; while to understand the proper use of starch was considered a great accomplishment.—Tillie May Forney in Woman.

Mrs. Breckinridge, wife of Congressman Breckinridge of Kentucky, was in her younger days a noted Blue-Grass belle, and though she is the mother of grown daughters she retains much of her youthful charms, and is altogether a very lovable woman. Her eyes are large, brown, humid, her thick dark hair is drawn carelessly back from a white forehead, over which falls a few short wavy locks, and the pallor of her complexion is accentuated by the severely simple black she usually wears. She is a matter-of-fact woman of great good sense, and has no sympathy with the movement to secure suffrage for women.

Notice--Get Your Full Weight!

THIS CARD is intended to call the attention of every housekeeper in the city of Portsmouth and vicinity. The Spring Cleaning time is drawing near, when every housekeeper will have more or less domestic refuse, such as rags and old rubber, and all kinds of old paper stock, to dispose of; every one wants, and ought to have, the best prices of the market, and this can be assured by seeing John O'Brien or his man, as he is about sending out his carts on the different routes, and having made a contract with parties to take all his paper stock, he will be able to pay the best prices of any man outside of Boston. If you do not see O'Brien's teams, drop a postal card to "John O'Brien, No. 1 Holmes Court," and prompt attention will be paid to the same.

N. B. Beware of unprincipled men; they will call and weigh your rags, and give you about one-half of what they really weigh. My attention has been called to six different cases of late where parties got rags in that way and the housekeeper took them back again. Weigh all your rags, and catch the dishonest dealer. What I say to one I say to all—"Weigh your rags." Why should you sell your rags for ½ cent when you can get 1 cent per lb. for colored rags, 3½ cents for white, and 3 cents per lb. for your old rubbers. You can get these prices by seeing John O'Brien, cash or trade. If you should enter a grocery store and call for a bag of flour, and found it four or five pounds short, you would think that was not right; and why should you not have your weight in your bag of rags? I say to you again, weigh your rags, for me and for all.

First Congressional District Convention, for the choice of two delegates and two alternates, at White's Opera house, Concord, on Tuesday, May 8th, at 2 P. M., or immediately upon the adjournment of the State Convention.

Second Congressional District Convention, for the choice of two delegates and two alternates, at Phenix hall, Concord, on Tuesday, May 8th, at 2 P. M., or immediately upon the adjournment of the State Convention.

Classed towns, and such towns and wards as are entitled to pro-rata representation in the General Court, will each send one delegate to the State and District conventions, and all other towns and wards will be entitled to twice as many delegates as they have representatives.

The same delegates may represent their towns and wards in the State and District conventions, if properly accredited thereto, or different sets of delegates may be sent to the State and District conventions.

The caucuses should be notified sufficiently early and in such manner that the voters will know about them and have an opportunity to attend.

It is desirable that all voters, without regard to past political differences, who are now in favor of elevating and dignifying American labor, protecting home industries from ruinous foreign competition, restricting the influence of the saloon, giving free and popular education to the masses of the people, establishing a liberal system of pensions for Union soldiers, extending the commercial interests of the Nation by a liberal system of appropriations to American steamship lines, especially those engaged in the transportation of our foreign mails, securing free suffrage and an honest count of the ballot, and elevating and protecting human rights in every section of our common country, should be invited to participate in these preliminary gatherings, to the end that no voter now in sympathy with the fundamental principles of the Republican party may feel that he has been overlooked or slighted.

Arrangements have been perfected with the railroads of the state for the transportation of the delegates to the several conventions at the uniform rate of two cents per mile each way. Delegates should be careful to call attention to this when they purchase their tickets.

A meeting of the State Committee and delegates will be held in Phenix hall, Concord, on Monday evening, May 7th, at nine o'clock, to arrange the preliminaries for the State Convention of the succeeding day, after which the question of reorganizing the Republican Clubs throughout the State and also the matter of appointing the times and places for holding the usual State, Congressional, Councillor, and County Conventions will be considered.

The floor of the hall will be reserved for delegates exclusively, and the galleries will be open for spectators. Delegates can receive their tickets of admission by presenting their credentials at the rooms of the Concord Republican Club, Merchants' Block, either on Monday evening or Tuesday morning. As the greatest possible care will be observed in issuing tickets, delegates are requested to call for them in person, and at as early an hour as practicable.

Trusting that the Republicans of the State may at once get themselves in readiness for hard work and a glorious victory in the coming campaign, we are, fraternally, J. H. GALLINGER,
Chairman Republican State Committee.
FRANK D. CURRIER, Secretary.

Eliot Items.

ELIOT, ME., April 9th.

Mrs. Samuel Littlefield died quite suddenly on Wednesday evening at eight o'clock. She was taken ill the Saturday previous; on Tuesday the doctor was called and pronounced her critically ill, and Wednesday morning told her she had but a brief time to live, and if she had business to do it should be done at once. She acted on this information, and died that evening as stated, of neuralgia of the heart, in the 58th year of her age. She leaves her husband $5000 and the use of the home during his life, after which it goes to her nephew, Ephraim P. Cole, with $1000. We shall miss Mrs. Littlefield much, as she was always a friendly and kind-hearted lady. Mr. Littlefield will for the present reside with his daughter, Mrs. John Searcy of Kittery Foreside; we hope he will return ere long to his home, as he is an excellent gentleman, and well liked by all.

Miss Alberta Nelson, daughter of Samuel Nelson, has been very sick the past three months with an internal abscess. On Friday, the 6th inst., her condition had become critical, and an operation was skillfully performed by Dr. J. L. M. Willis, assisted by a surgeon from a Boston hospital, which gave the patient great relief, and at the time of this writing the young lady is quite comfortable, and there is strong hope of her speedy recovery. Without the aid of surgery, she could not have lived more than three or four days.

Mrs. W. H. Staples and daughter are visiting Mrs. Staples' mother, Mrs. Bell, in Boston.

Rev. Kinsman Atkinson preached his farewell sermon on Sunday last at East Eliot; also at South Eliot. He leaves for Conference on Tuesday, the 10th.

A. L. Hanscome, supervisor of schools, will be at the schoolhouse in district six on April 26th, for the purpose of examining applicants for schools.

The Methodist people of South Eliot are making some repairs on their parsonage, to receive their new pastor after Conference. The people of North Kittery will unite with the people at South Eliot.

Mrs. J. W. Remick is visiting her sister in Boston for a few weeks.

Mrs. Howard F. Spinney and daughter are visiting Mrs. Melville Spinney of Chelsea, Mass.

Mrs. J. W. Knight is in Manchester, visiting her daughter, Mrs. P. E. Rogers.

Mrs. Caroline B. Knight is very sick with pneumonia.

Forrest Leach, son of Henry Leach, is dangerously sick with lung fever.

People visiting Eliot neck will have to wear green glasses to save their eyes from being dazled by the new paint on the houses and wagons. HARRY.

It is Absurd

For people to expect a cure for Indigestion, unless they refrain from eating what is unwholesome; but if anything will sharpen the appetite and give tone to the digestive organs, it is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Thousands all over the land testify to the merits of this medicine.

Mrs. Sarah Burroughs, of 248 Eighth street, South Boston, writes: "My husband has taken Ayer's Sarsaparilla, for Dyspepsia and torpid liver, and has been greatly benefited."

A Confirmed Dyspeptic.

C. Canterbury, of 141 Franklin st., Boston, Mass., writes, that, suffering for years from Indigestion, he was at last induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla and, by its use, was entirely cured.

Mrs. Joseph Aubin, of High street, Holyoke, Mass., suffered for over a year from Dyspepsia, so that she could not eat substantial food, became very weak, and was unable to care for her family. Neither the medicines prescribed by physicians, nor any of the remedies advertised for the cure of Dyspepsia, helped her, until she commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. "Three bottles of this medicine," she writes, "cured me."

Affairs in Kittery.

KITTERY POINT, April 9th

The mean, low attack of somebody using the respectable name of "Pepperell," upon a man never sailing near enough to the wind to write anybody a nameless letter, is too much like the united action of a whole crew, to call for any reply. Shiver my timbers, if I know whose name was the most disgraced, Jotto's or Pepperell's; the latter has been the scape-goat of much shallowness before, but this out-sails it all. The scurrility designed for some sneak can be classed with whatever matter Pepperell (Heaven save the mark) may think best. JOTTO.

P. S. Was absent when the Penny Post containing the article in question was issued, hence my late reply. J——.

Spring Medicine

Hood's Sarsaparilla is the most popular and successful Spring Medicine.

Nearly every body needs a reliable spring medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla to expel the impurities which have accumulated in the blood during the winter, to keep up strength as the warm weather comes on, create an appetite and promote healthy digestion. Try Hood's Sarsaparilla this spring and you will be convinced that it does possess superior and peculiar merit.

A Good Appetite

"When I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I was dizzy in the morning, had a headache, and no appetite; but now I can hardly get enough cooked to eat." EMMA SHEPARD, 1 Coral Street, Worcester, Mass.

"Last spring my whole family took Hood's Sarsaparilla. The result is that all have been cured of scrofula, my little boy being entirely free from sores, and all four of my children look bright and healthy as possibly can be. I have found Hood's Sarsaparilla good for catarrh." WM. B. ATHERTON, Passaic City, N. J.

Be Sure to Get Hood's
Sarsaparilla, my child. See that they do not give you anything else. You remember it is the medicine which did mama so much good a year ago—so reliable, beneficial, pleasant to take—my favorite spring medicine.

"The Ivy Leaf."

Of this play which is to be performed at Music hall on Thursday evening, the 12th, the St. Paul Dispatch says:

Last night, at the opera house, W. H. Power's "Ivy Leaf" company presented an Irish comedy-drama—by all odds the best of its kind seen here this season—to an enthusiastic audience. The supporting company is a good one—better than is usually found in such productions. The singing of the company is excellent, and we remember of having seen no recent dancing which was so well executed as that of "Darby Flynn" and "Katie McIntyre." The play is interesting, the story well told, and some of the climaxes artistic.

Tickets now on sale at Goodrich's.

Acknowledgment.

The undersigned takes pleasure in acknowledging the sum of ninety-two dollars and seventeen cents ($92.17) for the Chase Home for Children.

Also the same amount for the benefit of the Cottage Hospital, being half of the proceeds of the recent entertainments given by the "Cadets' Picnic" for local charities. JOHN S. RAND, Treasurer.

[The other half of the receipts goes to the Coffee House and the Old Ladies' Home.—Ed.]

Base Ball.

The directors of the Dover Base Ball Association have resigned, owing to expressions of dissatisfaction on the part of some of the stockholders; the treasurer will refund money that has been contributed, and the club will not go into business this season.

The Boston base ball club played a game with the Dartmouth club at Boston on the 9th, and beat the college boys, 20 to 0.

It is reported that the directors of the Portsmouth Base Ball association are negotiating with Mr. James R. Yeaton for land on Richards avenue for a ball field.

There will be a match game of ball at the Plains on Fast day, between the Electrics and the Machine Shop nine.

Personal.

Miss Grace Parker of Boston is visiting her parents, Mr. Benjamin M. Parker and wife of this city.

Mrs. Walter C. Harriman, of Warner, is visiting Mrs. Wm. J. Moat.

Rev. J. G. Smith of Plymouth, the oldest member of the Methodist conference of this state, died on the 10th inst., aged eighty-three years. He had not been in active duty for forty years, by reason of loss of voice.

Judge J. Bartlett Edgerly of Farmington died on the 8th inst., at the age of eighty-nine years. He was made a Mason in Humane Lodge of Rochester in 1826, and served as its master three years; and for the first twenty years of the existence of Fraternal Lodge of Farmington, was secretary of that lodge. He was a member of St. Paul Commandery, Knights Templar, of Dover.

Maritime Notes.

The ship Granite State, of this port, Ross master, cleared at New York on the 9th inst. for Hong Kong.

The schooner Yale, Simpson master, before reported ashore on Poplar island, was run on shore to prevent going down in deep water, having been cut down below the water line on the night of the 4th inst. by the schooner C. R. Lewis, at Baltimore from Savannah. The same night, before colliding with the Yale, the C. R. Lewis was in collision with the schooner Frank W. Howes, and did her considerable damage. The Yale arrived back at Baltimore on the 7th, in tow.

Coal freights from Baltimore to this port were quoted at $1.15 per ton at the close of last week; to Boston or Portland, $1.05; to Bath, $1.10.

"Sits the Wind in That Corner?"

Captain S. Livingston Breese, late fleet captain of the South Atlantic squadron, has taken advantage of the law of retirement for navy officers, and been put on the retired list at his own request. This action has removed the necessity for a court of inquiry as to the difficulty between himself and Rear Admiral Braine, in which it is charged that both exchanged opinions of each other that were decidedly uncomplimentary and disgraceful. Capt. Breese was on duty at this naval station some years since.

Fire in North Hampton.

An unoccupied house in North Hampton, near Chesley's store and the Rye line, was burned about three o'clock in the morning of the 10th inst. by an incendiary fire. The house was owned by Henry Jenness of Rye, and was insured $600 in the Rockingham Mutual Farmers' Insurance company of Exeter.

An entertainment will be given in Franklin theatre the first of May in aid of the Children's Home, under the management of the parties who gave a similar one for the same purpose last fall. The exercises will consist of readings, tableaux, and vocal and instrumental music, in the theatre, after which there will be dancing in Franklin hall. The former affair was very successful as an entertainment, and netted a goodly sum for the home.

W. J. Sampson & Co. commenced painting the exterior of the Hotel Wentworth on Tuesday.

A Leap Year party will be given in Franklin hall this evening.

The festival and sale of fancy articles by Rockingham Lodge of Good Templars, in the hall on Pleasant street, opposite the post-office, will continue from two this afternoon through the evening.

NEW HAMPSHIRE TO THE FRONT.

A Matter Which Concerns You.

Below will be found a sample of the multitude of letters of encouragement Messrs. H. H. Warner & Co. of Rochester, N. Y., daily receive. The subjoined unsolicited testimonials are from your friends and neighbors, ladies and gentlemen you know and esteem for their honor and straightforwardness, and who would scorn to be a party to any deception. What has been done for others can be done for you, and it is folly, nay suicidal, to longer suffer when the means of recovery lie at your very door:

NEWTON JUNCTION, N. H., Nov. 25, 1887.—I was very sick with a urinary and kidney trouble and tried several physicians without any relief. I saw "Warner's Safe Cure" advertised so I thought I would try a bottle. I did so and to my surprise before twenty-four hours I felt very much better, and before I had finished the first bottle I felt like another person. Three bottles of "Warner's Safe Cure" entirely cured my sister, Mrs. Sadie Elwell, No 3 Queen St., Lowell, Mass., of similar troubles. I cannot say enough in the praise of "Warner's Safe Cure."

Mrs. E. A. Curtis

MANCHESTER, N. H., (2004 Elm St.) Oct. 28, 1887. —About three years ago I was seriously afflicted with inflammation and Catarrh of the Bladder. I suffered greatly and passed quantities of pus and mucus. I doctored and doctored for six months, but obtained no benefit or relief, until I began taking "Warner's Safe Cure" and "Warner's Safe Pills." It took time, but I persevered and kept on taking it until I was completely cured. I took altogether some 30 bottles and a number of bottles of pills. I felt better after the first few bottles. In fact, it was the only thing that gave me relief.

A. R. Phillips

MANCHESTER, N. H., (374 Chestnut St.) Oct. 28, 1887.—Some five years ago I sent you a testimonial regarding my having been cured of serious Kidney disease by taking "Warner's Safe Cure." I stated that before I took it the pains across my kidneys were so severe that I could hardly move, which was too true. I now write you again to inform you that I still remain cured, and, I am happy to state, all right.

Frank Jones

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., (10 Elm St.) Nov. 7, 1887.—I have used "Warner's Safe Cure" for Rheumatic affections in the system for some fifteen or more months, and have received, I can honestly say, much benefit from this invaluable medicine, and would recommend particularly to seamen who make long voyages never leave port without a supply of two or more dozen bottles, as it can be taken at any and all times without any obstruction to ship duty, which the seaman must not neglect.

John G. Hodges

DOVER, N. H., Nov. 4, 1887.—Several years ago I was troubled with severe backaches in the region of my Kidneys. I took several bottles of "Warner's Safe Cure" and was completely relieved and cured. I take it whenever I have a cold, and am always benefitted thereby.

E. A. Whitehouse

DOVER, N. H., Oct. 5, 1887.—Having been troubled for some time with Indigestion, Constipation and pains across my back in region of Kidneys, I experienced complete relief and cure from the same by the use of "Warner's Safe Cure" and "Warner's Safe Pills."

H. F. Snow

In the senate on the 9th inst. Mr. Pugh of Alabama reported with an adverse recommendation the bill to extend the time within which the French spoliation claims may be considered. Mr. Frye of Maine requested that the measure be placed on the calendar, which is a plain indication that its friends intend making a hot fight for its passage. The larger part of the French spoliation claims are held in New England, and many of them in this city.

☞ The Great Railroad Explosion. Fun in a Sleeping-Car. The Stage Coach Disaster. A Brilliant Company of Artists.

Mr. George F. Plaisted, of York Corner, has built an addition to his store 15x32 feet on the ground, and two stories high.

It is reported that the York Harbor & Beach railroad will run nine trains each way daily during the summer months.

On the evening of the 9th inst. a "Q" engine manned by "new men" was pelted with stones by a crowd, when one of the engine men, Charles Sommers, responded with a revolver, shooting James Boylan, a foundryman, in the knee, and Mike Walsh, a Wabash engineer, in the groin, wounding the latter fatally. Sommers was arrested.

FOUNDRYMEN, Miners and Mechanics, find the IVORY SOAP the best to wash up with after work is done. It removes dirt and grease quickly, and is easily rinsed off, leaving the skin soft and smooth. IVORY SOAP floats, so if dropped into the water is not lost, for it rises quickly to the top and floats like a chip. IVORY SOAP lasts long and costs but little.

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS.

The cabinent organ was introduced in its present form by Mason & Hamlin in 1861. Other makers followed in the manufacture in these principles, but the Mason & Hamlin Organs have always maintained their supremacy as the best in the world.

Mason & Hamlin offer, as demonstration of the unequalled excellence of their organs, the fact that at all the great World's Exhibitions, since that of Paris, 1867, in competition with best makers of all countries, they have invariably taken the highest honors. Illustrated catalogues free.

Mason & Hamlin do not hesitate to make the extraordinary claim for their pianos, that they are superior to all GRAND & UPRIGHT pianos, others. They recognize the high excellence achieved by other leading makers in the art of pianoforte building, but claim superiority. This they attribute solely to the remarkable improvement introduced by them in the year 1865, and now known as the "MASON & HAMLIN PIANO STRINGER," by the use of which is secured the greatest possible purity and refinement of tone, together with greatly increased capacity for standing in tune, and other important advantages.

A circular, containing testimonials from three hundred purchasers, musicians and tuners, sent, together with descriptive catalogue, to any applicant.

Pianos and Organs sold for cash or easy payments; also rented. tmy10

THE JOB PRINTING

Business is conducted in the same office by RICHARD I. WALDEN, who keeps on hand a large and well-selected stock of all materials required in his line. Give him a trial and you will be more than pleased.

The Whole Vital Machinery

Depends for the fuel, which is the origin of its propulsory force, upon the stomach. In that hidden alembic the food undergoes the chemical changes with transmute it into blood, from which the system draws the material that reimburses it for its daily losses of tissue. These, of course, are greatly augmented in disease. If the stomach, therefore, is weakened or disordered, the system is deprived of sustenance. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters can be relied upon to facilitate and renew digestion when that function has been interrupted by weakness of the stomach. Biliousness, or a diversion of the bile from its proper channel, which causes constipation, is also remedied by it. Heartburn, wind of the stomach, sick headache, fur upon the tongue, and other symptoms of stomach and liver disorder, it speedily removes. Malarial complaints of every sort, kidney and bladder troubles, constipation, rheumatism and neuralgia yield when it is used regularly and persistently.

Mrs. Stevens, an aged lady, was burned to death in the destruction of her home at Warren, R. I., April 9th.

Constipation is positively cured by Carter's Little Liver Pills. Not by purging and weakening the bowels, but by regulating and strengthening them. This is done by improving the digestion and stimulating the liver to the proper secretion of bile, when the bowels will perform their customary functions in an easy and natural manner. Purgative pills must be avoided. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Price 25 cents.

The Indiana state normal school at Terre Haute has been burned to the ground.

Success results from merit. Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer is placed before the public solely on its merits. Its success is indisputable.

R. D. Sears beat Fisk Warren at court tennis in the Boston tournament.

I have not used one bottle yet. I suffered from catarrh for twelve years, experiencing the nauseating dropping in the throat peculiar to that disease, and nose bleed almost daily. I tried various remedies without benefit until last April, when I saw Ely's Cream Balm advertised in the Boston Budget. I procured a bottle, and since the first days have had no more bleeding—the soreness is entirely gone.—D. G. Davidson, with the Boston Budget, formerly with Boston Journal.

Jennie Stevens, a school teacher of Waterville, Conn., left home over five weeks ago to visit a friend in Springfield, Mass., but did not reach that place, and has not since been heard from. Foul play is feared.

Hardly wise to suffer pain when a Hop Plaster acts instantly and pleases the wearer.

Forty persons were killed and 400 injured by a tornado at Dacca, India, April 7th.

Caution!—In our changeable climate, coughs, colds, and diseases of the throat, lungs and chest will always prevail. Cruel consumption will claim its victims. These diseases, if attended to in time, can be arrested and cured. The remedy is Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

Young Beal, of Clinton, Me., has been indicted for the murder of his father by poison.

The body is more susceptible to benefit from Hood's Sarsaparilla now than at any other season. Therefore take it now.

Aimee, the noted actress who recently died, left all her property, about $40,000, to the "walking gentlemen" of her company, with whom she was much in love. He is husband of May Fielding, another well known actress.

Their gentle action and good effect on the system really makes them a perfect little pill. They please those who use them. Carter's Little Liver Pills may well be termed "Perfection."

A Sensible Man

Would use Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs. It is curing more cases of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup and all Throat and Lung troubles than any other medicine. The proprietor has authorized any druggist to give you a sample bottle free to convince you of the merit of this great remedy. Large bottles 50c. and $1.

STARTLING STATISTICS.

What a High Official Has to Say About the Condition of the People—Some Serious Facts and Figures.

[Herald.]

"It is wonderful what figures will show." Such was the remark of a high official in the State Department to a representative of this paper. "How many really rich men do you suppose there are in New England? Very few. But how many do you think there would be if people were physically and mentally sound and vigorous? New England people are active, restless and ambitious, and therefore neglect themselves. Not one man or woman in ten is in perfect health."

"Official figures show this, do they?"

"Decidedly. There seems to be a New England disease. People do not seem to think that headaches, or tired feeling, or 'blues,' or loss of appetite, or nervousness mean anything. Then, the first thing they know they are in bed and on thereof it to death.

"Do many die of this disease?"

"Thousands. Henry Wilson, Charles Sumner, Wendell Phillips and Governor Bodwell are among the number. James G. Blaine is also on the road, and his trip abroad is in the hope of recovering health."

"But what do you find to counteract it?"

"Very little. The only reliable medicine so far discovered is Hunt's Remedy. The faculty of one of our leading medical colleges, knowing the composition of this medicine, have been recommending it for some time, and the results have been wonderful. I know three ladies and one gentleman (one of the latter a State officer), who have been entirely cured by its use. I wish everybody might know more about it and use it."

Such facts and figures, and from so high a source, should prove invaluable to thousands whose success in life would be much greater were they physically and metally sound and vigorous.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the stomach, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

A Joke on Gen. Granger.

Gen. Joe Shelby is in Lexington on a visit. He was at the Morgan mansion, looking at a portrait of Miss Sallie Strother, once a famous blue-grass belle and afterward the Baroness Fahnenborg, and told the Lexington Transcript a story concerning her. He said that he was much in love with Miss Sallie, and became very jealous of the attentions of the then Lieut. Gordon Granger, who came on a furlough from the army to visit Lexington, and spent almost every day with Miss Strother. Gen. Shelby says he (Shelby) happened to find a large United States flag in this city, and he took it to his room and wrote on it in large letters: "Headquarters of the United States Army." He got a long rope and tied the flag in the middle of it, and going in the night up to the Hunt residence, where Miss Strother stayed, he climbed high up in a locust tree in front of the Hunt house and tied one end of the rope on it. He then took the other end of the rope and climbing a tree on the other side stretched the flag across the street high in the air in front of Miss Strother's home. Next morning the joke gave such publicity to the future Gen. Granger's love-making that he went away thoroughly embarrassed by the merriment that the young men made at his expense.

Thirty years after Gen. Granger went into the federal army and Gen. Shelby into the confederate. After the war had gone against the confederate arms Gen. Shelby retreated with his command to Mexico to join Maximilian. Soon after he got on to Mexican soil, and was lying in camp barely over the Mexican line, there came one day and camped on the American side of the line a body of federal soldiers that were evidently afraid to violate the neutrality of Mexico by following Shelby on to Mexican soil. They lay in sight of each other for three days without any communication. Finally, under a flag of truce, Shelby sent a messenger to Granger's camp to make some inquiries, and among other things to find who was in command, and signed his name to the communication. Gen. Granger read the note with surprise and sent the messenger back with a kindly note, which ended:

"I am Gordon Granger, the man you drove out of Lexington, Ky., with a United States flag, and now I have driven you out of the United States with the same old flag."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

An Astonished Medicine-Man.

There was another episode which these peculiar people seemed to consider as a huge joke, which I will explain as briefly as possible, to show what the native people consider as funny in the frigid zones, says Lieut. Schwatke in a paper in Woman for February. One of the Eskimo men had a peculiarly disfigured face, to which he pointed so often that one of the party was finally led to ask him the cause. He most cheerfully assented to explain, amidst the grins and suppressed laughter of the others. When he was a young boy he was one of the small band of natives that came upon the remains of one of Sir John Franklin's unfortunate parties that had starved to death, and they found many curious things among the scattered material at the site of the sad scene. One which immediately took his boyish eye, was a red flattened can that he found, full of "black sand," as he expressed it. The "black sand" was of no possible use to him, and, on the first occasion he had to utilize the can, which was one winter evening, when he was sitting by the lamp in his snow-house, he poured this useless material out on the platform of snow that held the lamp, and in doing so some of it splashed in the flame. There was an instantaneous explosion, which he tried to explain by yelling "boom," until I thought the top of my head had been knocked off, and when some of the shock had passed away he found that the top of his snow hut had disappeared in the dark night, the stone lamp was broke into pieces, and the kitchen utensils and parlor furniture were all mixed up. He was a medicine-man of the tribe—that is, one supposed to cure sickness my magic incantations, etc., —and at the time the powder-can exploded a patient was visiting him, who disappeared in the confusion, and his whereabouts was not known for a month or two afterward, when he turned up in another tribe farther south, whose doctors, he claimed, were not of such a pyrotechnic school of medicine. The medicine man and his own nervous system was badly shattered for a long time, and his hands and face were fearfully scared as evidence of his story, but if his appetite was at all injured he had more than fully recovered, for he was the most enormous eater, savage or civilized, that I ever saw in my life, and could easily dispose of a reindeer ham at a lunch whenever he came around to repeat his story, which was altogether too frequent; but we luckily found a good plan of ridding ourselves of him by the apparent careless handling of a powder-can.

Rural Simplicity.

A drummer who kissed a country girl remarked, ecstatically:

"How charming it is to press the lips of innocence for the first time!"

"All you city fellows must have gone to the same school. Every mother's son of you says the same thing when he is kissing me," she replied.—Texas Siftings.

Notice---Get Your Full Weight!

THIS CARD is intended to call the attention of every housekeeper in the city of Portsmouth and vicinity. The Spring Cleaning time is drawing near, when every housekeeper will have more or less domestic refuse, such as rags and old rubber, and all kinds of old paper stock, to dispose of; every one wants, and ought to have, the best prices of the market, and this can be assured by seeing John O'Brien or his man, as he is about sending out his carts on the different routes, and having made a contract with parties to take all his paper stock, he will be able to pay the best prices of any man outside of Boston. If you do not see O'Brien's teams, drop a postal card to "John O'Brien, No. 1 Holmes Court," and prompt attention will be paid to the same.

N. B. Beware of unprincipled men; they will call and weigh your rags, and give you about one-half of what they really weigh. My attention has been called to six different cases of late where parties got rags in that way and the housekeeper took them back again. Weigh all your rags, and catch the dishonest dealer. What I say to one I say to all—"Weigh your rags." Why should you sell your rags for ¼ cent when you can get 1 cent per lb. for colored rags, 3¾ cents for white, and 3 cents per lb. for your old rubbers. You can get these prices by seeing John O'Brien, cash or trade. If you should enter a grocery store and call for a bag of flour, and found it four or five pounds short, you would think that was not right; and why should you not have your weight in your bag of rags? I say to you again, weigh your rags, for me and for all.

JOHN J. LASKEY,

NO. 63 PLEASANT STREET.

To the Judge of Probate for the County of Rockingham.

RESPECTFULLY REPRESENTS Langdon M. Perkins of Portsmouth, in said County, that Mary Perkins late of Portsmouth, in said County, has lately deceased, intestate, having at the time of her death Estate in said County; leaving no husband, and she only next of kin are the persons whose names, residences and relationship are as follows, viz.: Your Petitioner and George A. Perkins, sons of said deceased, of Portsmouth, aforesaid; and John S. Wendell, husband of Martha J. Wendell, a deceased daughter of said Mary Perkins, and Samuel Wendell and Charles Wendell, grandchildren of said Mary Perkins, all of said Portsmouth.

WHEREFORE he prays that Administration thereof may be granted to said Langdon M. Perkins.

Dated the 25th day of February, A. D. 1888.

LANGDON M. PERKINS.

ROCKINGHAM, SS.—Probate Office at Exeter, in said County, on the Twenty-seventh day of February, A. D. 1888.

UPON the foregoing Petition it is Ordered that a hearing be had thereon at a Court of Probate to be holden at Portsmouth, in said County, on the Second Tuesday of May next, at ten o'clock A. M.; and that the Petitioner notify all persons concerned or interested therein to appear at said County and show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said Petition should not be granted, by causing said Petition and this Order to be published three weeks successively in the NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE, a newspaper printed at Portsmouth, in said County, the last publication thereof to be at least one week prior to said Court. By order of the Judge.

That Tired Feeling

Afflicts nearly every one in the spring. The system having become accustomed to the bracing air of winter, is weakened by the warm days of the changing season, and readily yields to attacks of disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine needed. It tones and builds up every part of the body, and also expels all impurities from the blood. Try it this season.

Civil Service Reform in Philadelphia.

Senator Hale's civil service commission has returned from Philadelphia. The investigation seems to have established, first, that with no regard for Cleveland's "reform" pledges and with only the merest pretence of obeying the law, partisan changes have been made in the federal departments in that city which have become scandals and have crippled the public service; second, that federal officials, contrary to the directions of the president in his letter of July, 1886, have freely and openly participated in political conventions and primary election movements, using their official influence; third, that the president has bestowed public offices as rewards for partisan services regardless of his pledges against such action.

Five Hundred Thousand Readers.

BOSTON, April 11.—A story, entitled "The Mystery of the Well, Which was Solved by a Scrap of Paper," recently made a tremendous sensation in Paris, and reached the unparallelled circulation of one million five hundred thousand copies. Determined to spare no expense to give the ladies and young folks of New England the best stories in the world, the Boston Globe has secured this great novel, by Pierre Sales, and "The Mystery of the Well" will be begun in the Boston Daily Globe on Saturday of this week, April 14th, and be continued daily until it is completed. Be sure and order Saturday's Globe at once, because you get a daily paper containing not only all the latest news but the best stories and miscellaneous reading for ladies and young folks.

Matters in York.

YORK VILLAGE, ME., April 7th.

Mr. H. E. Evans has been the first person to introduce the incubator into York; he has one hundred and fifty as bright little chicks as ever were seen, and for the next hatching has three hundred eggs.

Mr. J. W. Bragdon has very recently purchased and brought home eleven fine horses in addition to his already good stock.

Dr. E. S. Ryder of Portsmouth has been at York Village the past week, attending to his patients in York, who find it a great convenience to have a dentist in town, and they also appreciate his skill in the work done.

Gen. Lew Wallace's well known book, "Ben-Hur," is being read with great interest by many of the people of York.

Mr. Herbert Trafton will build a house this spring a short distance from the York Harbor railroad station.

A young man of York has in his possession a violin, on the inside of which is a paper with the words, "Made on Boon Island in the year 1821;" also the initials "E. G." It is remembered by some of the older residents here that a Captain Eliphalet Grover lived at that time on the island, and employed his leisure in making violins. J. E.

Affairs in Kittery.

KITTERY POINT, ME., April 10th.

A great many people in this vicinity are suffering from severe colds.

The condition of the roads is much better than last week, and a few warm, sunny days will make the use of rubbers unnecessary in the village.

The schooner Active was towed down from Portsmouth yesterday, and is now at the dock for repairs.

Mr. Brown, the station agent, has moved into the house owned by Capt. Horace Seaward.

The hotels Pepperrell and Park Field open in June this year.

The crocuses and pansies are coming forth from their winter coverings.

In several windows a fine collection of flowers may be seen. Mrs. James Lewis has some beautiful blossoms in her window.

The trailing arbutus buds are quite numerous this year in some places.

Chester Emery went to Brockton yesterday morning to work during the summer.

Mrs. John Allen and daughter are expected home soon.

Mrs. Rosalie Grace is stopping at the Pepperrell with her stepson, Mr. Frederic Grace, who is confined to his room with a severe cold.

The Ladies' Circle meets Tuesday night with Mrs. Daniel Seaward, on Oakland avenue. AUNT MOLLY.

KITTERY, ME., April 10th.

Albert H. Moulton, Esq., of New Haven, Conn., arrived in town Saturday on a visit to his parents, Mr. Albert H. Moulton and wife of North Kittery.

At the school meeting in district one, on the evening of the 6th inst., Mr. True W. Carr was elected agent for the ensuing year.

District two (North Kittery) on Saturday evening, the 7th, elected Albert H. Gerry agent.

District three elected its agent on March 27th.

Mrs. Ruth Scriggins, a lady nearly eighty years old, broke one of her arms by a fall several days ago. The old lady set it herself, and had it bound up with pasteboard and bandages, but when Dr. Willis of Eliot was called in a day or two later he found that a half-turn had been put in the broken arm, so that the hand turned outward from the body. He rectified the error, and the patient is now doing quite as well as could be expected from her advanced years. SUB ROSA.

Another Strike Threatened.

It is announced that as a result of the treaty between the Knights of Labor and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the brakemen on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad, and those of its conductors who are Knights of Labor, will shortly be called out, unless the management makes terms with the striking engineers, firemen and switchmen.

Condemning Sunday Trains.

The railroad commissioners of New Hampshire have received numerously-signed petitions from the Methodist Episcopal, Congregational, Baptist and Free Baptist churches, "representatives of many tens of thousands of church members and parishioners, who desire the Sabbath to be kept holy to the Creator," and who set forth that "the Sabbath is in imminent danger of sad desicration in many ways, and we deem it the duty of the great and powerful corporations to help save it to the American people." The petition condemns all Sunday trains, "except such as may be clearly required by the New Testament conditions, as works of mercy or necessity."

In accordance with these petitions, the commissioners have voted to grant a hearing at an early day to those officers of the recent State Sunday School Convention representing the Methodist, Congregational, Baptist and Free Baptist denominations who petitioned for the discontinuance of all Sunday trains.

Mrs. Julia Ward Howe went to California from the International Council of women. She will lecture in several places in Washington territory and in California.

An attempt to evict a farmer on the Des Moines river lands was defeated by armed men, who drove the marshal and the incoming tenant away with shotgun arguments.

Don't Wait

Until your hair becomes dry, thin, and gray before giving the attention needed to preserve its beauty and vitality. Keep on your toilet-table a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor—the only dressing you require for the hair—and use a little, daily, to preserve the natural color and prevent baldness.

Thomas Munday, Sharon Grove, Ky., writes: "Several months ago my hair commenced falling out, and in a few weeks my head was almost bald. I tried many remedies, but they did no good. I finally bought a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor, and, after using only a part of the contents, my head was covered with a heavy growth of hair. I recommend your preparation as the best hair-restorer in the world."

"My hair was faded and dry," writes Mabel C. Hardy, of Delavan, Ill.; "but after using a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor it became black and glossy."

Be Sure to Get Hood's

Sarsaparilla, my child. See that they do not give you anything else. You remember it is the medicine which did mama so much good a year ago—so reliable, beneficial, pleasant to take—my favorite spring medicine.

Spring Medicine

Hood's Sarsaparilla is the most popular and successful Spring Medicine.

Nearly every body needs a reliable spring medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla to expel the impurities which have accumulated in the blood during the winter, to keep up strength as the warm weather comes on, create an appetite and promote healthy digestion. Try Hood's Sarsaparilla this spring and you will be convinced that it does possess superior and peculiar merit.

A Good Appetite

"When I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I was dizzy in the morning, had a headache, and no appetite; but now I can hardly get enough cooked to eat." EMMA SHEPARD, 1 Coral Street, Worcester, Mass.

"Last spring my whole family took Hood's Sarsaparilla. The result is that all have been cured of scrofula, my little boy being entirely free from sores, and all four of my children look bright and healthy as possibly can be. I have found Hood's Sarsaparilla good for catarrh." WM. B. ATHERTON, Passaic City, N. J.

THE WEATHER.

For New England to-day:—
Light rain or snow, followed by colder, fair weather, fresh westerly winds.

The Thermometer at the CHRONICLE Office, at 4:00 o'clock this morning, indicated 32 degrees above zero.

Clear

Fast Day.

To-day being a legal holiday, no paper will be issued from this office to-morrow.

Union services will be held in the Methodist church this forenoon at 10:30 o'clock, and all are cordially invited.

This evening, in Music hall, the Irish comedy-drama "The Ivy Leaf" will be presented. It has no reference to Ireland's political troubles, and is said by the press to be one of the most pleasing and interesting dramas of the kind ever put on the stage. At Franklin hall, the third annual ball of the Athletic club will be given, with a preliminary concert by Blaisdell's orchestra; neither expense nor trouble has been spared to assure the entire success of the affair. At Grand Army hall, Daniel street, the Court street Christian society will give an entertainment and supper; admission fifteen cents.

Another "Picnic."

The "Cadets' Picnic" party, including the managers and all who assisted in the work of getting up the recent most successful entertainments in aid of local charities, were on Wednesday evening, the 11th, royally entertained by C. M. Gignoux, Esq. The young people had a dance in Rechabite hall from five o'clock till half-past seven, when all hands adjourned to Robeck's, where the entire party, about sixty in number, partook of an abundant collation of the best that noted establishment could set forth. It was a grand time, and the elders enjoyed it fully as much as did the young picnickers, who were allowed free swing, the elders merely looking out that youthful exuberance of spirits did not expand into rudeness. The youngsters sang their solos and concerted pieces of their own accord, and gave abundant proof of the possession of healthy appetites. Toward the close of the feast, Capt. Eddie Kimball, of the Cadets, arose and in a very neat speech tendered the thanks of the company to the gentleman whose thoughtful courtesy had given them so much pleasure, to which he responded that if they had enjoyed the occasion even half as much as he had, he was more than repaid. The boys then gave "three cheers and a tiger" for the host of the evening, the young misses joining in with a will, and the merry party dispersed to their homes, leaving behind them a scene such as might have been presented by some village "at the front" a quarter century ago after enjoying a number of alternate visits from the union and confederate foragers.

Supreme Court, April Term.

The April term of the supreme court for Rockingham county began at Exeter on Tuesday, the 10th, Hon. W. H. H. Allen presiding. The call of the docket occupied the forenoon, and in the afternoon a number of uncontested divorce cases were heard by the court.

The grand jury completed their labors Wednesday afternoon, reported at four o'clock, and were discharged from further attendance. Among the indictments found were three against the city of Portsmouth on account of the condition of certain school houses; also one against the Newcastle bridges. The petit jurors were in the afternoon excused until Monday, the 16th, to which time the court adjourned.

THE LEAP YEAR PARTY.

In Franklin Hall Wednesday Evening.

The Young Ladies do Their Best to Give Their Gentlemen Friends an Enjoyable Time.

The Leap Year party which has been the much talked of event among the young gentlemen and ladies of this city for the past month or six weeks, came off Wednesday evening, the 11th, with flying colors notwithstanding the bad weather, and was the "event of the season" in dancing circles. The young ladies to whom the credit is due for successfully carrying out the programme are Miss Georgine Moses and Miss Sallie E. Gray, who were the managers and floor directors. These young ladies, who gave all their spare time and united their efforts in planning and arranging the party, though many times discouraged are to be congratulated upon their success. No one who has not learned from experience knows the discouragments and drawbacks one has to encounter in getting up an affair of this kind, and therefore the young ladies are entitled to more praise than the young gentlemen would be if the affair had been under their management, and we doubt if even they could have given a more enjoyable time than that of Wednesday evening. One noticeable feature was the smoothness with which everything passed off, and to this end the following aids deserve a large share of the credit: Miss Mollie E. Montgomery, Miss Grace A. Sides, Miss Mabel B. Cotton and Miss Georgie Ayers.

The Music Hall orchestra from eight to nine o'clock rendered the following programme in a most delightful and pleasing manner, and its selections were well received by the audience:

1. March. "Infantry," Moldauer
2. Grand Selection. "Erminie" Jacobowski
3. Waltz. "Militaire" Waldteufel
4. Medley. "Night owls" Ricker
5. Finale. "Johnny get your Gun."

The grand promenade, which started promptly at nine o'clock, was participated in by about fifty couples, and was finely led by Miss Georgine Moses and Mr. Arthur Locke.

The floor director wore an elegant badge of lavender silk printed in gold, and the assistant director a dark red, also printed in gold. The aids wore badges of white, printed in silver; they were made of watered ribbon.

The orders of dances were very handsome, being printed on morocco cardboard with an insert of four pages, silk cord and pencils. On the cover was the following inscription: "Program, 1888. Leap Year Party. Sallie E. Gray, Georgine Moses, Managers." It was designed and printed by Richard I. Walden, job printer. The following was the Refreshments were served at intermission at Mrs. Frank Robeck's and Freeman's oyster house.

Entertainment and Supper.

The Benevolent Society of the Court street Christian church will give an entertainment and supper in Grand Army hall on Daniel street, this afternoon and evening. As the proceeds are to go towards raising the church and buying a bell, there should be a full attendance. The following is the programme:

Solo by Rev. John A. Hainer; dialogue by four young ladies; dialogue by Misses Flossie B. Coleman and Bertha Hatch; duet by Miss Florence Coleman and Miss Mary Locke; solo, Miss Stella Winn; singing by the choir; reading by Miss Edith Horrocks, Pearl Seavey and others.

Supper from 5:00 to 7:30. Ice cream and cake on sale during the evening. Admission 15 cents, including supper. All are invited.

"Le Voyage en Suisse."

The renowned Hanlon Brothers will on Saturday evening next present in Music hall their merry and amusing "Le Voyage en Suisse." This mirthful reproduction of old "Mr. Dwindledown's" bridal tour through Switzerland partakes of the qualities of musical pantomime, comedy, farce and spectacle. Since it first amused the public it has been so remodelled, improved and repolished as to be in great part entirely new. Four new characters have been added, and a number of new, ingenious stage tricks, for which the Hanlons have became famous the world over, have been introduced. The Hanlons will appear as "Bob" and "John," the two model servants. The first act opens with the capsizing of the stage-coach, scattering the passengers over the stage. This is a signal for the fun to begin. The second act transpires on a Swiss sleeping-car, which is apparently in motion, in which many funny incidents take place. The act concludes with an explosion and tableau, showing the passengers clinging to telegraph poles, trees, and other convenient objects. The closing scene takes place in the Rigi Kulm hotel, where several disguises are assumed and specialties introduced. In this act is seen an Alpine snow scene, representing Switzerland in winter.

Personal.

Hon. E. H. Winchester and wife have arrived home from California.

James J. Hogan, for a number of years past head maltster at the Jones brewery, died on the 11th inst., aged fifty-four years.

Mr. J. B. Quaid of Dover, one of the brightest and most capable young newspaper men of that city, and well and favorably known to many persons in Portsmouth, was on the 10th inst. reported to be very ill, his physician having no hope of his recovery.

Base Ball.

The Manchester base ball club played a game on their own grounds Tuesday, the 10th inst., with the Bostons, and won it by three runs to two.

The Harvard and Dartmouth clubs played a game in Cambridge on the 10th, Harvard winning, ten to nine.

At the meeting of the board of directors of the Portsmouth Base Ball association in Franklin hall on the evening of the 10th inst., it was voted to hire grounds on Richards avenue, in the Elwyn field, for base ball purposes.

The hearing on the petition for a temporary injunction on the bill in equity of the Boston, Concord & Montreal railroad against the Boston & Maine road was begun in Concord on the 11th inst. before Chief Justice Doe. The hearing was continued to May 9th, and A. J. Shurtleff apppointed a commissioner to take testimony as to the present condition of the Montreal road; no injunction will issue in the meantime.

The Massachusetts house of representatives on the 9th inst. ordered to a third reading, after an earnest debate and without a roll call, the senate bill authorizing the Boston & Maine railroad to purchase the property and franchise of the Eastern and other roads. Only a few unimportant verbal amendments were made to the bill as it came from the senate, the minority bill offered being rejected by a large majority. There is no longer much doubt of the consolidation of the two roads named.

Eastern railroad preferred stock sold at 128, and common stock from 123 to 125 in Boston on the 11th inst., five or six hundred shares changing hands at those prices. This boom was no doubt caused by the favorable action of the Massachusetts legislature on the consolidation of the Eastern with the Boston & Maine.

Everett Goodwin of South Berwick, who until a few weeks ago was employed as a fireman on the Boston & Maine railroad, was found unconscious beside the track between North Berwick and South Berwick stations, Sunday morning, April 8th. His right arm was mangled, and both feet and the remaining hand were frozen. While riding on a freight train from North Berwick to his home, Saturday evening, unknown to the conductor or brakemen he had fallen off, and his arm had been ground underneath the wheels. The accident occurred about eight or nine o'clock, and he lay there, helpless and half conscious, till picked up by the hands of a Sunday milk train and taken to his home in South Berwick. Monday afternoon, the 9th, Dr. F. G. Warren of Biddeford was summoned, and amputated the arm at the elbow joint. The doctor reported the chances as strongly against Goodwin's recovery. He is about twenty-five years of age.

The Nonpareil Associates are to give a May party in Franklin hall on Wednesday evening, May 2d.

Our line of Kid Gloves for Easter is second to none for quality and low prices; embroidered and plain backs from 50 cts. to $1.50. Lewis E. Staples, 7 Market street.

The navy yard workmen get two Fast days this year—the 12th inst. in New Hampshire, and the 19th in Maine. Some of them had still another one, on the 5th, but they had to go to Massachusetts for that.

The outer door of the First National bank was found unlocked by the police at six o'clock on Wednesday afternoon.

The sum of over four thousand dollars has already been raised by the Christian society at Rye toward the fund for the rebuilding of their church.

In preparation for the privations of Fast day, the provision stores made a very good show of poultry and nice meats on Wednesday.

The republican committee of ward two on the 10th inst. elected Aaron Young chairman, Herman W. Oxford secretary, and William G. Billings treasurer.

The public library rooms were not opened on Wednesday afternoon, the 11th, on account of the sickness of the librarian.

The governor of Maine has appointed Thursday, the 19th day of April, as a day of fasting and prayer.

Ex-Conductor Melvin E. Dockham, who was for thirty-two years in active service for the Eastern railroad, more than twenty-one of which he was a conductor, died at his home in Salem, Mass., on Saturday, April 7th, at the age of fifty-six years.

Schooner Bradford C. French, Hammett master, which arrived at this port on the 10th inst. from Baltimore with 1331 tons of coal to E. F. Sise & Co., will discharge at Concord railroad wharf.

Gov. Marble of Maine has appointed Tuesday, May 1st, to be observed as Arbor day in that state.

A Sight Worth Seeing.

Probably few persons ever saw the breathing apparatus of a human being laid open for inspection. From a hospital cadaver, we once saw the lungs and bronchial tubes removed, and blown up as a boy would a bladder or toy balloon, until the fine bronchial tubes and air cells of the lungs were distended to their fullest extent. In this state the lungs were hardened by immersion in alcohol, so that they remained expanded when the air was let free. With a sharp knife the wind-pipe and lungs were split open, so that it was easy to trace the bronchial tubes gradually diminishing in size from the wind-pipe itself, becoming finer and more delicately branched, until finer than small sewing cotton, these tiny bronchi lead into the air-cells beyond, to convey air to sustain life.

Truly a wonderful sight, which we have often recalled during the past winter as we read of the great number of deaths from pneumonia and bronchitis. Nearly 250 deaths in Boston in the month of January.

It seems impossible to most people, that so simple and common a disease as bronchitis, should cause death at all. But think for a moment, what would happen if the lining membrane of those tiny tubes described above should become much swollen by inflammation, which is likely to occur after any severe cold. The passage of air to the lung cells would be stopped, and the patient die from suffocation, as certainly as if a giant grasped his throat.

People should not overlook the irritation or "tickling in the throat," which causes a "hacking cough." Sure symptoms of bronchitis. The irritation being caused from inflammation inside of the wind-pipe, it is useless to take medicines into the stomach to cure it; one might as well eat tallow to cure chapped hands.

The interior mucous membrane of the wind-pipe must be promptly treated, to prevent the downward spread of the inflammation, and effect a cure. On page twelve of a pamphlet published by I. S. Johnson & Co., Boston, Mass., is printed plain directions for applying Johnson's Anodyne Liniment to the bronchial tubes and nasal passages, to cure colds and bronchitis.

It is a well-know fact, as many persons can testify, that this old-fashioned remedy will stop inflammation and swelling, quicker than any other medicine.

The Woman's Column says: "Miss Sadie Crosby, of Elgin, is said to have made, during the winter, snow images of men and four-footed animals so excellent as to attract much attention, and to indicate that she has much talent as a sculptor. It is to be hoped if she succeeds in this line of art she will have strength of will enough to call herself Sarah instead of Sadie."

MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS

$22 TO $900. The eminent organ was introduced in its present form by Mason & Hamlin in 1861. Other makers followed in the manufacture in these instruments, but the Mason & Hamlin Organs have always maintained their supremacy as the best in the world.

Mason & Hamlin offer, as demonstration of the unequalled excellence of their organs, the fact that at all the great World's Exhibitions, since that of Paris, 1867, in competition with best makers of all countries, they have invariably taken the highest honors. Illustrated catalogues free.

PIANOS.

Mason & Hamlin do not hesitate to make the extraordinary claim for their pianos, that they are superior to all GRAND & UPRIGHT pianos, others. They recognize the high excellence achieved by other leading makers in the art of piano building, but will claim superiority. This they attribute solely to the remarkable improvement introduced by them in the year 1882, and now known as the "Mason & HAMLIN PIANO STRINGS," by the use of which is secured the greatest possible purity and refinement of tone, together with greatly increased capacity for standing in tune, and other important advantages.

A circular, containing testimonials from three hundred purchasers, musicians and tuners, sent, together with descriptive catalogue, to any applicant.

Pianos and Organs sold for cash or easy payments; also rented. tmy10

THE JOB PRINTING

Business is conducted in the same office by RICHARD I. WALDEN, who keeps on hand a large and well-selected stock of all materials required in his line. Give him a trial and you will be more than pleased.

R. F. Burleigh, instructor in veterinary medicine and surgery in the New Hampshire College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts, has been elected to a professorship in Kansas State college, Manhattan, Kan.

The Whole Vital Machinery

Depends for the fuel, which is the origin of its propulsory force, upon the stomach. In that hidden alembic the food undergoes the chemical changes with transmute it into blood, from which the system draws the material that reimburses it for its daily losses of tissue. These, of course, are greatly augmented in disease. If the stomach, therefore, is weakened or disordered, the system is deprived of sustenance. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters can be relied upon to facilitate and renew digestion when that function has been interrupted by weakness of the stomach. Biliousness, or a diversion of the bile from its proper channel, which causes constipation, is also remedied by it. Heartburn, wind of the stomach, sick headache, fur upon the tongue, and other symptoms of stomach and liver disorder, it speedily removes. Malarial complaints of every sort, kidney and bladder troubles, constipation, rheumatism and neuralgia yield when it is used regularly and persistently.

The first number of the Berlin Independent, published at Berlin Falls by Twitchell & Boothby, was issued April 11th. It is devoted to the interests of that section, is bright and newsy, and makes a good show of local advertisements. If the promise of the first number holds good, it will deserve well of the people in that part of the state

Constipation is positively cured by Carter's Little Liver Pills. Not by purging and weakening the bowels, but by regulating and strengthening them. This is done by improving the digestion and stimulating the liver to the proper secretion of bile, when the bowels will perform their customary functions in an easy and natural manner. Purgative pills must be avoided. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Price 25 cents.

Rev. W. H. Morrison of Manchester will give the Memorial day oration in Farmington.

Success results from merit. Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer is placed before the public solely on its merits. Its success is indisputable.

Rev. John J. Holohan, the Catholic priest in charge of the church at Hinsdale, has been indicted for fornication. The parish in that town is badly broken up.

Hardly wise to suffer pain when a Hop Plaster acts instantly and pleases the wearer.

Five men have been indicted by the Kennebec county, Maine, grand jury, for illegal voting at the Waterville city election.

Caution! — In our changeable climate, coughs, colds, and diseases of the throat, lungs and chest will always prevail. Cruel consumption will claim its victims. These diseases, if attended to in time, can be arrested and cured. The remedy is Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

Joseph Pulitzer has bought French's hotel in Park Row, New York, and will put up a million dollar World building.

The body is more susceptible to benefit from Hood's Sarsaparilla now than at any other season. Therefore take it now.

An epidemic of measles exists in the Wabash valley in Indiana and Illinois.

Their gentle action and good effect on the system really makes them a perfect little pill. They please those who use them. Carter's Little Liver Pills may well be termed "Perfection."

The debate on the fisheries treaty was opened at Ottawa on Tuesday, the 10th inst., by Sir Charles Tupper.

A Sensible Man

Would use Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs. It is curing more cases of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup and all Throat and Lung troubles than any other medicine. The proprietor has authorized any druggist to give you a sample bottle free to convince you of the merit of this great remedy. Large bottles 50c. and $1.

STARTLING STATISTICS.

What a High Official Has to Say About the Condition of the People—Some Serious Facts and Figures.

[Herald.]

"It is wonderful what figures will show." Such was the remark of a high official in the State Department to a representative of this paper. "How many really rich men do you suppose there are in New England? Very few. But how many do you think there would be if people were physically and mentally sound and vigorous? New England people are active, restless and ambitious, and therefore neglect themselves. Not one man or woman in ten is in perfect health."

"Official figures show this, do they?"

"Precisely. There seems to be a New England disease. People do not seem to think that headaches, or tired feeling, or 'blues,' or loss of appetite, or nervousness mean anything. Then, the first thing they know they are in bed and on their way to death.

"De many die of this disease?"

"Thousands. Henry Wilson, Charles Sumner, Wendell Phillips and Governor Bodwell are among the number. James G. Blaine is also on the road, and his trip abroad is in the hope of recovering health."

"But what do you find to counteract it?"

"Very little. The only reliable medicine so far discovered is Hunt's Remedy. The faculty of one of our leading medical colleges, knowing the composition of this medicine, have been recommending it for some time, and the results have been wonderful. I know three ladies and one gentleman (one of the latter a State officer), who have been entirely cured by its use. I wish everybody might know more about it and use it."

Such facts and figures, and from so high a source, should prove invaluable to thousands whose success in life would be much greater were they physically and metally sound and vigorous.

Husband and Heathen.

O'er the men of Ethiopia she would pour her cornucopia,
And shower wealth and plenty on the people of Japan,
Send down jelly cake and candies to the Indians of the Andes,
And a cargo of plumb pudding to the men of Hindoostan:
And she said she loved 'em so
Bushman, Prim and Eskimo.
If she had the wings of eagles to their succor she would fly
Loaded down with jam and jelly,
Succotash and vermicelli,
Prunes, pomegranates, plums and pudding, peaches, pineapples and pie.

She would fly with speedy succor to the natives of Molucca
With whole loads of quail and salmon, and with tons of fricasee,
And give cake in fullest measure
To the men of Australasia
And all the Archipelagoes that dot the southern sea;
And the Anthropophagi,
All their lives deprived of pie,
She would satiate and satisfy with custard, cream and mince;
And those miserable Australians
And the Borrioboorighallans,
She would gorge with choicest jelly, raspberry, currant, grape and quince.

But like old war time hardtackers, her poor husband lived on crackers
Bought at wholesale from a baker, eaten from the mantel shelf;
If the men of Madagascar,
And the natives of Alaska,
Had enough to eate their hunger, let him look out for himself.
And his coat had one tail
And he used a shingle nail
To fasten up his "gallus" when he went out to his work;
And she used to spend his money
To buy sugar plums and honey
For the Terra del Fuegian and the Turcoman and Turk.

Gum Chewing As an Art.

The habit of chewing gum by men, women, babies, young and old, in the West is gradually working its way East. It is a matter of common practice at most health resorts, and strikingly so at the Hot Springs in Arkansas, and nearly all the physicians in these sanitariums commend the exercise as materially aiding digestion, cleaning the stomach, and as a help of breaking off chewers from the use of tobacco.

A few years ago, and even now, in staid Eastern cities, a young lady who chewed gum would be shunned by other fair ones and held up as an example of one on the direct route to perdition. Whereas, in Chicago, Kansas City, St. Paul, Minneapolis, and all the rest of the progressive West and Northwest cities and towns, if one can't chew at least a nickel's worth of gum per day one is not up to the standard. It seems odd, but there is a perfect dial to the thoughts in the way the gum is chewed. Let any one chewing gum become excited or enthusiastic, say at horse racing or any other interesting enjoyment, and the mouth will work quickly and with an automatic regularity. Entire rows of men and women watching a base-ball contest will show on which side the chewers are betting. When a good play is made on one side the backers of that side chew ferociously; the losing side chew and work the gums apathetically. A home run causes the masticating and crunching to go on as though worked by a Keely motor.

A young lady visiting the East from one of the Western cities neglected to bring with her a stock of genuine gum. Life seemed intolerable until a thoughtful friend sent her a bundle of sweet scented chewing gum. To watch another chewing gum very long will make you hungry, and the young lady's mother having watched her "chew" for a long time and seeing the evident relish with which she chewed, asked for a paper. After chewing for five minutes she suddenly threw the gum indignantly out of the window. Later, when the young lady's mother remarked that the habit of chewing gum was pernicious, unladylike, and vulgar, the daughter understood that the neophyte in gum chewing had a swollen tongue, chewed jaws, and a bleeding lip. There are slips even in gum.—Baltimore American.

Congressman Tillman of South Carolina, has the same prejudice against overcoats which characterized Hannibal Hamlin. The coldest day in winter the Palmetto State Representative walks about Washington in much the same garb which he wears in summer. He says that the overcoat is a Northern luxury unworthy of a man with blood in his veins.

Swinburne, the erotic English poet, is scarcely five feet in height, his face is ghastly pale, and his immense head is covered with great masses of wild, unkempt hair, while his mouth is small, almost girlish in its expression. He is shy of women, but he is fond of the society of artists and men of letters. He has a perfect horror of the brainless dancing girls who fill the fashionable drawing-rooms of London.

Max O'Rell is writing a book about the United States upon the general plan of "John Bull and His Island," and is paying a way for it with this sort of taffy. "I have seen no stupid faces here, and I have noticed a prodigious activity that prevails everywhere. I have nothing but admiration for your beautiful and graceful women and particularly your bewitching widows."

Miss Maria A. Brown of Boston, has a novel idea for the disposal of a portion of the surplus. She wants Congress to appropriate $50,000 to enable her and other antiquarians to search through the libraries of Europe for proof that Leif Ericsson discovered America about the year 1000. She feels confident that with sufficient financial backing she can utterly destroy the claims of Christopher Columbus as the discoverer of this country.

Notice---Get Your Full Weight!

THIS CARD is intended to call the attention of every housekeeper in the city of Portsmouth and vicinity. The Spring Cleaning time is drawing near, when every housekeeper will have to sell or lose domestic refuse, such as rags and old rubber, and all kinds of old paper stock, to dispose of; every one wants, and ought to have, the best prices of the market, and this can be assured by seeing John O'Brien or his man, as he is about sending out his carts on the different routes, and having made a contract with parties to take all his paper stock, he will be able to pay the best prices of any man outside of Boston. If you do not see O'Brien's teams, drop a postal card to "John O'Brien, No. 1 Holmes Court," and prompt attention will be paid to the same.

N. B. Beware of unprincipled men; they will call and weigh your rags, and give you about one-half of what they really weigh. My attention has been called to six different cases of late where parties got rags in that way and the housekeeper took them back again. Weigh all your rags, and catch the dishonest dealer. What I say to one I say to all—"Weigh your rags." Why should you sell your rags for ½ cent when you can get 1 cent per lb. for colored rags, 3½ cents for white, and 3 cents per lb. for your old rubbers. You can get these prices by seeing John O'Brien, cash or trade. If you should enter a grocery store and call for a bag of flour, and found it four or five pounds short, you would think that was not right; and why should you not have your weight in your bag of rags? I say to you again, weigh your rags, for me and for all.

A doctor in Nashville gave the following prescription for a sick lady, suffering with neuralgia: "A new bonnett, a cashmere shawl, a pair of gaiter boots, and a bottle of Salvation Oil." The lady recovered immediately, and earnestly recommends the Salvation Oil to every one. It is sold at all drug stores for 25 cents a bottle.

Seven thousand persons attended the wedding in London of Emma Booth, daughter of Gen. Booth of the Salvation Army, and "Fakir" Tucker, a prominent warrior.

That Tired Feeling

Afflicts nearly every one in the spring. The system having become accustomed to the bracing air of winter, is weakened by the warm days of the changing season, and readily yields to attacks of disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine needed. It tones and builds up every part of the body, and also expels all impurities from the blood. Try it this season.

The New York court of appeals has affirmed the sentence of O'Neil, the convicted "boodle" alderman.

Thomas P. Walsh, warden of the Tombs prison in New York city, has resigned in consequence of charges of misconduct having been brought against him.

I have not used one bottle yet. I suffered from catarrh for twelve years, experiencing the nauseating dropping in the throat peculiar to that disease, and nose bleed almost daily. I tried various remedies without benefit until last April, when I saw Ely's Cream Balm advertised in the Boston Budget. I procured a bottle, and since the first days have had no more bleeding—the soreness is entirely gone.—D. G. Davidson, with the Boston Budget, formerly with Boston Journal.

A Long Day.

The legislative day which commenced in the national house of representatives on Wednesday, the 4th inst., lasted until Thursday afternoon, the 12th, about forty democrats, nearly all from states which took part in the rebellion, having wasted more than a week in fillibustering against a vote being taken on the bill to refund to the loyal states the direct tax paid by them at the beginning of the war, unless the refunding of the cotton tax should be also included in the bill. Speaker Carlisle could at any time have broken the deadlock had he seen fit, but he did not. A democratic caucus was held on the night of the 11th, at which it was agreed to force an adjournment of the long legislative day on the 12th, the fillibusters agreeing that a vote on the direct tax bill shall be taken on the 18th of December without further obstruction from them, this postponing the matter until after the presidential election. The democratic majority in the house will not find it easy to repair the damage caused by the reckless waste of a week's time at the dictation of a few confederate brigadiers.

A Plain-Spoken Mayor.

Mayor Hewitt of New York sent a communication to the board of aldermen on the 10th inst., containing his veto of the resolution recently passed by the board taking the power to order the display of flags on the city hall from the mayor, and vesting it in the aldermen. The mayor said the resolution was designed to permit the placing of the Irish flag over the city hall on every St. Patrick's day for the benefit of the "Irish aldermen." He went on to say there are seven Irish aldermen in the present board—an unequal proportion to the population—and that 28 10-100 per cent of the members of the police force are of Irish birth. When the clerk was reading the message Alderman Divver moved that the further reading be suspended. "It's all buncombe," he said, "and we've had enough of it." Alderman Divver's motion was carried by a loud shout of "aye," and the document was filed. Alderman Divver's name is unpleasantly suggestive of the "divvy" of the public funds so common with the New York aldermen.

Strike of Brewery Workmen.

All the Union maltsters and brewers in Chicago went on a strike at four o'clock P. M. on the 12th, in consequence of the brewery proprietors giving notice that they should refuse any further recognition of brewers' and malsters' unions. All the breweries in the city, employing about 2000 men, are idle, except one which some time ago secured a force of non-union hands.

W. C. Seipp, a leading brewer of Chicago, explains the situation in these words: "The Central Labor Union has dictated to us what we shall do, what men we should hire, where we should buy our malt, beer kegs and hops, and in Milwaukee they refused to work for brewers who purchased malt made by non-union men. In a word, they have virtually been running our breweries, and this we are resolved shall not go any further. We shall do just as we please from this on." The brewing companies claim that they are in an excellent condition at present to stand a strike.

"The Mystery of the Well."

BOSTON, April 11.—"The Mystery of the Well," the story which made such a sensation in Paris, and of which 1,500,000 copies were sold, will be begun in the Boston Daily Globe next Saturday. Order it of your newsdealers to-day.

Asa Bullard Memorial Fund.

The Congregational Superintendents' Union of Boston have started a memorial to Rev. Asa Bullard, the pioneer Sunday school worker, who recently passed away. They propose to raise $100,000 as a permanent fund for the carrying on of Sunday school missionary work in this country. The interest of this fund is to be expended each year in pushing this work under the direction of the Congregational S. S. & Publishing Company, and "Father" Bullard's friends everywhere are invited to contribute to the fund. The committee will shortly issue a circular giving the details of their plans, which will be sent to anyone who will address the secretary, F. P. Shumway, Jr., Melrose, Mass.

The democratic senators are endeavoring to postpone action on the fishery treaty until after the presidential election, but the republicans propose to force it to a vote.

George Semler, a reformer who was appointed postmaster at City Island, N. Y., in May, 1885, has absconded with money belonging to the government. Turn the rascals out.

The Cleveland reform administration seems oblivious of the fact that some of its most trusted supporters are employing the country postmasters in many states as political agents of the democratic party.

The dominion government has decided to continue the Atlantic mail service as at present for another year, the service to be performed by the Allan and Dominion lines for the present subsidies.

Don't Wait

Until your hair becomes dry, thin, and gray before giving the attention needed to preserve its beauty and vitality. Keep on your toilet-table a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor—the only dressing you require for the hair—and use a little, daily, to preserve the natural color and prevent baldness.

Thomas Munday, Sharon Grove, Ky., writes: "Several months ago my hair commenced falling out, and in a few weeks my head was almost bald. I tried many remedies, but they did no good. I finally bought a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor, and, after using only a part of the contents, my head was covered with a heavy growth of hair. I recommend your preparation as the best hair-restorer in the world."

"My hair was faded and dry," writes Mabel C. Hardy, of Delavan, Ill.; "but after using a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor it became black and glossy."

Sixteen fishermen from Liverpool, Nova Scotia, brought to Boston in the schooner On Time to man the fishing schooners Minette and Iolanthe, of Beverly, Mass., have been prevented from landing by Collector Saltonstall under the act prohibiting the importation of contract labor. Criminals and worthless bummers find little difficulty in getting into the country, but the men who come here to work, and have secured jobs before they arrive, must not land. Nice, sensible law that.

A number of old-line democrats in Eliot voted the republican ticket at the late town election. Immediately after the election they were "called" on the navy yard, and set to work cleaning out the bilge of the dry dock—about as cheerless, dirty, uncomfortable a job as could be imagined—and after 2 1-2 days at that work were discharged. Just how much they were mollified by such a taste of government patronage is not announced.

Hon. Henry B. Lovering, the new United States marshal for the district of Massachusetts, is a native of this city. He served bravely during the war, and lost a leg at the battle of Winchester; he has also served a number of terms in Congress from Massachusetts. The republicans have no objection to him personally, and no fault to find with his appointment as United States marshal; but the mugwumps have, and his appointment once more emphasizes the absolute falsity of Cleveland's civil-service-reform pretensions. Mr. Lovering was the candidate of the "spoils" faction—which includes pretty much all—of the democratic party for governor of Massachusetts at the late election; the faction ruled the convention, nominated Lovering on an ultra "spoils" platform,—and he was snowed under on election day. His appointment as marshal shows once more that Cleveland has abandoned the principles he pretended to hold, in order to get votes for a renomination; and all the sophistries of the free-trade mugwumps who think the first duty of an American legislator is to cater to the demands of the British manufacturer, cannot argue this out of court.

In Eliot, under the twenty years or so of democratic rule, widows have always been taxed. Since the republicans came into power recently, all widows' taxes have been remitted. One man's place, sold several years since by the democratic officials for arrears of taxes, has been restored to his widow, he having died since the place was sold.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Combines, in a proportion peculiar to itself, the active medicinal properties of the best blood-purifying and strengthening remedies of the vegetable kingdom. It will positively cure—when in the power of medicine—Spring Debility, Headache, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Salt Rheum, Scrofula, and all Diseases caused by a low state of the blood.

"I suffered three years with blood poison. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla, and think I am cured." MRS. M. J. DAVIS, Brockport, N. Y.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla beats all others, and is worth its weight in gold." I. BARRINGTON, 130 Bank Street, New York City.

Is so vastly superior to any other sarsaparilla or blood purifier, that one has well said: "Its health-giving effects upon the blood and entire human organism, are as much more positive than the remedies of a quarter or a century ago, as the steam-power of to-day is in advance of the slow and laborious drudgery of years ago."

"While suffering from a severe bilious attack in March, 1883, a friend in Peoria, Ill., recommended Hood's Sarsaparilla. I tried the remedy, and was permanently cured." J. A. SHEPARD, travelling agent for Devoe & Co., Fulton Street, N. Y.

Purifies the Blood

"I tried a dozen articles to cleanse my blood, but never found anything that did me any good till I began using Hood's Sarsaparilla." W. H. PEER, Rochester, N. Y.

"My wife was troubled with dizziness and constipation, and her blood has been in a bad order—in fact she has been all run down. Hood's Sarsaparilla is doing her a wonderful amount of good." F. M. BALDWIN, druggist, Blanchester, Ohio.

"I was for five years a sufferer with boils, all run down, and was at one time obliged to give up work. Before taking all of two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, was entirely cured." R. M. LANE, Pittsburgh, Pa.

"I was severely afflicted with scrofula, and for over a year had two running sores on my neck. Took five bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and consider myself entirely cured." C. E. LOVEJOY, Lowell, Mass.

The Thermometer at the CHRONICLE Office, at 4:00 o'clock this morning, indicated 32 degrees above zero.

Clear

"Le Voyage en Suisse."

The notable comedy event of the season will be the appearance at Music hall this evening of the world-famed Hanlons in their great farcial comedy, the "New Voyage en Suisse." Its place has long since been established, and it stands among the foremost comedy and scenic creations of the world. "Voyage en Suisse" is a comedy on wheels, and includes a number of brilliant transformation scenes and wonderful mechanical effects. There is not a dull or tedious moment from the time the Hanlans first make their appearance, which is a signal for the fun to begin, until the curtain drops on the last act.

Entertainment.

The entertainment and supper given by the Ladies' Benevolent Society of the Court street Christian church in Grand Army hall, Fast night, was largely attended, and highly enjoyed by all. Those who did not attend missed a really good entertainment, much better than the average ones of similar kind. Supper was served from five to half-past seven, after which ice cream was offered for sale. After the wants of the party had been supplied from a bountifully furnished table, and the dishes cleared away, the following programme was rendered:

Opening remarks by John H. Locke; address by Rev. John A. Hainer; dialogue entitled "Cat and Dog," by Bertha Hatch and Flossie B. Coleman; song, "Take me Back," Miss Stella Winn; recitation by Flossie Hatch, (this little miss was very fine, and was obliged to give another piece;) a duet, "Music on the Waves," by Misses Florence M. Coleman and Mary A. Locke, was finely rendered, and they were much applauded, but not being prepared for an encore were unable to give another selection, to the disappointment of the audience; recitation by Pearl Seavey, "Entertaining her big sister's beau;" song by Mr. Hainer, (this selection was very much applauded, and he was obliged to give two other songs, both of which were heartily enjoyed.) The recitations by Miss Edith L. Horrocks, entitled "Papa's Letter" and "Two Seeds by the Wayside," were excellent and brought forth applause from every person in the hall. This young lady, who has been a pupil of Mrs. Sarah Neal Harris, and who has several times before appeared in public, is steadily improving, and we predict for her a marked success in the future. The dialogue entitled "Practice what you Preach," in two scenes, by Miss Florence M. Coleman, Miss Georgie Dennett, Miss Ida T. Lear, and Miss Fannie H. Amazeen, was fine, and they were obliged to repeat the second scene. The last number on the programme was a song and chorus, by Mr. Hainer, Miss Bertha Boynton, Miss Florence M. Coleman, Miss Mary Locke, Miss Mattie Fernald, Miss Bertha Fletcher and Mr. John H. Locke. The society will hold another entertainment in about a month. With such a pastor as Mr. Hainer the church should soon have the required amount to raise the church. He is what they need, young and energetic, and joins heartily in the work as well as in the enjoyment. They will realize quite a sum from the proceeds of the entertainment.

A Change of Skippers.

Capt. Daniel W. Marden, for twenty years past master of the navy yard ferry steamer Emerald, finishes his duty in that capacity with his last trip this evening. Mr. James Sylvester having been appointed to the position, and taking charge of the boat on her first trip Sunday morning. Mr. Sylvester is quite well known here as a submarine diver, having been employed in that business on the excavation of rock in this harbor.

Capt. Sylvester may prove to be as capable and safe a skipper as Capt. Marden; he cannot possibly be a better. In the twenty years Capt. Marden has had charge of the Emerald he has never missed a trip, for fog or storm, unless the omission of the trip was peremptorily ordered by a superior officer; and once started on a trip he has never failed to complete it, and without accident. He has averaged twenty trips a day, which at fifteen passengers per trip (a low average) gives a total of 2,190,000 passengers transported under his charge, not a life having ever been lost from the boat or a passenger sufficiently injured to be worthy of mention. The distance between the two landings is seven-eighths of a mile in a straight line, and calculating on that basis Capt. Marden has run the boat 120,000 miles; but as the average route, to take advantage of the tide, etc., would measure considerably over a mile in length, it is not extravagant to say that he has run the little steamer 150,000 miles, or a distance equivalent to six times around the earth.

Police Court—Batchelder J.

THURSDAY, April 12th.

W. H. Randall, drunk, fine $5, costs $6.90; paid.

Mattie King and Michael Monday, drunk, $9.90 each, fine and costs. The city is well rid of this precious pair for a time, while they work out their fines at Brentwood.

Supreme Court, April Term.

Among the indictments returned by the grand jury were two against Benjamin W. Richards of this city, for prolygamy, and for breaking and entering a building and stealing therefrom in the daytime; one against Edward Janvrin of this city, for larceny; and one against Arvilla Palmer of this city, for entering a building in the night, and stealing therefrom.

Good Templars' Fair.

The fair for which Rockingham Lodge of Good Templars had been making preparations for several weeks, and which commenced in their hall on Pleasant street Tuesday afternoon of this week, closed at a late hour Wednesday evening, leaving a handsome sum in the hands of the committee as the result; nearly the whole number of tickets were sold, and the entire lot of fancy articles disposed of. The prizes were drawn as follows:

The parlor set by ticket No. 237, holder's name not known at the close of the drawing; prize at store of B. F. & C. E. Russell, corner Washington and State streets. The fan quilt was drawn by B. F. Russell; quilt No. 2 by Mr. Jacob Burns; Turkish rug by Mrs. F. E. H. Marden; oil painting by Miss Maggie Leary; toilet set by Mrs. Celia Dow; umbrella by Mrs. S. A. Pickering; tidy by Master Willie Peverly; barrel of apples by J. W. Robinson; gold ring by Miss Sarah Mason; guess cake by Mrs. James Sanborn; infant's picture by Miss Nellie Dow.

The grateful thanks of the lodge are hereby tendered to the public for the success of the affair.

Personal.

Mr. Oliver P. Haines of Dover passed Fast day with friends in this city.

Mrs. Langdon Perkins of Kittery Point, who passed the winter with one of her sons in Xenia, Ohio, arrived in this city on Friday, and is stopping with her son Frank on State street.

Hon. George M. Robeson, ex-secretary of the navy, who for a number of years past has spent his summers at Little Boar's Head, is in such financial straits that chattel mortgages have been placed on his household goods. Many persons in this vicinity will regret to learn of the misfortune of the jovial and generous ex-secretary

Newell C. Trickey, ticket agent at the Boston & Maine railroad station in this city for the past four years, has resigned, to go into business in Boston. T. C. Crowley of Lynn, Mass., has been appointed to succeed Mr. Trickey.

Maritime Notes.

Ship Granite State, of this port, Ross master, sailed from New York for Hong Kong on the 12th inst.

All the brick schooners, and the coaster John Lenthall, which wintered inside the Noble's island bridge, have left the basin and commenced the summer's work; the John Lenthall, the last to make a start, hauled out through the draw on Thursday.

Telegrams received at Provincetown, Mass., on the 12th inst., announced the safe arrival at Pernambuco of Capt. Lavender and the crew of the schooner Alice Montgomery, before reported as having been seen abandoned at sea on March 16th, on the voyage from Norfolk to Providence. The Alice Montgomery was a three-masted schooner of 732 tons register, built at Bath, Me., in 1882, hailed from Boston, and was partly owned in this city.

The brick schooner D. K. Ham was on Thursday lying at the draw-pier of the Portsmouth bridge, with her flag flying at half mast.

The schooner Katie Mitchell having came off the marine railway at Kittery, the schooner Ella Frances, belonging to Mr. Charles S. Drowne, went on the ways last Thursday. The Ella Frances is to be put into the brick carrying trade.

The U. S. S. Constellation was floated out of the dry dock at the navy yard last Thursday morning.

The schooner Henry H. Olds, with 1400 tons of coal, struck on Point Judith on the night of the 11th, and sank in ten fathoms of water near Whale-rock light.

The schooner Plymouth Rock was totally wrecked on Peaked Hill bar on the 11th; crew saved.

Base Ball.

A considerable number of spectators were at the Plains on the afternoon of Fast day to witness a game of base ball between the Electric club and a nine from the Portsmouth Machine shop; the Electrics won, fourteen to thirteen, in six innings.

Some concern was aroused in the city on Friday morning by a report that the Appledore house had been destroyed by fire the previous night. Capt. Downs, of the schooner Agnes E. Downs, who came in from the islands during the forenoon, reported the building burned to be a small workshop ten or fifteen feet square, situated at the rear of the hotel, and so far away as not to endanger it; loss trifling.

The Athletic club ball on the evening of Fast day was largely attended, the galleries being filled with spectators, and eighty-eight couples taking part in the grand march

Our line of Kid Gloves for Easter is second to none for quality and low prices; embroidered and plain backs from 50 cts. to $1.50. Lewis E. Staples, 7 Market street.

At the monthly meeting of the New Hampshire club, in the Revere house at Boston on the 11th inst., it was voted to hold the next meeting at the Rockingham house, in this city.

"The Ivy Leaf" was presented in Music hall on Thursday evening to an audience of good numbers, who testified their approval by generous applause. The play was the best Irish drama ever given here, the acting was excellent and the scenery very fine.

At John W. Young's nicely arragned leather store in the rear of the city building can be found the largest and best stock of leather, and shoemakers' and cobblers' supplies of all kinds, in this section of the state. Mr. Young is a practical workman, knows what to buy and how to select what he wants, pays cash and consequently gets the best terms, carries a very large stock, and can and does give the country trade better bargains than they can get in Boston. Any one doubting this is invited to call and inspect his stock, and learn his prices. Boot and shoe repairing done in a workmanlike manner, and all work warranted; we can personally speak of its excellence.

The annual order of the Bon Marche of Paris, which comes through Mr. S. R. Niles, shows that the enterprising house keeps its enormous trade and continues its growth by the liberal use of printers' ink. The example ought not to be lost on the merchants of this vicinity. In London and Paris and all the older civilizations a mechant considers his advertising bill more necessary than his rent, and governs himself accordingly.—Boston Sunday Globe.

Cream of Tartar.

Horsford's

BREAD PREPARATION.

A TRUE COMPARISON OF THE NATURE AND RESULTS OF THEIR USE.

Cream of tartar is a bi-tartrate of potash. It is not a constituent of the grains, is not a nutritive principle, and often disagrees with the system.	Horsford's preparation is a simple phosphate, contains nothing but what is found in beef, corn, and wheat, and is highly nutritious.
Cream of tartar makes bread and biscuits which are dry and tasteless when cold.	Horsford's preparation produces bread and biscuits that are sweet and moistwhen cold.
Cream of tartar requires considerable shortening.	Horsford's preparation does not.
Cream of tartar supplies nothing which the system requires.	Horsford's preparation supplies to the system what it constantly demands, the phosphates.
Cream of tartar retards digestion.	Horsford's preparation assists digestion, and makes biscuits that dyspeptics, even, can eat hot.
Cream of tartar is condemned by many physicians.	Horsford's preparation is commended by the highest medical authorities.
Cream of tartar varies in strength, and is often adulterated.	Horsford's Bread Preparation is of uniform strength and quality, and always pure.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS.

$22 TO $900.

The exclusive merit of the Mason & Hamlin Organs have always maintained their supremacy as the best in the world.

Mason & Hamlin offer, as demonstration of the unequalled excellence of their organs, the fact that at all the great World's Exhibitions, since that of Paris, 1867, in competition with best makers of all countries, they have invariably taken the highest honors. Illustrated catalogues free.

PIANOS

Mason & Hamlin do not hesitate to make the extraordinary claim for their pianos, that they are superior to all GRAND & UPRIGHT pianos. They recognize the high excellence achieved by other leading makers in the art of piano building, but will claim superiority. This they attribute solely to the remarkable improvement introduced by them in the year 1882, and now known as the "MASON & HAMLIN PIANO STRINGER," by the use of which is secured the greatest possible purity and refinement of tone, together with greatly increased capacity for standing in tune, and other important advantages.

A circular, containing testimonials from three hundred purchasers, musicians and tuners, sent, together with descriptive catalogue, to any applicant.

Pianos and Organs sold for cash or easy payments; also rented. tmy9

THE JOB PRINTING

Business is conducted in the same office by RICHARD I. WALDEN, who keeps on hand a large and well-selected stock of all materials required in his line. Give him a trial and you will be more than pleased.

The Whole Vital Machinery

Depends for the fuel, which is the origin of its prospulsory force, upon the stomach. In that hidden alembic the food undergoes the chemical changes with transmute it into blood, from which the system draws the material that reimburses it for its daily losses of tissue. These, of course, are greatly augmented in disease. If the stomach, therefore, is weakened or disordered, the system is deprived of sustenance. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters can be relied upon to facilitate and renew digestion when that function has been interrupted by weakness of the stomach. Biliousness, or a diversion of the bile from its proper channel, which causes constipation, is also remedied by it. Heartburn, wind of the stomach, sick headache, fur upon the tongue, and other symptoms of stomach and liver disorder, it speedily removes. Malarial complaints of every sort, kidney and bladder troubles, constipation, rheumatism and neuralgia yield when it is used regularly and persistently.

Hadley Otis of Stratham, charged with murderous assault on his father-in-law, George P. Hoag, has been held in $500 for the grand jury, waving an examination.

Constipation is positively cured by Carter's Little Liver Pills. Not by purging and weakening the bowels, but by regulating and strengthening them. This is done by improving the digestion and stimulating the liver to the proper secretion of bile, when the bowels will perform their ordinary functions in an easy and natural manner. Purgative pills must be avoided. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Price 25 cents.

At Macon, Miss., April 13th, Thomas Norris, editor of the Democrat, was fatally beaten with an iron bar by Alexander Hudson of the Times, the assault being a cowardly one, from behind. Both are democrats.

Success results from merit. Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer is placed before the public solely on its merits. Its success is indisputable.

The 2000 Tammany braves are to go St. Louis to cheer for "Cleveland and reform."

Hardly wise to suffer pain when a Hop Plaster acts instantly and pleases the wearer.

The negro question is causing trouble in the Episcopal church in South Carolina. The idea that niggers are going to the same heaven and by the same gate as white men is absurd.

Caution! — In our changeable climate, coughs, colds, and diseases of the throat, lungs and chest will always prevail. Cruel consumption will claim its victims. These diseases, if attended to in time, can be arrested and cured. The remedy is Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

This may be a "business Congress," as it was said it would be at the opening of the session, but the long delay to take action on some measures of revenue reduction, the backwardness of the appropriation bills, and the dead-lock on the direct tax refunding bill, do not indicate it. Its action belies these promises. Likely as not what was really intended to be promised was that this would be a Congress for giving a thorough course of instruction in the business of "filibustering." — Biddeford Standard, democratic.

The body is more susceptible to benefit from Hood's Sarsaparilla now than at any other season. Therefore take it now.

In Emeryville, Cal., April 13th, Louis Hanson shot his divorced wife and J. C. Gardner, her new husband, and then killed himself.

Their gentle action and good effect on the system really makes them a perfect little pill. They please those who use them. Carter's Little Liver Pills may well be termed "Perfection."

A Sensible Man

Would use Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs. It is curing more cases of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup and all Throat and Lung troubles than any other medicine. The proprietor has authorized any druggist to give you a sample bottle free to convince you of the merit of this great remedy. Large bottles 50c. and $1.

"IT WAS INHERITED."

The Fearful Effect of Heredity Upon the Lives of Men and Women—A Striking Case.

"The man or woman does not live who is free from hereditary influences." This remark was made by the celebrated Dr. Vanderville, of New York, to the Rev. Dr. Brooks, at a recent convention of scientists. "I agree with you, doctor," said the divine.

"Pure blood," continued the doctor, "is the great cause of health; impaired blood the source of most diseases. It may even go back to the grand or great grand parents."

"I have in mind a prominent man," said the reverend gentleman, "General Alfred C. Monroe, of No. 1 Pemberton Square, Boston. He inherited kidney troubles from both parents, one of whom died with it. He suffered terribly from pains in the back and head, and at times when walking the dizziness became so bad that he was compelled to lay hold of some convenient post for support. He was in a most desperate condition."

"And is he so still?" asked the doctor.

"No, he is in perfect health. Dr. McGregor, I believe of Maine, who had amputated an arm for the general, cured him."

"Do you know what medicine he used?"

"I understand it was Hunt's Remedy."

"Oh, Hunt's Remedy. I know it very well," said Dr. Vanderville. "I consider it the best remedy for kidney, liver, heart troubles, and female difficulties in the world. It is in no sense a patent medicine, but a standard remedy, which deserves to be used by all intelligent people. The fact is, no blood-taint can exist when the kidneys are in perfect order, and there is where Hunt's Remedy shows its marvelous superiority."

"I only wish," said Rev. Dr. Brooks, "that all people who inherit a tendency to disease could know of this remedy of which you speak so highly and use it. I am positive it would greatly lessen suffering and death."

ADAMSON'S

BOTANIC COUGH BALSAM

More than twenty years ago Adamson's Botanic Balsam was introduced generally throughout New England as a remedy for Coughs, Colds and Pulmonary complaints. Since its introduction it has constantly won its way into public favor, until now it is the universal decision that ADAMSON'S BOTANIC BALSAM is the best remedy for curing Coughs, Colds and Asthma.

A GRIEVANCE.

Senator Spooner Has Heard from the Man Who Voted and Worked for Him.

About the best thing in the way of a take-off is a letter of a constituent to Senator Spooner. The name of the writer is not given, but it could have been written by no other than George W. Peck, of Peck's Milwaukee Sun. It is mighty good and humorous, and reads as follows:

My Dear John. You and I have always been friends ever since we first became acquainted. I have tried to be a good friend to you. You remember when you were first mentioned for Senator, some paper published up North said you were an "alumnus" of the State University, and that I defended you against the charge of being an "alumnus" to the best of my ability. I said I had known you for years and had never known you to do anything that could cause any one to call you such names, and I offered to whip the man who called you an "alumnus." I mention this to call your attention to the fact that I have always stood by you. I have not, I am sure, merited any such treatment as I am receiving at your hands. I allude to the habit you have of sending me public documents. I suppose, really, your private secretary is to blame, but I want you to do me the favor to kill him. You remember that you once told me that I could draw on you at any time for any favor. Now, I ask you to kill this man. The first year that you were Senator I read everything you sent me. The first thing that came was a census report, and I read that through from Genesis to Revelations, sitting up nights when I ought to have been in bed. I thought I was showing my loyalty to you, and I got so I could repeat page after page of those figures with one hand tied behind me. Before I had got to where the hero marries the girl in the census report, you sent me the report of the Public Printer, and I put in my evenings for weeks on that, and then the Patent Office reports began to come, and the reports of the Agricultural Bureau, with occasional department reports. I was on my last lap and read all of those reports, except about a cord and a half, when I began to receive small documents from you in envelopes, and I thought what a nice time I would have reading them; but to-day I opened some of them, and I hope to die if they are not speeches on the tariff. I do not wish to complain, but honestly, John, don't you think that is spreading it on rather thick? No man tries harder than I do, and no man sticks by a friend longer than I do, and it does seem to me there ought to be some way in which I can show my loyalty to you without reading those tariff speeches. Once I was young and full of vinegar, and could read old back number speeches of statesmen and enjoy them, but late years, since my hair has departed and rheumatism and neuralgia taken its place, I have to read something light, or I don't sleep. Send me some more statistics, with plenty of figures in, for I can glance over a page of them and sort of jump accounts and average it up, but these speeches are going to break me down.

The last speech you sent me was Senator Sherman's toboggan slide on the tariff. If Sherman got you to send it to me I wish you would see him and explain to him that while I would do anything in reason for you, he must excuse me from reading it. I don't want to hurt his feelings or yours, and I don't want to break the friendship that has existed so long between you and me, but, by the Eternal John, I won't read that tariff speech. You may think I have grown cold and haughty, but how would you feel if you had to read those speeches just to oblige a friend? If there is anything I can do for you that is reasonable, call on me. Only the other day I was talking about you to a Republican, and he said he guessed he would have to go back on you the next time you were up for Senator, because you hadn't sent him any documents. I gave him a lot of those you sent to me, and told him you sent them to him in my care, and he is all solid for you now, though I had to lie. I will lie for you, John, or do anything that does not cause wear and tear of brain, but you must let me off on the tariff speeches.

P. S.—Say, John, there is a party of us coming down to Washington pretty soon lobbying for the Postoffice appropriation. I have told them we could go right to your house. Is that all right? You could make us up a lot of beds on the floor in the parlor. I have told them I knew you so well that it would be all right to go right to the house any time of night. Leave the key under the door-mat and chain up the dog. By the way, it isn't just the thing to suggest, but you ought to have a few cases of bottled beer where we sleep, not for publication, but as an evidence of good faith. And don't fail to have Milwaukee beer, as we are a little sensitive. Well, good bye. Don't forget to see Sherman.—Washington Special.

Mrs. Bleecker (at the unmasking)—Why, Tom! I'd no idea it was you. And I did enjoy that last waltz so! Mr. Bleecker—I'm sure I didn't know it was you, Lucilia. You'll pardon me for making it so pleasant for you, won't you?—Judge.

INGALLS' MANDRAKE COMPOUND

Among the various organs of our system, none perform a more essential part than the Liver and Kidneys, and so many people are afflicted with diseases of these organs, causing the Blood to become impure, that it is our first duty to assist them in their work. This is done in a thorough manner by Ingalls' Mandrake Compound, which is purely Vegetable, and is worthy of a fair trial.

Ingalls' Mandrake Compound is sold by all Druggists.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS $22 TO $900. The eminent organ was introduced in its present form by Mason & Hamlin in 1861, other makers followed in the manufacture in these instruments, but the Mason & Hamlin Organs have always maintained their supremacy as the best in the world.

Mason & Hamlin offer, as demonstration of the unequalled excellence of their organs, the fact that at all the great World's Exhibitions, since that of Paris, 1867, in competition with best makers of all countries, they have invariably taken the highest honors. Illustrated catalogues free.

PIANOS. Mason & Hamlin do not hesitate to make the extraordinary claim that they are superior to all GRAND & UPRIGHT pianos made by others. They recognize the high excellence achieved by other leading makers in the art of piano building, but still claim superiority. This they attribute solely to the remarkable improvement introduced by them in the year 1882, and now known as the "MASON & HAMLIN PIANO STRINGER," by the use of which is secured the greatest possible purity and refinement of tone, together with greatly increased capacity for sounding, in tune, and other important advantages.

A circular, containing testimonials from three hundred purchasers, musicians and others, sent, together with descriptive catalogue, to any applicant.

There are two forms of chronic rheumatism: one in which the joints are all swollen and red without fever, and the appetite and digestion good; in the other the joints are neither red nor swollen, but only stiff and paiofui. In either form Salvation Oil may be relied on to effect a cure. It kills pain. Price 25 cents a bottle.

That Tired Feeling

Afflicts nearly every one in the spring. The system having become accustomed to the bracing air of winter, is weakened by the warm days of the changing season, and readily yields to attacks of disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine needed. It tones and builds up every part of the body, and also expels all impurities from the blood. Try it this season.

A Concord lady who recently sent fifty cents for a box of ribbons, "warranted all silk," in answer to a Maine firm's glowing advertisement, received a lot of worthless cotton ribbons, and a printed card which "added insult to injury" by the inscription: "Some folks expect the earth for ten cents."

I have not used one bottle yet. I suffered from catarrh for twelve years, experiencing the nauseating dropping in the throat peculiar to that disease, and nose bleed almost daily. I tried various remedies without benefit until last April, when I saw Ely's Cream Balm advertised in the Boston Budget. I procured a bottle, and since the first days have had no more bleeding—the soreness is entirely gone.—D. G. Davidson, with the Boston Budget, formerly with Boston Journal.

Maritime Notes.

The mainmast of the U. S. S. Constellation was stepped on Saturday.

Coal freights were dull and low at the close of last week; from Norfolk to Boston or Portland, $1 per ton, to Biddeford $1.30 per ton and towed; Philadelphia to Boston ninety-five cents, to Lynn $1.15; Newport News to Newburyport $1.25 per ton (national association bill of lading.)

The Nonpareil Boat club were out on the river yesterday in the new boat built for them by Wm. W. Dixon of Kittery. She moved along nicely.

The schooner Sadie A. Kimball, Burns master, arrived in the lower harbor one day last week with a load of bricks from Boothbay, Me., for Boston, after discharging which she will come to this port and go into the brick carrying trade between the Piscataqua and Boston.

We have received from the treasury department the report of the lighthouse board for the fiscal year ended June 30th, 1887. From the report of operations and improvements in the first district, which extends from the head of navigation in the St. Croix river, Me., the eastern boundary of the United States, to and including Hampton harbor, New Hampshare, we learn that at Boon island during the year a fuel house, eleven by fifteen feet on the ground—or rock, rather, for there isn't enough "ground" on the island to build a chicken coop on—was constructed, the stone dwelling and parapet of the tower repointed, and minor repairs made. At White island, Isles of Shoals, the old boat house was replaced by a new one thirty-five feet long and eighteen feet wide, and some minor repairs were made to the dwelling. The report also gives the number of hours of working of those fog-signals in the district which are operated by steam or hot-air engines, during the year, from which it appears that the third-class Daboll trumpets (in duplicate) at Whale's-back were in operation 999 hours—a less time than at any other station except Cape Elizabeth, Me., where the signal was sounded for 985 hours; at Portland Head the Daboll trumpets were sounded for 1296 hours. Petit Manan carries off the palm for foggy and thick weather, the ten-inch steam whistles there having been in operation 2131 hours.

Messrs. Lee & Shepard of Boston have published a new edition of the works of the late David Ross Locke, better known as "Petroleum V. Nasby." Among them are the following:

The Struggles (Social, Financial, and Political) of Petroleum V. Nasby, some time pastor of the "Church uv the Slawtered Innocents," (Lait St. Vallandigum), Winffert's Corners, Ohio, and of the "Church uv the Noo Dispensashun," Saint's Rest, New Jersey; "Perfesser uv Bibilkle Polity in the Southern Military and Classikal Institute," and late Postmaster at Confederit X Roads, which is in the State uv Kentucky.

This book is published in the peculiar dialect and spelling which characterized Nasby's writings, when they first appeared in regular letters, which were copied extensively in most of the newspapers throughout the country. Hon. Charles Sumner in his introduction to this book says: "Of publications during the war, none had such charm for Abraham Lincoln. He read every letter as it appeared, and kept them all within reach for refreshment. This strong liking illustrates his character, and will always awaken an interest in the letters." This volume contains 725 pages. Illustrated by Thomas Nast; bound in cloth, $2 40.

To Save Life

Frequently requires prompt action. An hour's delay waiting for the doctor may be attended with serious consequences, especially in cases of Croup, Pneumonia, and other throat and lung troubles. Hence, no family should be without a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which has proved itself, in thousands of cases, the best Emergency Medicine ever discovered. It gives prompt relief and prepares the way for a thorough cure, which is certain to be effected by its continued use.

S. H. Latimer, M. D., Mt. Vernon, Ga., says: "I have found Ayer's Cherry Pectoral a perfect cure for Croup in all cases. I have known the worst cases relieved in a very short time by its use; and I advise all families to use it in sudden emergencies, for coughs, croup, &c."

A. J. Eidson, M. D., Middletown, Tenn., says: "I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral with the best effect in my practice. This wonderful preparation once saved my life. I had a constant cough, night sweats, was greatly reduced in flesh, and given up by my physician. One bottle and a half of the Pectoral cured me."

"I cannot say enough in praise of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral," writes E. Bragdon, of Palestine, Texas, "believing as I do that, but for its use, I should long since have died."

In "Harper's Magazine" for May the departments are fully up to the usual standard. George William Curtis, in the Easy Chair, asks churchmen (especially churchwomen) what the results of Lent are to be this year; and he has also something effective to say about the expense of the musical performances heard in New York last winter. Mr. W. D. Howells, in the Study, reviews the second volume of Lea's "History of the Inquisition" and some other books of realistic tendencies, and then welcomes two new poets from the west. Mr. Charles Dudley Warner's Drawer is bright and lively. He points out, to start with, the dangers of being a human being on account of heredity, and then provides some clever pencil sketches and stories which hit off the weakness of the times.

Spring Medicine

Hood's Sarsaparilla is the most popular and successful Spring Medicine. Nearly every body needs a reliable spring medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla to expel the impurities which have accumulated in the blood during the winter, to keep up strength as the warm weather comes on, create an appetite and promote healthy digestion. Try Hood's Sarsaparilla this spring and you will be convinced that it does possess superior and peculiar merit.

A Good Appetite

"When I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I was dizzy in the morning, had a headache, and no appetite; but now I can hardly get enough cooked to eat." EMMA SHEPARD, 1 Coral Street, Worcester, Mass.

"Last spring my whole family took Hood's Sarsaparilla. The result is that all have been cured of scrofula, my little boy being entirely free from sores, and all four of my children look bright and healthy as possibly can be. I have found Hood's Sarsaparilla good for catarrh." WM. B. ATHERTON, Passaic City, N. J.

Be Sure to Get Hood's

Sarsaparilla, my child. See that they do not give you anything else. You remember it is the medicine which did mama so much good a year ago—so reliable, beneficial, pleasant to take—my favorite spring medicine.

Base Ball Meeting.

A meeting of delegates from base ball clubs met at the American house in Dover last Friday evening to organize an interstate league. Manager F. J. Leonard of the Portsmouth club called the meeting to order; Dr. M. B. Sullivan of Dover was chosen temporary chairman, and Daniel N. Pickering of this city secretary. A committee was appointed to name officers for the New England Inter-State League for the season of 1888, and announced the following, who were elected:

President, M. B. Sullivan of Dover; 1st vice president, C. O'Connell of Nashua; 2d vice president, F. B. Sayward of Rochester; secretary and treasurer, Daniel N. Pickering of Portsmouth; directors, F. F. Church, Portsmouth, E. Shepardson, Dover, E. B. Fuller, Haverhill, J. A. Leach, Nashua, S. Wolfe, Rochester.

Voted to adopt the Reach ball for the season's playing; also the National League playing rules; also to hold a schedule meeting in Haverhill on Monday evening, April 23d, at the Commonwealth hotel, at which time the matter of choosing umpires and other matters of importance will be fully discussed and death with.

The secretary was then instructed to secure for the league the protection of the national agreement; he was also authorized to draw on the various clubs for a fixed amount to defray the expenses of securing the national protection, and for incidental expenses.

Soldiers' Monument.

At a meeting of the committee of arrangements for the dedicatory exercises of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Monument, it was voted to enlarge the committee, and a list of names of citizens were presented and chosen members of the committee, and the following sub-committees formed:

On reception—Hon. Geo. E. Hodgdon, Hon. Marcellus Eldredge, Dr. John W. Parsons, Capt. J. H. Hutchinson, C. M. Gignoux, Hon. Frank Jones, E. S. Fay, Col. Chas. A. Sinclair, Col. Wm. H. Sise, Henry F. Corporation Election.

The stockholders of the Electric Mine-Indicator company held their annual meeting at the Rockingham house in this city on Friday of last week, and elected August P. Lighthill, W. H. L. Briard and Edgar R. Champlin of Boston, C. D. Hayward and E. B. Lighthill of New York, Moses H. Webber of Winthrop, Mass., and Herman A. Tarlton of this city, directors. The directors chose Moses H. Webber president, Edgar A. Champlin vice president, A. P. Lighthill treasurer and general manager, H. A. Tarlton secretary, and W. H. L. Briard clerk to the directors.

Personal.

Miss Vira M. Coleman is visiting friends at Dover point.

John Sise, Esq., arrived home last week from his trip to the Windward West India islands.

It is reported that Rev. Mr. McLellan, pastor of the Advent church, has tendered his resignation, to take effect early in June.

Mr. Joseph T. Cunningham, for several seasons past head clerk at the Oceanic hotel, Star island, Isles of Shoals, will fill that position the coming season.

The resignation of Rev. A. J. Patterson, D. D., as pastor of the Universalist church in Roxbury, Mass., has been accepted, to take effect June 1st. It has also been voted by the parish to invite him to remain, without church duties, a settlement of $500 per year being provided.

Republicans should not forget the meeting of the club at the headquarters in Akerman's block this evening. Election of club officers, and other business.

Miss Ida C. Clothier of Boston will be at the Baptist chapel on State street this (Monday) evening, for the purpose of forming a "Young Woman's Christian Temperance Union;" a full attendance of young ladies is earnestly desired.

Our line of Kid Gloves for Easter is second to none for quality and low prices; embroidered and plain backs from 50 cts. to $1.50. Lewis E. Staples, 7 Market street.

The Piscataqua Association of Congregational and Presbyterian ministers meets in this city with Rev. W. A. McGinley tomorrow.

Faro dealers in Boston last week swindled a Massachusetts "horse man" out of $2800. Great horse man he must have been. We should like to see those faro dealers try their hand on one of our Portsmouth horse men; they would be lucky to have their table left at the end of the game.

The Hanlon Brothers gave their renowned entertainment, "Le Voyage en Suisse," at Music hall on Saturday evening, to a large audience. The company brought two carloads of scenery and other gear, and the mechanical effects introduced during the performance were "surprising" indeed. The fun of the evening commenced with the rising of the curtain, and the audience went home with lame sides.

The work of straightening and levelling Sagamore road in the vicinity of Sagamore creek, and reducing the grades, is to be commenced this morning under superintendence of Mr. Albion S. Carroll. The amount appropriated for the work is $2500, which will suffice to make a good beginning, but will require to be supplemented with several similar sums before the road will be what it should be.

"Beacon Lights" is to be introduced in Music hall on Thursday evening, April 19th.

A rare chance to get diamonds, jewelry and other valuables at a bargain is offered by the Collateral Loan company's sale of unredeemed pledges in Boston next week.

The house and land No. 3 Sparhawk street have been bought by Mr. Joseph W. Marden.

Frederic Bryton, in "Forgiven," will play a return engagement in Music hall on Friday evening, April 20th.

As the graduating class of the high school numbers about forty members this year, far too many for each to take part in the graduation exercises, the high school committee have adopted the following scheme for assigning parts: The salutatory and valedictory to be given to the two of highest rank; the next twenty-five in rank each to write a part to be submitted to three judges not connected with the school in any way, who will select the best six for delivery on graduation day.

The Seamen's Friend Society acknowledge the receipt of $92 18 from the Unity club of the Unitarian church, being one-fourth the net proceeds of the "Cadets' Picnic" entertainment. The Old Ladies' Home received a similar amount.

In another column of our paper will be found the advertisement of that progressive concern, The Atkinson House Furnishing Co. For the better convenience of their customers they have established branch stores where they keep enormous lines of goods, the very latest productions of the looms and manufactories, and one of the most patent facts to us in their advertisement is that they pay the freight to any depot in New England. To our readers we would say, do you realize what this means? For instance, if you live a hundred miles away from Portland, or any of these stores, the freight on a chamber set would be in the neighborhood of $5.00, and at a lesser distance anywhere from $2.00 to $5.00. By their prices quoted, they not only sell lower than any other dealers but they throw in this item of freight that costs you nothing no matter where you live in New England. From personal knowledge of the way they treat their customers we can recommend The Atkinson House Furnishing Co. to any of our readers.

Complaint is made that the bicycle riders continue to use the sidewalks, to the annoyance of pedestrians and in defiance of the law. A single fine in the police court would stop this reprehensible practice.

Ticket No. 287, which drew the parlor set at the temperance fair on Wednesday evening of last week, was held by Mr. John H. Hodgkins, manager of the Coffee House and Seaman's Home.

The best time on discharging coal this season was at C. E. Walker & Co.'s wharf last week on the schooner City of Augusta, nine hundred and fifteen tons being discharged in a little over forty hours, by a gang with Mr. Jack Sullivan as stageman, and Messrs. Charles Quinn, James O'Donnell, Michael Lynch and Patrick Parks as shovellers.

The Concord railroad has declared a dividend of five per cent, payable May 1st.

An original pension was last week granted to Joseph Eaton of Epping, father of the late Ira F. Eaton.

The voters of district seven, Eliot, last Friday evening elected Charles Staples as school agent.

Mary Smith, widow of James Smith of Newcastle, has been granted a pension.

A Biddeford paper says: "Biddeford and Saco boys have caused considerable annoyance to trainmen and station agents on the Boston & Maine road, by playing on the freight cars, setting and unsetting brakes, jumping on and off the cars when in motion, and stealing rides to Old Orchard and Kennebunk. One fellow who is large enough to be earning his own living, has made a practice of boarding the noon freight on the western division every day, and riding to West Biddeford. The trainmen would make him earn his passage by coupling cars and working in the freight yard when they were shifting cars. But the smaller boys could be put to no use, and their climbing over the cars was not only dangerous but it became a nuisance. The station agents here managed to check the nuisance in a degree, but the boys would steal rides by getting on at the rear end of the trains. Within a short time the practice has fallen off perceptibly, the decrease being caused by a very simple plan adopted by the station agents at the neighboring stations. They keep a good sized wood pile in the outbuildings, and when a boy comes in from Biddeford or Saco on the train he is armed with a saw and kept at work until the arrival of the next train back. The scheme is carried out to perfection."

The May "Wide Awake" gives as its frontispiece the painting by Steffick, well-known in Berlin, of "Queen Louise and her sons," showing the late emperor and his brother as little boys walking with the queen in the Suisenwahl park; the same number also reproduces the last life-photograph of Emperor William.

Having spacious and good accommodations and long and large experience he solicits patronage in his line.

Yes, Barber, what you say is true,
I need a number one shampoo,
And came in, as I always do,
Because I can rely on you
To choose pure IVORY SOAP, in lieu
Of soaps of divers form and hue
From use of which such ills ensue.

Well, sir, we Barbers suffer too,
From humbug articles, and rue
That we have tried before we knew
Poor toilet frauds to which are due
More scalp-diseases than a few.
I know we are the safer who Use IVORY SOAP for a shampoo.

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

GRAND SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

— TO THE —

People of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont.

The Atkinson House Furnishing Co., having completed their purchases for

THIS SPRING'S STOCK,

respectfully request a call from all those interested in the Furnishing and Beautifying their Homes. And we would further request that those near our Bangor Store, located on Union street, opposite the Bangor House, should call on our Manager, MR. A. J. MOREY. And those living on the line of the Knox & Lincoln R. R., in the vicinity of Rockland, we would respectfully request to call at our Store on Main street, formerly the old Linde Hotel, MR. W. A. KIMBALL, manager. And again, to those who are nearest our Auburn Store, located on Main street, MR. J. J. EMERSON the Manager, will attend to your every want in House Furnishings. And to those living at Kennebunk, Kennebunkport and Old Orchard, and towns adjacent to Biddeford, we would respectfully request them to call at our Store at the Corner of Alfred and Bacon streets, MR. HENRY P. ATKINSON, Manager. While to those who prefer to select from our Mammoth Stock, we would say come to our Store and Headquarters at the

Cor. of Middle and Pearl Streets.

In each of these Stores we carry complete lines of furnishings which we will sell for cash, or a quarter cash, and the balance by the week or month. Of course we prefer to make cash sales when we can, but at the same time it has always been our aim and object to satisfy everyone of our customers to the uttermost, whether they wished to buy for cash or otherwise. This is the House Cleaning season of the year. Old Carpets must give place to New, Old Chamber Sets should be replaced by those of later design. Parlor Suits that have been in use for some time are often moved into the sitting room, making room for the new Parlor Suit. That Range that you have been using for many years, perhaps takes more coal to run it to get the desired work from it than a new one would, consequently making you a loss every day. Now we will sell you from the very largest stocks at Lower Prices than you can buy elsewhere, and we will sell them to you for cash or a quarter cash, and the balance by the week or month. Write for samples.

Chamber Sets

We have an enormous quantity in each of our Stores. Ask your neighbors who have seen them, and they will testify to our almost endless variety, and we will Sell you Cheaper than you can buy elsewhere. We mean what we say, for all cash, quarter cash, or balance by the week or month. Write us for cuts, photographs and prices. Orders through the mail promptly attended to.

Parlor Suits

In all the Stores in Endless Variety, and a stock of 356 full Suits at our Headquarters. Prices from $31 to $400, all cash, or quarter cash, and balance by the week or month. Write us for photographs, cuts and prices.

KITCHEN RANGES

In all our Stores you will find the Quaker, New Tariff and First National, besides a host of others, but to those who wish a good range we recommend the Quaker and the New Tariff; also the First National, for a lower priced one. We have them all the way up to $50, and we sell you a range for cash, or for $10 down and the balance by the week or month. Do not delay ordering. We would rather have the range in your house than in our store house, and let you take your time to pay for it.

Window Shades and Drapery Curtains.

Lace Curtains all prices, kinds, qualities and styles. And everything to completely furnish a House, Hotel, Cottage, Church, Lodge Room or Club Room. Write us for cuts, catalogues and prices. And please do not forget that we handle the

Baldwin Refrigerator and Ice Chests,

besides other makes and kinds, but we prefer to sell the BALDWIN, as it has the Biggest Reputation of any Ice Chest or Refrigerator in the Market.

Write us for Cuts, Catalogues and Prices of this Celebrated Refrigerator, and do not delay buying because hot weather will be upon us, and you will regret it. And please remember that MR. MOREY, manager of the Bangor store; MR. KIMBALL, manager of the Rockland store; MR. EMERSON, manager of the Auburn store; and MR. ATKINSON, manager of the Biddeford store, will each show you a complete line of house furnishings and give you the same terms as would be given at the Headquarters at Portland. All goods will be delivered Freight Prepaid at your depot, and at each one of these stores you will receive the most Honorable Treatment Possible To Give A Customer, whether you wish to buy for cash, or part cash, and the balance on time.

Respectfully,
The Public's Obedient Servants,

The Atkinson House Furnishing COMPANY.

Headquarters Cor. Pearl and Middle Sts., Portland, and Branches as above quoted.

☞ Do not pay long prices when you can buy goods from us and save money. It costs you nothing to look, and very little to write. Consequently it is an easy matter to inform yourself.

W. BAKER & CO., Dorchester, Mass.

The jury in the case of David Walker, the chief of the Bald Knobbers, who has been on trial at Ozark, Mo., returned a verdict on the 12th inst. of murder in the first degree. James Matthews, William Stanley, Amos Jones and C. C. Simmons were then sentenced by the court, three of them having pleaded guilty to murder in the second degree. Stanley and Jones each got twenty-five years in the penitentiary, and Simmons fifteen years; Matthews was released on $1000 bail, his confession of the crimes of the infamous gang, including himself, having greatly aided the officers of the law.

A new play is about to be produced entitled "what shall we do with it?" well, if "it" is a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, he'd better take a spoonful three times a day until he gets rid of his cough or cold.

"It is not lack of food."

An emaciated fox once asked a robust looking dog the cause of his fine healthy appearance. "It is not lack of food," he said, "that keeps me poor; there are several well stocked hennery's not far from here; but I feel bad here," and he laid his paw on his distressed stomach. "My master," said the dog, "uses Ingall's Mandrake Compound, and when a bottle is empty he throws it on the ash heap, and I chew the stopple." "Alas! Alas!" said the fox, "there is no hope for me, I never find such around the poultry yard."

A naval camp of instruction, to last about ten days, has been established at Pensacola, Fla.

If you have a cold, cough, bronchitis, or any form of throat or lung disease, do not neglect it. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, if promptly taken, will speedily relieve and cure all ailments of this character.

All disorders caused by a bilious state of the system can be cured by using Carter's Little Liver Pills. No pain, griping or discomfort attending their use. Try them.

Gloucester fishermen complain bitterly of the fact that Nova Scotia sailors are imported under contract in violation of the law.

Catarrh, when chronic, becomes very offensive. It is impossible to be otherwise healthy, and at the same time afflicted with catarrh. This disagreeable disease, in its most obstinate and dangerous forms, can be cured by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Dr. Middleton, an Englishman, who killed a gypsy guide in the Madrid cathedral in self defense, has been acquitted.

How I Felt.

Why, two years ago I was just about crazy, and no wonder that my wife and children were afraid of me. You just want to suffer with neuralgia with no relief as I did until I used Sulpher Bitters. They cured me, and now my wife says I am as meek as a lamb.—Robert Davis, American House, Boston.

Immense damage is reported from the overflowing of the rivers in the western states.

No one knows better than those who have used Carter's Little Liver Pills what relief they have given when taken for dyspepsia, dizziness, pain in the side, constipation, and disordered stomach.

Hon. John L. Sullivan of Boston, Mass., has sailed from Liverpool for this country. He first obtained his belt from the custom authorities, in whose custody it had been since his arrival in England. A large crowd was on the deck to see Sullivan off, and he was heartily cheered. A number of his friends followed the steamer for some distance in a tug.

OH! MY HEAD.

The pain from Neuralgia and its companion disease Rheumatism is excruciating. Thousands who could be quickly cured are needlessly suffering. Athlophoros will do for others what it did for the following parties:

Williamsport, Ind., Oct. 8, 1887.

Having been troubled with neuralgia for the past four years, and trying almost everything, but in vain, I finally heard of Athlophoros. After taking one bottle I found it to be helping me, and after taking four bottles of Athlophoros and one of Pills, I found that I was entirely well. I think the medicine is positively a sure cure.

THE JOB PRINTING

Business is conducted in the same office by RICHARD I. WALDEN, who keeps on hand a large and well-selected stock of all materials required in his line. Give him a trial and you will be more than pleased.

John R. Brooke, the new brigadier-general in the regular army, is a self-made soldier. He enlisted as a private in the Pennsylvania infantry during the rebellion.

Roused from Inaction,

The precursor of their disease and destruction, the kidneys and bladder healthfully stimulated and toned with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, actively resume their functions. Thus Bright's disease, diabetes, catarrh of the bladder and enuresis are prevented. For irritating diuretics, and those unmedicated and firey stimulants which, used even in moderation, excite both the renal and vesical organs, this is the best possible substitute. It is of botanic composition, and so congenial to the stomach, the digestive processes of which it helps in no ordinary degree, that it is promptly assimilated by the system, and its tonic effects are speedily felt. Not only does it remedy inactivity of the kidneys, but renews a regular habit of body, promotes a due secretion and healthy flow of bile into the proper channels, and expels from the circulation acrid principles productive of rheumatism and gout. It is also the leading specific for malarial complaints.

The czar of Russia is said to be showing symptoms of insanity.

The body is more susceptible to benefit from Hood's Sarsaparilla now than at any other season. Therefore take it now.

Dr. Cornelius E. Agnew, the celebrated physician of New York, is critically ill.

If they were not reliable and effective, people wouldn't use so many of them—Hop Plasters.

A New York World correspondent declares prohibition a failure in Maine, and predicts the repeal of the law. He won't live long enough to see it repealed.

A perfectly sound body and a mind unimpaired are possible only with pure blood. Leading medical authorities indorse Ayer's Sarsaparilla as the best blood purifying medicine in existence. It vastly increases the working and productive powers of both brain and hand.

John Adams has been held in $400 for the supreme court of Strafford county on a charge of swindling, it being shown that he had been selling colored water under pretence that it was a patent corncurer, and that if it did not cure in ten days the money would be refunded by B. F. Rackley, a Dover druggist.

We recommend Carter's Iron Pills to every woman who is weak, nervous and discouraged; particularly those who have thin, pale lips, cold hands and feet, and who are without strength or ambition. These are the classes for which Carter's Iron Pills are specially prepared, and the class cannot use them without benefit. Valuable for men also. In metal boxes, at 50 cents. Sold by druggists or sent by mail. See advertisement elsewhere.

Game Warden French has been raiding the poachers in eastern Maine. At the head waters of the east branch of the Penobscot he captured thirteen hides and the carcasses of six moose. He also made several arrests, and secured evidence for the prosecution of fourteen other men.

Do not despair of curing your sick headache when you can so easily obtain Carter's Little Liver Pills. They will effect a prompt and permanent cure. Their action is mild and natural.

Judge Clark of the New Hampshire supreme court last Friday issued decrees commanding the old officials of Garrison Hill Assembly, Knights of Labor, of Dover, to turn over all books, property and money in their possession and belonging to the order, to the new officials or to the clerk of the court, before Aug. 18th.

A Sensible Man

Would use Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs. It is curing more cases of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup and all Throat and Lung troubles than any other medicine. The proprietor has authorized any druggist to give you a sample to see it free to convince you of the merit of this great remedy. Large bottles 50c. and $1.

Advice to the Girl of the Period.

You will have to know Latin, and Logic, and Greek,
You will have to be able correctly to speak
Of Atoms and Molecules, Acids and Bases,
Of the Earth in Aphelion, of the Moon and its Phases,
Of the three laws of Newton, of gases expanding,
Of how to preserve equilibrium when standing,
Of what is the green coloring matter in plants,
Of the structure of elephants, beetles, and ants;
You should also be able to fluently chatter
Of the prevalent opinions of Mind and of Matter,
Never mind learning to "play" or to "sing,"
To be able to please is no longer the thing;
Don't trouble your head about baking and cooking,
Red faces and fingers aren't student-like looking,
In all household duties, whate'er there's to do,
Let your brothers see to it, they've more time than you;
At table, gulp down your food, don't try to talk,
Don't waste precious time by taking a walk,
Don't heed the broad hints about spoiling your looks,
Let health, beauty, pleasure go, stick to your books;
Be sure a fixed hatred of mankind you show,
"Superior women don't marry," you know.

When years have gone by, if you find, when too late,
That your love for book lore, and for mankind you hate,
Have brought no repose, but a heartrending pain,
And you wish you could live your life over again,
Whatever occurs, don't show what you feel,
Let no one imagine the grief you conceal,
But rather bequeath what you have to a college,
And, in dying, proclaim, "There is nothing like knowledge."

—Temple Bar.

A Pampered Pug.

A San Francisco Chronicle reporter was standing in the corridor of a well-known down-town hotel awaiting the coming of the elevator which was to convey him below, when his attention was attracted by a group of children, two of whom held between them what seemed to be a little toddling child. The group reached the elevator just as the door opened, and entered, followed by the reporter. In the cage, about to make the downward journey, were a lady and a gentleman, evidently lately married. She had a sweet, sympathetic face, and all the woman came to the surface when she saw the children dragging the "little one," who stumbled at every step.

"Oh, girls!" cried the young bride, "you shouldn't let that child walk. He's too young to be put on his feet."

Her husband nudged her to keep quiet and looked as cross as if he had bought Consolidated Virginia at 22 before the drop. The children tittered, and the fat boy who presided over the ups and downs of the elevator doubled up like a capital V and overlooked a passenger on the second floor. The lady looked at her husband and from him to the children; then she gave the boy at the rope a "crusher" and glanced haughtily at the reporter, who had in the meantime caught a glimpse of the face beneath the pretty black satin hood fringed with costly lace.

"Why, bless me!" exclaimed the fair disciple of Secretary Hunter, throwing up her hands in wonder and dismay; "it is a nigger baby."

"Haw—ha—ground floor," gasped the boy at the rope, and the little girls laughed boisterously, and in their mirth let off the little one who dropped on all fours and skipped out of the cage with a bark that sounded like a far-away fog-horn on a drizzly night, with only ten pounds of steam on. The lady blushed, the gentleman hummed "Old Dog Tray," and they both got out of sight, followed by the shrieks of the girls.

The "child" is a little pug dog owned by a lady in the house, and is a marvel of intelligence and cunning. He was arrayed in a satin gown, which completely covered him, and with the hood before mentioned revealed only a small portion of his little, ugly black "phiz."

Being naturally of a curious turn of mind the reporter stopped to watch the pup's antics, and from a bystander he learned some of the dog's history. He is the only puppy tolerated by a very wealthy lady, and is in consequence much envied by other puppies—four-legged and two-legged. Being the only care which his mistress has on earth, he has a great time of it, and while many a poor creature is starving this wonderful animal has all the delicacies of the season. For breakfast he has chops and toast; at luncheon a cold spread, and he winds up in the evening on chicken and dessert. This may scent of fairyland, but these are cold facts. And this precious pug does not eat in the rude manner of the uncivilized terrier. He sits up at table in a tiny chair and is fed by a negress, who is entirely at his service from early morn until bedtime, and who is hired and paid for that alone. She puts him to bed at night and he awakes her in the morning with a yelp for his matutinal wash, which consists of nothing less than a cologne bath; and pug's coat is always as slick and as sweet as his face is ugly and black.

Gen. Dan Sickles says that the Congress of 1860-'61 lived on cocktails and fusel-oil animosities, and that whisky really brought about the Rebellion. He adds that "if the French Assembly were to drink some morning one-half the whisky consumed in one day by the Congress of 1860, France would declare war against Germany in 20 minutes."

Worth, the French milliner, lives in the suburbs of Paris in a palace that covers several acres and is gorgeously furnished. Once a year it is thrown open to his employes, and the fete lasts a day and a night. On this day each of the women employed by Worth is permitted to select a dress from his stock, and it is made up according to her directions.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND purifies the blood. It drives out the lactic acid, which causes Rheumatism, and restores the blood-making organs to a healthy condition. It is the true remedy for Rheumatism.

KIDNEY COMPLAINTS

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND quickly restores the liver and kidneys to perfect health. This curative power, combined with its nerve tonics, makes it the best remedy for all kidney complaints.

DYSPEPSIA

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND strengthens the stomach, and quiets the nerves of the digestive organs. This is why it cures even the worst cases of Dyspepsia.

CONSTIPATION

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND is not a cathartic, but a most beneficial natural laxative to the bowels. Regularity surely follows its use.

Now recommended by professional and business men. Send for book.

Price $1.00. Sold by Druggists.

INGALLS' MANDRAKE COMPOUND

Among the various organs of our system, none perform a more essential part than the Liver and Kidneys, and so many people are afflicted with diseases of these organs, causing the Blood to become impure, that it is our first duty to assist them in their work. This is done in a thorough manner by Ingalls' Mandrake Compound, which is purely Vegetable, and is worthy of a fair trial.

Ingalls' Mandrake Compound is sold by all Druggists.

PREPARED ONLY BY THE INGALLS MEDICAL CO LOWELL, MASS., U.S.A.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS

The cabinet organ was introduced in its present form by Mason & Hamlin in 1861. Other makers followed in the manufacture of these instruments, but the Mason & Hamlin Organs have always maintained their supremacy as the best in the world.

Mason & Hamlin offer, as demonstration of the unequalled excellence of their organs, the fact that at all the great World's Exhibitions, since that of Paris, 1867, in competition with best makers of all countries, they have invariably taken the highest honors.

$22 TO $900.

PIANOS

Mason & Hamlin do not hesitate to make the extraordinary claim for their pianos, that they are superior to all GRAND & UPRIGHT others. They recognize the high excellence achieved by other leading makers in the art of piano building, but still claim superiority. This they attribute solely to the remarkable improvement introduced by them in the year 1882, and now known as the "MASON & HAMLIN PIANO STRINGER," by the use of which is secured the greatest possible purity and refinement of tone, together with greatly increased capacity for standing in tune, and other important advantages.

A circular, containing testimonials from three hundred purchasers, musicians and tuners, sent, together with descriptive catalogue, to any applicant.

Pianos and Organs sold for cash or easy payments; also rented. tmyr9

That Tired Feeling

Afflicts nearly every one in the spring. The system having become accustomed to the bracing air of winter, is weakened by the warm days of the changing season, and readily yields to attacks of disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine needed. It tones and builds up every part of the body, and also expels all impurities from the blood. Try it this season.

Steamer Newport arrived at New York last week with eleven cases of small pox on board. The health authorities took proper action.

10 x 1—10.

How true it is that the little things of life multiply rapidly into more and greater. Especially is it true of the diseases which prey upon the human system. First, the blood becomes impure, then the liver becomes torpid and refuses to perform its functions; this causes a derangement of the stomach and other digestive organs. Dyspepsia, inaction, dizziness, and perhaps apoplexy may result. Ingalls' Mendrake Compound removes all humors and impurities from the blood, vitalizes the digestive organs, and gives tone and vigor to the whole system.

I have been troubled with catarrh for the past ten years and have tried a number of remedies, but found no relief until I purchased a bottle of Ely's Cream Balm I consider it the most reliable preparation for catarrh and cold in the head.—Geo. E. Crandall, P. M., Quonochawntaug, Rhode Island.

I was troubled with catarrh for seven years previous to commencing the use of Ely's Cream Balm, some five months ago. It has done for me what other so-called cures failed to do—cured me. The effect of the Balm seemed magical. —Clarence L. Huff, Biddeford, Me.,

'Tis An Old Story.

Senator Gorman openly proclaims that republican officeholders in Maryland have been removed simply and only because they were republicans, and that their places have been filled by democrats who got the places simply and only because they were democrats. Well, Reformer Cleveland, the mugwamps who bow down in adoration to him, and the public at large, knew all this months and years ago. Gorman is a smart trickster, but he need not think he had an "exclusive" on that bit of news.

To Be Expected.

It is announced that the commerce committee of the national house have decided to report the free ship bill favorably, and the Cummings bounty bill adversely. Of course. As the free ship bill would destroy what is left of the American ship-building industry, and benefit the British ship builders in a corresponding degree, it is but natural that the democratic free traders should be in favor of it; and as the Cummings bill provides for the payment of a bounty of thirty cents per registered ton for each 1000 miles sailed, to all vessels built and owned wholly in the United States engaged in the foreign trade, and of course would tend to aid American shipowners in competing with the liberally subsidised ships of other nations, it isjust as natural that the free-traders should oppose it.

Base Ball.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Dover base ball association last Friday evening it was voted to sell the lease of the field, and the fence, grandstand, etc., to the highest bidders. It is stated that four Dover gentlemen will purchase all the property and rights, and proceed to engage players and organize a club.

Burdock, the well known base ball player and second baseman of the Boston club, got drunk in Baltimore, was unable to play, was fined $25, and under a clause in his contract forfeits $1000.

Aaron Harvey Potts has filed a suit against the Washington National Base Ball club for $5000 damages. He alleges that on April 11th last he attended the base ball grounds on North Capitol street, Washington, D. C., to witness a game, paying for his admission, and almost immediately he "was suddenly, forcibly, and violently assaulted by the defendant by being struck across the bridge of his nose by a certain base ball recklessly, carelessly, and negligently thrown, tossed, pitched, or batted," by means of which he was greatly injured in his head, both physically and mentally, the injury being permanent in its character. Hence he sues.

The Atlanta (Ga.) Constitution, one of the most influential democratic papers of the south, says that for Mr. Cleveland to decline a renomination "would be in keeping with the conduct of a man who would send a challenge, and then refuse to fight because the man he challenged accepted." The Constitution's opinion is that the president has substituted the views of a minority of the Chicago convention on the tariff for the platform adopted when he was nominated, and that "no man has ever been found who could lead the party to victory on that line."

Mr. George Kennan will tell in the May Century how he came to go to Siberia on the "Century expedition." Mr. Kennan had spent some time in Siberia before in connection with the overland telegraph scheme, and in the summer of 1884 he made a preliminary excursion to St. Petersburg and Moscow for the purpose of collecting material, and ascertaining whether or not obstacles were to be thrown in his way by the Russian government. He returned in October, fully satisfied that his scheme was a practical one. He therefore sailed from New York for Liverpool in May, 1885. He says: "All my prepossessions were favorable to the Russian government, but unfavorable to the Russian revolutionists." He adds that this "partly explains the friendly attitude toward me which was taken by the Russian government, the permission which was given me to inspect prison and mines, and the comparative immunity from arrest, detention, and imprisonment which I enjoyed, even when my movements and associations were such as justly to render me an object of suspicion to the local Siberian authorities."

The new Atlantic house at York beach, just completed by C. B. Hildreth & Son, will be opened to the public on the 15th of June, with Mr. Will H. Noyes of Concord as clerk. The Atlantic house will be kept open for the reception of guests the year round. O'Brien's orchestra has been engaged for the season of '88, guests will be taken from and to trains free of charge, and special rates will be made to patrons of the house in June and September.

An old gentleman named Trefethen, so near-sighted as to be more than half blind, recently purchased a pair of rubber boots in this city, and then started on a tramp to Eliot to deliver certain knives and forks, spoons, etc., which had been plated, he being agent in Kittery and Eliot for that business. On arriving in Eliot he found both his feet as wet as though he had been overboard, his new rubber boots soaking water rather more freely than a sponge. He did not procure those boots at Carr's, that dealer having no room to spare for goods of that quality.

Two Kennebunk men were arrested at Salmon Falls on Saturday evening, and taken from a train bound east, for refusing to pay their fare. They had money enough to pay with, not having expended it all for the stimulant which caused them to behave so foolishly.

A switchman in Chicago was assaulted and fatally beaten by strikers last week.

Want of Sleep

Is sending thousands annually to the insane asylum; and the doctors say this trouble is alarmingly on the increase. The usual remedies, while they may give temporary relief, are likely to do more harm than good. What is needed is an Alterative and Blood-purifier. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is incomparably the best. It corrects those disturbances in the circulation which cause sleeplessness, gives increased vitality, and restores the nervous system to a healthful condition.

Rev. T. G. A. Coté, agent of the Mass. Home Missionary Society, writes that his stomach was out of order, his sleep very often disturbed, and some impurity of the blood manifest; but that a perfect cure was obtained by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Frederick W. Pratt, 424 Washington street, Boston, writes: "My daughter was prostrated with nervous debility. Ayer's Sarsaparilla restored her to health."

William F. Bowker, Erie, Pa., was cured of nervousness and sleeplessness by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for about two months, during which time his weight increased over twenty pounds.

Spring Medicine

Hood's Sarsaparilla is the most popular and successful Spring Medicine.

Nearly every body needs a reliable spring medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla to expel the impurities which have accumulated in the blood during the winter to keep up strength as the warm weather comes on, create an appetite and promote healthy digestion. Try Hood's Sarsaparilla this spring and you will be convinced that it does possess superior and peculiar merit.

A Good Appetite

"When I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I was dizzy in the morning, had a headache, and no appetite; but now I can hardly get enough cooked to eat." EMMA SHEPARD, 1 Coral Street, Worcester, Mass.

"Last spring my whole family took Hood's Sarsaparilla. The result is that all have been cured of scrofula, my little boy being entirely free from sores, and all four of my children look bright and healthy as possibly can be. I have found Hood's Sarsaparilla good for catarrh." WM. B. ATHERTON, Passaic City, N. J.

Be Sure to Get Hood's Sarsaparilla, my child. See that they do not give you anything else. You remember it is the medicine which did mama so much good a year ago—so reliable, beneficial, pleasant to take—my favorite spring medicine.

GRAND SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

— TO THE —

People of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont.

The Atkinson House Furnishing Co., having completed their purchases for

THIS SPRING'S STOCK,

respectfully request a call from all those interested in the Furnishing and Beautifying their Homes. And we would further request that those near our Bangor Store, located on Union street, opposite the Bangor House, should call on our Manager, MR. A. J. MOREY. And those living on the line of the Knox & Lincoln R. R., in the vicinity of Rockland, we would respectfully request to call at our Store on Main street, formerly the old Linde Hotel, MR. W. A. KIMBALL, manager. And again, to those who are nearest our Auburn Store, located on Main street, MR. J. J. EMERSON the Manager, will attend to your every want in House Furnishings. And to those living at Kennebunk, Kennebunkport and Old Orchard, and towns adjacent to Biddeford, we would respectfully request them to call at our Store at the Corner of Alfred and Bacon streets, MR. HENRY P. ATKINSON, Manager. While to those who prefer to select from our Mammoth Stock, we would say come to our Store and Headquarters at the

Cor. of Middle and Pearl Streets.

In each of these Stores we carry complete lines of furnishings which we will sell for cash, or a quarter cash, and the balance by the week or month. Of course we prefer to make cash sales when we can, but at the same time it has always been our aim and object to satisfy everyone of our customers to the uttermost, whether they wished to buy for cash or otherwise. This is the House Cleaning season of the year. Old Carpets must give place to New, Old Chamber Sets should be replaced by those of later design. Parlor Suits that have been in use for some time are often moved into the sitting room, making room for the new Parlor Suit. That Range that you have been using for many years, perhaps takes more coal to run it to get the desired work from it than a new one would, consequently making you a loss every day. Now we will sell you from the very largest stocks at Lower Prices than you can buy elsewhere, and we will sell them to you for cash or a quarter cash, and the balance by the week or month. Write for samples.

CARPETS,

Chamber Sets

We have an enormous quantity in each of our Stores. Ask your neighbors who have seen them, and they will testify to our almost endless variety, and we will Sell you Cheaper than you can buy elsewhere. We mean what we say, for all cash, quarter cash, or balance by the week or month. Write us for cuts, photographs and prices. Orders through the mail promptly attended to.

Parlor Suits

In all the Stores in Endless Variety, and a stock of 356 full Suits at our Headquarters. Prices from $31 to $400, all cash, or quarter cash, and balance by the week or month. Write us for photographs, cuts and prices.

KITCHEN RANGES

In all our Stores you will find the Quaker, New Tariff and First National, besides a host of others, but to those who wish a good range we recommend the Quaker and the New Tariff; also the First National, for a lower priced one. We have them all the way up to $50, and we sell you a range for cash, or for $10 down and the balance by the week or month. Do not delay ordering. We would rather have the range in your house than in our store house, and let you take your time to pay for it.

Window Shades and Drapery Curtains.

Lace Curtains all prices, kinds, qualities and styles. And everything to completely furnish a House, Hotel, Cottage, Church, Lodge Room or Club Room. Write us for cuts, catalogues and prices. And please do not forget that we handle the

Baldwin Refrigerator and Ice Chests,

besides other makes and kinds, but we prefer to sell the BALDWIN, as it has the Biggest Reputation of any Ice Chest or Refrigerator in the Market.

Write us for Cuts, Catalogues and Prices of this Celebrated Refrigerator, and do not delay buying because hot weather will be upon us, and you will regret it. And please remember that MR. MOREY, manager of the Bangor store; MR. KIMBALL, manager of the Rockland store; MR. EMERSON, manager of the Auburn store; and MR. ATKINSON, manager of the Biddeford store, will each show you a complete line of house furnishings and give you the same terms as would be given at the Headquarters at Portland. All goods will be delivered Freight Prepaid at your depot, and at each one of these stores you will receive the most Honorable Treatment Possible To Give A Customer, whether you wish to buy for cash, or part cash, and the balance on time.

Respectfully,

The Public's Obedient Servants,

The Atkinson House Furnishing COMPANY.

Headquarters Cor. Pearl and Middle Sts., Portland, and Branches as above quoted.

☞ Do not pay long prices when you can buy good, from us and save money. It costs you nothing to look, and very little to write. Consequently it is an easy matter to inform yourself.

The Republican Club.

The Portsmouth Republican Club met at the headquarters in Akerman's block on Monday evening, and organized by the choice of Charles E. Batcheider as president, A. C. Hoyt as corresponding secretary, James L. Parker as secretary, John O. Ayers as treasurer, and vice presidents and executive committee from each ward.

Supreme Court, April Term.

On Monday, the 16th, the court came in according to adjournment, and the prisoners against whom indictments were found were called upon to plead, sentences being imposed as follows:

Arvilla Palmer, entering a building in the night, and larceny therefrom, one year in state prison.

George Livingston, adultery, six months in jail, and $25 fine.

Mary S. Jenness, adultery, six months in jail, $10 fine.

George Thyng, larceny, one year in jail, $25 fine.

Charles S. Butt, assaulting an officer in the execution of his duty, six months in jail.

Charles Ryan, same offence and same sentence.

Rob't Gladden, Newmarket, charged with breaking a lock with intent to enable prisoners to escape, pleaded guilty; sentence deferred.

There are but seven criminal cases to be tried by the jury this term. The case of Benjamin W. Richards (two indictments, one for polygamy, and one for breaking and entering a building in the day time and stealing therefrom) was assigned for Wednesday, the 18th.

The parish meeting of St. John's church was adjourned from Monday evening, the 16th inst., to Tuesday evening, the 24th.

The drum and fife band had a street drill Monday evening, and were escorted by about two thousand boys and not a few girls.

There is to be a sparring exhibition in Music hall on Wednesday evening by well known boxers.

Strwberry Bank Lodge of Good Templars will give one of their pleasing entertainments (with supper) in Rechabite hall on Thursday evening, April 19th. Admission (including supper) fifteen cents.

The overhead bridge of the Eastern railroad at the Plains has just been rebuilt, and the one over the Concord railroad just beyond the Plains is soon to be rebuilt.

All the new shades of Dress Goods are now in stock, at Lewis E. Staple's, No. 7 Market street.

There must have been good wild-fowl shooting in Great bay on Sunday, judging from the number of wild geese displayed by the provision dealers of this city on Monday; one store showed over a dozen good looking birds. Four or five northward bound flocks, two of them being very large ones, passed over the city Sunday night, flying quite low.

Mr. George F. Wallis has removed his bakery to next store above the former location.

Dangerous Food Adulteration.

The Fraudulent use of Alum and Lime in Cheap Baking Powders.

If consumers prefer to buy an adulterated article of food because it can be had at a lower price they undoubtedly have the right to do so, provided the adulterants are not of a character injurious to health. If such articles are not falsely sold as pure and the customer is not deceived as to their real character, the transaction is not illegitimate.

But the great danger in the traffic in adulterated food arises from the deception that is practiced by manufacturers usually classing such goods as pure. This is almost invariably done when the adulterant is one that is injurious to health. For instance, manufacturers of alum and lime baking powders not only fail to inform the public of the real character of their goods, but carefully conceal the fact that they are made from these poisonous articles. Most of these manufacturers also claim that their articles are pure and wholesome, while some others go still further and proclaim boldly that they are cream of tartar goods, or even the genuine Royal Baking Powder itself. No consumer will buy alum baking powders knowingly, for it is well understood they are detrimental to health. The sale of lime and alum baking powders as pure and wholesome articles is, therefore, criminal, and it is satisfactory to notice that several persons engaged in such sale have already been brought to justice in the courts.

The official analysts have already been active in the pursuit of these dishonest articles. The baking powders of several states have been carefully and critically examined. The officials are surprised at the large amount of lime and alum goods found. It is a suggestive fact that no baking powder except the Royal has been found without either lime or alum, and many contain both. Dr. Price's baking powder has been found to contain nearly 12 per cent. of lime; Cleveland's 11 per cent. of impurities; the phosphate powders over 12 per cent. of lime.

The chief service of lime is to add weight. It is true that lime, when subjected to heat, gives off a certain amount of carbonic acid gas, but a quicklime is left—a caustic of most powerful nature. A small quantity of dry lime upon the tongue, or in the eye, produces painful effects; how much more serious must these effects be on the delicate membranes of the stomach, intestines and kidneys, more particularly of infants and children, and especially when the lime is taken into the system day after day, and with almost every meal. This is said by physicians to be one of the causes of indigestion, dyspepsia, and those painful diseases of the kidneys now so prevalent.

Adulteration with lime is quite as much to be dreaded as with alum, which has heretofore received the most emphatic condemnation from food analysts, physicians and chemists, for the reason that, while alum may be partially dissolved by the heat of baking it is impossible to destroy or change the nature of the lime so that the entire amount in the baking powder passes, with all its injurious properties, into the stomach.

The large profits from the manufacture of lime and alum baking powders has placed many of them in the market. They are to be found in the stock of almost every retail dealer, and are urged upon customers calling for baking powders upon all occasions. Because of their well-known detrimental character it is desirable that prompt means be taken to suppress their manufacture.

Pure baking powders are one of the chief aids to the cook in preparing perfect and wholesome food. While those are to be obtained of well-established reputation, like the Royal, of whose purity there has never been a question, it is proper to avoid all others.

Personal.

Jesse D. Minshell, formerly a pay clerk in the navy, and for several years a clerk in one of the departments at this navy yard, died in Washington, D. C., April 10th. He was appointed a clerk in the bureau of provisions and clothing a few months ago.

Robert C. Peirce, Esq., has arrived home from his pleasure excursion to the Windward West India islands.

Mr. Edward W. Riley, of Frye & Co.'s express, after being confined to his home for several weeks by illness, appeared on the streets Modday, Mrs. Riley and child are now both afflicted with the mumps, the complaint with which Mr. Riley suffered.

Mr. Wm. C. Walker of Rye, who was landlord of the Mansion house at Andover, Mass., at the time of its destruction by fire last year, has taken the position of steward at the Rockingham house, relieving Mr. Flagg F. Grant, who goes into the office to assist until the Hotel Wentworth at Newcastle opens, when he will assume the stewardship of that house.

Naval Constructor Thomas E. Webb, U. S. N., having made application to be placed on the retired list on account of illness, will be ordered before a retiring board.

Hon. Marcellus Eldredge arrived home on Sunday from Hot Springs, Ark., where he has been stopping the past four weeks.

Rev. James DeNormandie sailed for Europe on Saturday in the steamer Etruria, as a delegate from the American Unitarian association to the British association. He will be absent about two months.

We learn that Mr. Wm. H. Palmer has tendered his resignation as salesman and collector for the Eldredge Brewing Co., to take effect some time during the present month.

Mr. and Mrs. Dole Wadley have arrived home from a winter sojourn in Georgia, and reopened their home on Islington street. Their daughter Mrs. Capehart, wife of Ensign E. E. Capehart, U. S. N., is on a visit to them, and will pass the summer here.

First Lieut. Frederick L. Dodge, 23d United States Infantry, is ordered to Fort Mackinaw, Michigan, as a member of a general court martial detailed to convene at that station. On the completion of this duty he will return to Fort Wayne, where his company is stationed.

Capt. George F. Towle, 19th United States Infantry, has been detached from duty at the department of the Missouri, and ordered to join his company. Capt. Towle has been an aide on the staff of Gen. Terry, commanding the Division of the Missouri, recently placed on the retired list.

The leasing of the Boston & Providence railroad to the Old Colony road removes from office Supt. A. A. Folsom, who has filled the position of superintendent of the Providence road since 1854.

Worth Contesting For.

The commissioners appointed to decide upon how much the city of Dover shall pay the several private water companies of that city for their rights and plant, have agreed that the Cocheco Aqueduct Co. shall receive $67,500, asking price $105,000; Dover Landing Aqueduct Co., receive $13,000, asked $18,000; Dover Aqueduct Co., receive $20,000 cash, and allowances covering about $4000 more, asked $24,000. The amounts asked for by the three companies footed up $147,000; the total of the awards by the commission is $98,500, or $48,500 less than the amount demanded.

Once More.

The Knibbs valve suits are on deck again. This time a suit for $500,000 is brought against the city of New York for infringement. Last Friday a lawyer named Atterbury, of the firm of Betts, Atterbury, Hyde & Betts, solicitors for New York city, was in Lawrence, Mass., looking up evidence in the case. Mr. Atterbury thinks he has established a complete and perfect defence in the evidence he has secured. Affidavits were obtained from A. D. Elliott and Thomas W. James, who were engineers of steam fire engines in Lawrence before the Knibbs valve was patented. They affirm that a valve exactly like the Knibbs has been in use on the engines they operated since 1862.

Kittery has received a new title. In the marine columns of the Boston papers on Monday we notice a report of the arrival at Salem, Mass, of "Sch. Corvo, Kennedy, Perth Amboy for St. Kittery."

Recent transfers of real estate in York county: Kittery—Josiah W. Lewis to Augustus Stevenson, real estate for $60. York—Ellen N. Ellis to Henry A. Mitchell, real estate for $100; V. Melissa Doane, of Holly, Mich., to Wm. H. Rowe of Concord, land and buildings in York for $600; Wm. H. Rowe of Concord to Henry A. Mitchell of York, land and buildings in York for $1200; Susan Warburton of Portsmouth to John B Fernald of York, real estate in York for $650; Joseph Langton of Kittery to Albert L. Moulton of York, woodland in York for $160.

The Boston & Maine railroad has reduced the rates for scholars' tickets to half price.

The attention of the ladies is invited to the announcement of the opening of spring and summer novelties at Mrs. Tebbetts' on Wednesday of this week.

Rev. John Rounds, a former pastor of the Baptist church at Kennebunkport, died in Minneapolis, Minn., recently. He graduated from Colby college in 1849.

The steamer Lancaster, from Philadelphia with 1665 tons of coal to J. Albert Walker, arrived at this port on the 15th.

A Sight Worth Seeing.

Probably few persons ever saw the breathing apparatus of a human being laid open for inspection. From a hospital cadaver, we once saw the lungs and bronchial tubes removed, and blown up as a boy would a bladder or toy balloon, until the fine bronchial tubes and air cells of the lungs were distended to their fullest extent. In this state the lungs were hardened by immersion in alcohol, so that they remained expanded when the air was let free. With a sharp knife the wind-pipe and lungs were split open, so that it was easy to trace the bronchial tubes gradually diminishing in size from the wind-pipe itself, becoming finer and more delicately branched, until finer than small sewing cotton, these tiny bronchi lead into the air-cells beyond, to convey air to sustain life.

Truly a wonderful sight, which we have often recalled during the past winter as we read of the great number of deaths from pneumonia and bronchitis. Nearly 250 deaths in Boston in the month of January.

It seems impossible to most people, that so simple and common a disease as bronchitis, should cause death at all. But think for a moment, what would happen if the lining membrane of those tiny tubes described above should become much swollen by inflammation, which is likely to occur after any severe cold. The passage of air to the lung cells would be stopped, and the patient die from suffocation, as certainly as if a giant grasped his throat.

People should not overlook the irritation or "tickling in the throat," which causes a "hacking cough." Sure symptoms of bronchitis. The irritation being caused from inflammation inside of the wind-pipe, it is useless to take medicines into the stomach to cure it: one might as well eat tallow to cure chapped hands.

The interior mucous membrane of the wind-pipe must be promptly treated, to prevent the downward spread of the inflammation, and effect a cure. On page twelve of a pamphlet published by I. S. Johnson & Co., Boston, Mass., is printed plain directions for applying Johnson's Anodyne Liniment to the bronchial tubes and nasal passages, to cure colds and bronchitis.

It is a well-know fact, as many persons can testify, that this old-fashioned remedy will stop inflammation and swelling, quicker than any other medicine.

How Frank Stockton Works.

At dinner the other evening, says a Washington correspondent of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, I sat across the table from Frank Stockton, the delicious story writer rather than novelist. At his left elbow sat Senator Ingalls, a great reader and student, and one of the most scholarly members of the Senate.

"What are your habits of work?" asked the President of the Senate; "how many hours a day, for instance?"

"Two," said Stockton.

"Two?"

"Two."

"Two hours?"

"Two hours."

"You confounded sybarite!"

"Why so?" said Stockton. "How many hours would you have me work?"

"Well, I'd have you loaf as much as you can on general principles, but I work about sixteen hours a day, and think myself lucky when I get off with twelve hours."

"I work eight hours a day," said Senator Spooner, who sat next, "and I think that is enough."

"I find by experience," said the author of "Rudder Grange," "that two hours a day is about as much as I can work effectively. And even then I do not do physical work. I dictate either to my wife, who is a careful writer, or to a secretary, and then I sometimes run over it with a pen and smooth it up. In these two hours I produce about 1,000 words—say a page of the Century. It is enough, for it results in two large books a year."

I asked Mr. Stockton how many Americans he knew of who were earning their living entirely by pure literature—that is, by the creation of works of the imagination.

"There isn't anybody," he said, "excepting, perhaps, myself. And, unless we have an international copyright, the number does not bid fair to increase. However, there is E. P. Roe," he added dreamily.

"Yes," I assented; "I have seen the statistics of the book stores of Milwaukee, which reported having sold in one year of E. P. Roe's books 1,000 copies, of Ann S. Stephens' 270 copies, of Howells, Aldrich, and Stockston fourteen copies each."

He laughed and said he thought very likely it was true.

Mrs. Oliver Wendell Holmes, who died a few days since, was not what is known as a "literary woman," but she was highly accomplished and a great assistance to her husband in his work. She was the author's model of the school-mistress in the "Autocrat of the Breakfast Table." Her maiden name was Amelia Lee Jackson, the daughter of Judge Charles Jackson of the Massachusetts Supreme Court. She was married in 1840, and was the mother of three children.

About 100,000 seals have been taken in Notre Dame and White bays, Newfoundland, and the steamers have met with exceptional success.

To get relief from indigestion, biliousness, constipation or torpid liver without disturbing the stomach or purging the bowels, take a few doses of Carter's Little Liver Pills, they will please you.

M. J. Welsh, the Wabash engineer who was shot a few days ago by Charles Sommers, one of the new Burlington switchmen, is dead. Sommers, who acted in self defense, is under arrest.

That tired, languid feeling and dull headache is very disagreeable. Take two of Carter's Little Liver Pills before retiring, and you will find relief. They never fail to do good.

Four men were killed and ten others injured, one fatally, by the ditching of a construction train in Alabama last week.

I consider Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry the most reliable preparation in the market for the cure of coughs, colds and diseases of the throat, lungs and chest. I have sold thousands of bottles, and, so far as I know, it has always given satisfaction. I. N. Thron. Brattleboro, Vt.

Emperor William of Germany is announced to be worse.

Statistics show that more people die of consumption than from any other cause. Slight colds are the true seeds of consumption. Beware of the slightest cough. Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam stands without a peer.

THEY DID IT.

What? Cured among others the following. They write:

349 Central Ave., Cincinnati, O., January 4th, 1888.

Athlophoros Pills have cured me of liver complaint and dyspepsia. I gave ten of the Pills to a friend who is troubled with indigestion and he has improved wonderfully. F. H. ROWZEAMP.

Athlophoros Pills worked wonders in my case of dyspepsia. EMMA L. CLARK.

Ath-lo-pho-ros Pills are small and pleasant to take, yet wonderfully effective. Invaluable for kidney and liver complaints, dyspepsia, indigestion, constipation, headache, etc. They'll take away that tired feeling giving new life and strength.

THE JOB PRINTING

Business is conducted in the same office by RICHARD I. WALDEN, who keeps on hand a large and well-selected stock of all materials required in his line. Give him a trial and you will be more than pleased.

Roused from Inaction,

The precursor of their disease and destruction, the kidneys and bladder healthfully stimulated and toned with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, actively resume their functions. Thus Bright's disease, diabetes, catarrh of the bladder and enuresis are prevented. For irritating diuretics, and those unmedicated and firey stimulants which, used even in moderation, excite both the renal and vesical organs, this is the best possible substitute. It is of botanic composition, and so congenial to the stomach, the digestive processes of which it helps in no ordinary degree, that it is promptly assimilated by the system, and its tonic effects are speedily felt. Not only does it remedy inactivity of the kidneys, but renews a regular habit of body, promotes a due secretion and healthy flow of bile into the proper channels, and expels from the circulation acrid principles productive of rheumatism and gout. It is also the leading specific for malarial complaints.

Col. Daniel J. Vaughan and family left this city on Tuesday for Cambridge, Mass., to take up a permanent residence there. The best wishes of a host of friends go with them.

The body is more susceptible to benefit from Hood's Sarsaparilla now than at any other season. Therefore take it now.

Mrs. Thomas Reese has sold her house on Lincoln avenue to Mrs. Batchelder of North Hampton, who will occupy it as a residence.

If they were not reliable and effective, people wouldn't use so many of them—Hop Plasters.

H. A. Deal, a hotel beat and confidence man who has been operating in Saco, Portland, Dover, Manchester and other places for some time past, was arrested in this city on Tuesday and taken to Saco to answer for his proceedings there.

A perfectly sound body and a mind unimpaired are possible only with pure blood. Leading medical authorities indorse Ayer's Sarsaparilla as the best blood purifying medicine in existence. It vastly increases the working and productive powers of both brain and hand.

Augustus Stevenson and wife of Kittery started on Monday on a trip to Philadelphia, Washington and other places.

We recommend Carter's Iron Pills to every woman who is weak, nervous and discouraged; particularly those who have thin, pale lips, cold hands and feet, and who are without strength or ambition. These are the classes for which Carter's Iron Pills are specially prepared, and this class cannot use them without benefit. Valuable for men also. In metal boxes, at 50 cents. Sold by druggists or sent by mail. See advertisement elsewhere.

The Hungarian Gypsey band, Ferranez Garay leader, thirteen pieces, has been engaged to furnish the music at the Hotel Wentworth the coming season.

Do not despair of curing your sick headache when you can so easily obtain Carter's Little Liver Pills. They will effect a prompt and permanent cure. Their action is mild and natural.

Mrs. Samuel A. Watts, a widow, murdered a neighbor named Storm near St. Louis, Mo., April 15th. The two had quarreled often over a line fence. Storm went to the widow's house and renewed the quarrel, and while Storm's back was turned the widow seized a gun and shot him dead. She was arrested.

Mr. C. H. Oedamer is a Very Lucky Man.

Mr. Oedamer was in his cigar factory, No. 102 Main Street. To questions from the News man he said: "Yes, I drew $5,000 in The Louisiana State Lottery last Tuesday, and I have been paid every cent of the money. I got ticket 60,775, which I sealed up in an envelope and thought no more about it until I read a list of the lucky numbers in the Dallas News. I then examined my ticket and found that I was the lucky man." The lucky man is 26 years unmarried German, and lives with his mother and sisters, the latter being interested with him in the prize.—Dallas (Texas) News, March 18th.

A Sensible Man

Would use Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs. It is curing more cases of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup and all Throat and Lung troubles than any other medicine. THE LATEST DISCOVERY.

A Prominent Physician Reveals Some New and Startling Secrets.

"Do you know," said Dr. Bodfich, of Boston, at the club, one evening recently, "what the starting point of most physical troubles is?"

"No, indeed," replied a circle of anxious inquirers, as they crowded about the doctor.

"Tea and coffee," answered the eminent physician.

There was a look of horror on the faces of his listeners. The doctor continued:

"Men, and women even more, drink tea and coffee constantly, and wonder why they feel dull and stupid, have headaches, a bad taste in the mouth, pains in the limbs and about the body and irregularity of the secretions. In the cases out of ten these things are caused by too free a use of tea and coffee. These drinks clog the system, weaken the tissues and destroy the most important organs. Few men or women who indulge in tea and coffee regularly have clear urine, but on the contrary, sediment, scum and brick dust, all of which invariably mean coming disease or death."

"But what are we to do, Doctor? Shall we give up tea and coffee altogether?"

"No. I do not advise that, but regulate it. Keep the kidneys clear and active. There is nothing in the world so good for this as the well known and popular Hunt's Remedy. Any one who uses this medicine regularly can drink tea and coffee moderately without fear. The reason is that Hunt's Remedy flushes or washes out the kidneys, and keeps them free and healthy. Any number of prominent men and women can confirm what I say, among the number scores of doctors and ministers, Gen. Butler, Gen. Monroe and Miss Alcott."

It was plain that the warning and advice of the doctor had made a deep impression on his listeners, as it also should upon the millions of men and women who are shortening their lives by the use of these drinks.

COUGH BALSAM

More than twenty years ago Adamson's Botanic Balsam was introduced generally throughout New England as a remedy for Coughs, Colds and Pulmonary complaints. Since its introduction it has constantly won its way into public favor, until now it is the universal decision that ADAMSON'S BOTANIC BALSAM is the best remedy for curing Coughs, Colds and Asthma.

AMONG THE KANAKAS.

What a Visitor Saw in Tahiti—A Joyous Occasion—Open Air Dancing.

"Band night" is a joyous occasion, dear to the memory of all visitors to the island. On Thursday nights the French garrison band plays before the government house in a little plaza carpeted with turf and bordered with spreading trees. On one side are venders of beer and liquors—miserable stuff—on another women sell fruit and flowers, and in the center is the brilliantly lit band stand. As the band strikes up the people grow wild with joy. Around the stand skip men and girls, singly, in pairs and in rows, heads up, eyes bright, teeth showing, clasping each other by waist or shoulder, laughing and calling to each other, while the dust fairly chokes the puffing, blowing musicians. If a dancer falls in the mad whirl a scream of excitement rises and only dies away when the prostrate one rises and dances on. Between the selections they refresh themselves with beer or fruit, while the officers or young men of the town buy flowers and wreaths for the girls, as happy with their "leis" as a debutante with her bouquets. A tall young globe trotter advances to a group of dusky beauties, holding high the finest lei he can purchase. There is a scream of delight from a dozen pretty mouths, a dozen rounded arms are thrust at the prize as the garlanded heads bob up and down, and then there is a rush and he is overwhelmed. They climb upon his head and shoulders and pluck the wreath to pieces, leaving him disheveled and overcome by such a whirlwind of arms and legs.

Then the band strikes up and away they all go again. At last the bandsmen form in the street, the torchlight tradesmen disappear with the remnant of their wares, and the crowd gathers in line before and behind the band. The street being darker than the plaza, even those whose dignity and respectability kept them from joining the dancers around the stand, are now found in the ranks. Officers from foreign men of war, yachtsmen, townspeople, globe trotters, away they all go, nymphs and satyrs, in wild Bacchanalian dance down the dimly lit street, under the trees meeting in an arch overhead, now to the right, then back across the street, each line at its own sweet will. Dignity falls to the ground when a smile and a glance from a flower decked maiden comes bearing an invitation to clasp hands or waists and "follow the band." The "Pied Piper of Hamelin" could lead away these people any time.

The band halts for some reason and we get ahead of it, a line of us across the street. On my right is a young lady with a wreath of yellow flowers on her black tresses, another around her neck. I don't believe she can speak a word of English, and don't try to make her do so—there is no need. Beyond her there is a man and then another girl—there are twelve in the line. The band strikes up behind us and everybody begins dancing. We can take any step we like; we are off the ground most of the time; and down the street we go. Suddenly my arm is grasped by a strong hand which slips through; and I have on my left a big Kanaka dressed in waistcloth and coat, with head thrown back and laughing for pure joy. Away we go, running and dancing against the people ahead of us, breaking into the lines, first one and then another, until we bring up against a row of figures clad in dark blue, a party of sailors. We try to break this line, too, but the stalwart fellows stop altogether and back up the whole procesing rows, digging their heels into the ground and bracing themselves against the attacking lines. There is a wild uproar and they dart forward with all the rout in pursuit, only to repeat the performance later. Meanwhile the right wing of our line pulls out to the side, and off we dance up the side of the street to get nearer the band, which has been left far in the rear. We come into line with a swing, and I play "crack the whip" with my Kanaka friend and bang him here and there into the midst of dancing rows.

No one thinks of getting angry, and you can do as you please, so down we go through the lines ahead of us till we strike again that stout row of sailors having their watch ashore to-night. Out again to the side, a dance back to the band—and all repeat. A street light has shown me that my young lady on the right has a pretty face and is enjoying herself hugely. She stands the "crack-ing the whip" and the breaking lines with perfect ease. At last the band turns into the market place and ceases playing; the wild, fascinating dance is over. We mop, pant and walk away to a friendly home, where we drink tea and eat bread and jam with our host and hostess till long past midnight.—Papeete (Tahiti) Cor. New York Tribune.

Automatic Accident Insurance.

The latest London novelty is the utilization of the drop a nickle in the slot machine to the purposes of insurance. A company has been organized, to be known as the Automatic Accident Insurance Box company, and its object is stated to be "to provide the public with a ready means of obtaining an insurance for twenty-four hours against death arising from accidents of every description, by simply placing a penny in the slot of a box.—Brooklyn Eagle.

An author who has published his own book has netted nearly $20,000, whereas his royalties at the usual rates would have yielded him at the outside $4,500. Some books advertise themselves by an attractive title, some by an ingenious system, some by the author's name, though a good, interesting story always advertises itself through its readers, as a good play always inspires those who see it to speak of it to others.—New York Times.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS

The cabinet organ was introduced in its present form by Mason & Hamlin in 1861. Other makers followed in the manufacture of these instruments, but the Mason & Hamlin Organs have always maintained their supremacy as the best in the world.

Mason & Hamlin offer, as demonstration of the unequaled excellence of their organs, the fact that at all the great World's Exhibitions, at each of Paris, 1867, in competition with best makers of all countries, they have invariably taken the highest honors. Illustrated catalogues free.

PIANOS.

Mason & Hamlin do not hesitate to make the extraordinary claim for their pianos, that they are superior to all others. They consider it a high excellence achieved by other leading makers in the art of piano building, but still claim superiority over them, not solely on the remarkable improvement introduced by them in the year 1882, and now known as the "MASON & HAMLIN PIANO-STRINGS," by the use of which is secured the greatest possible purity and refinement of tone, together with greatly increased capacity for standing in tune, and other important advantages.

A circular, containing testimonials from three hundred purchasers, eminent musicians, and others, sent together with descriptive catalogue, to any applicant.

That Tired Feeling

Afflicts nearly every one in the spring. The system having become accustomed to the bracing air of winter, is weakened by the warm days of the changing season, and readily yields to attacks of disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine needed. It tones and builds up every part of the body, and also expels all impurities from the blood. Try it this season.

Gen. Boulanger has been elected to the French assembly by a majority of 97,000.

10 x 1—10.

How true it is that the little things of life multiply rapidly into more and greater. Especially is it true of the diseases which prey upon the human system. First, the blood becomes impure, then the liver becomes torpid and refuses to perform its functions; this causes a derangement of the stomach and other digestive organs. Dyspepsia, inaction, dizziness, and perhaps apoplexy may result. Ingalls' Mandrake Compound removes all humors and impurities from the blood, vitalizes the digestive organs, and gives tone and vigor to the whole system.

A brewery in New Haven, Conn., was destroyed by an incendiary fire April 15th; loss $150,000.

I have been troubled with catarrh for the past ten years and have tried a number of remedies, but found no relief until I purchased a bottle of Ely's Cream Balm I consider it the most reliable preparation for catarrh and cold in the head.—Geo. E. Crandall, P. M., Quonochawntaug, Rhode Island.

I was troubled with catarrh for seven years previous to commencing the use of Ely's Cream Balm, some five months ago. It has done for me what other so-called cures failed to do—cured me. The effect of the Balm seemed magical. —Clarence L. Huff, Biddeford, Me.,

A Concord Landmark Obliterated.

Travellers who have visited Concord, and as travellers have perhaps become, in the language of high mugwump authority, "very hungry and very thirsty," have as they may have sat in the front rooms of the "Phenix," seen upon the opposite side of Main street a modest wooden building of much smaller proportions than its neighboring structures, bearing the sententious sign on its front

ADAMS' ALE.

This has for several years hung over the entrance to the saloon of Mr. Andrew Jackson Adams, a name suggestive of patriotism and political prowess. Every one who visits Concord during the sessions of the general court, be he legislator or lobbyist, knows all about Jack Adams' place. This is, or perhaps, to speak more guardedly, has been, a spot where statesmen and commoners, railway magnates and new members have met upon that level to which fluids by well known laws always flow. Jack has always been a power in politics. In the management of a ward caucus or in results at the hustings he could give points to the most adroit and experienced member of the tribe of Tammany. While in full communion with men like Messrs. Jones and Sulloway, who are always near to the ear of the president, Jack by no means omits to consider that the other fellows in the party are still in the ranks with a credit of long service in the democratic campaign without pay.

Jack has no personal animosity toward his political enemies. He deplores at times prohibitory enactments, and affects to commiserate the men who in spite of their personal tastes are obliged to give countenance to such legislation. In fact, Jack is of broad beam, catholic and considerate in his estimate of, and relation to, every one in the state.

It was a cold day for the last of the Adamses last October, when Governer Sawyer affixed his signature to the act to authorize the suppression of common nuisances, (as therein defined,) by courts of equity. The legislature by this act, which seems to have passed sufficiently late in the session to receive full hearing upon its merits, has undertaken to enact that any building used for the illegal sale or keeping of liquors, spirituous or malt, wine or cider, while it may not in fact in any degree be what is known as a nuisance, nevertheless is declared to be such. Of course this knocks the dictionaries out of their ancient knowledge, and Webster or Worcester, Stormouth, Walker, Johnson and all such must give way to the wisdom of our legislators. People may have doubts on the question. The legislature had none. The man who sells a quart of cider to his neighbor, or the druggist who supplies a choice wine to a suffering patient upon a physician's prescription, alike converts the premises he occupies into a "declared nuisance."

Taking advantage of this bold declaration, twenty legal voters in this city can at once take measures to declare some of our best business blocks nuisances, and proceed to measures which will land the owners, men, women and children, all within the walls of hotel de Griffin on Islington street.

Of course the initial steps to enforce this newly defined principle of law were taken at Concord. The people of that city, or some of them, profess to believe that conventions can meet, legislatures assemble, courts convene and railway meetings be held without the aid of grape juice or essence of malt. The consequence has been a general rush upon every place where liquor was either sold or suspected of being sold.

To the result of this sweeping administration of the new law Adams was no exception. Recently every place in the limits of Concord where intoxicants had been sold was closed, and the liquor stock made to disappear. The weary traveller no longer looks across Main street, as did the Jews to the Canaan over Jordan, but when he goes to Concord and anticipates that he may be taken ill within her inhospitable gates, carries his medicine with him. The place de Adams has a neglected look. The consumers of fluids now patronize the French settlement down the river when they can so afford it. It has come to be regarded that Concord is a city whose citizens do not drink, and whose stranger within her walls had better not wish to drink except he carries his poison with him. In the meantime, the democracy who yelled for reform and denounced the inefficiency of the republican state officials, find the law strictly enforced by a democratic county solicitor, who apparently has lost sight of the principle that his party are not of this way of thinking in regard to prohibition. He ignores the fact that while democratic leaders may hire prohibition politicians to plague republicans, they are like the famous Stebbins, in favor of the law but opposed to its execution.

This anomaly of having such a law enforced by a democratic solicitor and sheriff at first excited no little surprise at the capital. It has however become a settled state of affairs. Whether the resolutions of the next democratic convention will "point with pride" at this instance of the enforcement of the laws will depend of course upon how carefully Mr. Jones scrutinizes the resolutions before they are permitted to be reported.

Affairs in Kittery.

KITTERY, ME., April 17th.

Rev. Francis Grovenor, for several years pastor of the 1st and 2d Methodist churches of this town, is transferred by conference to the churches at Kennebunkport and Cape Porpoise. The churches and congregations here, and the people at large, regret to lose him, but congratulate the churches to which he is assigned on securing an earnest and energetic Christian pastor.

Schools in the village commenced on Monday, with Miss Nellie M. Todd in charge of the primary, Miss Addie S. Remick of the intermediate, and C. Carroll Bartlett of the grammar.

A campfire and bazar will be held in Trefethen hall at the Foreside on Thursday and Friday evenings of this week by E. G. Parker Post, No. 99, G. A. R., and W. S. R. Corps, No. 53. On Thursday evening a special train will be run over the York railroad, returning after the close of the entertainment. Admission, twenty-five cents.

Carpenter Augustus O. Goodsoe, U. S. N., arrived home from New York yesterday to pass a short leave of absence.

Rev. Alexander Hamilton, formerly pastor of the Methodist church at North Kittery, by assignment of the late conference is located at New Sharon, in the Augusta district. SUB ROSA.

Matters in York.

YORK BEACH, ME., April 15th.

George Proctor of Boston, Mass., has commenced work on his new block at Union Bluff. The lower story will be occupied by Mr. Proctor as a furniture store.

Frank Bowden, contractor and builder, has been visiting friends in Manchester and Concord, N. H.

The York Beach Minstrel company will give an entertainment at Trefethen hall, Kittery, on Thursday evening, April 19th, for the benefit of E. G. Parker Post 99, G. A. R. A special train will run from York beach to accommodate all who wish to attend.

Thomas Frisbee and family, of Kittery, have moved here to their cottage.

W. G. Jarman of Manchester has had his cottage painted, and now has one of the prettiest residences in Concordville.

John Bowden is having his house newly painted.

Messrs. Saunders & Williams have bought a building lot of Josiah Norton, and will put up a two-tenement house.

Cottages will be in great demand here the coming season. Applications have began to come early, and those who wish for cottages in good locations will have to apply in season. SUB.

To Save Life

Frequently requires prompt action. An hour's delay waiting for the doctor may be attended with serious consequences, especially in cases of Croup, Pneumonia, and other throat and lung troubles. Hence, no family should be without a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which has proved itself, in thousands of cases, the best Emergency Medicine ever discovered. It gives prompt relief and prepares the way for a thorough cure, which is certain to be effected by its continued use.

S. H. Latimer, M. D., Mt. Vernon, Ga., says: "I have found Ayer's Cherry Pectoral a perfect cure for Croup in all cases. I have known the worst cases relieved in a very short time by its use; and I advise all families to use it in sudden emergencies, for coughs, croup, &c."

A. J. Edson, M. D., Middletown, Tenn., says: "I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral with the best effect in my practice. This wonderful preparation once saved my life. I had a constant cough, night sweats, was greatly reduced in flesh, and given up by my physician. One bottle and a half of the Pectoral cured me."

"I cannot say enough in praise of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral," writes E. Bragdon, of Palestine, Texas, "believing as I do that, but for its use, I should long since have died."

March April May

Are the best months in which to purify your blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best blood purifier.

At no other season does the human system so much need the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla, as now. The impoverished condition of the blood, the weakening effects of the long, cold winter, the lost appetite, and that tired feeling, all make a good spring medicine absolutely necessary. Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiarly adapted for this purpose, and increases in popularity every year. It is the ideal spring medicine.

"I must say Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine I ever used. Last spring I had no appetite, and the least work I did fatigued me ever so much. I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon felt that I could do as much in a day as I had formerly done in a week. My appetite is voracious." MRS. M. V. BAYARD, Atlantic City, N. J.

GRAND SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

— TO THE —

People of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont.

The Atkinson House Furnishing Co., having completed their purchases for

THIS SPRING'S STOCK,

respectfully request a call from all those interested in the Furnishing and Beautifying their Homes. And we would further request that those near our Bangor Store, located on Union street, opposite the Bangor House, should call on our Manager, MR. A. J. MOREY. And those living on the line of the Knox & Lincoln R. R., in the vicinity of Rockland, we would respectfully request to call at our Store on Main street, formerly the old Linde Hotel, MR. W. A. KIMBALL, manager. And again, to those who are nearest our Auburn Store, located on Main street, MR. J. J. EMERSON the Manager, will attend to your every want in House Furnishings. And to those living at Kennebunk, Kennebunkport and Old Orchard, and towns adjacent to Biddeford, we would respectfully request them to call at our Store at the Corner of Alfred and Bacon streets, MR. HENRY P. ATKINSON, Manager. While to those who prefer to select from our Mammoth Stock, we would say come to our Store and Headquarters at the

Cor. of Middle and Pearl Streets.

In each of these Stores we carry complete lines of furnishings which we will sell for cash, or a quarter cash, and the balance by the week or month. Of course we prefer to make cash sales when we can, but at the same time it has always been our aim and object to satisfy everyone of our customers to the uttermost, whether they wished to buy for cash or otherwise. This is the House Cleaning season of the year. Old Carpets must give place to New, Old Chamber Sets should be replaced by those of later design. Parlor Suits that have been in use for some time are often moved into the sitting room, making room for the new Parlor Suit. That Range that you have been using for many years, perhaps takes more coal to run it to get the desired work from it than a new one would, consequently making you a loss every day. Now we will sell you from the very largest stocks at Lowes Prices than you can buy elsewhere, and we will sell them to you for cash or a quarter cash, and the balance by the week or month. Write for samples.

CARPETS,

Chamber Sets

We have an enormous quantity in each of our Stores. Ask your neighbors who have seen them, and they will testify to our almost endless variety, and we will Sell you Cheaper than you can buy elsewhere. We mean what we say, for all cash, quarter cash, or balance by the week or month. Write us for cuts, photographs and prices. Orders through the mail promptly attended to.

Parlor Suits

In all the Stores in Endless Variety, and a stock of 356 full Suits at our Headquarters. Prices from $31 to $400, all cash, or quarter cash, and balance by the week or month. Write us for photographs, cuts and prices.

KITCHEN RANGES

In all our Stores you will find the Quaker, New Tariff and First National, besides a host of others, but to those who wish a good range we recommend the Quaker and the New Tariff; also the First National, for a lower priced one. We have them all the way up to $50, and we sell you a range for cash, or for $10 down and the balance by the week or month. Do not delay ordering. We would rather have the range in your house than in our store house, and let you take your time to pay for it.

Window Shades and Drapery Curtains.

Lace Curtains all prices, kinds, qualities and styles. And everything to completely furnish a House, Hotel, Cottage, Church, Lodge Room or Club Room. Write us for cuts, catalogues and prices. And please do not forget that we handle the

Baldwin Refrigerator and Ice Chests,

besides other makes and kinds, but we prefer to sell the BALDWIN, as it has the Biggest Reputation of any Ice Chest or Refrigerator in the Market.

Write us for Cuts, Catalogues and Prices of this Celebrated Refrigerator, and do not delay buying because hot weather will be upon us, and you will regret it. And please remember that MR. MOREY, manager of the Bangor store; MR. KIMBALL, manager of the Rockland store; MR. EMERSON, manager of the Auburn store; and MR. ATKINSON, manager of the Biddeford store, will each show you a complete line of house furnishings and give you the same terms as would be given at the Headquarters at Portland. All goods will be delivered Freight Prepaid at your depot, and at each one of these stores you will receive the most Honorable Treatment Possible To Give A Customer, whether you wish to buy for cash, or part cash, and the balance on time.

Respectfully,

The Public's Obedient Servants,

The Atkinson House Furnishing COMPANY.

Headquarters Cor. Pearl and Middle Sts., Portland, and Branches as above quoted.

☞ Do not pay long prices when you can buy goods from us and save money. It costs you nothing to look, and very little to write. Consequently it is an easy matter to inform yourself.

ISAAC C. ATKINSON, Gen. Manager.

"Beacon Lights."

Of this play, which is to be produced in Music hall on Thursday evening, the 19th, it is said:

"There is a great deal of clear, genuine, honest comedy in 'Beacon Lights,' which never fails to carry the house. It is impossible, in a brief space, even to crudely outline the plot, even if it could be done without detracting from the interest of the play. It is sufficient to say that Mr. DeWitt Young has created a delicate but enduring fabric of melodrama with a filling in of the most enjoyable and purest comedy. The play is simple and enjoyable. The drama at no time becomes mawkishly sentimental, and the comedy never descends to buffoonery."

"Forgiven" is one of the best romantic dramas to be seen, strong in climaxes, coherent, abounding in illustrations of heroic traits, with characters remarkably well drawn, and a clear, well-written dialogue. Mr. Bryton has the advantage of youth, fire, intelligence and a splendid stage presence, and he will probably carry his drama deeper into popular esteem than has been done with any modern theme during the past ten years. At Music hall on Friday evening next.

On and after Wednesday, the 18th inst., all travel over the Sagamore bridge and for a considerable distance of the roadways leading thereto on each side, will be suspended for some two months. The bridge, which is in a very bad condition, is to be rebuilt and raised higher than at present, and will be also somewhat shortened; while the present approaches are to be straightened and levelled by the use of steam drills and dynamite. All the timber used in the construction of the bridge will be southern pine, and the bridge made as good as money and material can make it.

Strwberry Bank Lodge of Good Templars will give one of their pleasing entertainments (with supper) in Rechabite hall on Thursday evening, April 19th. Admission (including supper) fifteen cents.

All the new shades of Dress Goods are now in stock, at Lewis E. Staple's, No. 7 Market street.

Mr. George F. Wallis has removed his bakery to next store above the former location.

The attention of the ladies is invited to the announcement of the opening of spring and summer novelties at Mrs. Tebbetts' to-day.

The British-American, the paper recently established in Boston to promote the naturalization of natives of Great Britain who are permanent residents of the United States, is doing excellent work in showing that it is the duty of British Americans to avail themselves of the privilege of taking part in the political affairs of the country of their adoption. We hope to see a British American association organized in this city shortly.

The Maine Methodist conference has made the following appointments, among others: Presiding elder, W. S. Jones, reappointment; East Eliot, John B. Gibson; South Eliot and North Kittery, William T. Marshall; 2d church, Kittery Foreside, John B. Lapham; York, G. D. Holmes, reappointment; Berwick, S. Hooper, reappointment; South Berwick, Isaac Luce, reappointment. Rev. Francis Grovenor is transferred from Kittery to Kennebunkport and Cape Porpoise. W. H. Congdon, Maryland Ridge and Ogunquit, Wells; O. H. Stevens, Newfield; H. B. Mitchell, Old Orchard and Saco Ferry; Portland, Chestnut street, J. M. Frost; Pine street, Theodore Gerrish; islands, Kinsman Atkinson; Saco, A. W. Pottle; West Kennebunk, S. F. Wetherbee.

"Skipped by the light of the Moon," one of the most ridiculously amusing pieces now on the stage, will be presented in Music hall next Monday evening.

Landlord Charles A. Grant of the Sea Cottage, York Beach, has increased the capacity of his house by making sleeping rooms in the building previously used as a laundry and lodging house for the help, and putting up another building to accomodate the help, the laundry and the barber's shop; he is now looking for a first-class tonsorial artist to take charge during the season.

This evening, in Music hall, there will be an exhibition of scientific sparring by boxers well known to the sporting world.

The officers of the Grand Royal Arch Chapter of New Hampshire visited Washington Chapter, R. A. M., of this city, on Tuesday evening, and witnessed an exemplification of the work. They were afterward invited to the upper hall, where a banquet had been prepared. There were a large number of companions present, and all were much pleased with the evening's entertainment.

A new feature on the night train from Boston through to Bangor is a Pullman reclining-chair car. It was put on for people who preferred it to a sleeping car, and it is being very well patronized.

The new schooner James A. Gray, commanded by Capt. Frank P. Coleman of Newington, was towed up to Gray's wharf, Saco, on the afternoon of the 16th inst., to load with bricks for the Boston market.

The U. S. S. Swatara will drop down from the navy yard to the lower harbor to-day.

William Merritt, general freight agent of the Boston & Maine railroad from 1852 to 1856, and superintendent of the road from 1856 to 1873, died at his home in Charlestown, Mass., April 15th, at the age of seventy-four years.

Lieut. W. I. Moore, U. S. N., is detached from the Adams, Pacific station, and ordered home.

Col. Thomas Y. Field, U. S. M. C., is detached from command of the marine barracks at Norfolk, Va., and ordered to command the barracks at League island May 1st. Major McLane Tilton relieves Col. Field in command of the barracks at the Norfolk navy yard.

A game of base ball was recently played at the naval academy, Annapolis, Md., between a team organized from the officers of the academy and a nine from the first class of the cadets, the latter winning, nineteen to ten. Ensign E. E. Capehart was pitcher for the officers' team.

It is given out by the navy department that the destination of the Swatara, now nearly ready for sea at the Portsmouth yard, is the Pacific station, and in furtherance of the idea it is found on inquiry that so far she has been furnished with charts for that part of the world only. The Swatara will probably sail for her station early in May.

A black duck lighted in the yard of Mr. Franklin C. Hoyt on Union street, Monday night about twelve o'clock, and was shot and killed.

The lamp posts about the city are receiving a coat of paint, which is a great improvement in their looks.

A Sight Worth Seeing.

Probably few persons ever saw the breathing apparatus of a human being laid open for inspection. From a hospital cadaver, we once saw the lungs and bronchial tubes removed, and blown up as a boy would a bladder or toy balloon, until the fine bronchial tubes and air cells of the lungs were distended to their fullest extent. In this state the lungs were hardened by immersion in alcohol, so that they remained expanded when the air was let free. With a sharp knife the wind-pipe and lungs were split open, so that it was easy to trace the bronchial tubes gradually diminishing in size from the wind-pipe itself, becoming finer and more delicately branched, until finer than small sewing cotton, these tiny bronchi lead into the air-cells beyond, to convey air to sustain life.

Truly a wonderful sight, which we have often recalled during the past winter as we read of the great number of deaths from pneumonia and bronchitis. Nearly 250 deaths in Boston in the month of January.

It seems impossible to most people, that so simple and common a disease as bronchitis, should cause death at all. But think for a moment, what would happen if the lining membrane of those tiny tubes described above should become much swollen by inflammation, which is likely to occur after any severe cold. The passage of air to the lung cells would be stopped, and the patient die from suffocation, as certainly as if a giant grasped his throat.

People should not overlook the irritation or "tickling in the throat," which causes a "hacking cough." Sure symptoms of bronchitis. The irritation being caused from inflammation inside of the wind-pipe, it is useless to take medicines into the stomach to cure it; one might as well eat tallow to cure chapped hands.

The interior mucous membrane of the wind-pipe must be promptly treated, to prevent the downward spread of the inflammation, and effect a cure. On page twelve of a pamphlet published by I. S. Johnson & Co., Boston, Mass., is printed plain directions for applying Johnson's Anodyne Liniment to the bronchial tubes and nasal passages, to cure colds and bronchitis.

It is a well-know fact, as many persons can testify, that this old-fashioned remedy will stop inflammation and swelling, quicker than any other medicine.

The Laugh of the Season.

Laughter and merriment will reign at Music hall next Monday evening, the 23d inst., the occasion being the second presentation in Portsmouth of the famous humorous play, conceded to be the funniest of modern farcical comedies, "Skipped by the Light of the Moon." It is safe to say that all who fail to see this performance will miss one of the greatest treats of the season. The New York Telegram says:

"That the piece is funny must not be even hinted; for the word funny does not fill the bill or describe the play. It is a phantasmagoria of mirth, a regular emporium of laughing gas. Morever, it is performed with a slap, dash and rush that are captivating and infectious. One has scarcely time to breathe between laughs, and naught is left in the minds of the spectators an hour after the performance, except the recurrent echo of uncontrollable laughter."

The Boston & Maine railroad has reduced the rates for scholars' tickets to half price.

HAMPTON, April 16th.

On Fast day union services were held in the Methodist church, and many people labored as usual, no one could ride for pleasure, and playing ball and gunning were the chief sports; a large number of persons attended the ball in the evening.

The grammar and primary schools commenced to-day, with some changes of teachers; much disatisfaction is expressed among parents in regard to the new system, on account of children being obliged to walk so far.

Mr. Joseph P. Brown was the grand juror at court from this town; he is a fine young man, strictly temperate, and is the youngest of our selectmen. While taking the inventory cider was offered them at some places, but Mr. Brown refused it, showing his strength of mind and character.

For some weeks past a disease has been prevailing among the horses at the milk stable, one having died.

Those of our citizens who heard Mrs. Livermore at Exeter were highly pleased, and efforts will soon be made to secure her services for a temperance lecture here.

It is estimated that four hundred people attended the Easter concert at the Congregational church; this society voted to hire Rev. J. A. Ross for the next fifteen months.

At the steam mill 13,000 feet of lumber were sawed one day last week. At the mill of W. Drake most of the logs are sawed; the average of shingles sawed are 6,000 per day.

A widow lady who had some twenty shoe factory boarders, recently discharged them all, as after being paid off they made Saturday night and Sunday rather unpleasant for all in that locality. There are many instances where liquor is bought to drink on the Sabbath, and there has been in this small town more abuse to women than ought to be tolerated. Some mothers with children have the past winter fled to their neighbors for safety in the night.

We bid winter a kind farewell,
And welcome the lovely spring
That decks each mountain, hill and dell,
While the air with melodies ring.

THE American people are quick to appreciate a good article, which accounts for their consuming over twenty millions of cakes of Ivory Soap the past year. Its sterling merits and moderate cost establish it permanently in every household where once tried.

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

A band of "White Caps" made a raid on the night of the 14th inst. in the country back of New Albany, Ind. They visited the house of a Mrs. Jones, a widow, and whipped soundly her three boys because they would not work, but left their mother to support the family. Then they visited a Mr. Wright, whom they warned to leave the state, and a lawyer from Leavenworth who had been paying attentions to Mrs. Jones' daughter, threatening the latter with tar and feathers unless he left for home within half an hour. He went at once.

Roused from Inaction,

The precursor of their disease and destruction, the kidneys and bladder healthfully stimulated and toned with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, actively resume their functions. Thus Bright's disease, diabetes, catarrh of the bladder and enuresis are prevented. For irritating diuretics, and those unmedicated and fiery stimulants which, used even in moderation, excite both the renal and vesical organs, this is the best possible substitute. It is of botanic composition, and so congenial to the stomach, the digestive processes of which it helps in no ordinary degree, that it is promptly assimilated by the system, and its tonic effects are speedily felt. Not only does it remedy inactivity of the kidneys, but renews a regular habit of body, promotes a due secretion and healthy flow of bile into the proper channels, and expels from the circulation acrid principles productive of rheumatism and gout. It is also the leading specific for malarial complaints.

W. H. Hawley, a prominent druggist of Danbury, Conn., fatally shot his brother-in-law, Virgil Barnum, April 17th.

If they were not reliable and effective, people wouldn't use so many of them—Hop Plasters.

At Jackson, Mo., April 16th, D. A. Hoffman's house was burned, and three of his children perished, the father and three other children being badly injured.

A perfectly sound body and a mind unimpaired are possible only with pure blood. Leading medical authorities indorse Ayer's Sarsaparilla as the best blood purifying medicine in existence. It vastly increases the working and productive powers of both brain and hand.

Dr. Agnew, the celebrated physician of New York, died on the 18th inst.

The body is more susceptible to benefit from Hood's Sarsaparilla now than at any other season. Therefore take it now.

F. G. Perry, one of the new Burlington engineers, shot Chris Hester, a striker, on the night of the 16th inst., while defending himself from the assault of a mob at Aurora, Ill.

I have been troubled with catarrh for the past ten years and have tried a number of remedies, but found no relief until I purchased a bottle of Ely's Cream Balm I consider it the most reliable preparation for catarrh and cold in the head.—Geo. E. Crandall, P. M., Quonochawntaug, Rhode Island.

I was troubled with catarrh for seven years previous to commencing the use of Ely's Cream Balm, some five months ago. It has done for me what other so-called cures failed to do—cured me. The effect of the Balm seemed magical. —Clarence L. Huff, Biddeford, Me.,

Negotiations in relation to the Behring sea seal fisheries have been resumed in London.

We recommend Carter's Iron Pills to every woman who is weak, nervous and discouraged; particularly those who have thin, pale lips, cold hands and feet, and who are without strength or ambition. These are the classes for which Carter's Iron Pills are specially prepared, and this class cannot use them without benefit. Valuable for men also. In metal boxes, at 50 cents. Sold by druggists or sent by mail. See advertisement elsewhere.

One hundred acres of land at Camden, Me., have been sold for summer resort purposes.

That Tired Feeling

Afflicts nearly every one in the spring. The system having become accustomed to the bracing air of winter, is weakened by the warm days of the changing season, and readily yields to attacks of disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine needed. It tones and builds up every part of the body, and also expels all impurities from the blood. Try it this season.

A Sensible Man

Would use Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs. It is curing more cases of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup and all Throat and Lung troubles than any other medicine. The proprietor has authorized any druggist to give you a sample bottle free to convince you of the merit of this great remedy. Large bottles 50c. and $1.

A VICTIM OF COCAINE

Gives His Experience with the Fascinating Drug—Nursed Back to Health.

Dr. Charles D. Bradley's name first came into undesirable prominence in November, 1885, when he was arrested charged with being insane through excessive indulgence in morphine and cocaine, the latter a powerful narcotic of which up to that time little had been heard. He was taken before Judge Freudergast, was declared to be insane, and given a sentence of three months in the Washingtonian home. After a fortnight's stay at the home Dr. Bradley went to Canada, his old home, where he gave himself up entirely to the demands of the drug, the fascination of which completely enthralled him. Practice and home were gone, and he gave free rein to his vice. He returned to Chicago and was sent to the insane asylum, where a complete cure was effected, and he resumed his practice, only to find himself deserted by his clients and his reputation impaired.

Consolation for the reverses came with cocaine, to which he again became a victim, and there were months when he absolutely lived in the state of mind it produced, securing it by hook or crook until his last possession was gone and his family beggared.

The physician went to the gutter, and a year ago was begging for cocaine at drug stores or securing it by fictitious orders on druggists. Then he disappeared. He was occasionally heard from in Canada and the east until last fall, when the papers recorded his arrest in New York city for endeavoring to obtain a supply of cocaine by representing himself as a messenger sent from one physician to another. In the police court the gaunt, emaciated, ragged man told his story of want and woe, and the causes which brought them about. At that time he was using sixty grains of cocaine a day. He was sent to Bellevue hospital to die. There he was found by the manager of the Christian home, where he was nursed back to mental and physical vigor.

Dr. Bradley was reluctant to dwell on the episodes thus briefly given, but conversed freely on other circumstances of his life.

"Until 1885 there was nothing to dim my prospects," said Dr. Bradley. "It was in that year that cocaine was first brought to notice through a German physician, but it was only known as a practical anæsthetic in operation by oculists. There was no method known for using it for other purposes. It was the first man to discover that it could be otherwise used—in fact, to take the place of ether or chloroform. That discovery, so important to the world, was most unfortunate for me. When I announced my discovery physicians laughed and declared I was crazy. I wrote a letter to Mayor Harrison asking him to appoint a medical commission to inquire into the value of my discovery, which was the administration of cocaine hypodermically. I first utilized my discovery by testing it on a cat. I dissected a leg of a cat, exposing tissues and muscles, and kept the animal on my desk for hours watching the circulation. There was no pain, the drug exercising a soothing effect.

"Next I began experimenting on myself. I found that the anæsthetic influence of cocaine is limited. I experimented on myself again and again to see just how far this limit extended, and learned just where, when and how to give injections. Physicians then believed that the effects of the drug were similar to those of morphine. To disprove this I tried actual cautery by applying to my body red hot irons, but I felt no pain, and there was not the slightest sensation as the flesh withered under the heated irons. For three months every day for a half hour I experimented with the drug, and often passed several hours of the night in its study before a mirror, watching its effect on myself. But I never realized that it was obtaining a mastery over me. Its fascinating powers were unknown to the profession. I was thunderstruck when I found that the drug was absolutely necessary to my mind and body. I believe I could have conquered the habit then were it not for a misunderstanding with the man from whom I rented my home. He wanted his house, and when I refused to vacate it my weakness was made a point by which I was dragged into an insane court. Persecution and publicity drove me to desperate extremes. At the Washingtonian home no one knew how to treat my disease. Everybody knows the rest—how I went to the gutter and lost everything."

"With all your experience with cocaine, how do you now regard it?" asked the reporter.

"I think it is a grand drug, with remarkable properties, and destined to take the place of ether and chloroform. It can be used without danger of death. It produces no nausea or prostration. It is a great specific for nervous diseases, for certain diseases of the spine, for paralysis, for tetanus, hydrophobia and other convulsive diseases. It will unite with other anti-spasmodics and intensify their action. I think I know more about cocaine than most men, but I have no comprehensive idea of its possibilities. Scientists are only in the experimental stage with it."

"What are the effects of the drug?"

"To begin with, it is like the effects of any stimulant at certain stages, but it is not stupefying, as is opium. The person taking it has a feeling that everything is lovely and serene, of perfect contentment and universal satisfaction. All things seem perfect. There are none of the frightful illusions which come from liquor or other stimulants. Excessive quantities, though, cause great irritability. The duration of the effect is about two hours, and is succeeded by a feeling of depression and exhaustion. But there is none of the disturbance of the mind or

BILIOUSNESS.

This very common complaint, which is caused by a dormant or inactive liver, can be cured in a short time by using Ingalls' Mandrake Compound, as can also the various diseases arising from inactive liver or kidneys. These organs, if inactive, will allow impure blood to enter the heart, causing tightness about that organ and palpitation.

She suffered thirty years.

MRS. DUDLEY CHANDLER, of Melrose, Mass., says: "I had suffered with Palpitation of the Heart more than thirty years before I found anything to give me essential relief. Last fall I tried Ingalls' Mandrake Compound, and, remarkable as it was, this Compound relieved me in two days, so that for several months afterwards I felt not the slightest touch of it, and am perfectly free from it now. Sometimes, before I took this Compound, the pulsations of my heart were so violent as to shake my whole body with rapid agitations, and at times I fainted and became entirely insensible. Now I am perfectly free from all this suffering. Consequently I can most sincerely and carefully recommend this Compound to all like sufferers, as pre-eminently the best medicine I ever knew for Palpitation of the Heart."

This Compound is purely Vegetable, and strengthens and builds up the system while it eradicates disease.

Ingalls' Mandrake Compound is sold by all Druggists. Price $1; six bottles for $5. Prepared only by the INGALLS MEDICAL CO., Lowell, Mass.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS

The earliest organ was introduced in its present form by Mason & Hamlin in 1861. Other makers followed in the manufacture of these instruments, but the Mason & Hamlin Organs have always maintained their supremacy as the best in the world.

$22 TO $900.

Mason & Hamlin offer, as demonstration of the unequalled excellence of their organs, the fact that at all the great World's Exhibitions, since that of Paris, 1867, in competition with best makers of all countries, they have invariably taken the highest honors. Illustrated catalogues free.

PIANOS

Mason & Hamlin do not hesitate to make the extraordinary claim for their pianos, that they are superior to all GRAND & UPRIGHT pianos of other makers. They recognize the high excellence achieved by other leading makers in the art of piano building, but still claim superiority. This they attribute solely to the remarkable improvement introduced by them in the year 1882, and now known as the "MASON & HAMLIN PIANO STRINGER," by the use of which is secured the greatest possible purity and refinement of tone, together with greatly increased capacity for standing in tune, and other important advantages.

A circular, containing testimonials from three hundred purchasers, with full information, sent, together with descriptive catalogue, to any applicant.

Spring Medicine.

The necessity of a spring medicine is almost universally admitted. And the superiority of Hood's Sarsaparilla for this purpose becomes more and more widely known every year. That power to purify the blood, and those elements of strength and health which the system craves, and to which it is so susceptible at this season, are possessed by this peculiar medicine in a pre-eminent degree. Scrofula, pimples, boils, or any humor, billiousness, dyspepsia, sick headache, catarrh, rheumatism, or any diseases or affections caused or promoted by impure blood or low state of the system, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Try the peculiar medicine.

William Fields of Boston fell from a train on the North Pennsylvania road in Philadelphia and had both legs cut off, receiving fatal injuries.

10 x 1—10.

How true it is that the little things of life multiply rapidly into more and greater. Especially is it true of the diseases which prey upon the human system. First, the blood becomes impure, then the liver becomes torpid and refuses to perform its functions; this causes a derangement of the stomach and other digestive organs. Dyspepsia, inaction, dizziness, and perhaps apoplexy may result. Ingalls' Mandrake Compound removes all humors and impurities from the blood, vitalizes the digestive organs, and gives tone and vigor to the whole system.

Death of Hon. Roscoe Conkling.

Hon. Roscoe Conkling died at his home in New York shortly before two o'clock on Wednesday morning, the 18th inst., in the 59th year of his age.

Of the Church Militant.

Capt. Maggie Cartwill of the Salvation Army at Nashua has gone to jail, where she will be confined thirty days on account of stubbornness. The army when out parading would stop on the streets, when a large crowd would gather and obstruct the thoroughfare. The police authorities repuested Capt. Cartwill to desist from holding her meetings in the street, but she did not do so, and was finally arrested. The court explained the law to her, and said that if she would confine her demonstrations on the streets to marching with flags, the complaint would be placed on file. The respondent declared that she would hold her meetings. She was fined $4 and costs, and ordered to be committed until the same was paid. Her friends were desirous of paying the amount, but she would not allow them to do it. Miss Cartwill is bright and active, and a Pennsylvanian by birth.

Affairs in Kittery.

THE KITTERY POINT, ME., April 17th.—The Kittery Fish Co. took in thirteen thousand pounds of fresh fish yesterday.

The schooner Dolphin, of Calais, while getting under way in the lower harbor Friday morning came down across the cutter's bow, and broke in two planks. She moved in on the flats and sent ashore for a man to repair the damage. Mr. John Lowry undertook the job, and in about ten minutes after he began work the staging gave way and he fell in. He was picked up, and after procuring dry clothes returned to his work.

The term of private school taught by Mrs. Marcia Frisbee at her home during the past weeks has closed. Mrs. Frisbee has a decided talent for teaching children, and the school was very pleasant and successful. She is gentle and refined in her ways, and parents may feel sure that the little ones intrusted to her care will learn nothing undesirable from their teacher in manners or speech.

Rev. C. M. Anderson, former pastor of the Freewill Baptist church of this place, passed Sunday in town. It seemed very natural to have him here, and the people were all glad to see him. Wednesday evening Mr. Wakely will be installed pastor of that church.

Next Sunday evening Elder Mugridge will conduct the services at the Christian chapel.

The schooner Katie Mitchell sailed for Bath this morning. The schooner Active sailed for Portland to-day.

The crocuses are in bloom, and the hyacinths are all budded.

Our young townsman, Fred S Dame, was at home Sunday. He is now working in Marblehead. He returned to his work Monday morning.

Mr. Frank Fuller, from No. 4 north, moved his family into Mr. S. S. Fletcher's house Saturday, where Mr. Albert Fernald recently moved out.

Miss Ethelyn Tobey is teaching the primary school in district No. 7.

Miss Annie McIntire is to teach the school in No. 4 north during the year.

Mrs. Fannie Sawyer has engaged to teach in district No. 6, spring and fall terms.

Miss Hattie Williams is expected home next Saturday for a short vacation.

Miss Cora Emery has recovered from her severe cold of last week.

Mr. Frederic Grace is improving daily. His physician pronounces him out of danger, and hopes for a speedy recovery.

A recent letter from Boon island tells of the severity of the storm of March 12th. The sea was heaviest on the east side of the island. The huge rock that was washed up in the storm of '51 was broken in pieces, and piled in winrows around the tog-bell. A part of the old lighthouse foundation was washed away, and a pile of wood prepared for summer use, containing about three cords, was scattered over the island. The wooden walk between the house and the boathouse was again washed away, and the old wreck was moved northward twenty feet. It is said if the sea had been as heavy on the south part of the island as it was on the east, no wooden buildings could have remained on the island. We have heard that steps are being taken by the government to have the wreck removed.

Last week was quite a festive week at the tollhouse, Kittery Point bridge. On Monday, April 9th, Mr. Charles Brooks, the keeper, celebrated his sixtieth birthday. Fifty or more of his friends and neighbors came in the evening, and among other gifts presented him with a nice armchair. Ice cream and cakes were served, and the evening was pleasantly and sociably spent. Thursday his good wife, Mrs. Joanna Brooks, took her turn, and celebrated her fifty-eighth birthday. Mrs. Brooks is a niece of Elder Mark Fernald. Her children and relatives gathered in the home and presented her with many beautiful gifts, among them a rocking chair. After another long-to-be-remembered evening the party separated, feeling much pleased with the celebrations. Mr. and Mrs. Brooks enjoyed the gatherings very much, and were highly pleased with their numerous gifts. We wish them many happy returns of the days. AUNT MOLLY.

We have received from Richard A. Saalfield, No. 41 Union square, New York, the following pieces of music: "Rockaby Lullaby," by Charles H. Williams. "The old Love Story," by Edwin Christie; a song written by the author of "Sweet Chiming Bells of Long ago." "White Sails in the Harbor," by J. P. Skelly; a splendid song and chorus. "Pretty as a Butterfly," (Schottische,) by Newcombe; an adaption of the popular song and dance "Pretty as a Butterfly." "Tripping through the Clover," (Polka,) by Ed. Holst. All the above retail for forty cents. Sent postpaid at half price, ($1.00 for the lot,) or twenty cents a piece by Richard A. Saalfield, No. 41 Union square, New York.

The Ministerial Association & Evangelical Alliance held a meeting at Montreal to protest against the erection of a statue of the Virgin Mary at Mount Royal. The project was strongly condemned.

General strikes of workmen are being arranged in German cities.

Want of Sleep

Is sending thousands annually to the insane asylum; and the doctors say this trouble is alarmingly on the increase. The usual remedies, while they may give temporary relief, are likely to do more harm than good. What is needed is an Alterative and Blood-purifier. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is incomparably the best. It corrects those disturbances in the circulation which cause sleeplessness, gives increased vitality, and restores the nervous system to a healthful condition.

Rev. T. G. A. Coté, agent of the Mass. Home Missionary Society, writes that his stomach was out of order, his sleep very often disturbed, and some impurity of the blood manifest; but after a perfect cure was obtained by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Frederick W. Pratt, 424 Washington street, Boston, writes: "My daughter was prostrated with nervous debility. Ayer's Sarsaparilla restored her to health."

William F. Bowker, Erie, Pa., was cured of nervousness and sleeplessness by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for about two months, during which time his weight increased over twenty pounds.

Louisiana had a state election on the 17th inst. Nicholls was the democratic candidate for governor, and Warmoth the republican candidate. The telegraphic returns from the northern parishes of the state say the negroes mostly voted the democratic ticket; that their votes will be counted for the democratic candidates; there can be no doubt, no matter how they voted. Nicholls is probably elected by whatever majority the managers consider necessary.

The liquor dealers of Tilton have promised to go out of the business, and in consequence the court let them off easily. Samuel T. Holmes paid $16.62; C. W. Kennison paid $75 on one indictment, four others being placed on file. John H. Rickert paid $5.79, as did C. P. Herrick, a druggist, and J. F. Bryant, a hotel keeper. Tilton will now be a thirsty land.

Were all wise enough to heed this advice in season, a world of suffering would be avoided. If you suffer from impure blood, scrofula, dyspepsia, biliousness, headache, take

March April May

Are the best months in which to purify your blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best blood purifier.

At no other season does the human system so much need the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla, as now. The impoverished condition of the blood, the weakening effects of the long, cold winter, the lost appetite, and that tired feeling, all make a good spring medicine absolutely necessary. Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiarly adapted for this purpose, and increases in popularity every year. It is the ideal spring medicine.

"I must say Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine I ever used. Last spring I had no appetite, and the least work I did fatigued me ever so much. I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon felt that I could do as much in a day as I had formerly done in a week. My appetite is voracious." MRS. M. V. BAYARD, Atlantic City, N. J.

N. B. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to buy any other.

GRAND SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

— TO THE —

People of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont.

The Atkinson House Furnishing Co., having completed their purchases for

THIS SPRING'S STOCK,

respectfully request a call from all those interested in the Furnishing and Beautifying their Homes. And we would further request that those near our Bangor Store, located on Union street, opposite the Bangor House, should call on our Manager, MR. A. J. MOREY. And those living on the line of the Knox & Lincoln R. R., in the vicinity of Rockland, we would respectfully request to call at our Store on Main street, formerly the old Linde Hotel, MR. W. A. KIMBALL, manager. And again, to those who are nearest our Auburn Store, located on Main street, MR. J. J. EMERSON the Manager, will attend to your every want in House Furnishings. And to those living at Kennebunk, Kennebunkport and Old Orchard, and towns adjacent to Biddeford, we would respectfully request them to call at our Store at the Corner of Alfred and Bacon streets, MR. HENRY P. ATKINSON, Manager. While to those who prefer to select from our Mammoth Stock, we would say come to our Store and Headquarters at the

Cor. of Middle and Pearl Streets.

In each of these Stores we carry complete lines of furnishings which we will sell for cash, or a quarter cash, and the balance by the week or month. Of course we prefer to make cash sales when we can, but at the same time it has always been our aim and object to satisfy everyone of our customers to the uttermost, whether they wished to buy for cash or otherwise. This is the House Cleaning season of the year. Old Carpets must give place to New, Old Chamber Sets should be replaced by those of later design. Parlor Suits that have been in use for some time are often moved into the sitting room, making room for the new Parlor Suit. That Range that you have been using for many years, perhaps takes more coal to run it to get the desired work from it than a new one would, consequently making you a loss every day. Now we will sell you from the very largest stocks at Lowest Prices than you can buy elsewhere, and we will sell them to you for cash or a quarter cash, and the balance by the week or month. Write for samples.

CARPETS,

Chamber Sets

We have an enormous quantity in each of our Stores. Ask your neighbors who have seen them, and they will testify to our almost endless variety, and we will Sell you Cheaper than you can buy elsewhere. We mean what we say, for all cash, quarter cash, or balance by the week or month. Write us for cuts, photographs and prices. Orders through the mail promptly attended to.

Parlor Suits

In all the Stores in Endless Variety, and a stock of 356 full Suits at our Headquarters. Prices from $31 to $400, all cash, or quarter cash, and balance by the week or month. Write us for photographs, cuts and prices.

KITCHEN RANGES

In all our Stores you will find the Quaker, New Tariff and First National, besides a test of others, but to those who wish a good range we recommend the Quaker and the New Tariff; also the First National, for a lower priced one. We have them all the way up to $50, and we sell you a range for cash, or for $10 down and the balance by the week or month. Do not delay ordering. We would rather have the range in your house than in our store house, and let you take your time to pay for it.

Window Shades and Drapery Curtains.

Lace Curtains all prices, kinds, qualities and styles. And everything to completely furnish a House, Hotel, Cottage, Church, Lodge Room or Club Room. Write us for cuts, catalogues and prices. And please do not forget that we handle the

Baldwin Refrigerator and Ice Chests,

besides other makes and kinds, but we prefer to sell the BALDWIN, as it has the Biggest Reputation of any Ice Chest or Refrigerator in the Market.

Write us for Cuts, Catalogues and Prices of this Celebrated Refrigerator, and do not delay buying because hot weather will be upon us, and you will regret it. And please remember that MR. MOREY, manager of the Bangor store; MR. KIMBALL, manager of the Rockland store; MR. EMERSON, manager of the Auburn store; and MR. ATKINSON, manager of the Biddeford store, will each show you a complete line of house furnishings and give you the same terms as would be given at the Headquarters at Portland. All goods will be delivered Freight Prepaid at your depot, and at each one of these stores you will receive the most Honorable Treatment Possible To Give A Customer, whether you wish to buy for cash, or part cash, and the balance on time.

Respectfully,

The Public's Obedient Servants,

The Atkinson House Furnishing COMPANY.

Headquarters Cor. Pearl and Middle Sts., Portland, and Branches as above quoted.

☞ Do not pay long prices when you can buy goods from us and save money. It costs you nothing to look, and very little to write. Consequently it is an easy matter to inform yourself.

ISAAC C. ATKINSON Gen. Manager.

State convention—Marcelius Eldredge, Samuel Spinney, William Conn, James A. Corey, Daniel Casey, George H. Sanderson.

First District Congressional convention—Henry R. Stoddard, F. W. Dennett, Michael Crowley, Thomas A. Ward, Isaac Furber, Ira C. Seymour.

"Beacon Lights."

This evening, in Music hall, the picturesque and romantic drama "Beacon Lights" will be presented for the first time in this city, with the same beautiful tropical scenery and elaborate appointments that were used in the big cities. The scene of the play is laid in Mexico, and the whole play is not given by one person, every character in the drama being essential to its completeness as a whole, requiring a strong company all through. The romantic and comedy elements are said to be nicely balanced, the plot consistent and well worked out, and the play in its entirety one of the very best of its kind. Tickets can be procured at Goodrich's.

Supreme Court, April Term.

The case of Daniel G. Neal vs. the town of Kensington was on trial Tuesday of this week; suit for damages for injuries alleged to be due to a defective highway. Marston & Eastman for pltf.; Wiggin and Frink for town. The jury viewed the locality Monday afternoon. The evidence was concluded Tuesday, the defendant calling no witnesses; the jury disagreed, and were discharged from further consideration of the case.

Sentences were imposed as follows: Samuel Truesdale of Hampton Falls, breaking and entering, one year in state prison; Edwin A. Chapman and Robert Gladden, of Newmarket, attempting to release a prisoner, three and four months in jail, respectively; Ora Keniston of Newmarket, three months in jail.

Cases of Lafayette Hall against a number of insurance companies, arising from the burning of his nut and bolt manufactory at Newmarket, will by agreement of counsel be tried by the court after the close of the term, the decision of the court to be final in all matters excepting such as in the opinion of the court should be determined by the full bench.

In Carkin vs. Carkin, Howard vs. Howard and Philbrick vs. Philbrick, libels for divorce on account of abandonment, decrees have been granted.

The trial of criminal cases commenced Wednesday, B. W. Richards' case being the first called.

Richards was first put on trial on a charge of polygamy, in having married Carrie Earing of this city, while at the same time he had a wife to whom he was previously married, and from whom he had never been divorced. Richards showed himself to be a man of unlimited "gall." [We do not like this slang expression, but no other term with which we are acquainted adequately expresses the meaning we desire to convey.] His wife, to whom he was married in Augusta, Me., in 1865, and who bore him two children before he deserted her, appeared against him, as did also the official who married them, the latter producing documentary evidence as to the date of the marriage, etc., but Mr. Richards coolly denied having ever seen either of them before. The proof of his marriage with Miss Earing was of course conclusive, and as his contradictory statements regarding himself would have justified the jury in finding him guilty of being the father of lies, they made short work of bringing in a verdict of guilty on the charge on which he was arraigned. He was then tried on an indictment for breaking and entering the harness shop of John S. Tilton in the daytime, and stealing therefrom, and was found guilty. For bigamy he was sentenced to three years in the state prison, and for burglary to five years, with hard labor.

Fred Harssogg and August Drager, two foreign-born seamen who while attached to coal steamers in this port broke into McLaughlin's saloon at the north end of Market street and stole a large quantity of liquors and cigars, were found guilty of grand larceny, and sentenced to three years each in state prison. Hodgdon for the defence.

Ministers' Meeting.

The Piscataqua Association of Congregational and Presbyterian ministers held their quarterly meeting in this city on the 17th inst. with Rev. W. A. McGinley of the North church, the assemblage gathering in the chapel on Middle street. The ministers present were Robie of Greenland, Haines of North Hampton, Rand of South Seabrook, Street and Byington of Exeter, Hall of Dover, Dutton of Great Falls, Lewis of South Berwick, Packard of Alton, Barnum of Durham, Stone of Plaistow, Thompson of Newington and Fitts of South Newmarket.

Ten students from the middle and senior classes of Andover seminary (including one Japanese, who passed an excellent examination,) were examined, and all were granted licenses to preach for three years.

An abundant collation was served by the ladies of the North church at noon; and in the evening a literary entertainment, with stereoptican views illustrative of the themes treated, was given in the chapel.

Rev. Edward Robie, D. D., of Greenland, who was present at the meeting, is the longest-settled Congregational minister in the state, his pastorate dating from Feb. 25th, 1852. Rev. William A. Rand of South Seabrook was installed Jan. 27th, 1867, and Rev. Thomas V. Haines of North Hampton was installed May 1st in the same year.

"Forgiven."

The New York Times says: "'Forgiven' has more distinct merit than is perceptible in most plays of the same type. Its story is told with simolicity and directness, its scenes are carried on amid such picturesque surroundings as never fail to gratefully impress the eye, and bits of comedy, of a kind that invariably appeals to a popular assemblage, alternate with pathos that stirs with unfailing swiftness the emotion of the throng. * As Jack Diamond, Mr. Bryton appealed to the sympathies of all. He was recalled at the end of each act, and recalled with a heartiness and spontaneity which were unmistakable."

At Music hall on Friday evening, April 20th; tickets at Goodrich's.

Personal.

Col. Charles A. Sinclair started on Wednesday, the 18th, on a trip to Florida, to be absent a week or ten days.

George W. Haven, Esq., and wife, have returned from a visit of several weeks to their son, Dr. George Haven, in Boston.

Ezra H. Winchester, Esq., of this city, is mentioned as a candidate for the republican nomination for governor of New Hampshire. We doubt if he would accept a nomination, although it would be equivalent to an election.

Mrs. Carrie N. Hodgdon, wife of Mr. William A. Hodgdon, and daughter of Mr. Moses Yeaton, a very estimable lady, died at her home on State street April 18th, after a long and patiently borne illness.

Col. Marvin, as state agent of the N. H. S. P. C. A., a few days ago prosecuted a Frenchman named LeFavre, and living in East Kingston, for cruelly beating a balky horse. The accused was taken before Justice Shute, adjudged guilty, and paid a fine and costs amounting to $20.

Camphor for packing at Preston's. Clean paint easily with Preston's Family Ammonia.

The May party for the benefit of the Children's Home is to be one of the festival events of the season. Some striking novelties will be introduced. A meeting of the committee will be held this evening to complete the general details of what will be the queen of any May party ever presented in our city.

There is no work on the navy yard today, on account of it being Fast day in Maine.

Mr. James R. Yeaton, of Oak Hill farm, Richards avenue, has this week planted early peas. Mr. Yeaton generally gets his vegetables on the market about as early as anybody in this section.

The riggers' gang at the navy yard are now engaged on the rigging of the Constellation, and work on her will be pushed to get her ready for the practice cruise of the Annapolis cadets this summer.

The social assembly at Franklin hall which was postponed from Thursday evening, April 12th, on account of the Athletic club ball taking place there that evening, will be given to-night.

All the new shades of Dress Goods are now in stock, at Lewis E. Staple's, No. 7 Market street.

Mr. George F. Wallis has removed his bakery to next store above the former location.

Members of the Music hall orchestra have been engaged to furnish music at the Farragut house, Rye beach, during the coming season.

Entertainment and supper in Rechabite hall this evening by Strawberry Bank Lodge of Good Templars; admission (including supper) fifteen cents.

Maragaret Mather will play in Music hall on Wednesday evening, April 25th.

Maggie Mitchell will play in Music hall on Saturday evening, April 28th.

The three children of Passed Assistant Surgeon Archur C. Heffenger, United States navy, were christened at his residence on Austin street, Wednesday afternoon, April 18th, by Rev. Henry E. Hovey, rector of St. John's church.

About twenty-five men were engaged in working on the improvements of Sagamore road on Wednesday.

Persons bound to or from Rye should not forget that Sagamore bridge is closed to travel from now until further notice. Lafayette road is the route between this city and Rye now.

Mr. Charles A. Grant, landlord of the Sea Cottage, York beach, ploughed the ground for his early peas and other vegetables on Monday of this week.

The Boston base ball club will play their first League game at Philadelphia on the 21st inst., and will not return to Boston until May 28th, when the first League game will be played in that city.

Maritime Notes.

The Canadian parliament on the 17th inst. ratified the fisheries treaty.

The United States senate committee on foreign relations on the 18th decided to report the fisheries treaty adversely.

The U. S. S. Swatara dropped down from the navy yard to the lower harbor at noon on Wednesday, the 18th, to take in her powder. The official board of inspection, of which Rear Adm. Jouett is president, will arrive here this forenoon to make the final inspection before the vessel goes to sea.

Schooner Modesty, from New Bedford for Philadelphia, arrived below the latter port on the 17th with her bowsprit and part of her port rail gone.

nervous system that follows drunkenness. The victim loses all strength after each indulgence, and there lies the chief danger in using cocaine. It weakens the action of the heart, making sudden strains or excitements dangerous, as was exemplified in the sudden death of a physician, who engaged in a quarrel with a barber last year and fell dead during the quarrel. He used cocaine. The effects of the habit are degrading. It will deaden a man's perception of right, just the same as whisky, and pull a victim down to the lowest depths of low cunning and viciousness."—Chicago News.

"If solid happiness we prize," says the poet Cotton, "within our breast this jewel lies," but if we have a cold there, the happiness can only be secured by using Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

Corea is taken to task by China for its manner of sending an accredited minister to Washington.

A Sight Worth Seeing.

Probably few persons ever saw the breathing apparatus of a human being laid open for inspection. From a hospital cadaver, we once saw the lungs and bronchial tubes removed, and blown up as a boy would a bladder or toy balloon, until the fine bronchial tubes and air cells of the lungs were distended to their fullest extent. In this state the lungs were hardened by immersion in alcohol, so that they remained expanded when the air was let free. With a sharp knife the wind-pipe and lungs were split open, so that it was easy to trace the bronchial tubes gradually diminishing in size from the wind-pipe itself, becoming finer and more delicately branched, until finer than small sewing cotton, these tiny bronchi lead into the air-cells beyond, to convey air to sustain life.

Truly a wonderful sight, which we have often recalled during the past winter as we read of the great number of deaths from pneumonia and bronchitis. Nearly 250 deaths in Boston in the month of January.

It seems impossible to most people, that so simple and common a disease as bronchitis, should cause death at all. But think for a moment, what would happen if the lining membrane of those tiny tubes described above should become much swollen by inflammation, which is likely to occur after any severe cold. The passage of air to the lung cells would be stopped, and the patient die from suffocation, as certainly as if a giant grasped his throat.

People should not overlook the irritation or "tickling in the throat," which causes a "hacking cough." Sure symptoms of bronchitis. The irritation being caused from inflammation inside of the wind-pipe, it is useless to take medicines into the stomach to cure it; one might as well eat tallow to cure chapped hands.

The interior mucous membrane of the wind-pipe must be properly treated, to prevent the downward spread of the inflammation, and effect a cure. On page twelve of a pamphlet published by I. S. Johnson & Co., Boston, Mass., is printed plain directions for applying Johnson's Anodyne Liniment to the bronchial tubes and nasal passages, to cure colds and bronchitis.

It is a well-know fact, as many persons can testify, that this old-fashioned remedy will stop inflammation and swelling, quicker than any other medicine.

I consider Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry the most reliable preparation in the market for the cure of coughs, colds and diseases of the throat, lungs and chest. I have sold thousands of bottles, and, so far as I know, it has always given satisfaction. I. N. Thron, Brattleboro, Vt.

Mrs. Ellen Bergen was burned to death in her home in Boston on the 17th by a kerosene lamp explosion.

Statistics show that more people die of consumption than from any other cause. Slight colds are the true seeds of consumption. Beware of the slightest cough. Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam stands without a peer.

A Great Surprise

Is in store for all who use Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs, the great guaranteed remedy. Would you believe that it is sold on its merits and that any druggist is authorized by the proprietor of this wonderful remedy to give you a sample bottle free? It never fails to cure acute or chronic coughs. All druggists sell Kemp's Balsam. Large bottles 50c. and $1. tap28 honestly admit that they can't cure Rheumatism and Neuralgia. Others say they can but—don't. Athlophoros says nothing but—cures. That's the secret of its success. Years of trial have proved it to be a quick, safe, sure cure.

SOME DOCTORS

Concord, N. H., Sept. 2, 1887.

In my own family Athlophoros was used as a last resort, the latter having suffered from rheumatism for years and having been treated by the best skill by different physicians in this State and Massachusetts without even temporary relief. Upon my recommendation scores of people have used this remedy with the same results claimed for it. C. H. WILSON.

THE JOB PRINTING

Business is conducted in the same office by RICHARD I. WALDEN, who keeps on hand a large and well-selected stock of all materials required in his line. Give him a trial and you will be more than pleased.

If they were not reliable and effective, people wouldn't use so many of them—Hop Plasters.

Two women in a Corsican village, between whom a bitter hatred had long existed, recently fought out their quarrel in a duel with stilettos. When the word was given they flew at each other like fiends and plied their weapons with mad energy. After a short struggle one of them fell, pierced through the heart.

A perfectly sound body and a mind unimpaired are possible only with pure blood. Leading medical authorities indorse Ayer's Sarsaparilla as the best blood purifying medicine in existence. It vastly increases the working and productive powers of both brain and hand.

Bradlaugh, the great English radical, has been mulcted in $1500 damages in a suit for libel.

The body is more susceptible to benefit from Hood's Sarsaparilla now than at any other season. Therefore take it now.

Forty thousand alien Jews have been expelled from the Russian province of Kherson.

I have been troubled with catarrh for the past ten years and have tried a number of remedies, but found no relief until I purchased a bottle of Ely's Cream Balm I consider it the most reliable preparation for catarrh and cold in the head.—Geo. E. Crandall, P. M., Quonochawntaug, Rhode Island.

I was troubled with catarrh for seven years previous to commencing the use of Ely's Cream Balm, some five months ago. It has done for me what other so-called cures failed to do—cured me. The effect of the Balm seemed magical. —Clarence L. Huff, Biddeford, Me.,

The New York assembly has passed a bill to incorporate the Webb Academy and Home for Indigent Shipbuilders, to be located in New York city. It is said that Mr. Webb proposes to endow the institution with a sum not less than $1,500,000.

We recommend Carter's Iron Pills to every woman who is weak, nervous and discouraged; particularly those who have thin, pale lips, cold hands and feet, and who are without strength or ambition. These are the classes for which Carter's Iron Pills are specially prepared, and this class cannot use them without benefit. Valuable for men also. In metal boxes, at 50 cents. Sold by druggists or sent by mail. See advertisement elsewhere.

The health of New York compares very unfavorably with that of London. The annual mortality in the British metropolis is about 26 in 1000, while in New York it is 26 in 1000. The population of New York is also much more crowded, there being an average of sixteen persons to a dwelling, while in London it is only seven.

I consider Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry the most reliable preparation in the market for the cure of coughs, colds and diseases of the throat, lungs and chest. I have sold thousands of bottles, and, so far as I know, it has always given satisfaction. I. N. Thron, Brattleboro, Vt.

The Hampton Normal and Agricultural Institute at Hampton, Va., has issued cards giving the exercises for its anniversary week. There will be a May Day celebration on May 21st., a temperance mass meeting on the 22d, with an address by Rev. J. C. Price of Salisbury, N. C., and on the 25th is class day.

That Tired Feeling

Affects nearly every one in the spring. The system having become accustomed to the bracing air of winter, is weakened by the warm days of the changing season, and readily yields to attacks of disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine needed. It tones and builds up every part of the body, and also expels all impurities from the blood. Try it this season.

A Sensible Man

Would use Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs. It is curing more cases of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup and all Throat and Lung troubles than any other medicine. The proprietor has authorized any druggist to give you a sample bottle free to convince you of the merits of this great remedy. Large bottles 50c. and $1.

A SCIENTIST'S WARNING.

"We are startled constantly by the sudden death of some man who seemed the picture of health. He thought he was well. He had felt strange pains shooting through his body, but as they did not remain, he forgot them. His head pained him periodically, he was somewhat paler than common and unaccountably tired, but he felt comparatively well and vigorous. And yet, he suddenly died! Its a shame to our boasted civilization."

"Look at the list of women who die in childbirth, and why is it? Simply because their maternal organs have been so weakened by the most terrible of diseases that they cannot withstand the fearful, sudden strain that is brought to bear upon them. How many women escape monthly agonies? And yet nature never intended that pain or inconvenience should attend the operation of her natural laws. The solemn and terrible fact is, that men and women drag along, die, and are buried, and their friends and the doctors say heart disease, apoplexy, pneumonia, congestion, convulsions, when the cause lay far back of all these things. The truth is that weakened kidneys are the cause of most of our troubles. The great question, therefore, is: 'How shall I preserve my kidneys, or, if diseased, how can they be restored?' I have seen numbers of cases and learned from unquestionable sources of many others, where the preparation, Hunt's Remedy, has been almost remarkable in its results. I use it freely among my patients, and shall continue to do so. It is a wonderful and invaluable remedy."

The remarks of the learned doctor should be carefully considered, and acted upon by all who desire long life, and freedom from pain and the danger of sudden death.

ADAMSON'S BOTANIC COUGH BALSAM

More than twenty years ago Adamson's Botanic Balsam was introduced generally throughout New England as a remedy for Coughs, Colds and Pulmonary complaints. Since its introduction it has constantly won its way into public favor, until now it is the universal decision that ADAMSON'S BOTANIC BALSAM is the best remedy for curing Coughs, Colds and Asthma.

NEW YORK FASHION LETTER.

MILLINERY—METAL—MATERIALS—FLOWERS—UNIFORMITY—PARASOLS.

Darkness is prominent in millinery. The light colors appropriate to summer have given way to metal effects, mahogany or green. Lighter tones, of course, are not excluded; some few bonnets are white, others show the natural yellow of the straw, and in trimming there is a small complement of pale yellow, pink or blue. But in trimming, it is an eternal repetition of mahogany and green, varied by green and mahogany, while a lurid and quite unsummer-like glare is cast by the brilliant copper shades. Foliage is extremely fashionable, because green. The monotony of deep tones indeed would be almost unbroken were it not for small white or pale tinted flowers, which are placed in bouquet or coronet style, or sometimes outlining crowns, while dressy bonnets are made entirely of them. Medium-sized flowers are not excluded, however, and here the choice lies among chrysanthemums and asters.

MATERIALS.

Net, tulle or crepe lisse are much used in the way of material, the last named usually brought out in narrow plaitings and often embroidered on the edges; the two former frequently combined with metal galoons, but the field of metal trimming once entered on, the prospect grows illimitable. Metal laces form whole bonnets, or are placed, in trimming; handsome bonnets are made entirely of metal braid, while metal in beads and spangles glitters as gilt, steel or silver, or in varied colors of the day. Metal foliage and flowers, (chiefly gilt) are in extraordinary favor, and serve to illumine with weird result the rich darkness of the Oriental colors so prominently brought forward. Bright red bonnets are seen in straw, but especially of net or tulle, usually, with red flowers in finish, and with or without red net or tulle strings. Tulle strings are quite a feature in general, and tied in a large bow, are becoming enough to delicate faces.

UNIFORMITY

Is very noticeable, and each part of the costume conforms to other parts. Thus even in gloves and hoisery, the green and mahogany shades are conspicuous, because so constantly recurring elsewhere, while there is a modicum of Gobelin blue. But tan or gray gloves are as formerly, or may match tan or gray costumes. In view moreover ot the dark colors in hoisery, to say nothing of black, which remains stylish, the Newport tie in shoes will be much worn because of greater coolness. In answer to inquiries, I can repeat just here also what I think has been stated in one of my former letters, that Button's Raven Gloss comes first as a shoe dressing, and ladies should insist upon having this article. It does not give quite so high a polish as other preparations, being an oil dressing, but it imparts to the boot or shoe the original appearance as when taken from the store, at the same time preserving the leather, and hence is economical.

PARASOLS.

In the Drown style, which leads, plaids are very conspicuous, being really a leading feature. Stripes, whether shaded or otherwise, are also in great favor, but of course there are plain varieties in stylish colors, not excepting green. Eight ribs are conspicuous and about twenty-two inches the accepted size, ferules long, and handles of carved wood, or ornamented with inlaid ivory or oxydized silver.

LUCY CARTER.

We have received from Richard A. Saalfield, No. 41 Union square, New York, the following pieces of music: "Rockaby Lullaby," by Charles H. Williams. THE MOST WONDERFUL FAMILY REMEDY EVER KNOWN.

Paine's Celery Compound

WEAK NERVES — Paine's Celery Compound is a Nerve Tonic which never fails. Contained in Celery and Coca, those wonderful nerve stimulants, it speedily cures all nervous disorders.

RHEUMATISM — Paine's Celery Compound purifies the blood. It drives out the lactic acid, which causes Rheumatism, and restores the blood-making organs to a healthy condition. It is the true remedy for Rheumatism.

KIDNEY COMPLAINTS — Paine's Celery Compound quickly restores the liver and kidneys to perfect health. This emulsive power, combined with its nerve tonics, makes it the best remedy for all kidney complaints.

DYSPEPSIA — Paine's Celery Compound strengthens the stomach, and quiets the nerves of the digestive organs. This is why it cures even the worst cases of Dyspepsia.

CONSTIPATION — Paine's Celery Compound is not a cathartic, but a laxative, giving easy and natural action to the bowels. Regularity surely follows its use.

BILIOUSNESS.

This very common complaint, which is caused by a dormant or inactive liver, can be cured in a short time by using Ingalls' Mandrake Compound, as can also the various diseases arising from inactive liver or kidneys. These organs, if inactive, will allow impure blood to enter the heart, causing tightness about that organ and palpitation.

She suffered thirty years.

Mrs. DUDLEY CHANDLER, of Melrose, Mass., says: "I had suffered with Palpitation of the Heart more than thirty years before I found anything to give me essential relief. Last fall I tried Ingalls' Mandrake Compound, and, remarkable as it was, this Compound relieved me in two days, so that for several months afterwards I felt not the slightest touch of it, and am perfectly free from it now. Sometimes, before I took this Compound, the pulsations of my heart were so violent as to shake my whole body with rapid agitations, and at times I fainted and became entirely insensible. Now I am perfectly free from all this suffering. Consequently I can most sincerely and earnestly recommend this Compound to all like sufferers, as pre-eminently the best medicine I ever knew for Palpitation of the Heart."

This Compound is purely Vegetable, and strengthens and builds up the system while it eradicates disease.

Ingalls' Mandrake Compound is sold by all Druggists. Price $1; six bottles for $5. Prepared only by the INGALLS MEDICAL CO., Lowell, Mass.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS. The cabinet organ was invented in its present form by Mason & Hamlin in 1861 (other makers followed in the manufacture $22 TO $900. In these instruments, but the Mason & Hamlin Organs have always maintained their supremacy as the best in the world.

Mason & Hamlin offer, as demonstration of the unequaled excellence of their organs, the fact that at all the great World's Exhibitions, since that of Paris, 1867, in competition with best makers of all countries, they have invariably taken the highest honors. Illustrated catalogues free.

PIANOS. Mason & Hamlin do not hesitate to make the extraordinary claim for their pianos, that they are superior to all GRAND & UPRIGHT others. They recognize the high excellence achieved by other leading makers in the art of piano building, but still claim superiority. This they attribute solely to the remarkable improvement introduced by them in the year 1882, and now known as the "MASON & HAMLIN PIANO STRINGS," by the use of which is secured the greatest possible purity and refinement of tone, together with greatly increased capacity for standing in tune, and other important advantages.

A circular, containing testimonials from three hundred purchasers, musicians and tuners, sent, together with descriptive catalogue, to any applicant.

How true it is that the little things of life multiply rapidly into more and greater. Especially is it true of the diseases which prey upon the human system. First, the blood becomes impure, then the liver becomes torpid and refuses to perform its functions; this causes a derangement of the stomach and other digestive organs. Dyspepsia, inaction, dizziness, and perhaps apoplexy may result. Ingalls' Mandrake Compound removes all humors and impurities from the blood, vitalizes the digestive organs, and gives tone and vigor to the whole system.

At Augusta, Me., April 18th, the jury in the case of young Beal, indicted for the murder of his father by poison, after being out two hours returned a verdict of "guilty of murder in the first degree." Those who had watched the case all through did not expect such a verdict.

Able Counters.

The democratic counters in the negro parishes of Louisiana have rather overdone the business in their eagerness to obey the order sent out by Gov. McEnery over his own signature just previous to the election, to the effect that "Warmoth is developing too much strength; see to it that your parish is returned strongly democratic at all hazards." They have rolled up a majority of 80,000 for Nicholls already, and are likely to make a million of it if the managers don't stop them.

To the Boys of New England.

BOSTON, April 19.—All the boys in New England who take any interest in ball playing will want a copy of the next Boston Sunday Globe, which will contain an article that will tell you how the game should be played to win. This article will be written by the following: Clarkson on pitching, Bushong on catching, Radford on right fielding, Hornung on left fielding, Morrill on first base, Richardson on second base, Pickney on the third base, Irwin on the short stop, Hanlon on centre fielding, and Ferguson on umpiring. If you want to know how to play ball read what these famous players say.

Another View of the Matter.

The Providence Journal says: "The striking employes of Mr. Carnegie's Braddock Steel Works have allowed themselves to be forced into a very inconsistent position. Mr. Carnegie recently gave notice that the condition of business would necessitate a reduction of wages. As his men at once showed symptoms of striking he submitted to them a proposition to join him in running the works on the co-operative principle, the employes sharing almost the entire profits of the business. The men, who are Knights of Labor, rejected the offer, and Mr. Carnegie at once ordered the works closed. This threw 5000 men out of work, and practically smothered the whole business of the village. The rejection of the proposition is a virtual acknowledgment of their belief that the earnings of the works do not justify an increase in wages. Mr. Carnegie has declared his readiness to shut down for any length of time. The objectionable feature in the proposition, the workmen claim, is the provision for twelve hours work, and the inconsistency of the men is here shown again, for some time ago they were allowed the privilege of working twelve hours if they cared to, at extra rates per hour. They all worked twelve hours. Rev. Mr. Hickey, whose church most of the strikers attend, told the men from his pulpit Sunday that they were commiting suicide, and he denounced the labor leaders in the severest terms. "When you are hungry," he said, "and see your wife starving and a loaf of bread is held up to you, an officer comes along and says; 'You know the sign and the grip, and, I tell you, you cannot touch that loaf. Let your wife suffer hunger if you belong to our union.' Where is the liberty that you left the old country to seek? Have you no reason? Having enslaved yourselves you must take the consequence. You no longer belong to your father or mother or wife. You cannot make money, although there is the work and there is the money. Why do you join the union that takes your money and gives you nothing in return?" Father Hickey's advice is not just like that administered by Mr. Powderly a short time ago, but the Braddock strikers might do well to heed it."

A Sight Worth Seeing.

Probably few persons ever saw the breathing apparatus of a human being laid open for inspection. From a hospital cadaver, we once saw the lungs and bronchial tubes removed, and blown up as a boy would a bladder or toy balloon, until the fine bronchial tubes and air cells of the lungs were distended to their fullest extent. In this state the lungs were hardened by immersion in alcohol, so that they remained expanded when the air was let free. With a sharp knife the wind-pipe and lungs were split open, so that it was easy to trace the bronchial tubes gradually diminishing in size from the wind-pipe itself, becoming finer and more delicately branched, until finer than small sewing cotton, these tiny bronchi lead into the air-cells beyond, to convey air to sustain life.

Truly a wonderful sight, which we have often recalled during the past winter as we read of the great number of deaths from pneumonia and bronchitis. Nearly 250 deaths in Boston in the month of January.

It seems impossible to most people, that so simple and common a disease as bronchitis, should cause death at all. But think for a moment, what would happen if the lining membrane of those tiny tubes described above should become much swollen by inflammation, which is likely to occur after any severe cold. The passage of air to the lung cells would be stopped, and the patient die from suffocation, as certainly as if a giant grasped his throat.

People should not overlook the irritation or "tickling in the throat," which causes a "hacking cough." Sure symptoms of bronchitis. The irritation being caused from inflammation inside of the wind-pipe, it is useless to take medicines into the stomach to cure it; one might as well eat tallow to cure chapped hands.

The interior mucous membrane of the wind-pipe must be promptly treated, to prevent the downward spread of the inflammation, and effect a cure. On page twelve of a pamphlet published by I. S. Johnson & Co., Boston, Mass., is printed plain directions for applying Johnson's Anodyne Liniment to the bronchial tubes and nasal passages, to cure colds and bronchitis.

It is a well-know fact, as many persons can testify, that this old-fashioned remedy will stop inflammation and swelling, quicker than any other medicine.

Secretary Whitney's ankle was badly hurt in a "paper chase" at Washington recently. It was severely twisted, and he has since been unable to rest his weight upon his foot. In consequence he has been transacting all his official business at his house, but the political guillotine is not worked by the foot, so he manages to drop a few republican heads into the "spoils" basket right along.

The Burlington switchmen in the freight yards at Kansas City quit work on the night of April 17th, badly crippling the road there. The cause of the strike was the refusal of the company to reinstate a switchman who was discharged for assaulting the night yardmaster.

Leland Stanford's stable at Palo Alto, Cal., was partially burned April 17th, seven valuable horses perishing; loss $200,000.

At Barn Creek, W. Va., Jacob Holles opened fire on four unknown men whom he found in a room of his house with the dead bodies of his murdered wife and three children, killing three of them and wounding the other.

At Hazelton, Kansas, April 17th, a separator in a creamery burst while running at the rate of 40,000 revolutions an hour, wrecking the place, and fatally injuring three men and a little boy.

Death has been uncommonly busy among people of note this year. Germany has lost one emperor, and is likely to lose another soon. Two eminent English scholars, Matthew Arnold and Bonamy Prince, have gone; while of eminent Americans who have dropped away within four months are Ex-Senator Conkling, Ex-Attorney General Brewster, Chief Justice Waite, Dr. Asa Gray, the great botanist, John P. King, of Georgia, the oldest ex-senator, the Affcotts, father and daughter, Henry Bergh and General Gillmore.

The old depot of the Wabash & Michigan railroad at Urbana, Ohio, was blown up with dynamite at about midnight on the 16th inst. The citizens have long demanded better depot facilities, and it is supposed they took this method of obtaining them.

The following officers have been detached from their present duties and ordered to the torpedo station, Newport, R. I., May 1st: Commander George W. Sommer, Lieutenant S. C. Paine, Ensign F. R. Wall, Lieutenant Seaton Schroeder and Lieutenant Nathan E. Niles.

Within the memory of living men, lobsters were plenty along the Atlantic coast as far south as New Jersey. Now they are not to be found below Rhode Island. Overfishing did it. This is a fact for the opponents of close-time laws to ponder over.

The Penny Post of the 18th says: "Frogs were head piping in the swamps in the outskirts of the city last night." Not a bit of it; the frog is not in any sense a songster; it is the much-despised but harmless and useful toad which makes the swamps and brooks and ponds vocal with melody in the early spring.

A Washington despatch of the 18th inst. says that "Capt. C. C. Carpenter, U. S. N., now on duty at Portsmouth, N. H., has been selected to command the receiving ship Wabash at Boston."

Charles S. Hamilton of Biddeford has been reappointed judge of the Biddeford municipal court.

To Save Life

Frequently requires prompt action. An hour's delay waiting for the doctor may be attended with serious consequences, especially in cases of Croup, Pneumonia, and other throat and lung troubles. Hence, no family should be without a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which has proved itself, in thousands of cases, the best Emergency Medicine ever discovered. It gives prompt relief and prepares the way for a thorough cure, which is certain to be effected by its continued use.

S. H. Latimer, M. D., Mt. Vernon, Ga., says: "I have found Ayer's Cherry Pectoral a perfect cure for Croup in all cases. I have known the worst cases relieved in a very short time by its use; and I advise all families to use it in sudden emergencies, for coughs, croup, &c."

J. J. Edson, M. D., Middletown, Tenn., says: "I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral with the best effect in my practice. This wonderful preparation once saved my life. I had a constant cough, night sweats, was greatly reduced in flesh, and given up by my physician. One bottle and a half of the Pectoral cured me."

"I cannot say enough in praise of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral," writes E. Bragdon, of Palestine, Texas, "believing as I do that, but for its use, I should long since have died."

March April May

Are the best months in which to purify your blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best blood purifier.

At no other season does the human system so much need the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla, as now. The impoverished condition of the blood, the weakening effects of the long, cold winter, the lost appetite, and that tired feeling, all make a good spring medicine absolutely necessary. Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiarly adapted for this purpose, and increases in popularity every year. It is the ideal spring medicine.

"I must say Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine I ever used. Last spring I had no appetite, and the least work I did fatigued me ever so much. I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon felt that I could do as much in a day as I had formerly done in a week. My appetite is voracious." MRS. M. V. BAYARD, Atlantic City, N. J.

N. B. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to buy any other.

Were all wise enough to heed this advice in season, a world of suffering would be avoided. If you suffer from impure blood, scrofula, dyspepsia, biliousness, headache, take

GRAND SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

— TO THE —

People of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont.

The Atkinson House Furnishing Co., having completed their purchases for

THIS SPRING'S STOCK,

respectfully request a call from all those interested in the Furnishing and Beautifying their Homes. And we would further request that those near our Bangor Store, located on Union street, opposite the Bangor House, should call on our Manager, MR. A. J. MOREY. And those living on the line of the Knox & Lincoln R. R., in the vicinity of Rockland, we would respectfully request to call at our Store on Main street, formerly the old Linde Hotel, MR. W. A. KIMBALL, manager. And again, to those who are nearest our Auburn Store, located on Main street, MR. J. J. EMERSON the Manager, will attend to your every want in House Furnishings. And to those living at Kennebunk, Kennebunkport and Old Orchard, and towns adjacent to Biddeford, we would respectfully request them to call at our Store at the Corner of Alfred and Bacon streets, MR. HENRY P. ATKINSON, Manager. While to those who prefer to select from our Mammoth Stock, we would say come to our Store and Headquarters at the

Cor. of Middle and Pearl Streets.

In each of these Stores we carry complete lines of furnishings which we will sell for cash, or a quarter cash, and the balance by the week or month. Of course we prefer to make cash sales when we can, but at the same time it has always been our aim and object to satisfy everyone of our customers to the uttermost, whether they wished to buy for cash or otherwise. This is the House Cleaning season of the year. Old Carpets must give place to New, Old Chamber Sets should be replaced by those of later design. Parlor Suits that have been in use for some time are often moved into the sitting room, making room for the new Parlor Suit. That Range that you have been using for many years, perhaps takes more coal to run it to get the desired work from it than a new one would, consequently making you a loss every day. Now we will sell you from the very largest stocks at Lowest Prices than you can buy elsewhere, and we will sell them to you for cash or a quarter cash, and the balance by the week or month. Write for samples.

CARPETS,

Chamber Sets

We have an enormous quantity in each of our Stores. Ask your neighbors who have seen them, and they will testify to our almost endless variety, and we will Sell you Cheaper than you can buy elsewhere. We mean what we say, for all cash, quarter cash, or balance by the week or month. Write us for cuts, photographs and prices. Orders through the mail promptly attended to.

Parlor Suits

In all the Stores in Endless Variety, and a stock of 356 full Suits at our Headquarters. Prices from $31 to $400, all cash, or quarter cash, and balance by the week or month. Write us for photographs, cuts and prices.

KITCHEN RANGES

In all our Stores you will find the Quaker, New Tariff and First National, besides a host of others, but to those who wish a good range we recommend the Quaker and the New Tariff; also the First National, for a lower priced one. We have them all the way up to $50, and we sell you a range for cash, or for $10 down and the balance by the week or month. Do not delay ordering. We would rather have the range in your house than in our store house, and let you take your time to pay for it.

Window Shades and Drapery Curtains.

Lace Curtains all prices, kinds, qualities and styles. And everything to completely furnish a House, Hotel, Cottage, Church, Lodge Room or Club Room. Write us for cuts, catalogues and prices. And please do not forget that we handle the

Baldwin Refrigerator and Ice Chests,

besides other makes and kinds, but we prefer to sell the BALDWIN, as it has the Biggest Reputation of any Ice Chest or Refrigerator in the Market.

Write us for Cuts, Catalogues and Prices of this Celebrated Refrigerator, and do not delay buying because hot weather will be upon us, and you will regret it. And please remember that MR. MOREY, manager of the Bangor store; MR. KIMBALL, manager of the Rockland store; MR. EMERSON, manager of the Auburn store; and MR. ATKINSON, manager of the Biddeford store, will each show you a complete line of house furnishings and give you the same terms as would be given at the Headquarters at Portland. All goods will be delivered Freight Prepaid at your depot, and at each one of these stores you will receive the most Honorable Treatment Possible To Give A Customer, whether you wish to buy for cash, or part cash, and the balance on time.

Respectfully,
The Public's Obedient Servants,

The Atkinson House Furnishing COMPANY.

Headquarters Cor. Pearl and Middle Sts., Portland, and Branches as above quoted.

☞ Do not pay long prices when you can buy goods from us and save money. It costs you nothing to look, and very little to write. Consequently it is an easy matter to inform yourself.

ISAAC C. ATKINSON Gen. Manager.

Municipal Affairs.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening, April 19th:

Present the full board, Mayor Hodgdon in the chair.

Petition of C. H. Clough for a crosswalk on Congress street near the academy was referred to the committee on streets, with power.

The question of renumbering the houses on Woodbury avenue, was referred to the committee on streets, with power.

The matter of remodelling the schoolhouses, in regard to making the outer doors open outward, was referred to the committee on school-houses with power.

Committee on fire department were authorized to purchase a quantity of American jacket hose.

Bills to the amount of $1287 were ordered to be paid.

The resignations of Willard M. Gray, Willard J. Sampson and Charles L. Hoyt as assistant engineers of the fire department were taken from the table, and the board voted not to accept them.

On claim of Ira Brown, for pay for services in breaking out a part of Sherburne road, leave to withdraw was granted. Mr. Brown's claim for damage to sleigh and loss of milk by being upset near the corner of Pickering and Water streets by deep snow, was referred to committee on claims, with power.

In answer to enquiry, the committee on printing announced that the city reports would be ready for distribution immediately.

Joint resolution in relation to discount on taxes promptly paid was passed, and sent down for concurrence.

Adjourned.

A meeting of the Common Council was called for Thursday evening, but a quorum did not appear.

"Forgiven."

To those who saw Mr. Frederick Bryton and his excellent company some weeks ago in this city, in "Forgiven," it is needless to say that the play is a very pleasing one and the acting very fine, and that an evening's real enjoyment will be afforded the audience at Music hall tonight. The company were at Saco two evenings the first of this week, and the Biddeford Journal after the second performance said: "The entertainment loses nothing by repetition, and is emphatically the best production of legitimate drama which has been witnessed in Saco for years." Tickets at Goodrich's; see advertisement.

"Skipped by the Light of the Moon."

"It is better to laugh than be sighing" says the old song, and that such is the opinion entertained by the generality of mankind, the large audiences attracted to witness the laughable farce comedy "Skipped" by the Light of the Moon" would seem to abundantly prove. "Skipped will be seen at Music hall next Monday evening, and our amusement patrons are promised a rare treat in this production, of which the Pittsburg Leader says:

The strangest, quaintest, oddest, drollest, funniest, most ludicrous characters, scenes, situations, sayings and doings are embodied in this play. Humor of the most unctuous, rollicking, jovial, side-splitting character is its distinguishing feature. Such laughter as it evokes wherever it is produced has never before been heard within the walls of any theatre in this city.

Installation.

Rev. S. Wakely was on the evening of Wednesday, April 18th, installed as pastor of the Freewill Baptist church at Kittery Point. Rev. James Rand of Dover preached the installation sermon; Rev. E. E. Colburn of Kittery Foreside extended a hearty welcome to the new pastor on behalf of the other clergymen of the town; and Rev. H. F. Wood of Dover, Rev. J. S. Harrington, pastor of the Freewill Baptist church in this city, Rev. Bryant McLellan of the Advent church, and Rev. C. M. Anderson of Milton Mills, were present and took part in the services.

His Resignation Not Asked.

Dr. Elliott Coues, of Washington, D. C., writes the Army and Navy Journal requesting a contradiction of the statement that his resignation from the army, which was accepted several years ago, was requested. He sends copies of his correspondence with the war department at the time, which shows that Sept. 25th, 1881, he wrote, asking for three months' leave, saying:

If it be not desired by the department that I should remain in Washington to compete certain reports ordered by Congress, which were in due course of publication when work upon them was suspended by the operation of S. O. No. 251, Par. 4, dated War Department, Nov. 26, 1880, it becomes necessary for me to tender my resignation as an officer of the army, to take effect upon the expiration of the desired leave of absence.

In answer he was granted a delay "until further orders" by letter dated Adjutant General's Office, Sept. 29, 1881. On Oct. 11, 1881, he wrote to the adjutant general saying:

I have the honor of resigning my commission of the army, to take effect Dec. 31, 1881. I respectfully request leave of absence to that date.

This was answered by a letter from the adjutant general's office, dated Nov. 3d, saying:

I am instructed by the secretary of war to inform you the president declines to accept the tender of your resignation, and to direct that you proceed to your proper station.

To this Dr. Coues replied in a long letter, concluding as follows:

I beg leave to again tender my resignation, to take effect immediately or at the pleasure of the president, respectfully urging that the question of its acceptance be reopened upon the considerations now for the first time presented, and asking that my resignation be accepted.

The correspondence closed with a letter of the adjutant-general, dated Nov. 11th, as follows:

Your resignation has been accepted by the president of the United States, to take effect the seventeenth day of November, 1881.

Personal.

Charles A. Richmond of Dover has been appointed associated press agent at Dover to succeed Joseph B. Quaid, deceased.

Mr. Joseph R. Holmes was out walking on the street near his house on Thursday afternoon, but not looking very rugged in health.

Mr. George S. Heaton of Winchenden, Mass., formerly of this city and a member of the old Marine band, it is said intends to remove to this city with his family.

Mr. Joseph Green, one of the workmen employed on the improvement of Sagamore road, received an ugly cut on the head, Wednesday of this week, by being struck with the end of a chain which was carelessly handled by a fellow workman. He was able to be at work Thursday, with his head tied up.

Navy Yard Notes.

The Boston Post of Thursday says: "There were no additional removals at the navy yard yesterday, and as the morning passed without any unpleasant tidings from Washington, timorous employes who dreaded lest it might be their turn next, began to breathe more freely. Since the beginning of the year there have been over a score of removals in the various departments, of which number three were from the yards and docks department, two from the engineer department, and the rest from the equipment room and construction department. The recently discharged men are acknowledged on all sides to be first-class workmen. William E. Delano, whose discharge came on Monday after twenty-five years' employment in the yard, is spoken of in very high terms, and several of the employes in the engineers' department testified that they believed there was no better quarterman in the country than William Chapman. Chief Engr. D. B. Macomb, who is chief engineer in the yard, told a reporter he was quite ignorant of the cause of Chapman's removal. He had always given entire satisfaction so far as he knew, but the orders of the secretary of the navy transmitted through the commandmant of the yard were to be obeyed without any questioning as to why and wherefore. All the naval officials were under the administration, and the line of policy adopted at Washington must be literally carried out by them. Commodore McCann likewise eased himself of all responsibility by referring to the secretary of the navy as the author of all the changes. He could but carry out his orders." That is all right. Secretary Whitney is a wire puller of New York education, and proposes to run the navy yard affairs in the interest of the party, instead of continuing to truckle to the notions of the doleful mugwump.

The naval board appointed to re-survey the United States steamer Iroquois at the Mare Island navy yard, reported to the navy department that the vessel can be put in thoroughly efficient condition for another cruise at a total cost for labor and material of $56,182, or 11.8 per cent of the cost of a new vessel of the same size and like material. Chief Naval Constructor Wilson recommended that the repairs be ordered at once, on the ground that such a vessel is required in the best interests of the service, and Secretary Whitney has approved the recommendation. It is estimated that the repairs will be completed in six months.

Democratic Caucus.

The democrats of ward two, on the evening of the 18th, held their caucus for the choice of delegates to the state and congressional conventions of the party. Richard F. Call was chairman of the caucus, and Thomas J. Donovan secretary; and the following-named gentlemen were chosen as delegates to both conventions: George E. Hodgdon, Samuel S. Fletcher, George B. French, John Conlon, Willie C. Newton and Michael J. Ryan.

Maritime Notes.

The gondola Hard Chance, Capt. Cheney, went to Exeter on Thursday, the 19th, with a cargo of coal. She was towed up by the steamer James Sampson.

The schooner Abby Weld, of Eastport, Me., Fearaby master, bound from Campobello for Boston with a cargo of fish valued at $7000, was eight miles off Baker's island, Salem, Mass., on the morning of the 18th, when her bottom fell out, and she went down in twenty fathoms of water, the crew having barely time to take to their boat. No insurance on the vessel.

All the new shades of Dress Goods are now in stock, at Lewis E. Staple's, No. 7 Market street.

Mr. George F. Wallis has removed his bakery to next store above the former location.

Base Ball.

Dover is to have a base ball club in the Inter-state League this season, after all—unless there should occur another bad hitch. The projectors of the club met at the American house in that city on the evening of the 17th inst., and elected A. T. Pinkham president, George E. Varney secretary, Harry H. Hough treasurer, and M. B. Sullivan, George Dunn and E. E. Shepardson directors. It was decided to make entensive repairs on the grounds, lease more ground back of the catcher for a grand stand, and also put a first-class team in the field who will report for duty Monday, May 7th, and will, after a day or two's practice, play exhibition games with Exeter Philips academy and other clubs. The schedule games will be begun May 20th, and two games a week will be played in Dover. The league will be made up of Lawrence, Haverhill, Portsmouth, Rochester, Nashua, and Dover.

ARE you certain that the plate you eat off of, and the cup you drink from, have not been washed with soap made of the fat of diseased cattle? After a careful chemical and microscopical examination of the IVORY SOAP, Dr. Doremus, of Bellevue Hospital, writes: "I cordially recommend the IVORY SOAP for its unsurpassed detergent properties and purity." Wash your dishes with IVORY SOAP.

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory'," they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

Republican Conventions.

CONCORD, N. H., March 31st, 1888.

In accordance with the vote passed at the recent meeting of the Republican State Committee, conventions for the choice of delegates to the National Republican Convention at Chicago, on the 19th of June next, will be held as follows:

State Convention, for the choice of four delegates-at-large and four alternates, at White's Opera house, Concord, on Tuesday, May 8th, at eleven A. M.

First Congressional District Convention, for the choice of two delegates and two alternates, at White's Opera house, Concord, on Tuesday, May 8th, at 2 P. M., or immediately upon the adjournment of the State Convention.

Second Congressional District Convention, for the choice of two delegates and two alternates, at Phenix hall, Concord, on Tuesday, May 8th, at 2 P. M., or immediately upon the adjournment of the State Convention.

Classed towns, and such towns and wards as are entitled to pro-rata representation in the General Court, will each send one delegate to the State and District conventions, and all other towns and wards will be entitled to twice as many delegates as they have representatives.

The same delegates may represent their towns and wards in the State and District conventions, if properly accredited thereto, or different sets of delegates may be sent to the State and District conventions.

The caucuses should be notified sufficiently early and in such manner that the voters will know about them and have an opportunity to attend.

It is desirable that all voters, without regard to past political differences, who are now in favor of elevating and dignifying American labor, protecting home industries from ruinous foreign competition, restricting the influence of the saloon, giving free and popular education to the masses of the people, establishing a liberal system of pensions for Union soldiers, extending the commercial interests of the Nation by a liberal system of appropriations to American steamship lines, especially those engaged in the transportation of our foreign mails, securing free suffrage and an honest count of the ballot, and elevating and protecting human rights in every section of our common country, should be invited to participate in these preliminary gatherings, to the end that no voter now in sympathy with the fundamental principles of the Republican party may feel that he has been overlooked or slighted.

Arrangements have been perfected with the railroads of the state for the transportation of the delegates to the several conventions at the uniform rate of two cents per mile each way. Delegates should be careful to call attention to this when they purchase their tickets.

A meeting of the State Committee and delegates will be held in Phenix hall, Concord, on Monday evening, May 7th, at nine o'clock, to arrange the preliminaries for the State Convention of the succeeding day, after which the question of reorganizing the Republican Clubs throughout the State and also the matter of appointing the times and places for holding the usual State, Congressional, Councillor, and County Conventions will be considered.

The floor of the hall will be reserved for delegates exclusively, and the galleries will be open for spectators. Delegates can receive their tickets of admission by presenting their credentials at the rooms of the Concord Republican Club, Merchants' Block, either on Monday evening or Tuesday morning. As the greatest possible care will be observed in issuing tickets, delegates are requested to call for them in person, and at as early an hour as practicable.

Trusting that the Republicans of the State may at once get themselves in readiness for hard work and a glorious victory in the coming campaign, we are, fraternally,

J. H. GALLINGER,
Chm. Republican State Com.
FRANK D. CURRIER, Secretary.

To get relief from indigestion, biliousness, constipation or torpid liver without disturbing the stomach or purging the bowels, take a few doses of Carter's Little Liver Pills, they will please you.

President Martin B. Anderson of Rochester University has resigned after thirty-five years' efficient service.

How I Felt.

Why, two years ago I was just about crazy, and no wonder that my wife and children were afraid of me. You just want to suffer with neuralgia with no relief as I did until I used Sulpher Bitters. They cured me, and now my wife says I am as meek as a lamb.—Robert Davis, American House, Boston.

A Russian army corps has been ordered to the Austrian frontier.

That tired, languid feeling and dull headache is very disagreeable. Take two of Carter's Little Liver Pills before retiring, and you will find relief. They never fail to do good.

The steamer Neptune has landed 42,242 seals at St. John's, Newfoundland, the largest catch ever taken there by one steamer.

The whitest, worst looking hair, resumes its youthful beauty and softness by using Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer. Try it.

Secretary Fairchild has given notice that beginning on the 23d instant, and daily thereafter, at noon, till further notice, proposals will be received at the United States treasury for the purchase of United States bonds by the treasurer.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills are suited to every age. They are mild and pleasant in action, thorough and searching in effect, and, being sugar-coated, are easy to take. These pills never fail to give satisfaction.

Last year over $20,000,000 worth of diamonds were mined in South Africa. Hotel clerks will feel easier when they hear the news.

If your back is weak the muscles want stimulating—Hop Plasters stop the pain and prevent return.

SOME DOCTORS

honestly admit that they can't cure Rheumatism and Neuralgia. Others say they can but—don't. Athlophoros says nothing but—cures. That's the secret of its success. Years of trial have proved it to be a quick, safe, sure cure.

Concord, N. H., Sept. 3, 1887
In my own family Athlophoros was used as a last resort, the user having suffered from rheumatism for years and having been treated for the disease by different physicians in this State and Massachusetts without even temporary relief. Upon my recommendation scores of people have used this remedy with the same results claimed for it. C. H. WILSON.

Dubuque, Iowa, Jan. 3, 1886
Athlophoros has completely cured me of nervous headache, and I feel thankful for all the good it has done me. MRS. LOUISE CHERRY.

THE JOB PRINTING

Business is conducted in the same office by RICHARD I. WALDEN, who keeps on hand a large and well-selected stock of all materials required in his line. Give him a trial and you will be more than pleased.

Roused from Inaction,

The precursor of their disease and destruction, the kidneys and bladder healthfully stimulated and toned with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, actively resume their functions. Thus Bright's disease, diabetes, catarrh of the bladder and encuresis are prevented. For irritating diuretics, and those unmedicated and firey stimulants which, used even in moderation, excite both the renal and vesical organs, this is the best possible substitute. It is of botanic composition, and so congenial to the stomach, the digestive processes of which it helps in no ordinary degree, that it is promptly assimilated by the system, and its tonic effects are speedily felt. Not only does it remedy inactivity of the kidneys, but renews a regular habit of body, promotes a due secretion and healthy flow of bile into the proper channels, and expels from the circulation acrid principles productive of rheumatism and gout. It is also the leading specific for malarial complaints.

Major Erastus W. Everson of Plymouth, Mass., is missing. He was in Boston on March 11th, and is supposed to have perished in the blizzard of the 12th.

If they were not reliable and effective, people wouldn't use so many of them—Hop Plasters.

An Italian resident of the city of Mexico was robbed of over $70,000 in notes by burglars on the night of April 16th.

A perfectly sound body and a mind unimpaired are possible only with pure blood. Leading medical authorities indorse Ayer's Sarsaparilla as the best blood purifying medicine in existence. It vastly increases the working and productive powers of both brain and hand.

William McKinley, Jr., has been renominated for congress by acclamation by the republicans of the eighteenth Ohio district.

Hood's Sarsparilla is peculiar to itself and superior to all other preparations in strength, economy and medical merit.

Alexander Cohen, said to have been the finest Hebrew scholar in the country, died in wretchedness in Andover, Mass., a few days ago.

I have been troubled with catarrh for the past ten years and have tried a number of remedies, but found no relief until I purchased a bottle of Ely's Cream Balm I consider it the most reliable preparation for catarrh and cold in the head.—Geo. E. Crandall, P. M., Quonochawntaug, Rhode Island.

I was troubled with catarrh for seven years previous to commencing the use of Ely's Cream Balm, some five months ago. It has done for me what other so-called cures failed to do—cured me. The effect of the Balm seemed magical.—Clarence D. Hunt, Biddeford, Me.

Goat Island, at Niagara Falls, is being washed away by the rapid current, and the State Engineer recommends an appropriation by the legislature for the erection of a retaining wall of timber to prevent further ravages.

We recommend Carter's Iron Pills to every woman who is weak, nervous and discouraged; particularly those who have thin, pale lips, cold hands and feet, and who are without strength or ambition. These are the classes for which Carter's Iron Pills are specially prepared, and this class cannot use them without benefit. Valuable for men also. In metal boxes, at 50 cents. Sold by druggists or sent by mail. See advertisement elsewhere.

The Democrat of Alton, Ill., remarks: "Tom Reed, of Maine, with his hands in his pockets and a smile on his face, is the strongest presidential candidate the republicans have on hand."

I consider Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry the most reliable preparation in the market for the cure of coughs, colds and diseases of the throat, lungs and chest. I have sold thousands of bottles, and, so far as I know, it has always given satisfaction. I. N. Thron, Brattleboro, Vt.

A Sensible Man

Would use Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs. It is curing more cases of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup and all Throat and Lung troubles than any other medicine. The proprietor has authorized any druggist to give you a sample bottle free to convince you of the merit of this great remedy. Large bottles 50c. and $1.

THE INCURABLE CURED!

HOPKINSVILLE, KY., Feb. 24, 1887.

Gentlemen—Seven years ago a wart developed on my nose from a finger nail scratch. I tried a great many remedies, but the wart would not yield. I grew worse every year for seven years. Many thought I had a cancer. Over a year ago I commenced taking S. S. S., and two dozen bottles entirely cured me. When I began with Swift Specific I was in very poor health, and could hardly drag along. After I had finished the course of S. S. S. I was strong and buoyant, and had a good appetite. I regard it as a most valuable medicine for ladies in weak, delicate health. It is a household medicine with me. Yours respectfully,

MRS. R. W. WILSON.

SPARTANBURG, S. C., April 2, 1887.

Gentlemen—About twenty years ago I had a sore on my left cheek. It had gradually been growing worse. The many physicians whom I had consulted were unable to do me any good. Last fall a year ago I began using S. S. S. At first it inflamed the sore, and it became more virulent than ever. So much so, indeed, that my family insisted that I should leave off the medicine. I persisted in using the S. S. S. At the end of two months the sore was entirely healed. Thinking that the evil was out of my constitution, I left off the medicine; but in November, ten months after, a very slight breaking out appeared. I at once began again on S. S. S., and now that is also disappearing. I have every faith in S. S. S. It has done me more good than all the doctors and other medicines I ever took. Yours truly,

A. R. SHANDS.

WINSTON, N. C., April 11, 1887.

Gentlemen—Two or three years ago a cancer came on my face. It soon grew to be quite large. It wore on me, and my general health was very poor. Last September I began a course of S. S. S., which I have continued to the present time with the happiest result. The cancer has entirely disappeared, there being no evidence or symptom of a cancerous character left. My general health is good now, and my appetite better than it has been in years. I am 52 years old, and to-day I am working in the field planting corn. Yours truly, JONAS LINEBACK.

Gentlemen—I had a sore on my upper lip for eight years. Seven different doctors attempted in vain to heal it. One gave me a small vial for five dollars, which was a "sure cure." It is needless to say that it did me no good. About two years ago I became quite uneasy, as people thought I had a cancer, and I took a course of three bottles of S. S. S. The result has been a complete cure. The ulcer or cancer healed beautifully, leaving scarcely a perceptible scar; from that day I have been in excellent health. the Specific having purified my blood thoroughly, increased my appetite and perfected my digestion. In a word, I feel like a new woman, and, best of all, the eight year ulcer is gone entirely. Yours sincerely,

MRS. W. P. CANNON.

MAKING A MAN OVER.

A "Formulator" Gives Away Some of the Secrets of His Art.

"Formulating done here," read a sign on One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street over a store. A reporter who was ignorant of the meaning ventured in to ask. He went into a close, dark apartment on the second floor of the building, and as he entered he heard the remark: "If they were not as vain as women I wouldn't be here today." The speaker was a little, stubby man, with small, gray eyes, full, red beard and an unctuous, flabby face. Scattered around him on the bench on which he sat and about the floor were pieces of silk, satin and serge, bundles of horse hair and packages of half open cotton. The little man was busily stitching a blue satin quilted article that looked like a cushion of a baby carriage.

"Yes, I am what tailors term a formulator," he continued, in a thin, squeaky voice. "The word is indicative of my trade, or rather profession. My occupation is truly the latter, inasmuch as it is an art—the art of improving, embellishing or modifying the masculine figure, as the case demands.

"Padding! Yes, some might term it that. Didn't you know that men pad, eh? Why; bless your soul, they have been doing it since the day of Joseph. There is a trite saying among our craft that his 'coat of many colors' was made by a formulator.

The speaker separated a thread with a finger nail close to the garment. Then he held the pad toward the light, scrutinizing it critically, seized his tape line and began measuring the garment, referring constantly to a small piece of paper with the measurements on it.

"The man I refer to is a creature of dissatisfaction. Nothing about his own personality or make up contents him. He is essentially a being of observation. If he has a friend who is short and fat, while he himself is tall and thin, he forms the idea that he, too, would like to be stumpy and adipose.

"A tailor can do little for him, but we can. Liberal but discriminating padding will make him corpulent, and if his make up is expertly perfected it will give him the appearance of being considerably shorter than when in his normal state. His friends will remark how well he is looking, ask how he has grown so fleshy, and the artful deceiver will launch into such a dissertation of gastronomy that the horse hair appliances in his artificial chest will shrivel up into a double bow knot with surprise.

"These forms are not limited entirely to the trunk of the subject. The calves, hips and knees all come in for its benefit. You know that the knee of a man's trousers in less than a month after they are made become "baggy." This necessitates any amount of running to the tailor's and having the garment pressed, if the wearer desires to be well dressed. Although constant bending of the knee is in part the cause of this eyesore to men, the construction of the member is the principal reason of such a state of things. Now look here," and the little man stretched one of his fat legs straight out before him. "Feel my knee; you see the knee cap sits like a hillock over the joints. Below it the limb swerves in. Now how are you going to make a trouser leg sit smoothly here without catching? Can't say? Then I'll tell you; use forms below and above the cap, and the trousers will fit like a glove and won't bag.

"You see the form being stitched to the lining of the garment makes it stiff and prevents the cloth straining. You may have noticed that the cloth never stretches at the knee cap, but above and below it. A little dressing about the too large calf and a little doctoring at this member itself is a valuable aid to the fit of the leg casement.

"You can imagine how extensively padding is carried on with professionals. Of course, the ballet is a whole collection of 'fats,' but as it is composed more or less of the fair sex, it is not my province to comment on them in my talk with you. But actors—tragic, comic and melodramatic—nearly all pad.

"'Fats' are made of a variety of materials and worn in a variety of ways. Chest and spinal articles are made like a sleeveless jacket of one continuous piece of material. There is a hole for the head and the garment is slipped on by extending the arms upward and perpendicularly and letting the article fall on. Over the hips and shoulders the garment is padded to any extent desired. The small of the back is also touched up as necessity dictates. The body of the article is of silk or chamois. The chest pads in cold weather are always worn next to the skin. By this arrangement the effect is natural and consistent, and it is almost impossible, even by feeling, to discover the artificiality of the padder's figure. Why, there is no limit to our possibilities. A good many of our business men wear padded undergarments, not particularly for the effect, but because the clothing fits more comfortably."—New York Star.

Type Made from Paper.

Type made from paper is the latest novelty. A process has been patented in England by which large type used for placards can be made from pulp. Such letters are at present cut on wood. The pulp is reduced to a powdered or comminuted state, after which it is thoroughly mixed with a water proofing liquid or material, such as a paraffine oil or a drying linseed oil, for instance. The mixture is then dried and subsequently pulverized. In its pulverized state it is introduced into a mold of the requisite construction to produce the desired article—type or block—and then subjected to pressure to consolidate it and heat to render tacky or adhesive the water proofing material. Finally, the type is cooled while in mold, so as to cause it to retain its shape and solidity.—Chicago News.

BILIOUSNESS.

THIS very common complaint, which is caused by a dormant or inactive liver, can be cured in a short time by using Ingalls' Mandrake Compound, as can also the various diseases arising from inactive liver or kidneys. These organs, if inactive, will allow impure blood to enter the heart, causing tightness about that organ and palpitation.

She suffered thirty years.

MRS. DUDLEY CHANDLES, of Melrose, Mass., says: "I had suffered with Palpitation of the Heart more than thirty years before I found anything to give me essential relief. Last fall I tried Ingalls' Mandrake Compound, and, remarkable as it was, this Compound relieved me in two days, so that for several months afterwards I felt not the slightest touch of it, and am perfectly free from it now. Sometimes, before I took this Compound, the palpitations of my heart were so violent as to shake my whole body with rapid agitations, and at times I fainted and became entirely insensible. Now I am perfectly free from all this suffering. Consequently I can most sincerely and earnestly recommend this Compound to all like sufferers, as pre-eminently the best medicine I ever knew for Palpitation of the Heart."

This Compound is purely Vegetable, and strengthens and builds up the system while it eradicates disease.

Ingalls' Mandrake Compound is sold by all Druggists. Price $1; six bottles for $5. Prepared only by the INGALLS MEDICAL CO., Lowell, Mass.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS

$22 TO $900.

The cadinent organ was introduced in its present form by Mason & Hamlin in 1861. Other makers followed in the manufacture of this instrument, but the Mason & Hamlin Organs have always maintained their supremacy as the best in the world.

Mason & Hamlin offer, as demonstration of the unequalled excellence of their organs, the fact that at all the great World's Exhibitions, since that of Paris, 1867, in competition with best makers of all countries, they have invariably taken the highest honors. Illustrated catalogues free.

PIANOS

Mason & Hamlin do not hesitate to make the extraordinary claim for their pianos, that they are superior to all others. They recognize the high excellence achieved by other leading makers in the art of piano building, but still claim superiority. This they attribute solely to the markable improvement introduced by them in the year 1882, and now known as the "MASON & HAMLIN PIANO STRINGER," by the use of which is secured the greatest possible purity and refinement of tone, together with great increased capacity for standing in tune, and other import ant advantages.

A circular, containing testimonials from three hundred purchasers, musicians and tuners, sent together with descriptive catalogue, to any applicant.

How true it is that the little things of life multiply rapidly into more and greater. Especially is it true of the diseases which prey upon the human system. First the blood becomes impure, then the liver becomes torpid and refuses to perform its functions; this causes a derangement of the stomach and other digestive organs. Dyspepsia, inaction, dizziness, and perhaps apoplexy may result. Ingalls' Mandrake Compound removes all humors and impurities from the blood, vitalizes the digestive organs, and gives tone and vigor to the whole system.

In Portland, Me., on the night of April 19th, Edward Chase of New York, while walking on the street with Mrs. Nellie Stevens of Gardiner, daughter of Hon. J. H. Ladd of the latter place, suddenly shot her dead, and then put a bullet into his own head; he will recover.

Another Concord Fight.

The anniversary of the fight in Concord, Massachusetts, was observed in Concord, this state, on the 19th. For some time past Mr. Metcalf, the amiable and agreeable editor of the People and Patriot at Concord, has been more or less disturbed in his equanimity from the fact that he was not running the patronage of the democratic party quite as much as he would like. Not that he, Metcalf, wanted a post-office or indeed any office of profit, in return for his unselfish devotion to the fortunes of the democracy, but he was of the few in the ranks that were restive under the management of Messrs. Jones and Sulloway. He did not see why the old fellows who for so long had charge of the patronage and ran the conventions in their own interests, should lose their grip and be succeeded by any new dispensation. The dissatisfaction of what, for want of a better designation, has been called the Pearson wing, with the efforts of Messrs. Jones and Sulloway in distribution of official patronage and securing to residents of New Hampshire sundry plums which otherwise would have dropped into mouths outside of our state, has been long manifest. At last, Bro. Metcalf joined issues with the Sulloway men at the ward caucuses of the party in Concord on Thursday evening. The results of these assemblings were intended to show Mr. Cleveland his awful blunder in preferring Jones to Metcalf, or Sulloway to Pearson. The forces had been inspired by handsome editorials in the P. and P. The long range guns of Metcalf had been brought to bear upon Frank Jones. He had also fired frequent shots at Collector Page for some imaginary political fault. Indeed, Mr. Metcalf had a lengthy indictment full of charges. This was met by the respondents, and as the lawyers used to say in old-fashioned pleadings, the parties put themselves upon the country for trial. The thickest of the fight appears to have been in ward four. Here Major Robertson, with all the prestige of his official station, ignominiously was snowed under. Mr. Pearson's right bower, Mr. E. S. Nutter, a gentleman whose faultless attire and benign presence would have adorned the convention of his party, had he been on the right wing of the division, met the fate of the defeated. Here, too, Mr. E. D. Clough, the anti-Jones and Sulloway candidate for post-master, signally failed of an endorsement. In fine, Mr. Sulloway triumphed and Mr. Metcalf was beaten. Mr. Cleveland, as he reads the Chronicle's account of the trial of this issue given from our standpoint of disinterested spectatorship, is only the more convinced that when he tied to Messrs. Jones and Sulloway as the representative men of his party in the Granite State, he made no mistake. The result of the Concord struggle, where the best fight that could have been maintained by the Pearson forces of any place in the state, was had, is simply an index of the sentiment of the democracy all over New Hampshire.

Arbor Day Proclamation.

With advice and consent of the council, I hereby appoint Saturday, the twenty-eighth day of April next, as Arbor day, to be observed throughout the state as a day for planting trees, shrubs, and vines about the homes, and along the highways, and about the public grounds of the state.

The adoption, through legislative enactment, of the custom of annually setting apart a day for the planting of trees, is a fitting recognition of the growing interest in the science of forestry and of its importance to the public welfare.

To the pleasure and profit that we may derive in the work may be added the satisfaction of feeling that our successors will also enjoy the results of our labor, and gratefully appreciate the benefits in which they will be priviledged to participate.

Given at the Council Chamber in Concord, this sixth day of March, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and twelfth.
CHARLES H. SAWYER.

By his Excellency the Governor, with advice of the Council. A. B. THOMPSON, Secretary of State.

Another New Hampshire Murder.

At Lyman, on the night of April 18th, Orrin Steere had his hat knocked off and his head blown to pieces by a charge of shot fired through a window of his house, while he was sitting by the stove. The only other occupants of the house at the time were Steere's wife and her brother, Louis Williams, and they say they know nothing about the murder. Steere and Williams had been in Lisbon that day, and both were thoroughly drunk; they both belonged to a gang of six or eight ruffians who have long been the terror of the town.

The funeral of Hon. Roscoe Conkling took place in New York on the 20th inst.

The town of Monmouth, Me., was almost wholly destroyed by fire on the night of the 9th inst.

The Knights of Labor in New York are taking the places of the striking brewery men as fast as they can.

The Teemer-Gaudaur race is to be rowed at the Point of Pines, Mass., on Memorial day.

Two men, named Rogers and Breman, who were bird hunting along the coast at Fermeuse, Newfoundland, were washed from the rocks and drowned.

E. G. Squier, who died the other day in Brooklyn, N. Y., was known to many as an editor, writer and antiquarian, but known to a great many more as a former husband of Mrs. Frank Leslie. Mr. Squier has been but little heard of in late years.

John R. G. Hassard, formerly managing editor and musical critic, and laterly literary reviewer of the New York Tribune, died in New York on the 18th inst. He was one of the most distinguished musical critics ever connected with the metropolitan press, being noted for his advocacy of Wagner's musical-drama theories and for his support of Theodore Thomas' enterprise for the introduction of Wagner's music in America. He had been battling with consumption for ten years or more. In private life he was one of the most high-minded and lovable of men.

Edward Hayward's eyes were injured by cinders that fell from the engine on one of the New York elevated roads while he was looking up to see the train pass. Last week he recovered a verdict of $5000 against the company.

The May number of "Harper's Magazine" is not deficient in fiction, although there is less, perhaps, than usual. Williams Black's "In Far Lochaber" develops an unexpected turn, and strengthens the reader's interest materially. The three short stories, "The Adventures of Two Men," by Miss Julia D. Whiting, "An Unpromising Marriage," by Miss Annie Bigelow, daughter of the Hon. John Bigelow, and "Lamentations of Jeremiah Johnson," by Ruth McEnery Stuart, are bright, and contrast pleasantly with one another. The supply of poetry is proportionate.

Want of Sleep

Is sending thousands annually to the insane asylum; and the doctors say this trouble is alarmingly on the increase. The usual remedies, while they may give temporary relief, are likely to do more harm than good. What is needed is an Alterative and Blood-purifier. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is incomparably the best. It corrects those disturbances in the circulation which cause sleeplessness, gives increased vitality, and restores the nervous system to a healthful condition.

Rev. T. G. A. Coté, agent of the Mass. Home Missionary Society, writes that his stomach was out of order, his sleep very often disturbed, and some impurity of the blood manifest; but that a perfect cure was obtained by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Frederick W. Pratt, 424 Washington street, Boston, writes: "My daughter was prostrated with nervous debility. Ayer's Sarsaparilla restored her to health."

William F. Bowker, Erie, Pa., was cured of nervousness and sleeplessness by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for about two months, during which time his weight increased over twenty pounds.

That Tired Feeling

When the weather grows warmer, that extreme tired feeling, want of appetite, dullness, languor, and lassitude, afflict almost the entire human family, and scrofula and other diseases caused by humors, manifest themselves with many. It is impossible to throw off this debility and expel humors from the blood without the aid of a reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I could not sleep, and would get up in the morning with hardly life enough to get out of bed. I had no appetite, and my face would break out with pimples. I bought a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon began to sleep soundly; could get up without that tired and languid feeling, and my appetite improved." R. A. SANFORD, Kent, O.

"I had been much troubled by general debility. Last spring Hood's Sarsaparilla proved just the thing needed. I derived an immense amount of benefit. I never felt better." H. F. MILLET, Boston, Mass.

At no other season is the system so susceptible to the beneficial effects of a reliable tonic and invigorant. The impure state of the blood, the deranged digestion, and the weak condition of the body, caused by its long battle with the cold, wintry blasts, all call for the reviving, regulating and restoring influences so happily and effectively combined in Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me a great deal of good. I had no particular disease, but was tired out from overwork, and it toned me up." MRS. G. E. SIMMONS, Cohoes, N. Y.

"For seven years, spring and fall, I had scrofulous sores come out on my legs, and for two years was not free from them at all. I suffered very much. Last May I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and before I had taken two bottles, the sores healed and the humor left me." C. A. ARNOLD, Arnold, Me.

"There is no blood purifier equal to Hood's Sarsaparilla." E. S. FIELLS, Rochester, N. Y.

GRAND SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

— TO THE —

People of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont.

The Atkinson House Furnishing Co., having completed their purchases for

THIS SPRING'S STOCK,

respectfully request a call from all those interested in the Furnishing and Beautifying their Homes. And we would further request that those near our Bangor Store, located on Union street, opposite the Bangor House, should call on our Manager, MR. A. J. MOREY. And those living on the line of the Knox & Lincoln R. R., in the vicinity of Rockland, we would respectfully request to call at our Store on Main street, formerly the old Linde Hotel, MR. W. A. KIMBALL, manager. And again, to those who are nearest our Auburn Store, located on Main street, MR. J. J. EMERSON the Manager, will attend to your every want in House Furnishings. And to those living at Kennebunk, Kennebunkport and Old Orchard, and towns adjacent to Biddeford, we would respectfully request them to call at our Store at the Corner of Alfred and Bacon streets, MR. HENRY P. ATKINSON, Manager. While to those who prefer to select from our Mammoth Stock, we would say come to our Store and Headquarters at the

Cor. of Middle and Pearl Streets.

In each of these Stores we carry complete lines of furnishings which we will sell for cash, or a quarter cash, and the balance by the week or month. Of course we prefer to make cash sales when we can, but at the same time it has always been our aim and object to satisfy everyone of our customers to the uttermost, whether they wished to buy for cash or otherwise. This is the House Cleaning season of the year. Old Carpets must give place to New, Old Chamber Sets should be replaced by those of later design. Parlor Suits that have been in use for some time are often moved into the sitting room, making room for the new Parlor Suit. That Range that you have been using for many years, perhaps takes more coal to run it to get the desired work from it than a new one would, consequently making you a loss every day. Now we will sell you from the very largest stocks at Lowest Prices than you can buy elsewhere, and we will sell them to you for cash or a quarter cash, and the balance by the week or month. Write for samples.

CARPETS,

Chamber Sets

We have an enormous quantity in each of our Stores. Ask your neighbors who have seen them, and they will testify to our almost endless variety, and we will Sell you Cheaper than you can buy elsewhere. We mean what we say, for all cash, quarter cash, or balance by the week or month. Write us for cuts, photographs and prices. Orders through the mail promptly attended to.

Parlor Suits

In all the Stores in Endless Variety, and a stock of 356 full Suits at our Headquarters. Prices from $31 to $400, all cash, or quarter cash, and balance by the week or month. Write us for photographs, cuts and prices.

KITCHEN RANGES

In all our Stores you will find the Quaker, New Tariff and First National, besides a host of others, but to those who wish a good range we recommend the Quaker and the New Tariff; also the First National, for a lower priced one. We have them all the way up to $60, and we sell you a range for cash, or for $10 down and the balance by the week or month. Do not delay ordering. We would rather have the range in your house than in our store house, and let you take your time to pay for it.

Window Shades and Drapery Curtains.

Lace Curtains all prices, kinds, qualities and styles. And everything to completely furnish a House, Hotel, Cottage, Church, Lodge Room or Club Room. Write us for cuts, catalogues and prices. And please do not forget that we handle the

Baldwin Refrigerator and Ice Chests,

besides other makes and kinds, but we prefer to sell the BALDWIN, as it has the Biggest Reputation of any Ice Chest or Refrigerator in the Market.

Write us for Cuts, Catalogues and Prices of this Celebrated Refrigerator, and do not delay buying because hot weather will be upon us, and you will regret it. And please remember that MR. MOREY, manager of the Bangor store; MR. KIMBALL, manager of the Rockland store; MR. EMERSON, manager of the Auburn store; and MR. ATKINSON, manager of the Biddeford store, will each show you a complete line of house furnishings and give you the same terms as would be given at the Headquarters at Portland. All goods will be delivered Freight Prepaid at your depot, and at each one of these stores you will receive the most Honorable Treatment Possible To Give A Customer, whether you wish to buy for cash, or part cash, and the balance on time.

Respectfully,
The Public's Obedient Servants,

The Atkinson
House Furnishing COMPANY.

Headquarters Cor. Pearl and Middle Sts., Portland, and Branches as above quoted.

☞ Do not pay long prices when you can buy goods from us and save money. It costs you nothing to look, and very little to write. Consequently it is an easy matter to inform yourself.

ISAAC C. ATKINSON Gen. Manager.

Installation.

Rev. J. S. Harrington, formerly of Elmira, New York, will be installed pastor of the Freewill Baptist church of this city on Thursday evening, April 26th. Rev. Wm. A. McGinley of the North church will deliver the address of welcome, Rev. T. K. Chase of Dover will preach the ordination sermon, Rev. James Boyd of Manchester will give the charge to the pastor, and Rev. A. L. Gerrish of Great Falls the charge to the church.

Further notice will be given before the day of installation.

Supreme Court, April Term.

Thursday forenoon was taken up by the assignment of cases for trial by the court.

Penniman vs. Roswell, action on promissory notes, marked for the jury, has been settled by the parties under an agreement for judgment of $1400 without costs. The settlement of this case resulted in the settlement of twenty-five other cases against Roswell.

At a meeting of the Rockingham bar on Thursday, Hon. James W. Emery was chosen president, vice William W. Stickney, deceased; and Col. William H. Hackett of this city, and E. G. Eastman and C. H. Knight of Exeter, were appointed a committee to draft resolutions in regard to Mr. Stickney, to be submitted at a meeting of the bar on Tuesday, the 24th.

There will be no more jury trials this term, the jurors having been dismissed on Friday.

The trial of cases by the court commences on Monday.

United States Commissioner's Court.

John M. Fitts of Dorchester was brought by United States Marshal Barker before Commissioner William H. Hackett in this city on Wednesday evening of this week, upon the complaint of Daniel L. Nulton, special examiner of the post office department, charging that Fitts, postmaster of Fittsville, a village in Dorchester, had made to the auditor of the post-office department a false return of the amount of postage on articles of mail matter received by him as postmaster from Sept. 30th to Nov. 30th last, for the purpose of increasing his compensation as postmaster under the law of the United States. The respondent when arraigned pleaded not guilty, waived an examination and gave bonds for his appearance at the circuit court of the United States to be held held in this city on the eighth day of May. District Attorney Frink appeared for the United States, and Hon. E. B. S. Sanborn of Franklin for the respondent.

"Rosemary Cottage."

A benevolent lady has purchased several acres of land in the town of Eliot, and has erected thereon a house containing twenty rooms, to be called "Rosemary Cottage," where tired mothers, feeble children, and overworked shop girls can find a temporary respite from the burdens of poverty and toil.

The location, for the purpose designed, could hardly be better. It is easy of access, on the line of the Eastern railroad, six miles from this city, and near the depot. It crowns an eminence which commands a charming view of the New Hampshire hills, and close in sight is the Piscataqua river. The house is admirably planned, with plenty of closet rooms, convenient kitchen arrangements, and a good bath room. The dining room is cheerful, with four windows, two looking east and two west. There are bay windows in several of the rooms, and a broad piazza upon three sides. The grounds are dotted with apple trees, and there is an old barn in which the children can play on rainy days. Close by is a pretty octagonal structure, to be used for laundry purposes, thus keeping the heat of washing and ironing days away from the main house. A large, new cistern, besides pure water from a well never known to be dry, and an airy cellar, are other excellent features.

The buildings and land above described are to be made over to trustees, to hold the same as a summer home for the poor, to be carried on by the City Missionary society of Boston in connection with its "Fresh Air" work.

The house stands complete in all its appointments. The donor has done her share in building it; and now it must stand there without an inmate, thoughout the coming summer, unless the sum of $800 can be raised to pay for furnishing it. Who will respond in the whole amount, or how many will contribute to raise the money? Address Rev. D. W. Waldron, No. 7 Beacon street, Boston.

After the home is finished, every $7 received will send a person to spend two weeks at "Rosemary Cottage," this amount meeting also the cost of transportation.

Nathaniel R. Long.

Nathaniel R. Long, who was born in this city on the 24th of November, 1806, died at Penn Yan, New York, on the 7th.

Nathaniel Rogers Long was born of sturdy New England stock, and was in his early life the friend and associate of John P. Hale, William E. Dodge and others of like character. On his maternal side he was a direct descendant of John Rogers, who died a martyr to his faith. In early manhood he left his home in this city and went to New York, and there engaged in the hardware business for several years. In the year 1856 he left New York and went to Penn Yan, and has since made that village his home. Possessing an active, intelligent mind, he always and in every respect kept fully abreast of the times. Public-spirited, a leader in reform, yet always conservative in character, he was ever ready to forward any enterprise that was for the public good.

His first wife was daughter of Joseph Smith, Esq., of Dover; his second wife survives him; also a son, Colonel Wm. H. Long, and a daughter, Mrs. Carrie Sheldon.

Personal.

Manager Wm. K. Hill of the Rockingham and Wentworth hotels is on a business trip to the west and south.

John B. Burroughs and wife, of Pana, Ill., arrived in this city on Wednesday of this week to spend the summer, as has been their custom for several years past.

The following is clipped from a western paper of recent date: "Merrill Spalding, president of the Chicago Laundrymen's association, has had another honor conferred upon him. He was recently elected a member of the board of education of Lakeview, a busy and populous suburb of Chicago containing about forty thousand inhabitants, and practically a portion of Chicago. There was quite a spirited contest, but Mr. Spalding was elected by a handsome majority. Thousands of Chicago's business men reside in Lakeview, and the selection of Mr. Spalding for this important trust is a compliment that any man might feel proud of." Mr. Spalding is one of the many energetic and practical young business men who have gone from the east to help develope and improve the resources and capacity of the great west, his early years having been passed in Newburyport and vicinity.

"Skipped by the Light of the Moon" at Music hall on Monday evening. One of the most amusing pieces put on the stage for years. Tickets at Goodrich's.

The lower vestibule of Music hall is to be kept clear of hoodlums hereafter during performances. The reform comes none too soon, and all decent people will hope it may last.

Mr. Lowell Jenness, No., 33 Union street, has a large number of Clapp's Favorite, Sheldon and other pear scions suitable for grafting, which he would be pleased to give to any one who would like them.

Friday was a great day for commercial travellers; you could not enter any place of business in the city without seeing one or more.

William Weeks of Stratham was arraigned in the police court at Exeter on the 19th inst., charged with an aggravated assault on Jeremiah Jones of the same place. It is alleged that Weeks assaulted Jones with an iron bar, cutting his head and knocking him senseless, and then pouring hot water on him, scalding him about the body and arms. He was committed to jail for the October term of the supreme court. The cause of the assault is not stated.

Our energetic street commissioner should at once make the attempt to drive through Ladd street.

Many of our readers will be pleased to learn that the Dover bridge will be opened for team travel in about two weeks, but they would undoubtedly be better pleased to learn that it would be open in two days.—Times.

The naval board of inspection and survey, who have been inspecting the U. S. S. Swatara in the lower harbor, finished that duty on Friday, and report the vessel unseaworthy, as the reverse gearing of her engine broke while being tested. She will be brought back to the navy yard to have the defect remedied.

Mr. H. Bissell of Salem, Mass., has been appointed chief civil engineer of the Boston & Maine railroad's entire system.

The vestibule train between Boston and Mt. Desert, Me., will commence running on June 25th, making the trip each way in seven and one-half hours.

A game of base ball between nines from the Haven school and the Walker school will be played at Langdon Park this afternoon.

It is predicted that the struggle this season for the pennant between the clubs in the National League will be the closest in the history of the national game.

The umpires of the New England League for the coming season, both regular and substitute, meet at the office of the secretary of the league on Monday afternoon, for the purpose of receiving instructions and to talk up the rules.

All the new shades of Dress Goods are now in stock, at Lewis E. Staple's, No. 7 Market street.

Mr. George F. Wallis has removed his bakery to next store above the former location.

Rev. H. L. Wheeler of Newton Centre, Mass., will preach in the Unitarian church to-morrow, morning and evening.

Republican Conventions.

CONCORD, N. H., March 31st, 1888.

In accordance with the vote passed at the recent meeting of the Republican State Committee, conventions for the choice of delegates to the National Republican Convention at Chicago, on the 19th of June next, will be held as follows:

State Convention, for the choice of four delegates-at-large and four alternates, at White's Opera house, Concord, on Tuesday, May 8th, at eleven A. M.

First Congressional District Convention, for the choice of two delegates and two alternates, at White's Opera house, Concord, on Tuesday, May 8th, at 2 P. M., or immediately upon the adjournment of the State Convention.

Second Congressional District Convention, for the choice of two delegates and two alternates, at Phenix hall, Concord, on Tuesday, May 8th, at 2 P. M., or immediately upon the adjournment of the State Convention.

Classed towns, and such towns and wards as are entitled to pro-rata representation in the General Court, will each send one delegate to the State and District conventions, and all other towns and wards will be entitled to twice as many delegates as they have representatives.

The same delegates may represent their towns and wards in the State and District conventions, if properly accredited thereto, or different sets of delegates may be sent to the State and District conventions.

The caucuses should be notified sufficiently early and in such manner that the voters will know about them and have an opportunity to attend.

It is desirable that all voters, without regard to past political differences, who are now in favor of elevating and dignifying American labor, protecting home industries from ruinous foreign competition, restricting the influence of the saloon, giving free and popular education to the masses of the people, establishing a liberal system of pensions for Union soldiers, extending the commercial interests of the Nation by a liberal system of appropriations to American steamship lines, especially those engaged in the transportation of our foreign mails, securing free suffrage and an honest count of the ballot, and elevating and protecting human rights in every section of our common country, should be invited to participate in these preliminary gatherings, to the end that no voter now in sympathy with the fundamental principles of the Republican party may feel that he has been overlooked or slighted.

Arrangements have been perfected with the railroads of the state for the transportation of the delegates to the several conventions at the uniform rate of two cents per mile each way. Delegates should be careful to call attention to this when they purchase their tickets.

A meeting of the State Committee and delegates will be held in Phenix hall, Concord, on Monday evening, May 7th, at nine o'clock, to arrange the preliminaries for the State Convention of the succeeding day, after which the question of reorganizing the Republican Clubs throughout the State and also the matter of appointing the times and places for holding the usual State, Congressional, Councilor, and County Conventions will be considered.

The floor of the hall will be reserved for delegates exclusively, and the galleries will be open for spectators. Delegates can receive their tickets of admission by presenting their credentials et the rooms of the Concord Republican Club, Merchants' Block, either on Monday evening or Tuesday morning. As the greatest possible care will be observed in issuing tickets, delegates are requested to call for them in person, and at as early an hour as practicable.

Trusting that the Republicans of the State may at once get themselves in readiness for hard work and a glorious victory in the coming campaign, we are, fraternally,

J. H. GALLINGER,
Chm. Republican State Com.
FRANK D. CURRIER, Secretary.

Capt. Jesse E. Frisbee, of Kittery Point, has been appointed a fish and game warden by the governor of Maine.

OREN BRAGDON & SON, AGENTS, PORTSMOUTH.

Col. Visscher, the humorous poet of St Joseph, Mo., was appointed mail agent on a western road some years ago, but had hardly entered on his duties when a money package was stolen from his car, and he had some difficulty in satisfying the department that it was not his fault. A few days later his train left the track and he sustained a broken ankle. He then sent in his resignation, with the words: "I am tired of holding a position where I have one foot in the penitentiary and the other in the grave."

A Sight Worth Seeing.

Probably few persons ever saw the breathing apparatus of a human being laid open for inspection. From a hospital cadaver, we once saw the lungs and bronchial tubes removed, and blown up as a boy would a bladder or toy balloon, until the fine bronchial tubes and air cells of the lungs were distended to their fullest extent. In this state the lungs were hardened by immersion in alcohol, so that they remained expanded when the air was let free. With a sharp knife the wind-pipe and lungs were split open, so that it was easy to trace the bronchial tubes gradually diminishing in size from the wind-pipe itself, becoming finer and more delicately branched, until finer than small sewing cotton, these tiny bronchi lead into the air-cells beyond, to convey air to sustain life.

Truly a wonderful sight, which we have often recalled during the past winter as we read of the great number of deaths from pneumonia and bronchitis. Nearly 250 deaths in Boston in the month of January.

It seems impossible to most people, that so simple and common a disease as bronchitis, should cause death at all. But think for a moment, what would happen if the lining membrane of those tiny tubes described above should become much swollen by inflammation, which is likely to occur after any severe cold. The passage of air to the lung cells would be stopped, and the patient die from suffocation, as certainly as if a giant grasped his throat.

People should not overlook the irritation or "tickling in the throat," which causes a "hacking cough." Sure symptoms of bronchitis. The irritation being caused from inflammation inside of the wind-pipe, it is useless to take medicines into the stomach to cure it; one might as well eat tallow to cure chapped hands.

The interior mucous membrane of the wind-pipe must be promptly treated, to prevent the downward spread of the inflammation, and effect a cure. On page twelve of a pamphlet published by I. S. Johnson & Co., Boston, Mass., is printed plain directions for applying Johnson's Anodyne Liniment to the bronchial tubes and nasal passages, to cure colds and bronchitis.

It is a well-know fact, as many persons can testify, that this old-fashioned remedy will stop inflammation and swelling, quicker than any other medicine.

Important—All persons afflicted with rheumatism, neuralgia, sore throat, pains in the back or limbs, sprains, bruises, etc., should be informed that Salvation Oil is what they need. For sale by all druggists. Price twenty-five cents a bottle.

a man for groaning when he has Rheumatism or Neuralgia. The pain is simply awful. No torture in the ancient times was more painful than these twin diseases. But—oughta's a man to be blamed if, having Rheumatism or Neuralgia, he wont use Ath-lo-pho-ros, when it has cured thousands who have suffered in the same way? It has cured hundreds after physicians have pronounced them incurable.

"The skill of five physicians could not cure me of Rheumatism which had settled in the hips, neck and shoulders. So intense was the pain that sleep was almost impossible. The first dose of Athlophoros gave me relief, and the third enabled me to sleep for four and a half hours without waking. I continued its use, and am now well."

THE JOB PRINTING

Business is conducted in the same office by RICHARD I. WALDEN, who keeps on hand a large and well-selected stock of all materials required in his line. Give him a trial and you will be more than pleased.

The contract between the navy department and the Herreshoff Manufacturing company of Bristol, R. I., for the construction of a steel twin-screw sea-going torpedo boat has been received by the department from the contractors, signed. The vessel is to be completed and ready for delivery to the government in fifteen months from date. The price to be paid for the boat is $82,750.

By an explosion in a colliery at Workington, Eng., April 19th, seventeen persons were killed and three fatally hurt, others being less injured.

Queer Fits and Starts.

The fits and starts—using these words in their literal meaning—of the nervous people often strike the beholder as ludicrous. The nerves of hearing of such unfortunates are painfully acute, and impinged by abrupt, unexpected noises, lend them sometimes to perform antics worthy of a jumping-jack. At the root of nervousness, in most instances, is assimilation of the food, and consequently innutrition of the nerves as of the other tissues of the body. This prolonged is, of course, productive of serious nervous disease. The remedy is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, that invigorates the stomach and enables it to perform its functions properly. Soon after commencing a course of it, it will be found that the nerves grow more tranquil by day, nightly repose becomes less interrupted, and appetite more vigorous and satisfying. These are the initial indications, followed by the complete restoration of nervous vigor. The bitters also ease fever and ague, liver complaint and constipation.

Hon. Roscoe Conkling's estate is estimated at $200,000.

As its name proves—it is soothing, pain-allaying and the best on earth—the Hop Plaster.

A Shakespere chair was sold recently in London for £120.

"A Wonder of Medical Science," may well be applied to Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. It is nearly half a century since this remarkable remedy was introduced to the public, and yet the immediate and enviable reputation which it gained by its wonderful cures of coughs, influenza, consumption, and all bronchial complaints, is to this day fully sustained.

The volcanoes of Gorullo and Popocatapetl in Mexico are reported to be getting uneasy.

They make one feel as though life was worth living. Take one of Carter's Little Liver Pills after eating; it will relieve dyspepsia, aid digestion, give tone and vigor to the system.

Emperor Frederick has given orders for the prosecution of all newspapers insulting the empress.

To be free from sick headache, biliousness, constipation, etc., use Carter's Little Liver Pills. Strictly vegetable. They gently stimulate the liver and free the stomach from bile.

The Russian government has enjoined the press of the empire against disparaging the German crown prince.

The emperor of Germany was reported worse on Saturday.

What a Pity

That so many otherwise attractive, polite, and particular people afflict their friends by the foul and disagreeable odor of their breath; it is mainly caused by disordered digestion, and can be corrected by removing the cause, by using that pure medicine, Sulphur Bitters.—Health Magazine.

On the first day of May the Mexican government will assume charge of all mints in that country and hereafter coin all the money put in circulation. Heretofore the mint has been in the hands of private individuals or corporations, to which the government guaranteed the entire bullion product of the country.

A Sensible Man

Would use Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs. It is curing more cases of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup and all Throat and Lung troubles than any other medicine. The proprietor has authorized any druggist to give you a sample bot le free to convince you of the merit of this great remedy. Large bottles 50c. and $1.

"A GREEN OLD AGE."

Few Men or Women Reach It, But Nearly All Might—The Remarkable Experience of an Octogenarian.

"There is only one thing I dread," said the late Charles Sumner, "and that is the coming on of old age."

Mr. Sumner was a brave man, and could face danger unflinchingly but to watch the hairs whiten, the lines of pain and care grow deep in the face, to feel the strength and activity going and death coming on, were more than he could bear. Alas! how many others feel the same today. Pains, loss of sleep, weakness, poor appetite, and feeblenes, all break the spirit. Have you never heard of Mr. Nathan Chase, of New Bedford, Mass.? A man nearly four-score years old, and hale and hearty as in youth. And yet he was supposed to be dying of heart trouble less than two years ago. Here is what he says:

"A year ago or more I began to lose flesh and strength. I sent for my physician to know the cause. He examined me, and said it was my heart; that the old machinery was wearing out, and I must be careful. Still I grew worse. Finally I got so bad I could scarcely breathe; I could not lie in bed but had to sit up all night with possibly one hour's sleep out of twenty-four. And yet to-day, I am in fine condition; can go up three flights of stairs without inconvenience, and feel as well and about as young as ever in my life before. What accomplished this? Hunt's Remedy—nothing else. It has made a new man of me, and I bless God for it every day."

Such an experience should be a valuable lesson to all readers, both old and young. It shows that a long and happy life is possible. It shows that men or women need not despond. It shows that by care and the use of the right remedy health, happiness and long life may be secured by all.

A DISTRESSING COUGH.

How many, especially during the Fall and Winter months, are troubled with a Cough, sometimes dry and hacking, sometimes loose causing the sufferer to raise a large amount of offensive matter; this can soon be cured by using Ingalls' Throat and Lung Specific, which acts directly on the Throat and Lungs.

Cured her Cough.

MRS. JEREMIAH CLARK, Lowell, Mass., says: "Twelve years ago I first took a bottle of your Throat and Lung Specific. I had been troubled with a very bad Cough for months. A 50-cent bottle cured my Cough. Since then I have not been without it. I can heartily recommend it to any one who has a bad cough."

Saved his Life.

CHAS. A. WAITT, says: "No language can express the value I attach to your Specific. I believe it saved my life."

We would cite other testimonials did we think it necessary, but a trial bottle will convince you that it is all we represent. Give it a trial.

Ingalls' Throat and Lung Specific is sold by all Druggists. Price 50 cents and $1. Prepared only by the INGALLS MEDICAL CO., Lowell, Mass.

Republican Conventions.

CONCORD, N. H., March 31st, 1888.

In accordance with the vote passed at the recent meeting of the Republican State Committee, conventions for the choice of delegates to the National Republican Convention at Chicago, on the 19th of June next, will be held as follows:

State Convention, for the choice of four delegates-at-large and four alternates, at White's Opera house, Concord, on Tuesday, May 8th, at eleven A. M.

First Congressional District Convention, for the choice of two delegates and two alternates, at White's Opera house, Concord, on Tuesday, May 8th, at 2 P. M., or immediately upon the adjournment of the State Convention.

Second Congressional District Convention, for the choice of two delegates and two alternates, at Phenix hall, Concord, on Tuesday, May 8th, at 2 P. M., or immediately upon the adjournment of the State Convention.

Classed towns, and such towns and wards as are entitled to pro-rata representation in the General Court, will each send one delegate to the State and District conventions, and all other towns and wards will be entitled to twice as many delegates as they have representatives.

The same delegates may represent their towns and wards in the State and District conventions, if properly accredited thereto, or different sets of delegates may be sent to the State and District conventions.

The caucuses should be notified sufficiently early and in such manner that the voters will know about them and have an opportunity to attend.

It is desirable that all voters, without regard to past political differences, who are now in favor of elevating and dignifying American labor, protecting home industries from ruinous foreign competition, restricting the influence of the saloon, giving free and popular education to the masses of the people, establishing a liberal system of pensions for Union soldiers, extending the commercial interests of the Nation by a liberal system of appropriations to American steamship lines, especially those engaged in the transportation of our foreign mails, securing free suffrage and an honest count of the ballot, and elevating and protecting human rights in every section of our common country, should be invited to participate in these preliminary gatherings, to the end that no voter now in sympathy with the fundamental principles of the Republican party may feel that he has been overlooked or slighted.

Arrangements have been perfected with the railroads of the state for the transportation of the delegates to the several conventions at the uniform rate of two cents per mile each way. Delegates should be careful to call attention to this when they purchase their tickets.

A meeting of the State Committee and delegates will be held in Phenix hall, Concord, on Monday evening, May 7th, at nine o'clock, to arrange the preliminaries for the State Convention of the succeeding day, after which the question of reorganizing the Republican Clubs throughout the State and also the matter of appointing the times and places for holding the usual State, Congressional, Councillor, and County Conventions will be considered.

The floor of the hall will be reserved for delegates exclusively, and the galleries will be open for spectators. Delegates can receive their tickets of admission by presenting their credentials at the rooms of the Concord Republican Club, Merchants' Block, either on Monday evening or Tuesday morning. As the greatest possible care will be observed in issuing tickets, delegates are requested to call for them in person, and at as early an hour as practicable.

Trusting that the Republicans of the State may at once get themselves in readiness for hard work and a glorious victory in the coming campaign, we are, fraternally,

J. H. GALLINGER,
Chm. Republican State Com.
FRANK D. CURRIER, Secretary.

The breath of a chronic catarrh patient is often so offensive that he cannot go into society and he becomes an object of disgust. After a time ulceration sets in, the spongy bones are attacked, and frequently, entirely destroyed. A constant source of discomfort is the dripping of the purulent secretions into the throat, sometimes producing inveterate bronchitis, which in its turn has been the exciting cause of pulmonary disease. The brilliant results which have attended its use for years past, properly designate Ely's Cream Balm as by far the best, if not the only real cure for hay fever, rose cold and catarrh.

—"I don't see how you can get cold in one place, and feel it in another," said Tommy, when told that his sore throat was the result of his getting his feet wet the day before.

Notice—Get Your Full Weight!

THIS CARD is intended to call the attention of every housekeeper in the city of Portsmouth and vicinity. The Spring Cleaning time is drawing near, when every housekeeper will have more or less domestic refuse, such as rags and old rubber, and all kinds of old paper stock, to dispose of; every one wants, and ought to have, the best prices of the market, and this can be assured by seeing John O'Brien or his man, as he is about sending out his carts on the different routes, and having made a contract with parties to take all his paper stock, he will be able to pay the best prices of any man outside of Boston. If you do not see O'Brien's teams, drop a postal card to "John O'Brien, No. 1 Holmes Court," and prompt attention will be paid to the same.

N. B. Beware of unprincipled men; they will call and weigh your rags, and give you about one-half of what they really weigh. My attention has been called to six different cases of late where parties got rags in that way and the housekeeper took them back again. Weigh all your rags, no less, no the dishonest dealer. What I say to one I say to all—"Weigh your rags." Why should you sell your rags for ½ cent when you can get 1 cent per lb. for colored rags, 3½ cents for white, and 3 cents per lb. for your old rubbers. You can get these prices by seeing John O'Brien, cash or trade. If you should enter a grocery store and call for a bag of flour, and found it four or five pounds short, you would think that was not right; and why should you not have your weight in your bag of rags? I say to you again, weigh your rags, for me and for all.

A Great Battle

Is continually going on in the human system. The demon of impure blood strives to gain victory over the constitution, to ruin health, to drag victims to the grave. A good reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla is the weapon with which to defend one's self, drive the desperate enemy from the field, and restore peace and bodily health for many years. Try this peculiar medicine.

Miss Emma Brown of Claremont park, Boston, last Thursday evening hid her jewelry in the waste-paper basket. The servant used the contents of the basket next morning to kindle a fire. When the fact was discovered the fire was put out, and about $1500 worth of diamonds and other jewelry were taken from the ashes. Some of the pieces were missing.

They Will Come 'Round All Right.

The Concord correspondent of the Boston Journal, in a despatch regarding the democratic caucuses in Concord on the evening of the 19th inst., says: "The summing up of the elections shows a substantial victory for the two gentlemen, [Hon. Frank Jones of this city and Alvah W. Sulloway of Franklin Falls] on whom the issue of the caucuses was made. As would have been expected, whatever might have been the result of the primaries, very much bad blood has been stirred up among the democrats of Concord. This is not confined to Concord, but will show itself throughout the state, and is very likely to have a demoralizing influence on the party. There are democrats in this city who are already threatening to bolt the ticket at the next election if Jones and Sulloway are chosen delegates to St. Louis." These threats are merely vapor. Jones and Sulloway will go to St. Louis, if they want to, to whoop 'er up for Cleveland and reform, and the disgruntled democrats of Concord and "throughout the state" will walk up to the polls in November like little men and each carry the straight ticket. But it will not make any difference in the result; New Hampshire will go republican in November anyway.

The Lisbon Murder.

It has been discovered that Orrin Sterry was shot with his own gun, and there is little doubt that he was murdered by his wife or her brother, Love J. Williams, or both. According to the reports as to their reputation it would do no harm to hang them anyway, whether they committed the murder or not.

Base Ball.

The League season of 1888 opened on Friday, the 20th inst. At Philadelphia the Bostons played the Philadelphians, and beat them, four to three. The Washington club played in New York, the home club winning, six to nothing. Pittsburg beat Detroit, five to two, at Pittsburg; and Chicago beat Indianapolis, five to four, on the Indianapolis grounds. During the latter game there was a slight diversion. Sullivan of Chicago and Esterbrook of Indianapolis pausing long enough to have a fight at first base, which resulted in the belligerent players being fined $25 each by the umpire, and arrested by the police after the game was over.

On Saturday, at Philadelphia, the Bostons beat the home club, nine to three. At Washington the New Yorks were beaten by the home club, ten to three. At Pittsburg the home club beat the Detroits, ten to three. And at Indianapolis the Chicagos beat the home club, eight to five.

After the Contract Labor Employers.

Eighteen attachments were filed in the United States circuit court in Boston last Friday for $2000 each, all in suits brought for the illegal importation of laborers under contract. Eight of them, aggregating $16,000, were upon the estate of J. W. Obear of Beverly. Mr. Obear, with his father, owns the fishing schooner Minnetta of Beverly, a craft of thirty-one tons, engaged in the shore fishery. Under a verbal contract he let her for the season to Captain E. E. Refuse, who commanded her last season, and last year took out naturalization papers. The captain agreed to pay the owners a percentage of the value of the catch. The matter of shipping a crew was entirely in his hands, and the owners knew nothing about it; and eight men were brought up on the steamer from Nova Scotia. There was also a crew for the Beverly schooner Iolanthe on the same vessel, and in all ninety-one men came upon the steamer to find work in the states. Besides the attachments on Obear there were the following: Two attachments for $2000 each on J. W. Blodgett of Lynn; one upon Phibeas Grim of Gloucester, engaged in the fishery business; one on James Dale of Danvers, a market gardener, who it is said, has an employe who goes to the provinces each winter, and comes to Danvers in the summer to work for Mr. Dale; three on B. P. Townes of Byfield; one on E. Mansfield of Danvers; and two on Cyrus Noyes of Byfield. All are on the same ground of action.

An Interesting Case.

The case of Fotheringham v. the Adams Express company, which has just terminated at St. Louis with a verdict of $20,000 for the plaintiff, turns upon an incident which, in its disclosure of detective brilliancy, suggests the famous Barron case. Fotheringham was an express messenger on a railway train which was stopped by masked robbers two years ago, and plundered. The messenger was gagged and bound, and otherwise maltreated. But the detectives jumped at once to the conclusion that Fotheringham was a confederate in the crime. The theory once formed, everything was made to bend to it. Fotheringham was arrested and imprisoned, and might very likely have been behind prison bars at the present moment if the real culprits had not been captured a year later, and made a confession which entirely exculpated the messenger. The latter brought suit for false imprisonment, and the sum awarded is large enough to induce caution as to accepting and acting too precipitately upon detective "theories."

One of the oldest and most celebrated hotels in this country is the Revere House, Boston, which has probably entertained more distinguished people than any other American hotel. Paran Stevens, who founded it, gave it a world-wide reputation for refined elegance and delicious fare, a reputation which has been maintained throughout its career; and today it is the favorite resort of those who most fully appreciate the good things of this life. Mr. John F. Merrow, the present proprietor, is one of the most popular and efficient of hotel men, and well sustains the pre-eminence of this famous hostelry.

It is alleged that President Cleveland has been warned by leading democrats that it will not do for him to appoint Minister Phelps to the vacant chief justiceship of the supreme court, as although his legal attainments and character are such as to make the appointment eminently fit to be made, he is very objectionable to the Irish-American wing of the democratic party.

"Did n't know 't was Loaded"

May do for a stupid boy's excuse; but what can be said for the parent who sees his child languishing daily and fails to recognize the want of a tonic and blood-purifier? Formerly, a course of bitters, or sulphur and molasses, was the rule in well-regulated families; but now all intelligent households keep Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which is at once pleasant to the taste, and the most searching and effective blood medicine ever discovered.

Nathan S. Cleveland, 27 E. Canton st., Boston, writes: "My daughter, now 21 years old, was in perfect health until a year ago when she began to complain of fatigue, headache, debility, dizziness, indigestion, and loss of appetite. I concluded that all her complaints originated in impure blood, and induced her to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine soon restored her blood-making organs to healthy action, and in due time reestablished her former health. I find Ayer's Sarsaparilla a most valuable remedy for the lassitude and debility incident to spring time."

J. Castright, Brooklyn Power Co., Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "As a Spring Medicine, I find a splendid substitute for the old-time compounds in Ayer's Sarsaparilla, with a few doses of Ayer's Pills. After the cause, I feel fresher and stronger to go through the summer."

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Combines, in a proportion peculiar to itself, the active medicinal properties of the best blood-purifying and strengthening remedies of the vegetable kingdom. It will positively cure—when in the power of medicine—Spring Debility, Headache, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Salt Rheum, Scrofula, and all Diseases caused by a low state of the blood.

"I suffered three years with blood poison. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla, and think I am cured." MRS. M. J. DAVIS, Brockport, N. Y.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla beats all others, and is worth its weight in gold." I. BARRINGTON, 130 Bank Street, New York City.

Is so vastly superior to any other sarsaparilla or blood purifier, that one has well said: "Its health-giving effects upon the blood and entire human organism, are as much more positive than the remedies of a quarter or a century ago, as the steam-power of to-day is in advance of the slow and laborious drudgery of years ago."

"While suffering from a severe bilious attack in March, 1883, a friend in Peoria, Ill., recommended Hood's Sarsaparilla. I tried the remedy, and was permanently cured." J. A. SHEPARD, travelling agent for Devoe & Co., Fulton Street, N. Y.

Purifies the Blood

"I tried a dozen articles to cleanse my blood, but never found anything that did me any good till I began using Hood's Sarsaparilla." W. H. PEER, Rochester, N. Y.

"My wife was troubled with dizziness and constipation, and her blood has been in a bad order—in fact she has been all run down. Hood's Sarsaparilla is doing her a wonderful amount of good." F. M. BALDWIN, druggist, Blanchester, Ohio.

"I was for five years a sufferer with boils, all run down, and was at one time obliged to give up work. Before taking all of two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, was entirely cured." R. M. LANE, Pittsburgh, Pa.

"I was severely afflicted with scrofula, and for over a year had two running sores on my neck. Took five bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and consider myself entirely cured." C. E. LOVEJOY, Lowell, Mass.

GRAND

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

— TO THE —

People of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont.

The Atkinson House Furnishing Co., having completed their purchases for

THIS SPRING'S STOCK,

respectfully request a call from all those interested in the Furnishing and Beautifying their Homes. And we would further request that those near our Bangor Store, located on Union street, opposite the Bangor House, should call on our Manager, MR. A. J. MOREY. And those living on the line of the Knox & Lincoln R. R., in the vicinity of Rockland, we would respectfully request to call at our Store on Main street, formerly the old Linde Hotel, MR. W. A. KIMBALL, manager. And again, to those who are nearest our Auburn Store, located on Main street, MR. J. J. EMERSON the Manager, will attend to your every want in House Furnishings. And to those living at Kennebunk, Kennebunkport and Old Orchard, and towns adjacent to Biddeford, we would respectfully request them to call at our Store at the Corner of Alfred and Bacon streets, MR. HENRY P. ATKINSON, Manager. While to those who prefer to select from our Mammoth Stock, we would say come to our Store and Headquarters at the

Cor. of Middle and Pearl Streets.

In each of these Stores we carry complete lines of furnishings which we will sell for cash, or a quarter cash, and the balance by the week or month. Of course we prefer to make cash sales when we can, but at the same time it has always been our aim and object to satisfy everyone of our customers to the uttermost, whether they wished to buy for cash or otherwise. This is the House Cleaning season of the year. Old Carpets must give place to New, Old Chamber Sets should be replaced by those of later design. Parlor Suits that have been in use for some time are often moved into the sitting room, making room for the new Parlor Suit. That Range that you have been using for many years, perhaps takes more coal to run it to get the desired work from it than a new one would, consequently making you a loss every day. Now we will sell you from the very largest stocks at Lowest Prices than you can buy elsewhere, and we will sell them to you for cash or a quarter cash, and the balance by the week or month. Write for samples.

CARPETS,

Chamber Sets

We have an enormous quantity in each of our Stores. Ask your neighbors who have seen them, and they will testify to our almost endless variety, and we will Sell you Cheaper than you can buy elsewhere. We mean what we say, for all cash, quarter cash, or balance by the week or month. Write us for cuts, photographs and prices. Orders through the mail promptly attended to.

Parlor Suits

In all the Stores in Endless Variety, and a stock of 356 full Suits at our Headquarters. Prices from $31 to $400, all cash, or quarter cash, and balance by the week or month. Write us for photographs, cuts and prices.

KITCHEN RANGES

In all our Stores you will find the Quaker, New Tariff and First National, besides a host of others, but to those who wish a good range we recommend the Quaker and the New Tariff; also the First National, for a lower priced one. We have them all the way up to $50, and we sell you a range for cash, or for $10 down and the balance by the week or month. Do not delay ordering. We would rather have the range in your house than in our store house, and let you take your time to pay for it.

Window Shades and Drapery Curtains.

Lace Curtains all prices, kinds, qualities and styles. And everything to completely furnish a House, Hotel, Cottage, Church, Lodge Room or Club Room. Write us for cuts, catalogues and prices. And please do not forget that we handle the

Baldwin Refrigerator and Ice Chests,

besides other makes and kinds, but we prefer to sell the BALDWIN, as it has the Biggest Reputation of any Ice Chest or Refrigerator in the Market.

Write us for Cuts, Catalogues and Prices of this Celebrated Refrigerator, and do not delay buying because hot weather will be upon us, and you will regret it. And please remember that MR. MOREY, manager of the Bangor store; MR. KIMBALL, manager of the Rockland store; MR. EMERSON, manager of the Auburn store; and MR. ATKINSON, manager of the Biddeford store, will each show you a complete line of house furnishings and give you the same terms as would be given at the Headquarters at Portland. All goods will be delivered Freight Prepaid at your depot, and at each one of these stores you will receive the most Honorable Treatment Possible To Give A Customer, whether you wish to buy for cash, or part cash, and the balance on time.

Respectfully,
The Public's Obedient Servants,

The Atkinson

House Furnishing COMPANY.

Headquarters Cor. Pearl and Middle Sts., Portland, and Branches as above quoted.

☞ Do not pay long prices when you can buy goods from us and save money. It costs you nothing to look, and very little to write. Consequently it is an easy matter to inform yourself.

SAACC. ATKINSON Gen. Manager.

At Music Hall To-night.

One might as well hope to successfully photograph a laugh as to describe "Skipped by the Light of the Moon," or say why it is funny. It simply defies analysis. Its sole object is to raise a breeze, and the breeze which has been raised by it has got quite beyond control, and grown to an unmanageable magnitude of a cyclone. The most imperturbable nature goes down before it without a show of resistance, and everybody rolls and shakes and laughs.—Philadelphia Ledger.

This mirth-provoking piece will be produced at Music hall this evening, with new features and new music. Tickets at Goodrich's; see advertisement.

Democratic Caucus.

The democratic caucus of ward three was held on Friday evening, Ira G. Eastman being chosen chairman, and T. F. Cronin secretary. It was voted that the same delegates represent the ward in both state and congressional conventions, and Frank Jones and T. F. Cronin were elected as such delegates.

New Hotel.

The block on the corner of Vaughan and Congress streets, opposite Franklin block, exclusive of Coleman's drug store and M. E. Johnson's hair store, but including the Webster house, has been leased for a term of years by E. T. & S. H. Cotton, proprietors of the Wilson house at Farmington, who as soon as the present occupants vacate, notice to do which was served on them last Friday, will proceed to refit and refurnish the premises into a first-class hotel.

Struck a Snag.

On Friday the operations on Sagamore road were interferred with by the service of an injunction issued by the supreme court on application of Mr. Charles P. Wendell, owner of the Hartshorn place, so-called, near Sagamore bridge, a portion of which is proposed to be taken in carrying out the projected improvements. A meeting of the board of aldermen to consider the matter has been called by the mayor for this afternoon.

"Tell the Truth and Shame the" Gentleman.

County Solicitor Emery, at a recent trial at Exeter, in summing up paid his respects to the mayor in a most lively manner. It seems that his honor so far forgot his position as conservator of the peace and head of the police as to defend two sailors indicted for stealing in this city. The City Solicitor was silent at this anomaly in political morals, but the County Solicitor could not restrain his indignation. He fairly boiled with invective. He charged Mayor Hodgdon with being a director in one of the breweries in Portsmouth, whose products had brought these men to their unfortunate condition. Indeed, the County Solicitor uttered things which almost made the City Solicitor blush for his remembered efforts to nominate "the counsel for the defence" for election to his present high office! Those who were present could but smile as the irrepressible Emery in his closing argument sailed in and gave the mayor ginger.

Personal.

While disabled from business by a badly-lamed hand, Mr. Wm. E. Noyes proposes to utilize a portion of the time in visiting his brother, Mr. Arthur W. Noyes, at Hingham, Mass., and left for that place on Saturday.

Mr. William Conn went to Hillsborough, this state, Saturday, on a brief visit.

James Abrams and wife of Acton, Mass., are visiting Mrs. Haley of Gravelly Ridge.

Mr. J. W. Barron, representing the Maggie Mitchell company, was in this city last Saturday making arrangements for the presentation of Miss Mitchell's highly successful new play at Music hall next Saturday evening.

Although Hon. George M. Robeson, ex-secretary of the navy, has lost his large fortune, he is in no immediate danger of coming to actual want, as his wife and son each have $6000 per year in their own right.

Lieutenant Emory H. Taunt is to be allowed to resign. It will be remembered that he was tried by court martial for disobedience of orders, and sentenced to be dismissed from the service. Since then he has been examined by two medical boards, one to determine his mental responsibility for his offences, and the other to determine his physical eligibility for retirement. In each case an adverse report was made. Pressure is now being brought to bear upon the secretary to allow him to resign from the navy, and the secretary has virtually consented to that course as the best solution of the matter.

Naval Constructor Thomas E. Webb, Boatswain W. H. Frary and Boatswain J. A. Brisco have been ordered to appear before the retiring board.

Lieut. Nathan E. Niles, U. S. N., is detached from the hydrographic office April 30th, and ordered to torpedo instruction at Newport, R. I., May 1st.

Obituary.

In the usual place in this paper will be found a notice of the death at Western, Nebraska, of Mr. C. Frank Remick, formerly of Eliot, Me., and son of the late Alvah Remick. Deceased was a member of Wilber Lodge, I. O. O. F., of Western, and an active and valued citizen of the town.

Rev. Father Edmund Quincy Sheafe Waldron, a native of this city, died on Monday afternoon, April 16th, at St. Agnes hospital in Pikesville, Md., near Baltimore, at the age of seventy-seven years. Several years ago he met with a severe accident by falling through a bridge at Pikesville, since which time he has been at the above-named hospital. Father Waldron was among the speakers at the praise meeting at the tent on the return of the Sons of Portsmouth in 1873, and has at times conducted services at St. Mary's church in this city. He was one of a large family of brothers and sisters, among whom were the late Maj. Waldron, U. S. A., and the wife of Gen. Justin Dimick.

"As You Like it."

Miss Magaret Mather will appear in Music hall on Wednesday evening as Rosalind, in Shakespeare's comedy "As You Like It," and will be supported by Milnes Levick, Frederick Pauiding, Mrs. Sol Smith and the Union Square Theatre Co., under management of Mr. J. M. Hill. Seats on sale at Goodrich's to-day.

Maritime Notes.

Schooner Lucy H. Russell, with 1750 tons coal to J. Albert Walker, arrived at this port from Baltimore on the 21st inst.

Among the charters reported at the close of last week was that of the schooner J. W. Woodruff, from Perth Amboy to this port with coal at eighty-five cents a ton.

Nine brickers went down river Saturday, with bricks from the up-river yards for Boston.

Boatswain Edwin Crissey has been detached from the Swatara, and granted sick leave for three months. Boatswain James Farrell is ordered from the Minnesota to the Swatara.

The U. S. S. Pensacola, Capt. A. R. Yates, arrived at Laguayra on the 7th inst., with the remains of Gen. Paez, late Guatemalan minister to this country. She was to sail from there on the 12th for Aspinwall.

All sorts of rumors were flying about the streets Saturday in regard to the Swatara. It was reported that not only had all the cog wheels, steam pipes, piston rods, cylinders, shafts, bearings, connections, boilers and other things belonging to her engine department given out and tumbled so pieces, but that her deck is in such a bad condition that nobody is allowed to wear shoes on board for fear of breaking through, and that it leaks so badly that men when down below have to wear rubber overcoats and carry umbrellas to keep from being drowned, even when the weather is fair. Just what the grounds for the rumors are we cannot say; the board of inspection and survey is a naval board, and we doubt if Adm. Jouett, president of the board, makes his report to anybody this side of the secretary of the navy.

All the new shades of Dress Goods are now in stock, at Lewis E. Staple's, No. 7 Market street.

Bible and History.

Daniel the prophet lived 550 years before Christ was born. In the 7th chapter of his book, the last thing he saw in his vision, was a horn that had eyes and a mouth, like a man. Daniel was told this was a king; "the saints were to be given into his hands, for a time and times and the dividing of time." By the symbol made use of here, it is a ruler of a civil and ecclesiastical power. The same is not in such hands now. We come down the stream of time until after Christ was born forty-five years, when St. Paul wrote his second letter to the Thessalonian church, 2d chapter, he tells them about Carist coming; he did not want them to be shaken in their mind, nor troubled, nor let any man deceive them by any means. He tells them the mystery of iniquity doth already work, only he who now letteth, will let, until he be taken out of the way, and then shall that wicked be revealed the man of sin, whom the lord shall destroy at his coming. Paul shows there was a power in his day that would have to be taken out of the way, (pagan Rome,) then the man of sin would take its place. We come down the stream ninety-six years after Christ was born, when St. John received those things recorded in the book of Revelations. In the 13th chapter of this book, John saw a leopard beast and describes him, and by what he says of him he has the civil and ecclesiastical power in his hands; the dragon (pagan Rome) gave him his power and his seat, and great authority. The city of Rome was the seat of government of pagan Rome; they worshipped the dragon which gave power unto the heart, "and they worshipped the beast, saying, who is like unto the beast, who is able to make war with him." Power was given unto him to continue forty-two months, by symbols is 1260 years, and it was given unto him to make war with the saints, and to overcome them. In the 17th chapter of Revelations, John saw in vision a woman sit on a beast, full of names of blasphemy, and upon her forehead was a name written (mystery, keep this name in mind,) Babylon the great, the mother of harlots; he saw the woman drunken with the blood of the saints, and with the blood of the martyrs of Jesus. A woman is a symbol of a church in prophecy; a beast, a civil or political government. By these symbols, a church has got the civil power or government into her hands; she can bestow gifts of honor on who she pleases, and put to death who she pleases, and no power can hinder her.

In the first verse of the 17th chapter John saw the judgment of this woman, while sitting on the waters; the angel tells him (15th verse) the waters which thou sawest, where the woman (or church) sitteth, are peoples, and multitudes and nations, and tongues; this is the position the Roman Catholic church occupies now, not having any civil government under her control. The name (mystery) St. Paul said the mystery of iniquity already worked in his day, and it did until it overthrew the pagan Roman government. Gibbon tells us in his history that the Emperor Justinian and the pope were great friends. It looks to me and it seems as though any one can see that the mystery of iniquity doth work now in all of our cities, and state and federal governments, to overthrow them, to get the civil power into the Catholic church's hands. We will now turn to the history of the decline and fall of the Roman empire given by Edward Gibbon, Esq., Vol. 5 (to be obtained at the Athenaeum library.) The Emperor Justinian was born in A. D. 483, (page 39;) when he was forty-five years old he was crowned emperor of the Roman empire, A. D. 527; he ruled the empire thirty-eight years and seven months. Justinian died at the age of eighty-three years, in A. D. 565 (page 379.) His palace was at Constantinople eleven years before his death; the Roman army after a number of battles with the Gothic army, the city of Rome was taken for the last time A. D. 554 (page 284.) Gibbon says (page 285) the civil state of Italy after the agitation of a long tempest, was fixed by a pragmatic sanction which the emperor promulgated at the request of the pope; on the next page Gibbon says this took place on the 15th day of August, 554. On page 285 Gibbon says the weights and measures was delegated to the pope and senate, and the salaries of lawyers and physicians, and so on; it is clear to my mind that in A. D. 554 the church got the civil power into her hands, and from this point of time she commenced her career. The leopard beast, and Daniel's horn that had eyes and mouth, and Paul's man of sin, commenced at this time, A. D. 554. The man of sin has no reference to the church, but to the head of it, the popes, who would follow on in their order, till Christ should come back again to the earth. I will show by history where the church lost its civil power; in the days of Martin Luther and the reformers her power was broken somewhat; the length of time she was to have the civil power in her hands, and make war on the saints and put to death, was 1260 years.

(Concluded to-morrow.)

The special delivery system will be materially extended under the provisions of the post office appropriation bill. The system has not been taken advantage of by the public to nearly the extent that was anticipated by its promoters.

"Forgiven," at Music hall last Friday evening, was attended by but a small audience. The drama is a pleasing one, and Mr. Frederic Bryton is an excellent actor, and well supported.

The unpleasant weather on Saturday, with the bad state of the roads and the commencement of spring work, kept most of the farmers out of the city that day, and it was a poor one for business in consequence.

Mr. Gardner J. Greenleaf will have to make a slight change in the location of his hay-scale, in consequence of the erection on his premises of a building for the use of the Portsmouth steam laundry.

The vestry of the Congregational church at Stratham has been furnished with chairs, and now has a seating capacity of about one hundred.

Patrick Brophy of Biddeford, an employe in one of the mills there, was found dead on the Boston & Maine track in Scarboro' last Thursday.

THE JOLLY OLD MARINER.

A jolly old mariner sailing the sea,
Was roaring a solo and thus thundered he.
"Our ship is as bold as an eagle on wing,
And she carries a cargo that's fit for a king;
A cargo that's welcome to peasant or pope,
Our ship she is laden with IVORY SOAP.

"I've plowed all the oceans to every port,
To visit all nations and climes in my sport;
We carry our goods to the ends of the world,
Our trade is announced on our banner unfurled;
See! blazoned on pennant from top-mast and rope:
'We bring to all people the Ivory Soap.'

"From Procter & Gamble, my lads, do you mind?
We carry a blessing to gladden mankind;
For dirt is a foe to the body and soul,
And soap must precede e'en the gospel's control;
Then hurrah! hip hurrah! for philanthropy's hope,
Hurrah for the advent of Ivory Soap.

"Its bars, like the truth, or a life-saving boat,
Ever rise to the top and triumphantly float;
As the foam on the wind-fretted billow 't is light,
As the elephant's tusk it is glossy and white;
The poets all praise it in measure and trope,
The ocean is thundering—IVORY SOAP."

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS

The cabinet organ was introduced in its present form by Mason & Hamlin in the year 1861, since which time the manufacture $22 TO $900. lowed in the manufacture in these instruments, but the Mason & Hamlin Organs have always maintained their supremacy as the best in the world.

Mason & Hamlin offer, as demonstration of the unequalled excellence of their organs, the fact that at all the great World's Exhibitions, since that of Paris, 1867, in competition with best makers of all countries, they have invariably taken the highest honors. Illustrated catalogues free.

PIANOS.

Mason & Hamlin do not hesitate to make the extraordinary claim for their pianos, that they are superior to all others. They recognize the high excellence achieved by other leading makers in the art of piano building, but still claim superiority. This they attribute solely to the remarkable improvement introduced by them in the year 1862, and now known as the "MASON & HAMLIN PIANO STRINGER," by the use of which is secured the greatest possible purity and refinement of tone, together with greatly increased capacity for standing in tune, and other important advantages.

A circular, containing testimonials from three hundred purchasers, musicians and tuners, sent, together with descriptive catalogue, to any applicant.

Pianos and Organs sold for cash or easy payments: also rented. tiny10

A Sight Worth Seeing.

Probably few persons ever saw the breathing apparatus of a human being laid open for inspection. From a hospital cadaver, we once saw the lungs and bronchial tubes removed, and blown up as a boy would a bladder or toy balloon, until the fine bronchial tubes and air cells of the lungs were distended to their fullest extent. In this state the lungs were hardened by immersion in alcohol, so that they remained expanded when the air was let free. With a sharp knife the wind-pipe and lungs were split open, so that it was easy to trace the bronchial tubes gradually diminishing in size from the wind-pipe itself, becoming finer and more delicately branched, until finer than small sewing cotton, these tiny bronchi lead into the air-cells beyond, to convey air to sustain life.

Truly a wonderful sight, which we have often recalled during the past winter as we read of the great number of deaths from pneumonia and bronchitis. Nearly 250 deaths in Boston in the month of January.

It seems impossible to most people, that so simple and common a disease as bronchitis, should cause death at all. But think for a moment, what would happen if the lining membrane of those tiny tubes described above should become much swollen by inflammation, which is likely to occur after any severe cold. The passage of air to the lung cells would be stopped, and the patient die from suffocation, as certainly as if a giant grasped his throat.

People should not overlook the irritation or "tickling in the throat," which causes a "hacking cough." Sure symptoms of bronchitis. The irritation being caused from inflammation inside of the wind-pipe, it is useless to take medicines into the stomach to cure it; one might as well eat tallow to cure chapped hands.

The interior mucous membrane of the wind-pipe must be promptly treated, to prevent the downward spread of the inflammation, and effect a cure. On page twelve of a pamphlet published by I. S. Johnson & Co., Boston, Mass., is printed plain directions for applying Johnson's Anodyne Liniment to the bronchial tubes and nasal passages, to cure colds and bronchitis.

It is a well-know fact, as many persons can testify, that this old-fashioned remedy will stop inflammation and swelling, quicker than any other medicine.

Probably the oldest employee of the government in term of service is Lindsey Muse, an ancient colored man, who has stood guard at the door of the secretaries of the navy since 1828. He is eighty years old, and growing so feeble that he will probably be forced to relinquish his post.

Every nervous person should try Carter's Little Nerve Pills. They are made specially for nervous and dyspeptic men and women, and are just the medicine needed by all persons who, from any cause, do not sleep well, or who fail to get proper strength from their food. Cases of weak stomach, indigestion, dyspepsia, nervous and sick headache, &c., readily yield to the use of the Little Nerve Pills. In vials at 25 cents.

Two men were killed in the Natick mill at Providence, R. I., April 20th, by the bursting of a steam pipe.

The exhausted and drowsy feelings, common to spring time, indicate an impure and sluggish condition of the blood, which may be remedied by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It is the most powerful, and, at the same time, most economical blood purifier known.

A. S. Abell, founder of the Baltimore Sun, died last week at the age of eighty-one years.

As a hair dressing and renovator, Ayer's Hair Vigor is universally commended. It eradicates dandruff, cures eruptions of the scalp, invigorates and beautifies the hair, and prevents its fading or turning gray.

A Russian railway king named Polikeff has just died, leaving a fortune of $30,000,000.

THE JOB PRINTING

Business is conducted in the same office by RICHARD I. WALDEN, who keeps on hand a large and well-selected stock of all materials required in his line. Give him a trial and you will be more than pleased.

The London Truth fears that overdressing is a constitutional defect in America; this may be so, but there is one thing England can not help acknowledging.—that we have the greatest remedy for asthma ever known, Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

Max Strakosch, the impressario, is reported to be seriously ill, his legs being paralyzed.

Do not experiment with cold weather pains and soreness. Hop Plasters are infallible and safe.

Brig. Gen. Wm. Dwight, U. S. A., died in New York on the 21st inst. His war record was a glorious one, and he was one of four brothers who rendered active service to the Union cause in the field until death or the close of the war relieved them.

The breath of a chronic catarrh patient is often so offensive that he cannot go into society and he becomes an object of disgust. After a time ulceration sets in, the spongy bones are attacked, and frequently, entirely destroyed. A constant source of discomfort is the dripping of the purulent secretions into the throat, sometimes producing inveterate bronchitis, which in its turn has been the exciting cause of pulmonary disease. The brilliant results which have attended its use for years past properly designate Ely's Cream Balm as by far the best, if not the only real cure for hay fever, rose cold and catarrh.

Rear Adm. Charles S. Boggs, U. S. N., retired, died in New Brunswick, N. J., April 22d.

As its name proves—it is soothing, pain-allaying and the best on earth—the Hop Plaster.

Hon. George H. Pendleton, United States minister to Germany, is reported to be recovering.

"A Wonder of Medical Science," may well be applied to Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. It is nearly half a century since this remarkable remedy was introduced to the public, and yet the immediate and enviable reputation which it gained by its wonderful cures of coughs, influenza, consumption, and all bronchial complaints, is to this day fully sustained.

Miss Dora Wheeler is painting a series of life-sized portraits of eminent authors. She has finished James Russell Lowell, Frank Stockton, Charles Dudley Warner, Mark Twain, T. B. Aldrich, and Frances Hodgson Burnett. John Burroughs and Walt Whitman are partly done.

They make one feel as though life was worth living. Take one of Carter's Little Liver Pills after eating; it will relieve dyspepsia, aid digestion, give tone and vigor to the system.

The British Medical Journal protests vigorously on the score of health against the low-necked and sleeveless gowns which, with unconscious sarcasm, are now known as full dress.

To be free from sick headache, biliousness, constipation, etc., use Carter's Little Liver Pills. Strictly vegetable. They gently stimulate the liver and free the stomach from bile.

A daughter of the late Chief-Justice Waite has become known as a traveller, having, in 1877-78, gone two hundred miles farther up the Nile than any other lady tourist up to that date.

What a Pity

That so many otherwise attractive, polite, and particular people afflict their friends by the foul and disagreeable odor of their breath; it is mainly caused by disordered digestion, and can be corrected by removing the cause, by using that pure medicine, Sulphur Bitters.—Health Magazine.

Dr. Elizabeth Horr was elected president for the year 1888 at the annual meeting of the Androscoggin County, Me., Medical association.

A Sensible Man

Would use Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs. It is curing more cases of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup and all Throat and Lung troubles than any other medicine. The proprietor has authorized any druggist to give you a sample bottle free to convince you of the merit of this great remedy. Large bottles 50c. and $1.

"A GREEN OLD AGE."

Few Men or Women Reach It, But Nearly All Might—The Remarkable Experience of an Octogenarian.

"There is only one thing I dread," said the late Charles Sumner, "and that is the coming on of old age."

Mr. Sumner was a brave man, and could face danger unflinchingly but to watch the hairs whiten, the lines of pain and care grow deep in the face, to feel the strength and activity ebbing and death coming on, were more than he could bear. Alas! how many others feel the same today. Pains, loss of sleep, weakness, poor appetite, and feebleness, all break the spirit. Have you never heard of Mr. Nathan Chase, of New Bedford, Mass.? A man nearly four-score years old, and hale and hearty as in youth. And yet he was supposed to be dying of heart trouble less than two years ago. Here is what he says:

"A year ago or more I began to lose flesh and strength. I sent for my physician to know the cause. He examined me, and said it was my heart; that the old machinery was wearing out, and I must be careful. Still I grew worse. Finally I got so bad I could scarcely breathe; I could not lie in bed but had to sit up all night with possibly one hour's sleep out of twenty-four. And yet to-day, I am in fine condition; can go up three flights of stairs without inconvenience, and feel as well and about as young as ever in my life before. What accomplished this? Hunt's Remedy—nothing else. It has made a new man of me, and I bless God for it every day."

Such an experience should be a valuable lesson to all readers, both old and young. It shows that a long and happy life is possible. It shows that men or women need not despond. It shows that by care and the use of the right remedy health, happiness and long life may be secured by all.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

A DISTRESSING COUGH.

How many, especially during the Fall and Winter months, are troubled with a Cough, sometimes dry and hacking, sometimes loose causing the sufferer to raise a large amount of offensive matter; this can soon be cured by using Ingalls' Throat and Lung Specific, which acts directly on the Throat and Lungs.

Cured her Cough.

MRS. JEREMIAH CLARK, Lowell, Mass., says: "Twelve years ago I first took a bottle of your Throat and Lung Specific. I had been troubled with a very bad Cough for months. A so-cent bottle cured my Cough. Since then I have ever been without it. I can heartily recommend it to any one who has a bad cough."

Saved his Life.

CHAS. A. WAITT, says: "No language can express the value I attach to your Specific. I believe it saved my life."

We would cite other testimonials did we think it necessary, but a trial bottle will convince you that it is all we represent. Give it a trial.

Ingalls' Throat and Lung Specific is sold by all Druggists. Price 50 cents and $1. Prepared only by the INGALLS MEDICAL CO., Lowell, Mass.

Bible and History.

The histories of Europe, the French revolution, in 1789 to and in 1815, given by Archibald Alison, Esq., in four volumes; this is the 4th volume, page 497; after Napoleon and his form of government had been overthrown by the allied army, the question among the head officers as to who should take the throne of France was decided in favor of one of the Bourbon family, who had been dethroned by Napoleon; he was brought to their council, and said, I have drawn up the constitutional charter, which shall now be read. These words were received with loud applause, (page 498.) The king said he had no wish but to exercise the authority which he had received from God and his fathers. A constitutional charter was given in Paris in the year 1814, and it goes to show the freedom contained in the charter; It guarantees the great foundations of civil liberty, liberty of conscience and worship, freedom of the press, equality in the eye of the law, and so on. The crowned heads of the allied armies accepted the charter. Alison in his history says before the allied armies left France (page 409) on Easter day, April 10th, 1814, a great altar was erected by command of the Emperor Alexander, in order to a general thanksgiving, by the sovereign and armies, for the signal and complete success with which it had pleased the Almighty to bless the allied army. In this august ceremony, bareheaded, around the altar, the sovereigns with their princes, marshals, and generals partook in the services. The ceremony was conducted by the bishops and priests of the Greek church, who had accompanied the Russian army. All Christendom was there represented; the uniforms of twenty nations were around the altar, a thanksgiving for the triumph of Christianity; a hundred guns were fired announcing the triumph of the gospel over its great enemy. At this date, 1814, all the civil power the Roman Catholic church had was taken from her, and all classes of people are allowed to hold to their religious principles, by civil law. I do not know of any one since then has been put to death for their religious principles, unless by mob law. The 1260 years of her reign stops in 1814; since that time she sits on the waters, the members of the church, is made up of all nations. In 1870 the city of Rome was taken from her. Thus far the bible, the word of God, has had a literal fulfillment by history.

We turn to the book of Daniel the prophet, the 11th and 12th chapters, is no vision; what is recorded therein is the conversion of Daniel, and an angel from heaven to inform him what was to transpire on earth, and when the end should be, as it was in the days of Abraham and Lot; angels came from heaven to inform them of the destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah, (read Genesis, 18th and 19th chapters; Daniel, 12th chapter, 11th, 12th and 13th verses.) The angel informs him from the time that the daily sacrifice shall be taken away and the abomination that maketh desolate set up, there shall be 1290 days; blessed is he that waiteth and cometh to the 1335 days, "but go thou thy way until the end be, for thou shalt rest and stand in thy lot (or order) at the end of the days." Here are prophetic numbers given. A day stands for a year. These two prophetic numbers, or years, start at the same point of time, "when the daily sacifice should be taken away." Whatever sacrifice pagan Romans, or the Jews, had in their worship, would have to stop when the Roman Catholic church got the civil power in her hands; her forms and ceremony of worship, all though the time she had the power, was the cause of so much blood being shed (a religion that requires a man to go to his fellow man, a priest, to get his sins pardoned, is neither bible nor good sense,) and the abomination that maketh desolate set up.

I showed by Gibbons' history that the church got the civil power in the year 554; at this time the 1290 years and 1335 years start; the 1290 years bring us to 1844, the 1335 years bring us to 1889, when Daniel was told he should stand in his lot (or order) at the end of the days. There is forty-five years of difference between the two measurements, from the year 1844, the tarrying time of ten virgins will run out, from evidence which is forty-five years, the length of time the children of Israel were journeying from Egypt to the land of Canaan, and divided the land by lot; (Joshua, 14th chapter.) Caleb, one of the spies, that Moses sent to spy out the land, said, Joshua he was forty-five years old, and the Lord has kept him alive forty-five years since; I am this day eighty-five years old. We see by this it was forty-five years after the children of Israel left Egypt before they got the inheritance that God promised them. I do believe the old Second Advent bands of 1844 and '45 are fulfilling this type and tarrying time of the ten virgins, which will end A. D. 1889. I do believe from the evidence that in the year 1889 Christ will personally come back to this earth, and raise to life those that sleep on in their graves.

From a knowledge of what is in the bible, no man living can tell the day or week or month when this event will come, —nor the year, if it does not take place in 1889. In conclusion, I do not know why the Catholic church at the present time, without the civil power, is not as good as any other professed church; from what Christ and his apostles taught, all of the churches, of every name, have corrupted themselves by their sins and traditions as a body. In view of this great event, I do believe it will be best for all persons to find some honorable and lawful business, and attend to it till it does come. This is most likely the last time you will hear from me through the press. WM. S. WILLEY.

I am living in my 75th year.

Notice—Get Your Full Weight!

THIS CARD is intended to call the attention of every housekeeper in the city of Portsmouth and vicinity. The Spring Cleaning time is drawing near, when every housekeeper will have more or less domestic refuse, such as rags and old rubber, and all kinds of old paper stock, to dispose of; every one wants, and ought to have, the best prices of the market, and this can be assured by seeing John O'Brien or his man, as he is about sending out his carts on the different routes, and having made a contract with parties to take all his paper stock, he will be able to pay the best prices of any man outside of Boston. If you do not see O'Brien's teams, drop a postal card to "John O'Brien, No. 1 Holmes Court," and prompt attention will be paid to the same.

N. B. Beware of unprincipled men; they will call and weigh your rags, and give you about one-half of what they really weigh. My attention has been called to six different cases of late where parties put rags in that way and the housekeeper took them back again. Weigh all your rags, and catch the dishonest dealer. What I say to one I say to all—"Weigh your rags." Why should you sell your rags for ¾ cent when you can get 1 cent per lb. for colored rags, 3¼ cents for white, and 3 cents per lb. for your old rubbers. You can get these prices by seeing John O'Brien, cash or trade. If you should enter a grocery store and call for a bag of flour, and found it four or five pounds short, you would think that was not right; and why should you not have your weight in your bag of rags? I say to you again, weigh your rags, for its and for all.

"Ireland For the Irish."

The Washington correspondent of the democratic Boston Post writes that paper as follows:

An interesting story is in circulation tonight, which, if true, will relieve the president from what is regarded as an awkward political embarrassment. The president, it is well known, is desirous of appointing Minister Pheips to the vacancy on the supreme bench, but fears the consequences that would follow the selection of a gentleman for whom the Irish-Americans entertain such a cordial dislike. As the story goes, certain New England influences are being exerted to place Mr. Phelps on the bench, send Secretary Endicott to England, and call Patrick Collins of Boston into the cabinet. It is said that this action on the president's part would not only neutralize the bad effects of Mr. Phelps' appointment, but would in reality strengthen the administration with the Irish-Americans, with whom Mr. Collins is universally popular.

So! The Cleveland reform administration, with whom "a public office is a public trust," regards the prejudice of the Irish wing of the democratic party as being entitled to more consideration than the interests of the nation, in making appointments to the highest offices of honor and trust in the gift of the people.

How It Would Pinch.

Says the New York Sun, which is one of the democratic papers not given over to President Cleveland's free trade views: "The bone of contention between protectionists and free traders is the remuneration which labor should receive. Mr. Mills' tariff reduction bill slashes into the duties on the foreign products of nearly all the important industries of the United States. Every blow struck at these is a blow at the wages of American labor. Every such slash cuts into the livelihood of an American working man or woman. Throughout the entire system of manufactures by machinery or hand, the wages paid in the United States are about twice as great as those paid in Europe, while the cost of food and clothing is less here than there. Every wage earner in this city can see from the following comparison of the pay of operatives in a blast furnace at Joliet, Illinois, and in the blast furnaces of a great steel-rail establishment in Cumberland, England, the loss of money, comfort, and well-being which the Mills tariff would inflict on him if it should become law:

	England.	Illinois.
Blast furnace keepers	$1.41	$2.25
Helpers	.85	2.60

Presentation to Isaac C. Atkinson, Jr.

Wednesday afternoon, April 11th, there was left at the office of Isaac C. Atkinson, president of the Atkinson House Furnishing Company of Portland, Me., an elegant testimonial to his baby boy, I. C. Atkinson, Jr., from the newspapers of Portland. It consisted of a solid silver, gold-lined mug, chased in the base and adorned on the sides with flowers and vines, and bearing the following inscription:

Presented
to Isaac C. Atkinson, Jr.,
April 1888.

May he inherit his father's push and Enterprise.

Besides the mug there was a set comprising a spoon, knife and fork, all of solid silver, with the handles finely chased, and each marked "I. C. A., Jr." The mug and the set were each enclosed in elegant plush cases, satin lined. The testimonial was bought at A. M. Wentworth's on Congress street, Portland. Accompanying the gift was the following card, the handwriting being that of Prof. Shaylor, of Shaw's Business college:

As a token of our appreciation, and with a view of lightening so far as may be a newly assumed responsibility, the undersigned newspapers of Portland unite in the presentation of this testimonial in the hope that Mr. Atkinson's latest article of house furnishing may be to him "A thing of beauty and a joy forever."

Following is the response of Mr. Atkinson to the gift to his little son noted above:

PORTLAND, ME., April 11th, 1888.

To the Press of Portland:

Gentlemen—In behalf of Isaac C. Atkinson, Jr., permit me to express my heartfelt thanks to you for the beautiful gift received this day, and trust the recipient will in future years be able to also show his appreciation to "The Press" by using their columns as one of the aids in climbing the ladder to commercial fame. The undersigned wishes also to here thank "The Press" and citizens of this city for the valuable aid rendered him in the past three years, toward making successful the great enterprise in which he is interested and also hopes that the same generous patronage and assistance will be given (if not too far to look ahead) to his future successor, Isaac C., Jr., to whom he looks forward in later years as being one of Portland's prominent business men. With many thanks from Mrs. Atkinson and myself for your kind remembrance, I am,

Sincerely yours, ISAAC C. ATKINSON.

John Kelly, the valet of Benson, the Mexican swindler, and a man named Bertine, have been arrested for conspiring to aid Benson to escape from Ludlow street jail, New York, where he is held pending extradition to Mexico. Benson thought he had bribed a keeper of the prison to smuggle in a key made by Kelly, and to otherwise aid in the plot, but the keeper exposed the scheme.

A Famous Doctor

Once said that the secret of good health consisted in keeping the head cool, the feet warm, and the bowels open. Had this eminent physician lived in our day, and known the merits of Ayer's Pills as an aperient, he would certainly have recommended them, as so many of his distinguished successors are doing.

The celebrated Dr. Farnsworth, of Norwich, Conn., recommends Ayer's Pills as the best of all remedies for "Intermittent Fevers."

Dr. I. E. Fowler, of Bridgeport, Conn., says: "Ayer's Pills are highly and universally spoken of by the people about here. I make daily use of them in my practice."

Dr. Mayhew, of New Bedford, Mass., says: "Having prescribed many thousands of Ayer's Pills, in my practice, I can unhesitatingly pronounce them the best cathartic in use."

The Massachusetts State Assayer, Dr. A. A. Hayes, certifies: "I have made a careful analysis of Ayer's Pills. They contain the active principles of well-known drugs, isolated from inert matter, which plan is, chemically speaking, of great importance to their usefulness. It insures activity, certainty, and uniformity of effect. Ayer's Pills contain no metallic or mineral substance, but the virtues of vegetable remedies in skillful combination."

GRAND SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

—— TO THE ——

People of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont.

The Atkinson House Furnishing Co., having completed their purchases for

THIS SPRING'S STOCK,

respectfully request a call from all those interested in the Furnishing and Beautifying their Homes. And we would further request that those near our Bangor Store, located on Union street, opposite the Bangor House, should call on our Manager, MR. A. J. MOREY. And those living on the line of the Knox & Lincoln R. R., in the vicinity of Rockland, we would respectfully request to call at our Store on Main street, formerly the old Linde Hotel, MR. W. A. KIMBALL, manager. And again, to those who are nearest our Auburn Store, located on Main street, MR. J. J. EMERSON the Manager, will attend to your every want in House Furnishings. And to those living at Kennebunk, Kennebunkport and Old Orchard, and towns adjacent to Biddeford, we would respectfully request them to call at our Store at the Corner of Alfred and Bacon streets, MR. HENRY P. ATKINSON, Manager. While to those who prefer to select from our Mammoth Stock, we would say come to our Store and Headquarters at the

Cor. of Middle and Pearl Streets.

In each of these Stores we carry complete lines of furnishings which we will sell for cash, or a quarter cash, and the balance by the week or month. Of course we prefer to make cash sales when we can, but at the same time it has always been our aim and object to satisfy everyone of our customers to the uttermost, whether they wished to buy for cash or otherwise. This is the House Cleaning season of the year. Old Carpets must give place to New, Old Chamber Sets should be replaced by those of later design. Parlor Suits that have been in use for some time are often moved into the sitting room, making room for the new Parlor Suit. That Range that you have been using for many years, perhaps takes more coal to run it to get the desired work from it than a new one would, consequently making you a loss every day. Now we will sell you from the very largest stocks at Lowest Prices than you can buy elsewhere, and we will sell them to you for cash or a quarter cash, and the balance by the week or month. Write for samples.

CARPETS,

Chamber Sets

We have an enormous quantity in each of our Stores. Ask your neighbors who have seen them, and they will testify to our almost endless variety, and we will Sell you Cheaper than you can buy elsewhere. We mean what we say, for all cash, quarter cash, or balance by the week or month. Write us for cuts, photographs and prices. Orders through the mail promptly attended to.

Parlor Suits

In all the Stores in Endless Variety, and a stock of 356 full Suits at our Headquarters. Prices from $31 to $400, all cash, or quarter cash, and balance by the week or month. Write us for photographs, cuts and prices.

KITCHEN RANGES

In all our Stores you will find the Quaker, New Tariff and First National, besides a host of others, but to those who wish a good range we recommend the Quaker and the New Tariff; also the First National, for a lower priced one. We have them all the way up to $50, and we sell you a range for cash, or for $10 down and the balance by the week or month. Do not delay ordering. We would rather have the range in your house than in our store house, and let you take your time to pay for it.

Window Shades and Drapery Curtains.

Lace Curtains all prices, kinds, qualities and styles. And everything to completely furnish a House, Hotel, Cottage, Church, Lodge Room or Club Room. Write us for cuts, catalogues and prices. And please do not forget that we handle the

Baldwin Refrigerator and Ice Chests,

besides other makes and kinds, but we prefer to sell the BALDWIN, as it has the Biggest Reputation of any Ice Chest or Refrigerator in the Market.

Write us for Cuts, Catalogues and Prices of this Celebrated Refrigerator, and do not delay buying because hot weather will be upon us, and you will regret it. And please remember that MR. MOREY, manager of the Bangor store; MR. KIMBALL, manager of the Rockland store; MR. EMERSON, manager of the Auburn store; and MR. ATKINSON, manager of the Biddeford store, will each show you a complete line of house furnishings and give you the same terms as would be given at the Headquarters at Portland. All goods will be delivered Freight Prepaid at your depot, and at each one of these stores you will receive the most Honorable Treatment Possible To Give A Customer, whether you wish to buy for cash, or part cash, and the balance on time.

Respectfully,
The Public's Obedient Servants,

The Atkinson

House Furnishing COMPANY.

Headquarters Cor. Pearl and Middle Sts., Portland, and Branches as above quoted.

☞ Do not pay long prices when you can buy goods from us and save money. It costs you nothing to look, and very little to write. Consequently it is an easy matter to inform yourself.

The Sagamore Road Improvements.

The Times of Monday said: "Only four men were at work Saturday, widening and straightening Sagamore road. The gang was all laid off the night before owing to a dispute arising between Mr. Wendell, the owner of the property through which the new road is being put, and the city workmen. Mr. Wendell objected to the city taking more than they agreed, and had an injunction placed upon the work. The mayor called upon Mr. Wendell Saturday and they adjusted matters amicably, and the gang went to work again this morning."

The above corresponds very nearly with what was published by us on Monday morning—on what we regarded as good authority—and by the Penny Post on Monday evening; but a gentleman connected with the city government handed us the following on Monday night:

No injunction has been served on the city in connection with the straightening and grading of Sagamore road. There was nothing to serve an injunction for, as the city has not commenced as yet on any private land, having worked so far only on the public highway, the line of straightening not being fully decided on before Monday afternoon, when the grounds were visited by the board of mayor and aldermen. The workmen were laid off Saturday on account of the weather.

Probably a Silly Hoax.

A boy named Coleman on Saturday last picked up a bottle on the shore of the river at Bloody point, Newington, and in it found a scrap of paper on which was written:

Schooner Jack Williams lost with all on board on March 29 in the storm.

G. G CRAIGIN.

The paper is now in possession of Valentine M. Coleman of Newington. There is no such schooner as the Jack Williams in the United States treasury list of merchant vessels, and the "find" was probably set afloat by some would-be funny fellow who comes nearer being an ass.

Found Dead.

The body of an unknown man, apparently about forty years old, was found floating in the water near the Huntress place on the Newington shore of the Piscataqua, Monday afternoon, by Arthur Tobey and Chester Spinney of Eliot, while they were returning home from this city. They towed the body to the Eliot shore, and then came to this city and notified City Marshal Rowe.

Police Court—Batchelder J.

MONDAY, April 23d.

George Laskey, charged with driving a team faster than the law allows, declared he had done no such thing; but his statement conflicted with the evidence of street Commissioner Marshall and Alderman Wendell, who saw him beating a horse which was on the gallop while a worthless bummer named Jim Hart was holding the reins, and he was fined $10, with costs taxed at $6.90, with a residence at Brentwood in default of payment.

James Hart, for drunkenness, was ordered to Brentwood for thirty days, costs being taxed at $5.76.

Democratic Caucus.

The democrats of ward four held their caucus last Thursday evening, and elected David Urch and Henry Wendell delegates to the state convention of the party, and Horace W. Gray and William A. A. Cullen delegates to the 1st district congressional convention.

Personal.

Miss Martha S. Ricker, of Daniel street, leaves on Wednesday for Worcester, Mass., where she will pass two weeks or more with friends.

It is stated that Mr. H. B. Buzzell, after settling up the business of the late firm of H. B. Buzzell & Son, and disposing of his property in this city, will move to Rochester with his family for a permanent residence there.

Mrs. Celia Thaxter and Mr. Carl Thaxter, of Appledore, are passing a few days in Boston.

Rev. James DeNormandie arrived in Liverpool on Saturday, and preached there on Sunday.

Rev. O. S. Baketel has been returned to the pastorate of the Methodist church in this city for another year.

Mr. John A. Cassidy of this city, the well known bass singer, is announced by the Dover papers to take part in a concert to be given in that city on Thursday evening, April 26th.

Mr. John T. French and daughter, Miss Clara L. French, started on Monday for New York.

Mrs. Cedric Laighton and daughter Ruth are passing a few days in Boston.

Mrs. Wingate N. Ilsley, of State street, is passing two weeks in Boston with her daughter, Mrs. William Hall.

First Asst. Engr. Frank B. Randall, United States revenue marine, of this city, has been transferred from the Colfax to the Hamlin.

The sale of seats for Maggie Mitchell's performance of her new comedy drama, "Ray," in Music hall next Saturday evening, commences at Goodrich's on Wednesday morning.

A Return party will be given in Franklin hall on Friday evening, May 4th, by the gentlemen who participated in the ladies' Leap Year party of April 11th.

About $800 has been subscribed in this city toward aiding the Christian society of Rye in rebuilding their church edifice, destroyed some months ago by fire. This sum includes $300 given by Mrs. Frank Jones. and $50 by the Unitarian church.

The planking of the draw pier of Portsmouth bridge has been taken up, and the pier is to be thorougly repaired and replanked.

On Saturday, in ward two, Orwin Griffin was drawn to serve as grand juror at the May term of the United States circuit court in this city, and Albert R. Junkins and Thomas Neil were drawn to serve as petit jurors at the same term of that court.

The common council will hold a special meeting this evening.

The Boston Courier says Hon. Frank Jones and Col. Charles A. Sinclair will immediately commence the erection of a fine hotel of 125 rooms at Tavares, Florida, in place of the Peninsula house which was destroyed by the great fire in that town a few weeks ago. Col. Sinclair is now on a visit to Florida.

A Nashua despatch of the 22d inst. says: "L. P. Lucier and Dr. A. W. Petit, members of the committee of invitation who visited Washington to invite President Cleveland to visit this city on the occasion of the French-Canadian convention of secret societies of the United States in June, arrived home last night. They are of the opinion that the president and Mrs. Cleveland will accept the invitation to visit Nashua June 28th, coming by way of Worcester, and continuing their journey to Portsmouth and the White Mountains."

Steamer Williamsport, Miller, from Philadelphia with 1663 tons of coal to J. Albert Walker, arrived at this port on the 23d inst.

The republican committee of ward one will meet at the headquarters in Akerman's block this evening to elect a chairman in place of Col. J. Horace Kent, deceased, and to transact other business.

Lewis E. Staple offers for this week the bargain of the season. One case all wool fancy mix dress goods at 33cts. These goods have never been sold for less than fifty cents.

The South Congregational society of Kennebunkport, on the 16th inst., at a parish meeting voted not to give Rev. J. D. Emerson, whose pastorate has ended, a call for another year.

H. A. Deal, the alleged hotel beat and confidence man arrested in this city last week and taken to Saco on a charge of larceny of a watch, was brought before the municipal court in Saco on that complaint and discharged, but before he could get out of the court room was rearrested on a civil suit.

Why Baking Powders are Best.

(From Hale's Journal of Health.)

Baking powders properly compounded, and containing pure cream of tartar, are more convenient than yeast; and bread and pastry made with them are just as wholesome, and far more palatable.

We are in entire sympathy with the manufacturers of the Royal Baking Powder—who commenced and are vigorously conducting the war against the use of adulterated baking powders.

Before committing ourselves, however, we made tests of a sufficient number of baking powders to satisfy ourselves that the substitution of alum for cream of tartar in their composition has not been over-estimated, while a careful examination of the Royal Baking Powder confirms our belief that Dr. Mott, the Government Chemist, when he singled out and commended this powder for its wholesomeness, did it wholly in the interest of the public.

We do not hesitate to say that the Royal Baking Powder people deserve the gratitude of the community whom they are endeavoring to protect.

Recent transfers of real estate in York county, as left for record in the office of the register of deeds: York—Moses French of Manchester, N. H., to William H. Hogarth of New York, real estate in York for $175; Amenious H Bowden to Josiah Norton, real estate for $5; Josiah Norton to Amos J. Williams, real estate for $250. South Berwick — Fred T. Nealley to Christopher P. Gerrish, real estate for $1. Wells—Kennebunk savings bank of Kennebunk to Martha M. Wells of Wells, land and buildings in Wells for $1800; Wm. S. Wells to Martha M. Wells, land and buildings for $1. Ogunquit—John Perkins to Samuel S. Perkins, land and buildings for $100; Joseph Littlefield, 4th, of Wells, to Samuel S. Perkins of Ogunquit, land and buildings for $1; John P. Littlefield of Rockland, Mass., to Samuel S. Perkins of Ogunquit, land and buildings for $100; David Perkins of Gloucester, Mass, to Samuel S. Perkins of Ogunquit, land and buildings for $100; Asenath Gooch of Stoneham, Mass., to Samuel S. Perkins of Ogunquit, land and buildings for $100; Eliza J. Littlefield of York to Samuel S. Perkins of Ogunquit, land and buildings for $100.

The Methodist churches of Kennebunkport and Cape Porpoise, to the pastoral charge of which Rev. Francis Grovenor, for several years past settled in Kittery, has just been appointed by the Portland district conference, jointly pay a salary of $750 a year, with parsonage.

The democratic leaders in the national house it is said have decided not to try to close the tariff discussion before the St. Louis convention.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Among the stamp collectors of Dover is Charles S. Cartland of the Strafford National bank, who has a collection of 4300 stamps, among which is a $20 revenue stamp to attach to wills, and a nearly perfect set of Confederate stamps, the whole valued at about $600. He has one of the Mulready envelopes which bears the first stamp issued, covering the larger part of the envelope. Charles A. Richmond has some 4000 stamps valued at $500, and others have collections varying in number from 2000 to 4000.

The town records of Dover for the first two hundred years of its history, from 1623 to 1823, are very defective in the record of marriages, only four hundred being mentioned. Dr. John R. Ham has been compiling the marriages in the town between the dates given, and now has 4000 of them, the 400 found on the record and 3600 additional ones.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS. The cadmant organ was introduced in its present form by Mason & Hamlin in 1861. Other makers following have always maintained their supremacy as the best in the world.
$22 TO $900.
Mason & Hamlin offer, as demonstration of the unequalled excellence of their organs, the fact that at all the great World's Exhibitions, since that of Paris, 1867, in competition with best makers of all countries, they have invariably taken the highest honors. Illustrated catalogues free.
PIANOS. Mason & Hamlin do not hesitate to make the extraordinary claim for their pianos, that they are superior to all others. They recognize the high excellence achieved by other leading makers in the art of piano building, but still claim superiority. This they attribute solely to the remarkable improvement introduced by them in the year 1862, and now known as the "MASON & HAMLIN PIANO STRINGER," by the use of which is secured the greatest possible purity and refinement of tone, together with greatly increased capacity for standing in tune, and other important advantages.
A circular, containing testimonials from three hundred purchasers, musicians and tuners, sent, together with descriptive catalogue, to any applicant.

Republican Conventions.

CONCORD, N. H., March 31st, 1888.

In accordance with the vote passed at the recent meeting of the Republican State Committee, conventions for the choice of delegates to the National Republican Convention at Chicago, on the 19th of June next, will be held as follows:

State Convention, for the choice of four delegates-at-large and four alternates, at White's Opera house, Concord, on Tuesday, May 8th, at eleven A. M.

First Congressional District Convention, for the choice of two delegates and two alternates, at White's Opera house, Concord, on Tuesday, May 8th, at 2 P. M., or immediately upon the adjournment of the State Convention.

Second Congressional District Convention, for the choice of two delegates and two alternates, at Phenix hall, Concord, on Tuesday, May 8th, at 2 P. M., or immediately upon the adjournment of the State Convention.

Classed towns, and such towns and wards as are entitled to pro-rata representation in the General Court, will each send one delegate to the State and District conventions, and all other towns and wards will be entitled to twice as many delegates as they have representatives.

The same delegates may represent their towns and wards in the State and District conventions, if properly accredited thereto, or different sets of delegates may be sent to the State and District conventions.

The caucuses should be notified sufficiently early and in such manner that the voters will know about them and have an opportunity to attend.

It is desirable that all voters, without regard to past political differences, who are now in favor of elevating and dignifying American labor, protecting home industries from ruinous foreign competition, restricting the influence of the saloon, giving free and popular education to the masses of the people, establishing a liberal system of pensions for Union soldiers, extending the commercial interests of the Nation by a liberal system of appropriations to American steamship lines, especially those engaged in the transportation of our foreign mails, securing free suffrage and an honest count of the ballot, and elevating and protecting human rights in every section of our common country, should be invited to participate in these preliminary gatherings, to the end that no voter now in sympathy with the fundamental principles of the Republican party may feel that he has been overlooked or slighted.

Arrangements have been perfected with the railroads of the state for the transportation of the delegates to the several conventions at the uniform rate of two cents per mile each way. Delegates should be careful to call attention to this when they purchase their tickets.

A meeting of the State Committee and delegates will be held in Phenix hall, Concord, on Monday evening, May 7th, at nine o'clock, to arrange the preliminaries for the State Convention of the succeeding day, after which the question of reorganizing the Republican Clubs throughout the State and also the matter of appointing the times and places for holding the usual State, Congressional, Councillor, and County Conventions will be considered.

The floor of the hall will be reserved for delegates exclusively, and the galleries will be open for spectators. Delegates can receive their tickets of admission by presenting their credentials at the rooms of the Concord Republican Club, Merchants' Block, either on Monday evening or Tuesday morning. As the greatest possible care will be observed in issuing tickets, delegates are requested to call for them in person, and at as early an hour as practicable.

Trusting that the Republicans of the State may at once get themselves in readiness for hard work and a glorious victory in the coming campaign, we are, fraternally,

J. H. GALLINGER,
Chm. Republican State Com.
FRANK D. CURRIER, Secretary.

Every nervous person should try Carter's Little Nerve Pills. They are made specially for nervous and dyspeptic men and women, and are just the medicine needed by all persons who, from any cause, do not sleep well, or who fail to get proper strength from their food. Cases of weak stomach, indigestion, dyspepsia, nervous and sick headache, &c., readily yield to the use of the Little Nerve Pills. In vials at 25 cents.

The exhausted and drowsy feelings, common to spring time, indicate an impure and sluggish condition of the blood, which may be remedied by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It is the most powerful, and, at the same time, most economical blood purifier known.

There are rumors of an outbreak in Cuba in consequence of the proclaiming of martial law in four provinces.

As a hair dressing and renovator, Ayer's Hair Vigor is universally commended. It eradicates dandruff, cures eruptions of the scalp, invigorates and beautifies the hair, and prevents its fading or turning gray.

A Chicago labor leader says there will be no more great strikes this year in that city.

You hardly realize that it is medicine, when taking Carter's Little Liver Pills; they are very small; no bad effects; all troubles from torpid liver are relieved by their use.

THE JOB PRINTING

Business is conducted in the same office by RICHARD I. WALDEN, who keeps on hand a large and well-selected stock of all materials required in his line. Give him a trial and you will be more than pleased.

Of the eight republicans who received votes for the presidential nomination at the Chicago convention of 1880, four are dead, four still live. Grant, Garfield, Washburne and Conkling have passed away. The four who remain are Blaine, Sherman, Edmunds and Windom.

Queer Fits and Starts.

The fits and starts—using these words in their literal meaning—of the nervous people often strike the beholder as ludicrous. The nerves of hearing of such unfortunates are painfully acute, and impinged by abruft, unexpected noises, lead them sometimes to perform antics worthy of a jumping-jack. At the root of nervousness, in most instances, is assimilation of the food, and consequently innutrition of the nerves as of the other tissues of the body. This prolonged is, of course, productive of serious nervous disease. The remedy is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, that invigorates the stomach and enables it to perform its functions properly. Soon after commencing a course of it, it will be found that the nerves grow more tranquil by day, nightly repose becomes less interrupted, and appetite more vigorous and satisfying. These are the initial indications, followed by the complete restoration of nervous vigor. The bitters also cure fever and ague, liver complaint and constipation.

Busts of Prince Bismark and Count von Moltke are the most conspicuous ornaments of General Boulanger's office.

As its name proves—it is soothing, pain-allaying and the best on earth—the Hop Plaster.

Richard Timberlake died at Charlestown, Va., recently, in his eighty-third year. He served on the jury in 1859 which convicted John Brown.

"A Wonder of Medical Science," may well be applied to Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. It is nearly half a century since this remarkable remedy was introduced to the public, and yet the immediate and enviable reputation which it gained by its wonderful cures of coughs, influenza, consumption, and all bronchial complaints, is to this day fully sustained.

A Paris paper charges that Americans are backing Boulanger to make war between France and Germany, hoping to secure a demand for provisions.

They make one feel as though life was worth living. Take one of Carter's Little Liver Pills after eating; it will relieve dyspepsia, aid digestion, give tone and vigor to the system.

The international copyright bill has been favorably reported in Congress.

To be free from sick headache, biliousness, constipation, etc., use Carter's Little Liver Pills. Strictly vegetable. They gently stimulate the liver and free the stomach from bile.

Mrs. Birdie Grover, one of Buffalo Bill's sharpshooters, who left him in a tiff, was arrested in Queenstown as a dynamiter and had her rifles seized.

What a Pity

That so many otherwise attractive, polite, and particular people afflict their friends by the foul and disagreeable odor of their breath; it is mainly caused by disordered digestion, and can be corrected by removing the cause, by using that pure medicine, Sulphur Bitters.—Health Magazine.

Fortunate Lumber Camp Ticket Holders.

Some months ago a party working in the lumber camp of Wm. Crouch, on the Sturgeon river, ordered 24 tenth tickets in The Louisiana State Lottery. One of these was a tenth of ticket No. 71,825, which won the first prize of $15,000, in the drawing of the 7th of Feb., giving the handsome sum of $15,000 to be divided. There were sixteen in the club, the tickets being sent to Geo J. Johnson of Baraga. Three of the holders were of one family, being John Bodwein, his wife and child, who thus secures a good share.—L'Anse (Mich.) Sentinel, March 31.

The Population of Portsmouth

Is about 15,000, and we would say at least one-half are troubled with some affection of the throat and lungs, as those complaints are, according to statistics, more numerous than others. We would advise all our readers not to neglect the opportunity to call on their druggist and get a bottle of Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs. Trial size free. Large bottles 50c and $1. STARTLING STATISTICS.

What a High Official Has to Say About the Condition of the People—Some Serious Facts and Figures.

[Herald.]

"It is wonderful what figures will show." Such was the remark of a high official in the State Department to a representative of this paper. "How many really rich men do you suppose there are in New England? Very few. But how many do you think there would be if people were physically and mentally sound and vigorous? New England people are active, restless and ambitious, and therefore neglect themselves. Not one man or woman in ten is in perfect health."

"Official figures show this, do they?"

"Precisely. There seems to be a New England disease. People do not seem to think that headaches, or tired feeling, or 'blues,' or loss of appetite, or nervousness mean anything. Then, the first thing they know they are in bed and on theros d to death.

"Dé many die of this disease?"

"Thousands. Henry Wilson, Charles Sumner, Wendell Phillips and Governor Bodwell are among the number. James G. Blaine is also on the road, and his trip abroad is in the hope of recovering health."

"But what do you find to counteract it?"

"Very little. The only reliable medicine so far discovered is Hunt's Remedy. The faculty of one of our leading medical colleges, knowing the composition of this medicine, have been recommending it for some time, and the results have been wonderful. I know three ladies and one gentleman (one of the latter a State officer), who have been entirely cured by its use. I wish everybody might know more about it and use it."

Such facts and figures, and from so high a source, should prove invaluable to thousands whose success in life would be much greater were they physically and metally sound and vigorous.

OH, WHAT A COLD!

This is the season for sudden changes in the weather, and a great many "take cold" either in their Head or on their Lungs, causing Coughs, Hoarseness, and Sore Throat. These troubles can be soon relieved and cured by taking Ingalls' Throat and Lung Specific, which acts directly on the Throat and Lungs, entirely removing these difficulties.

Cured his boy of Croup.

C. M. BROOKS, Lowell, Mass., says: "I take great pleasure in recommending Ingalls' Throat and Lung Specific as a cure for Coughs, Colds, and Croup. I used it in my family last winter with the best results. Two or three doses cured my little boy of Croup, for which I am very thankful."

You can cure that Cough in a short time. You can cure your Catarrh if you persist in its use, as it will stop the secretion of Catarrhal matter in the head; it will relieve Croup in from three to five minutes.

The best he ever saw.

"The best medicine for Coughs and Consumptive Complaints that ever I saw is Ingalls' Throat and Lung Specific," so says JOHN MCLAUGHLIN, of Boston.

Ingalls' Throat and Lung Specific is sold by all Druggists. Price 50 cents and $1. Prepared only by the INGALLS MEDICAL CO., Lowell, Mass.

For The Arctic Natives.

The bill to appropriate $1,000 for the Arctic natives who cared for the sole survivor of the wrecked whaling bark Napoleon, has received the approval of the president, and Capt. Healy, commanding the revenue steamer Bear, will sail from San Francisco for Behring strait on May 5th with the presents on board. A letter has been prepared by Capt. Bonnet, chief of the revenue marine division of the treasury, which Secretary Fairchild will approve, requesting Secretary Bayard to ask the wishes of the Russian minister in the matter. It is proposed to give firearms, blankets and useful stores, and it is thought that it would not be precisely proper to give firearms to the subjects of a foreign state without at least inviting attention of the matter.

Our Farmer Boys.

There is frequently recurring complaint from the farm, reached through the agricultural press, of the reluctance of boys to remain in farming pursuits, indeed sometimes even to enter on such a life. What is the cause of this restless spirit? Are country employments odious in themselves? It is appalling to note the young lives wrecked in cities; youths who strain every nerve and use every means to attain a profession, who just reach the threshold and then succumb, worn out in mind and crushed in body. Of the vast multitudes who year after year leave their country homes to seek fortune in cities, how many succeed? The percentage is very small, even of those who find a moderate amount of success. Some lack ability, others endurance, and many do not possess sufficient strength.

From these remarks it must not be inferred that dull and weakly boys are by nature best fitted to remain in the country and become farmers. The ablest men mentally are none too enlightened, none too capable, to cope with the many difficult problems of agriculture. To-day the land question holds the attention of Europe, and with our abundance of territory, as yet sparsely populated, we are not many generations distant from scarcity of land and its inevitable difficulties. The hardest part of farm life is its seeming monotony. We advisedly use the word seeming, because farm life is more varied than is professional or mechanical life. The four seasons bring to the farmer varied occupations and varied pleasures. The journalist, the lawyer, the doctor, in their callings know no seasons; three hundred and sixty-five days annually are the working days of those who toil in the paths of the higher professions. Artisans and mechanics enjoy rest on one day in every week. Railroad employees generally obtain two, sometimes three, Sundays' rest out of ten months of the year. During the fierce heat of summer the public will travel, and the railroad men, from the tiny newsboy to the general superintendent, must be at their posts.

Our counsel to boys is, before you decide to leave the farm for other work, seek information, and make as sure as you can that you are more fitted for city than for country life. To the farmers we would say, if your boys are well treated they will recognize it; if your boys are overworked, poorly clothed, badly fed, and boorishly treated, make haste to change and to mend your ways. A bad employer gets an unwilling service. The best tempered boy can be made sullen; the most ambitious can be discouraged. When a boy is old enough to work for his father, and when his work is satisfactory, he earns his pay as fully as though he was a hired outsider. —American Agriculturist.

During the past eight years the population of the village of Sanford, Me., has increased eighty-eight per cent. The census for 1880 gave it a population of 800, and it now numbers 1,471 inhabitants. Its remarkable growth in this respect and others is due to the Sanford plush mills, conducted by the Messrs. Goodall, and to the fact that it contains a particularly thrifty and enterprising class of people. There are in Sanford village over 470 children of school age, a number greater than the entire population of the village twenty years ago. The population of the town, which includes the villages of Springvale, South Sanford and Sanford, is now estimated to be at least 3,500, entitling it to rank as the first town in York county.

Rufus Weston and his son, farmers living near Beaver Falls, Penn., recently ploughed up in a field an old can that contained a number of gold coins, amounting in all to $325. Most of the coins bear dates of forty and fifty years ago.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND is a Nerve Tonic which never fails. Containing Celery and Coca, these wonderful nerve stimulants, it speedily cures all nervous disorders.

RHEUMATISM
PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND purifies the blood. It drives out the lactic acid, which causes Rheumatism, and restores the blood-making organs to a healthy condition. It is the true remedy for Rheumatism.

KIDNEY COMPLAINTS
PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND quickly restores the liver and kidneys to perfect health. This curative power, combined with its nerve tonic, makes it the best remedy for all kidney complaints.

DYSPEPSIA
PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND strengthens the stomach, and quiets the nerves of the digestive organs. This is why it cures even the worse cases of Dyspepsia.

CONSTIPATION
PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND is not a cathartic. It is a laxative, giving easy and natural action to the bowels. Regularly surely follows its use.

CURES Nervous Prostration, Nervous Headache, Neuralgia, Nervous Weakness, Stomach and Liver Diseases, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, and all affections of the Kidneys.

ADAMSON'S BOTANIC COUGH BALSAM

More than twenty years ago Adamson's Botanic Balsam was introduced generally throughout New England as a remedy for Coughs, Colds and Pulmonary complaints. Since its introduction it has constantly won its way into public favor, until now it is the universal decision that ADAMSON'S BOTANIC BALSAM is the best remedy for curing Coughs, Colds and Asthma.

Made only by F. W. KINSMAN & CO., (Established 1850). Druggists and Dispensing Chemists, 343 4th Ave., corner 29th st., N.Y. FOR SALE AT ALL DRUG STORES.

Notice---Get Your Full Weight!

THIS CARD is intended to call the attention of every housekeeper in the city of Portsmouth and vicinity. The spring cleaning time is drawing near, when every housekeeper will move more or less domestic refuse, such as rags and old rubbers, and all kinds of old paper stock, to dispose of; every one wants, and ought to have, the best prices of the market, and this can be assured by seeing John O'Brien or his man, as he is about sending out his carts on the different routes, and having made a contract with parties to take all his paper stock, he will be able to pay the best prices of any man outside of Boston. If you do not see O'Brien's teams, drop a postal card to "John O'Brien, No. 1 Holmes Court," and prompt attention will be paid to the same.

N. B. Beware of unprincipled men; they will call and weigh your rags, and give you about one-half of what they really weigh. My attention has been called to six different cases of late where parties got rags in that way and the housekeeper took them back again. Weigh all your rags, and catch the dishonest dealer. What I say to one I say to all—"Weigh your rags." Why should you sell your rags for ½ cent when you can get 1 cent per lb. for colored rags, 3½ cents for white, and 5 cents per lb. for your old rubbers. You can get these prices by seeing John O'Brien, cash or trade. If you should enter a grocery store and call for a bag of flour, and found it four or five pounds short, you would think that was not right; and why should you not have your weight in your bag of rags? Say to you again, weigh your rags, for me and for all.

In chronic cases of neuralgia, rheumatism, or gout, where the disturbing cause is a certain acid which poisons the blood, Salvation Oil should be used according to directions. This powerful pain-destroyer will in time dissolve the poison circulating in the blood, and bring relief when all others fail. Salvation Oil kills pain, and is only twenty-five cents a bottle.

I've Tried It and Know.

"Well John, how d'e do? Long time since I saw you. You're looking remarkably hale and hearty." "Yes, my health is excellent now; but you are not looking as well as when I saw you last. What is the matter? You look—pardon me,—really cadaverous." "I know it. I have liver complaint and jaundice of the worst kind, and I cannot find anything to help me." "I know just what you need. Inga is' Mandrake Compound will build you up in a short time. I've tried it and know." Why, man, I was as bad as you six months ago, and now look at me!" "I'll get some before I go home. All druggists keep it, you say."

A Great Battle

Is continually going on in the human system. The demon of impure blood strives to gain victory over the constitution, to ruin health, to drag victims to the grave. A good reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla is the weapon with which to defend one's self, drive the desperate enemy from the field, and restore peace and bodily health for many years. Try this peculiar medicine.

Tourist and Pleasure Travel.

The Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railway announces the sale of round-trip tickets at greatly reduced rates to points in Colorado, Utah, Idaho, Montana and Wyoming. These sales will continue daily during the spring and summer of 1888. Round-trip tickets will also be sold to popular resorts nearer home, such as Colfax Springs, Spirit Lake, Lake Minnetonka, and hundreds of other localities of interest to artist, tourist, sportsman and invalid.

The Great Rock Island assures to all purchasing these round-trip tourist tickets a choice of routes and the safest, speediest and pleasantest journey that fast through trains, composed of the finest cars that run on wheels, can afford. For further information address E. W. Thompson, New England Passenger Agent, 296 Washington street, Boston, Mass.

An Abundance of Keys.

The instructions received in Belfast some time since to redeem the post-office keys issued at fifty cents and reissue them at twenty-five cents, have resulted in a complication. For this redemption $88 was allotted; but so many keys were presented that it would require $800 to redeem them all. Most of the keys out were of private make, and some were falsely numbered. Mr. R. M. Johnson, of Biddeford, a treasury official, went to Belfast to investigate the matter, and several persons were examined, including some who had made keys, but who were ignorant of the fact that it was a state prison offence to make or hold a false key. It is presumed nothing further will be done, as many post-offices in the country are in the same predicament. In future, however, the postmaster is to keep an account of all the keys issued. Mt. Desert (Me.) Herald.

Navy Yard Notes.

Orders have been received at the navy yard to have the practice ship Constellation in readiness for sea by May 15th.

Commodore David B. Harmony, chief of the bureau of yards and docks, visited this navy yard Tuesday forenoon, and received the salute due his rank.

The monthly false alarm of fire at the navy yard took place Tuesday.

Col. Charles A. Sinclair of this city has given $50 toward procuring uniforms for the brass band in Bethlehem, where he formerly lived.

The Ocean house at Old Orchard, with its furniture and fixtures, and about four acres of land, is announced to be sold by auction on Tuesday, May 1st.

New Hampshire Lodge, No. 17, I. O. O. F., will work the initiatory degree this (Wednesday) evening.

Lewis E. Staples offers for this week the bargain of the season. One case all wool fancy mix dress goods at 33cts. These goods have never been sold for less than fifty cents.

H. A. Deal, who was arrested in this city last week on a charge of larceny of a watch belonging to Horace Dennett of Saco, and who was tried in the Saco court and acquitted and again arrested on a civil action, was released Monday by order of Dennett, and went on his way rejoicing. Lawyer B. F. Hamilton of Saco has the watch and chain in part payment of legal fees. Deal proposes to remain in Saco, and get employment in the mill.—so he says.

Deacon Samuel Pinsbury, first deacon of the Adams street Baptist church in Biddeford, and clerk and treasurer of the church since its organization, died April 23d, aged seventy-nine years.

Eliot Items.

ELIOT, ME. April 23d.

The Methodist conference for this district ended on Monday last, and the ministers returned home during the week to prepare for their new fields of labor. Rev. W. F. Marshall will officiate at the churches in South Eliot and North Kittery. He was at his new station last Sunday, the 22d, and an excellent discourse was delivered, and very much appreciated by the few who were present. It is to be hoped the people will come up and join in the work with the pastor and his companion, who have come here to labor in the good work the coming year. Bro. Marshall will be obliged to be absent next Sunday, on account of the bad travelling at Newfield, his recent station, making it almost impossible to move his goods and family; the snow is three feet deep, and the township nine miles from the railroad station. One week from next Sunday Bro. Marshall will be here again. Rev. Mr. Gibson will have pastoral charge of the church at East Eliot the coming yerr; we wish both gentlemen a year of great prosperity.

The Eliot Library Association gave a clam supper in Brooks hall last Thursday evening, and considering the execrable state of the travelling the attendance was quite large, $10 being taken at the door; besides the clam supper there was a sale of excellent ice cream and cake, from which about $10 more was realized, making the total amount about twenty dollars.

Augustus Paul has been in Boston for a few days on a visit.

School in district six will commence on Monday, April 30th.

At the school meeting in district seven it was voted that the schoolhouse be painted in three different colors,—red, white and blue.

Mr. Prime is having a very handsome house erected near Mr. Benj. Kennard's, under the skillful direction of George P. Paul, one of the best workmen in the town.

Mr. Wm. J. Paul has had the chimney of his house rebuilt, and is making a number of changes in the inside of the building which will be great improvements.

T. F. Staples is putting up a building to be used for the sale of groceries and some other goods.

The board of selectmen have let the town farm for a year to Mr. Fred Shaw, and he is to board the one inmate at $3.75 per week. They will save about $300 this year by so doing, which ought to have been done before and save expense.

A small boy living near the line of this town and Kittery was down by the river shore in his father's field near dusk a few days ago, and having seen a few wild geese not long before, commenced mimicking their cries, which he did very closely. A young man living on "the Neck" heard the calls, and getting his gun rowed quickly to the spot; on arriving there, to his great surprise he saw not a wild goose but a small boy, and in his anger threatened to drive the boy off his father's land if he made such noises any more! That gunner had better stop and think, as well as look, before starting out again. HARRY.

The trial of Herbert J. Hoxie of Onset Bay, Mass., began in New Bedford on the 23d. He is charged with the murder of his infant child, who was found drowned in the Acushnet river with a rock tied to its neck. He has recently been transferred to the Bristol county house of correction from the state prison, where he was committed in 1886 for grand larceny of the yacht Sirius, in which he made an attempt to flee the country, and started for Florida unaided, being captured at Chuttyhunk. Miss Nellie Woodward, the mother of the murdered infant, has recently been discharged from the state reformatory, where she was committed for one year for abandoning her child. It is stated that letters from Hoxie to Miss Woodward have been secured, which when presented at the trial will throw important light upon the case. Hoxie is positive of acquittal, and promises to marry Miss Woodward when he gets out.

Be Sure to Get Hood's Sarsaparilla, my child. See that they do not give you anything else. You remember it is the medicine which did mama so much good a year ago—so reliable, beneficial, pleasant to take—my favorite spring medicine.

Spring Medicine

Hood's Sarsaparilla is the most popular and successful Spring Medicine. Nearly every body needs a reliable spring medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla to expel the impurities which have accumulated in the blood during the winter, to keep up strength as the warm weather comes on, create an appetite and promote healthy digestion. Try Hood's Sarsaparilla this spring and you will be convinced that it does possess superior and peculiar merit.

A Good Appetite

"When I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I was dizzy in the morning, had a headache, and no appetite; but now I can hardly get enough cooked to eat." EMMA SHEPARD, 1 Coral Street, Worcester, Mass.

"Last spring my whole family took Hood's Sarsaparilla. The result is that all have been cured of scrofula, my little boy being entirely free from sores, and all four of my children look bright and healthy as possibly can be. I have found Hood's Sarsaparilla good for catarrh." WM. B. ATHERTON, Passaic City, N. J.

"Did n't know 't was Loaded"

May do for a stupid boy's excuse; but what can be said for the parent who sees his child languishing daily and fails to recognize the want of a tonic and blood-purifier? Formerly, a course of bitters, or sulphur and molasses, was the rule in well-regulated families; but now all intelligent households keep Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which is at once pleasant to the taste, and the most searching and effective blood medicine ever discovered.

Nathan S. Cleveland, 27 E. Canton st., Boston, writes: "My daughter, now 21 years old, was in perfect health until a year ago when she began to complain of fatigue, headache, debility, dizziness, indigestion, and loss of appetite. I concluded that all her complaints originated in impure blood, and induced her to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine soon restored her blood-making organs to healthy action, and in due time reestablished her former health. I find Ayer's Sarsaparilla a most valuable remedy for the lassitude and debility incident to spring time."

J. Cantright, Brooklyn Power Co., Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "As a Spring Medicine, I find a splendid substitute for the old-time compounds in Ayer's Sarsaparilla, with a few doses of Ayer's Pills. After their use, I feel fresher and stronger to go th ough the summer."

GRAND SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

TO THE

People of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont.

The Atkinson House Furnishing Co., having completed their purchases for

THIS SPRING'S STOCK,

respectfully request a call from all those interested in the Furnishing and Beautifying their Homes. And we would further request that those near our Bangor Store, located on Union street, opposite the Bangor House, should call on our Manager, Mr. A. J. MOREY. And those living on the line of the Knox & Lincoln R. R., in the vicinity of Rockland, we would respectfully request to call at our Store on Main street, formerly the old Linde Hotel, Mr. W. A. KIMBALL, manager. And again, to those who are nearest our Auburn Store, located on Main street, Mr. J. J. EMERSON the Manager, will attend to your every want in House Furnishings. And to those living at Kennebunk, Kennebunkport and Old Orchard, and towns adjacent to Biddeford, we would respectfully request them to call at our Store at the Corner of Alfred and Bacon streets, Mr. HENRY P. ATKINSON, Manager. While to those who prefer to select from our Mammoth Stock, we would say come to our Store and Headquarters at the

Cor. of Middle and Pearl Streets.

In each of these Stores we carry complete lines of furnishings which we will sell for cash, or a quarter cash, and the balance by the week or month. Of course we prefer to make cash sales when we can, but at the same time it has always been our aim and object to satisfy everyone of our customers to the uttermost, whether they wished to buy for cash or otherwise. This is the House Cleaning season of the year. Old Carpets must give place to New, Old Chamber Sets should be replaced by those of later design. Parlor Suits that have been in use for some time are often moved into the sitting room, making room for the new Parlor Suit. That Range that you have been using for many years, perhaps takes more coal to run it to get the desired work from it than a new one would, consequently making you a loss every day. Now we will sell you from the very largest stocks at Lowest Prices than you can buy elsewhere, and we will sell them to you for cash or a quarter cash, and the balance by the week or month. Write for samples.

CARPETS,

Chamber Sets

We have an enormous quantity in each of our Stores. Ask your neighbors who have seen them, and they will testify to our almost endless variety, and we will Sell you Cheaper than you can buy elsewhere. We mean what we say, for all cash, quarter cash, or balance by the week or month. Write us for cuts, photographs and prices. Orders through the mail promptly attended to.

Parlor Suits

In all the Stores in Endless Variety, and a stock of 356 full Suits at our Headquarters. Prices from $31 to $400, all cash, or quarter cash, and balance by the week or month. Write us for photographs, cuts and prices.

KITCHEN RANGES

In all our Stores you will find the Quaker, New Tariff and First National, besides a host of others, but to those who wish a good range we recommend the Quaker and the New Tariff; also the First National, for a lower priced one. We have them all the way up to $50, and we sell you a range for cash, or for $10 down and the balance by the week or month. Do not delay ordering. We would rather have the range in your house than in our store house, and let you take your time to pay for it.

Window Shades and Drapery Curtains,

Lace Curtains all prices, kinds, qualities and styles. And everything to completely furnish a House, Hotel, Cottage, Church, Lodge Room or Club Room. Write us for cuts, catalogues and prices. And please do not forget that we handle the

Baldwin Refrigerator and Ice Chests,

besides other makes and kinds, but we prefer to sell the BALDWIN, as it has the Biggest Reputation of any Ice Chest or Refrigerator in the Market.

Write us for Cuts, Catalogues and Prices of this Celebrated Refrigerator, and do not delay buying because hot weather will be upon us, and you will regret it. And please remember that Mr. MOREY, manager of the Bangor store; Mr. KIMBALL, manager of the Rockland store; Mr. EMERSON, manager of the Auburn store; and Mr. ATKINSON, manager of the Biddeford store, will each show you a complete line of house furnishings and give you the same terms as would be given at the Headquarters at Portland. All goods will be delivered Freight Prepaid at your depot, and at each one of these stores you will receive the most Honorable Treatment Possible To Give A Customer, whether you wish to buy for cash, or part cash, and the balance on time.

Respectfully,
The Public's Obedient Servants,

The Atkinson House Furnishing COMPANY.

Headquarters Cor. Pearl and Middle Sts., Portland, and Branches as above quoted.

☞ Do not pay long prices when you can buy goods from us and save money. It costs you nothing to look, and very little to write. Consequently it is an easy matter to inform yourself.

Municipal Affairs.

A special meeting of the Common Council was held on Tuesday evening, April 24th, President Page in the chair.

The joint resolution authorizing the mayor to borrow on the credit of the city a sum not exceeding $25,000 to meet the current expenses, was concurred in as it came from the board of mayor and aldermen.

Joint resolution authorizing a discount of taxes, and directing when notice shall be given to persons whose taxes remain unpaid, was also concurred in.

Adjourned to the call of the president.

Serious Fire.

An alarm of fire was sounded from box fifty-eight, (police station,) at half-past six o'clock Tuesday evening, followed in five minutes by a second alarm, calling out the entire department. The cause was a blaze in the boot and shoe store of J. C. Carr on Market street, which for a half hour or so had a very ugly look. The fire caught in the back part of the store on the lower floor, just after the lighting of a lamp there, but whether from the bursting or capsizing of the lamp, or other cause, is not known. A drummer who was in the store at the time with samples of fine slippers made good time out, with his hat in one hand and his sample trunk in the other; and Mr. Carr and Mr. Hartshorn were driven out by the spread of the fire so quickly that they could not get their coats or hats.

The firemen were all at supper when the alarm sounded, and the horses all unharnessed after their day's work, but for all this the apparatus was very promptly on hand, the hose carriages being hauled by the men, and within fifteen minutes of the time the alarm was given the fire was being drenched down by five streams of water. It was well it was so, for the flames had spread all over the lower story, bursted out through the cupola of an addition at the rear, and mounted story by story to the upper floor of the building, within a few minutes of the start of the fire. The rubber goods, packing boxes, etc., were excellent fuel, and created intense heat and dense clouds of suffocating smoke; but the flood of water thrown into the building very soon reduced the flames, and before eight o'clock the fire was entirely out.

The damage by fire was confined to the store of Mr. Carr. The water rose in the cellars of Ayers & Locke's and David Kimball & Co.'s stores, on either side of Carr's store, to the height of a foot or more, and the smoke also forced its way into them to such an extent as must have done much harm. Mr. Carr's large stock, on which there was insurance of but $1500, was all either burned or thoroughly soaked with water; and the woodwork of the building, on which also there was insurance of $1500, was practically destroyed. The total loss is estimated at $8000, exclusive of damage to David Kimball & Co.'s and Ayers & Locke's stocks.

The fire was handled with vigor and good judgment by the fire department, and its management afforded convincing proof of the propriety of having the engineers entirely independent of the foremanships of the several companies.

An engine came over from the navy yard, but its services were not required.

Ward One Republicans.

The republican committee of ward one had a meeting at the republican headquarters on Tuesday evening, to make preliminary arrangements for the approaching campaign. George W. Pendexter was chosen chairman, John H. Locke secretary, and Alfred C. Hoyt treasurer; and the following-named gentlemen were chosen to serve as ward committee the coming year:

George W. Pendexter, John H. Locke, Alfred C. Hoyt, Samuel C. Whittier, George L. Parks, Joseph R. Curtis, Walter S. Gray, Willis B. Hodgdon, John Wilson, Hanson Hoyt, Thomas Entwistle, James A. Rugg, John E. Milton, George B. Wallace, Robert King, George A. Silsbee, James A. Waterhouse, James Marden, Charles A. Wendell, Albert Pray, Fred Young, Charles E. Hatch, Charles W. Shannon, Frank L. Marks, John H. Downing, Gideon Moran, Meshach H. Bell, Lorenzo T. Burnham, Michael E. Long, Hiram C. Locke, Henry Smith, George Murray, Benjamin Powell, Samuel Foye, Henry J. Eaton, Clement Waterhouse, Reuben Rand, Moses Laighton, M. M. Collis, Ivah R. Davis.

Voted to hold the ward caucus on Friday evening, the 27th, at the headquarters, to choose delegates to the several conventions.

John B. Downs.

Mr. John Bragg Downs died at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Moses Garland of North Hampton, on Monday evening, April 23d, in the 76th year of his age.

Mr. Downs was born on Star island, Isles of Shoals, in 1812, and all his life and up to the time of his death owned a homestead on that island, being the last native-born "Shoaler" of whom that could be said. Until three winters ago his whole life had been passed on the island, with the exception of a part of one winter when fire drove him to the main land, and forced him to make a temporary home with his sons in this city. When Mr. John R. Poor erected the original Oceanic hotel on Star island, it was located close by Mr. Downs' home; all the other property owners on the island sold their holdings to Mr. Poor, but Mr. Downs did not wish to sell at any price, and would not, and although the hotel proprietor tried every means to oust him, the sturdy islander held his ground until the fire which started in and consumed the Oceanic, and destroyed a dozen or more other buildings, during a howling southeaster one winter night, laid his house also in ashes. Nothing daunted, Mr. Downs with the opening of spring rebuilt on the old place, and lived there summer and winter as before, until the infirmities of advancing years forced him to yield to the importunities of his children that he pass his winters, at least, with them on shore.

Mr. Downs married, in 1838, Miss Olive Foss of Rye, who survives him, with three sons, Capt. Levi W. Downs, Capt. Ephraim Henry Downs and Mr. John O. Downs of this city, and two daughters, one the wife of Mr. Moses Garland of North Hampton, and the other the wife of Mr. John Hidden of Newburyport.

During the youth of Mr. Downs there were 150 people residing on Star island, which with Cedar and Lunging islands, and the portion of Smuttynose island included within the boundaries of New Hampshire, formed the town of Gosport. There were forty-five pupils in the school, and the town supported a doctor and a minister—or at least had a doctor and minister resident. The prosecution of the fisheries was the sole productive industry, and it was quite important in its magnitude until after a great fire, somewhere along in the forties we believe, burned a large part of the town, a blow from which it never recovered. From that time the population and the importance of the fisheries rapidly dwindled, until at last there were but eleven voters in the town, and Mr. Downs and one (perhaps two) of his sons were the only real residents of the island among these; then the town of Gosport was wiped off the map, and included in the town of Rye.

Mr. Downs was engaged in the fisheries during his active life, and by industry and reasonable economy accumulated a modest competence, without stinting himself or his family on any needless expense. He was quiet and non-aggressive, and though as stubborn as the rocks of his native islands in resisting what he regarded as encroachments on his own rights, was equally as careful not to encroach on the rights of others; and from those who were brought up and passed most of their lives near him we never heard a word against him as a man, a citizen or a neighbor.

Body Identified.

The body found floating in the river near the Newington shore on Monday by two Eliot men, and brought to this city that evening, was on Tuesday fully identified by Frank C. Wendell as that of Peter Verte, a Frenchman who boarded at one time with Mr. Wendell, and disappeared in December last, having at the time about $10 due him for work at shovelling coal. He was addicted to drink, and probably fell off one of the north end wharves while drunk. Coroner Whittier viewed the body, but considered an inquest unnecessary.

Parish Meeting.

At the adjourned meeting of St. John's parish, held on Tuesday evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Wardens, John Hatch, George B. French:

Vestrymen, W. Freeman, Lyman D. Spalding, Daniel L. Stover, Alfred O. Larkin, Henry F. Wendell, Moses H. Goodrich, John Christie, Timothy A. Tucker, Robert King;

Parish clerk, Samuel R. Gardner;

Treasurer, Robert C. Peirce;

Auditors, Henry F. Wendell, C. S. Franklin;

Delegates to diocesan convention, John Hatch, John Christie, C. S. Franklin, Robert C. Peirce.

It Will Be All Right.

At the democratic caucus in ward four, last week, Aldermen Urch and Wendell were elected delegates to the state convention of the party. It was Alderman Urch who engineered the movement to cripple the schools by cutting down the appropriation, which bade fair to succeed until Hon. Frank Jones arrived home from Florida and straightened things out by sitting down on the whole business; and Aldermen Wendell was the one member of the board who from the first stood up for the appropriation as required. As Mr. Jones is a delegate to the democratic state convention it is safe to assume that there will be on monkeying with the nominations or there solutions.

Personal.

Mrs. Margaret Smith, widow of William Smith, of this city, has been granted a pension.

Mr. Henry Lowd of Wentworth street sustained a shock of paralysis on Monday, and on Tuesday was reported to be very low.

One of the passengers of the Cunard steamer Catalonia, which arrived at Boston from Liverpool on Tuesday, was Mr. Samuel Gookin.

Mrs. Theodore Cushing and Miss Anna Cushing are visiting Miss Ann W. Peirce, of Haymarket square.

Mrs. Albion Stevens of Salem, Mass., formerly of this city, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Sarah E. Pickett, on Pleasant street.

Mrs. Henry A. Young of Jamaica Plain, Mass., is visiting Mr. Aaron H. Hill and wife on Middle street.

Master Harry Washburne, son of Capt. I. H. Washburne, United States marine corps, is to be the high school orator on Arbor day, on which occasion the scholars will plant a tree in the schoolhouse yard.

C. F. McClure and family of Chelsea, Mass., have arrived at their summer residence on Gerrish's island, Kittery, for the season.

Jacob Wendell, Esq., and wife, of New York, arrived at their summer home in Newcastle on Tuesday.

Mary L. Bartlett, widow of Charles E. Bartlett, and mother of Mrs. W. W. McIntire of this city, died in Great Falls on April 18th, aged seventy-five years.

"As You Like it."

This evening, at Music hall, the charming actress Miss Margaret Mather will appear as Rosalind, in Shakespeare's pastoral comedy "As You Like It," supported by Frederick Paulding, Milnes Levick and a strong company. Tickets at Goodrich's; see advertisement.

Gone Up.

Sheriff Coffin on Tuesday took to the state prison at Concord the following-named convicts, sentenced at the April term of the supreme court for Rockingham county: Benjamin W. Richards, three years for polygamy, five years for burglary, eight years in all; Fred Harsog and August Drager, burglary, three years each; Arvilla Palmer and George Truesdale, burglary, one year each.

Lost a Finger.

Josiah Lovell, an apprentice in the brass finishing room of the Portsmouth Machine shop, had the middle finger of his left hand crushed in the gearing of a machine on Monday afternoon, and Dr. Potter found the injury so severe that amputation was necessary.

The residence of the late William Simes, on Court street, now occupied by Mr. George B. French, has been purchased by Dr. Samuel F. Ham, the dentist, for a residence for himself.

The ladies of the Christian church of Rye, and other ladies of the town, will give a "Pink party" in the town hall shortly in aid of the building fund of the church.

Schooner Benjamin Oliver, Grove, left Rappahannock river, Virginia, on Friday last, for this port, and arrived in the lower harbor Monday afternoon, with oysters to W. Freeman. Three days from the capes of Virginia to this port is a rattling passage for a small schooner to make.

"WHAT is it they put in IVORY SOAP, Doctor, to obtain its healing qualities?"

"No special ingredient is used. It is simply because the IVORY is as nearly pure as it is possible to make soap. Any soap that is as pure as the IVORY will be equally as healing in its effect, but the difficulty is to find a soap so pure. The profession recommend this non-irritating soap simply to cleanse the wound, then nature does the rest. You can readily appreciate what the effect would be if your neck had been washed with an impure and adulterated soap. Avoid colored and highly perfumed soap, for the coloring and perfume are so often used to disguise something the soap should not contain."

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS

$22 TO $900. The cautious organ was introduced in its present form by Mason & Hamlin in 1861. Other makers follow. Invented in the manufacture in these instruments, but the Mason & Hamlin Organs have always maintained their supremacy as the best in the world.

Mason & Hamlin offer, as demonstration of the unequalled excellence of their organs, the fact that at all the great World's Exhibitions, since that of Paris, 1867, in competition with best makers of all countries, they have invariably taken the highest honors. Illustrated catalogues free.

PIANOS.

Mason & Hamlin do not hesitate to make the extraordinary claim for their pianos, that they are superior to all GRAND & UPRIGHT pianos. They recognize the high excellence achieved by other leading makers in the art of piano building, but still claim superiority. This they attribute solely to the remarkable improvement introduced by them in the year 1882, and now known as the "MASON & HAMLIN PIANO-STRINGER," by the use of which is secured the greatest possible purity and refinement of tone, together with greatly increased capacity for standing in tune, and other important advantages.

A circular, containing testimonials from three hundred purchasers, musicians and tuners, sent, together with descriptive catalogue, to any applicant.

A western editor has spent six years writing a book entitled, "How to test glue." An easy subject to stick to; but in the preface he says however he knows no better remedy for coughs and colds produced by sedentary habits, than Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

Ex-Secretary Windom has sold the magnificant house which he built in Washington at a cost of $100,000 to Mrs. Charles Mum of Chicago, for $70,000. The house is now occupied by senator Jones of Nevada. Mr. Blaine occupied it at one time, then Senator Palmer of Michigan, and afterwards Mr. Warder of Ohio.

Every nervous person should try Carter's Little Nerve Pills. They are made specially for nervous and dyspeptic men and women, and are just the medicine needed by all persons who, from any cause, do not sleep well, or who fail to get proper strength from their food. Cases of weak stomach, indigestion, dyspepsia, nervous and sick headache, &c., readily yield to the use of the Little Nerve Pills. In vials at 25 cents.

The Queen Regent of Spain has a mania, almost, for being photographed in company with her children. A recent picture represents a most charming family group. It represents the Queen Regent pouring tea at table, the baby King in his high chair at her side, and the two infants looking demure and beautiful in their plain white dresses.

The breath of a chronic catarrh patient is often so offensive that he cannot go into society and he becomes an object of disgust. After a time ulceration sets in, the spongy bones are attacked, and frequently, entirely destroyed. A constant source of discomfort is the dripping of the purulent secretions into the throat, sometimes producing inveterate bronchitis, which in its turn has been the exciting cause of pulmonary disease. The brilliant results which have attended its use for years past properly designate Ely's Cream Balm as by far the best, if not the only real cure for hay fever, rose cold and catarrh.

In Ireland on Sunday Mr. O'Brien spoke at Fermoy. He was not molested. Mr. John Dillon, M. P., addressed a meeting at Kelleystown. A crowd of 500 persons rescued a prisoner at Abbeyfreie and stoned the police. Fifteen officers were injured, four of them severely.

Queer Fits and Starts.

The fits and starts—using these words in their literal meaning—of the nervous people often strike the beholder as ludicrous. The nerves of hearing of such unfortunates are painfully acute, and impinged by abrupt, unexpected noises, lead them sometimes to perform antics worthy of a jumping-jack. At the root of nervousness, in most instances, is assimilation of the food, and consequently innutrition of the nerves as of the other tissues of the body. This prolonged is, of course, productive of serious nervous disease. The remedy is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, that invigorates the stomach and enables it to perform its functions properly. Soon after commencing a course of it, it will be found that the nerves grow more tranquil by day, night repose becomes less interrupted, and appetite more vigorous and satisfying. These are the initial indications, followed by the complete restoration of nervous vigor. The bitters also cure fever and ague, liver complaint and constipation.

Iowa has 18,748 women teachers in her schools.

As its name proves—it is soothing, pain-allaying and the best on earth—the Hop Plaster.

Sugar cultivation is increasing in Florida.

"A Wonder of Medical Science," may well be applied to Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. It is nearly half a century since this remarkable remedy was introduced to the public, and yet the immediate and enviable reputation which it gained by its wonderful cures of coughs, influenza, consumption, and all bronchial complaints, is to this day fully sustained.

Pulling weeds is not so unpleasant work, particularly when they grow on a pretty little widow's bonnet.

They make one feel as though life was worth living. Take one of Carter's Little Liver Pills after eating; it will relieve dyspepsia, aid digestion, give tone and vigor to the system.

David Carnes, a resident of Brownsville, Ore., is 104 years old, and split 3000 rails last winter.

To be free from sick headache, biliousness, constipation, etc., use Carter's Little Liver Pills. Strictly vegetable. They gently stimulate the liver and free the stomach from bile.

"Gen." Booth, the Salvation Army leader, is one of the sharpest business men in England, and has accumulated a large fortune. Tickets of admission to his daughter's wedding to Mr. Fakeor were sold at $5 a piece, and hundreds were purchased by the aristocracy of London.

What a Pity

That so many otherwise attractive, polite, and particular people afflict their friends by the foul and disagreeable odor of their breath; it is mainly caused by disordered digestion, and can be corrected by removing the cause, by using that pure medicine, Sulphur Bitters.—Health Magazine.

Mart Duggan, ex-city marshal of Leadville, Col., who was shot and killed in that city a few days ago, had long had the reputation of being one of the bravest men in the west. He was marshal of Leadville during the exciting times of 1879-80, when the city was filled with desperate characters, and he performed the duties of his office with a fidelity and unflinching courage that won every one's admiration.

Fortunate Lumber Camp Ticket Holders.

Some months ago a party working in the lumber camps of Wm. Cooch, on the Sturgeon river, ordered 31 tenth tickets in The Louisiana State Lottery. One of these was a tenth of ticket No. 71,575, which won the first prize of $150,000, in the drawing of the 5th of Feb., giving the handsome sum of $15,000 to be divided. There were sixteen in the club, the tickets being sent to Geo J Johnson of Baraga. Three of the holders were of one family, being John Bodwrie, his wife and child, who thus secures a good share.—L'Anse (Mich.) Sentinel, March 31.

The Population of Portsmouth

is about 15,000, and we would say at least one-half are troubled with some affection of the throat and lungs, as these complaints are, according to statistics, more numerous than others. We would advise all our readers not to neglect the opportunity to call on their druggist and get a bottle of Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs. Trial size free. Large bottles 50c and $1. Sold by all druggists. (myyr)

"IT WAS INHERITED."

The Fearful Effect of Heredity Upon the Lives of Men and Women—A Striking Case.

"The man or woman does not live who is free from hereditary influences." This remark was made by the celebrated Dr. Vanderville, of New York, to the Rev. Dr. Brooks, at a recent convention of scientists.

"I agree with you, doctor," said the divine.

"Pure blood," continued the doctor, "is the great cause of health; impaired blood the source of most diseases. It may even go back to the grand or great grand parents."

"I have in mind a prominent man," said the reverend gentleman, "General Alfred G. Monroe, of No. 1 Pemberton Square, Boston. He inherited kidney troubles from both parents, one of whom died with it. He suffered terribly from pains in the back and head, and at times when walking the dizziness became so bad that he was compelled to lay hold of some convenient post for support. He was in a most desperate condition."

"And is he so still?" asked the doctor.

"No, he is in perfect health. Dr. McGregor, I believe of Maine, who had amputated an arm for the general, cured him."

"Do you know what medicine he used?"

"I understand it was Hunt's Remedy."

"Oh, Hunts Remedy. I know it very well," said Dr. Vanderville. "I consider it the best remedy for kidney, liver, heart troubles, and female difficulties in the world. It is in no sense a patent medicine, but a standard remedy, which deserves to be used by all intelligent people. The fact is, no blood-taint can exist when the kidneys are in perfect order, and there is where Hunt's Remedy shows its marvelous superiority."

"I only wish," said Rev. Dr. Brooks, "that all people who inherit a tendency to disease could know of this remedy of which you speak so highly and use it. I am positive it would greatly lessen suffering and death."

OH, WHAT A COLD!

This is the season for sudden changes in the weather, and a great many "take cold" either in their Head or on their Lungs, causing Coughs, Hoarseness, and Sore Throat. These troubles can be soon relieved and cured by taking Ingalls' Throat and Lung Specific, which acts directly on the Throat and Lungs, entirely removing these difficulties.

Cured his boy of Croup.

C. M. Brooks, Lowell, Mass., says: "I take great pleasure in recommending Ingalls' Throat and Lung Specific as a cure for Coughs, Colds, and Croup. I used it in my family last winter with the best results. Two or three doses cured my little boy of Croup, for which I am very thankful."

You can cure that Cough in a short time. You can cure your Catarrh if you persist in its use, as it will stop the secretion of Catarrhal matter in the head; it will relieve Croup in from three to five minutes.

The best he ever saw.

"The best medicine for Coughs and Consumptive Complaints that ever I saw is Ingalls' Throat and Lung Specific," so says John McLaughlin, of Boston.

Ingalls' Throat and Lung Specific is sold by all Druggists. Price 50 cents and $1. Prepared only by the INGALLS MEDICAL CO., Lowell, Mass.

Right to Criticise Judge and Jury.

The High Court of Justice in England has just rendered an interesting and important opinion touching the power of a court over the press.

An application had been made to punish the defendant for contempt of court for having published a sharp criticism of the result of a trial. The high court decided in favor of the defendant, holding that he was not subject to punishment.

Justice Stephen admitted the existence of a power to punish for contempt in a flagrant case of comment published during the trial, read by the jury and maliciously designed to interfere with the course of justice. But it was, he added, a power based on "a very vague principle," and one to be used only in an exceptional case, and then "with the greatest care and caution." He then went on to explain that when a decision had been given or a verdict rendered the case was entirely different. "The court had then done its work, the jury had reached its verdict and they were given over to criticism and comment, and of that they could not complain." In general "there was an undoubted right to make comment upon the conduct of judges or jurors." Justice Field held the same views. "It is the right of all men," he said, "to comment on the acts and conduct of public men, whether judges or jurors."

This wholesome doctrine is far more significant coming from the English than it would be coming from the American bench. The power of a judge to punish his critic is a relic of a past age in England, when there was no freedom of speech or liberty of the press. In the freer and more enlightened England of to-day the exercise of the power is condemned by the judges themselves, except where necessary to deal with a flagrant abuse.

In this country it is not only the right but the duty of an independent journal to criticise judges and juries, and on the fearlessness and fairness with which this is done largely depends the due administration of justice. It is a right guaranteed by federal and state constitutions. Any judge or court that would attempt to interfere with the free exercise of the right would be simply condemned by popular sentiment as a man or a tribunal trying to muzzle the press in violation of a fundamental principle of our form of government.

An animal, different from any ever seen in that part of the country, has been destroying sheep, swine and calves in Barlow county, Ga. The animals were found dead with a wound in the throat resembling the stab of a stiletto. A former who surprised the beast in the act of trying to kill a sleeping calf the other night says the creature resembled a coyote in its movements, was unlike any other animal he ever saw. It was of a dark copper color, with possum shaped head and small head like eyes, the tail bushy and erect, and the body long and smooth. Men have banded together and searched for it day and night, but have been unable to kill or capture it. On one occasion a pack of hounds raced it, when suddenly the leader dog came back with a stream of blood oozing from the throat, and in half an hour died. A scientist by the name of Gredulet has offered $100 for the animal dead or alive.

Few men in New York read more newspapers than does Charles E. Coon, formerly assistant secretary of the treasury. He lives at the Fifth avenue hotel, and is a member of the Home League Club, where he sees the papers from all parts of the country. In the morning by nine o'clock he has devoured the contents of the metropolitan papers and is ready to begin upon the journals from Washington, Philadelphia and Boston. He gives a paper a week's fair trial, and if it proves dull he ceases at once to read it. At 10:30 o'clock he goes to his office on lower Broadway and returns at five o'clock with the afternoon papers. His favorite attitude when reading is to cross his legs, sit nearly straight in his chair and smoke a cigar. He remembers what he reads, and few men are better informed in politics, literature and current news.

Miss Helen Blanchard, now a resident of Philadelphia, is a Maine girl, who has made a fortune through the invention of a simple "over-and-under" attachment for sewing machines. When she discovered the device she had to borrow money to pay the first patent office fees. She now owns large estates, a manufactory, and many patent rights that yield her a large income in royalties.

DEATH TO PAIN.

4 DECADES HAVE COME AND GONE SINCE THE SUFFERERS FROM COUGHS, COLDS AND LUNG TROUBLES FIRST TASTED DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, AND YET IT WAS NOT UNTIL THREE DECADES OF CURING, SEE THAT "I. BUTTS" IS ON THE WRAPPER.

WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY

ADAMSON'S BOTANIC COUGH BALSAM

More than twenty years ago Adamson's Botanic Balsam was introduced generally throughout New England as a remedy for Coughs, Colds and Pulmonary complaints. Since its introduction it has constantly won its way into public favor, until now it is the universal decision that ADAMSON'S BOTANIC BALSAM is the best remedy for curing Coughs, Colds and Asthma.

Notice---Get Your Full Weight!

THIS CARD is intended to call the attention of every housekeeper in the city of Portsmouth and vicinity. The Spring Cleaning time is drawing near, when every housekeeper will have more or less domestic refuse, such as rags and old rubber, and all kinds of old paper stock, to dispose of; every one wants, and ought to have, the best prices of the market, and this can be assured by seeing John O'Brien or his man, as he is about sending out his carts on the different routes, and having made a contract with parties to take all his paper stock, he will be able to pay the best prices of any man outside of Boston. If you do not see O'Brien's teams, drop a postal card to "John O'Brien, No. 1 Holmes Court," and prompt attention will be paid to the same.

N. B. Beware of unprincipled men; they will call and weigh your rags, and give you about one-half of what they really weigh. My attention has been called to six different cases of late where parties got rags from me to day and the housekeeper took them back again. Weigh all your rags, and catch the dishonest dealer. What I say to one I say to all—"Weigh your rags." Why should you sell your rags for ½ cent when you can get 1 cent per lb. for colored rags, 3½ cents for white, and 3 cents per lb. for your old rubbers. You can get these prices by seeing John O'Brien, cash or trade. If you should enter a grocery store and call for a bag of flour, and found it four or five pounds short, you would think that was not right; and why should you not have your weight in your bag of rags? I say to you again, weigh your rags, for me and for all.

JOHN O'BRIEN, Cash or Trade.

The reason why Solomon said, that there was nothing new under the sun, was that he could not buy a good remedy to cure his stubborn cold. Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup had not been compounded then. It has long since proved itself to be the great benefaction of the nineteenth century.

They have a case at Albany, N. Y., similar to the Diss Debar case in New York, in which it is alleged that a rich old lady is being duped by a spiritualistic swindler.

In chronic cases of neuralgia, rheumatism, or gout, where the disturbing cause is a certain acid which poisons the blood, Salvation Oil should be used according to directions. This powerful pain-destroyer will in time dissolve the poison circulating in the blood, and bring relief when all others fail. Salvation Oil kills pain, and is only twenty-five cents a bottle.

"Red" Leary, a bank burglar who was assaulted in New York a few nights ago, died at the hospital from his injuries. William Irvin, his assailant, has been arrested.

I've Tried It and Know.

"Well John, how d'e do? Long time since I saw you. You're looking remarkably hale and hearty." "Yes, my health is excellent now; but you are not looking as well as when I saw you last. What is the matter? You look—pardon me,—really cadaverous." "I know it. I have liver complaint and jaundice of the worst kind, and I cannot find anything to help me." "I know just what you need. Ingalls' Mandrake Compound will build you up in a short time. I've tried it and know. Why, man, I was as bad as you six months ago, and now look at me!" "I'll get some before I go home. All druggists keep it, you say."

Letters received at Baltimore, Md., under date of Cairo, Egypt, March 31st, report Mr. Robert Garrett there, much improved in health. He expects to return to America in September.

A Great Battle

Is continually going on in the human system. The demon of impure blood strives to gain victory over the constitution, to ruin health, to drag victims to the grave. A good reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla is the weapon with which to defend one's self, drive the desperate enemy from the field, and restore peace and bodily health for many years. Try this peculiar medicine.

Dartmouth Notes.

HANOVER, N. H., April 23d.

The snow is just disappearing from the campus. This spring is the latest that has been known here for many years.

Although the vacation trip of the college base ball team was not a complete success as far as winning games is concerned, yet it gave the team excellent practice which will tell in the intercollegiate league games. With more practice there is a good prospect that Dartmouth will hold the championship another year.

The morning chapel exercises are now held in the old chapel, while an arch in the Rollins chapel is being repaired.

Under the direction of manager Kelley, '88, men are training actively for the Intercollegiate athletic meet to be held at Worcester, Mass., May 24th.

The Dartmouth's board of editors for next year has been chosen.

Hon. Frank H. Hurd lectured here on free trade last Friday evening.

Houghton, Mifflin & Co. will soon publish a collection of Dartmouth poems which are being selected by O. S. Davis, '89, and Baker, '88. B.

Affairs in Kittery.

KITTERY POINT, ME., April 24th.

The schooner Mary Willey, of Portsmouth, Capt. Williams, took in a lot of spawn at the pier of the Kittery Fish Co. Thursday, April 19th, and sailed for Boston the same day. Amos W. Amee of this place sailed in the vessel. The Mary Willey arrived on Friday in Boston, where she will discharge, and load with grain for Bangor.

L. E. Bennett, the enterprising new butcher, has opened a meat store in the building formerly occupied by I. D. Phillips. The building has been thoroughly cleansed and newly painted, and looks as neat as a millinor's store. The butcher's cart is as clean and nice as hands can make it. The store will be a great convenience for the people here, and we wish him all success.

We hear that Capt. Horace Seaward has sold his former residence in this place to parties in Portsmouth, and that it will be occupied by them immediately.

The installation at the Freewill Baptist church took place last Wednesday evening. The services were very impressive. The sermon was by Rev. J. H. Rand, and the prayer of installation by Rev. C. M. Anderson, both former pastors of that church. The charge to the pastor was by Elder Harrington of Portsmouth, and the charge to the people by Elder Wood of Dover.

The Bethel meeting next Sunday evening will be at the Freewill Baptist church.

Mrs. Rosalie Grace, who has been with her stepson at the Pepperrell, has returned to her home. Mr. Grace is now able to be up around his room, and will go to his home this week.

Miss Allie Collins is expected home in a few days. She has passed the winter with friends in Worcester, Mass.

Miss Hattie Williams arrived in town Saturday night. The Boston Rubber shop in Malden, Mass., shut down Friday. Twenty-five of the young ladies employed there had a farewell picnic Friday noon. One long table was cleared, and each contributed toward the lunch. The bill of fare was a varied and extensive one. Fruits and ice cream were served for dessert. Two girls from another room, who were fine singers, entertained the company with several choice songs. The shop starts up again May 3d.

A fine bed of crocuses in full bloom may be seen on one of the sunny southern slopes in our village. The colors are pure white, bright yellow, and light and dark blue.

Miss Cora Emery is taking music lessons of Miss Gracie Williams.

The Ladies' Circle meets to-night at the residence of Capt. Richard Seaward.

Matters in York.

YORK VILLAGE, ME. April 23d.

On Fast day, April 19th, union services were held in the Christian church near York Corner. Rev. G. D. Holmes, pastor of the Methodist church at York Village, delivered a most excellent sermon. Notwithstanding the bad travelling a large number of persons were present.

Mr. Willard Grant met with an accident Fast day, being kicked by a colt, and receiving very severe wounds about the head and face, also internal injuries it is feared.

Mr. William Grant and Miss Mary Lizzie Ramsdell were united in marriage by Rev. G. D. Holmes on Thursday evening, April 19th.

Captain Joseph Goodwin died on Thursday morning, the 19th, at the house of his sister, Mrs. Baker, where his home has been. Funeral services were held on Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. George Bragdon is having a bay window added to her house. Mr. Howard Moore is doing the carpenter work.

Mr. Charles Gerrish of York Village has the plan of his new house, and will soon commence building.

A flock of eight wild geese stopped and rested on the ice in the pond at York Village for nearly a half hour one rainy afternoon last week, and continued their journey northward unmolested. J. E.

Great Fire in Concord.

The Concord high school building took fire in the laboratory, in the upper story, April 25th, and was destroyed, with nearly all the books and apparatus. The building was of brick, three stories high, and contained seven schoolrooms, laboratory, art and physics room, and basement. There were 400 pupils in the building when the fire broke out, but all escaped. Loss on building $35,000, on contents $15,000; insurance $15,000.

The fire communicated to the Unitarian church, close by the school, and the structure was damaged to the amount of $20,000 or more; insurance $16,000.

—Professor—"Perpetual motion, in the accepted sense of the term, is impossible. Can you think of a piece of machinery that operates without an impelling force?" Smart student—"Yes, sir." "What is it?" "A gas meter."

—What do you do for cold feet, doctor?" The doctor, in thoughtfull surprise: "Why, I'd go out into the snow barefoot or sleep with my feet out of the window, I suppose. Why do you ask? What do you want cold feet for?"

—Bilsby (who has been nailing down the hall carpet)—"What's the use of hiring a man to do a little job like that?" Mrs. Bilsby—"Perhaps the man might refrain from burying our only son under the carpet! That's what you've done!"

A Famous Doctor

Once said that the secret of good health consisted in keeping the head cool, the feet warm, and the bowels open. Had this eminent physician lived in our day, and known the merits of Ayer's Pills as an aperient, he would certainly have recommended them, as so many of his distinguished successors are doing.

The celebrated Dr. Farnsworth, of Norwich, Conn., recommends Ayer's Pills as the best of all remedies for "Intermittent Fevers."

Dr. I. E. Fowler, of Bridgeport, Conn., says: "Ayer's Pills are highly and universally spoken of by the people about here. I make daily use of them in my practice."

Dr. Mayhew, of New Bedford, Mass., says: "Having prescribed many thousands of Ayer's Pills, in my practice, I can unhesitatingly pronounce them the best cathartic in use."

The Massachusetts State Assayer, Dr. A. A. Hayes, certifies: "I have made a careful analysis of Ayer's Pills. They contain the active principles of well-known drugs, isolated from inert matter, which plan is, chemically speaking, of great importance to their usefulness. It insures activity, certainty, and uniformity of effect. Ayer's Pills contain no metallic or mineral substance, but the virtues of vegetable remedies in skillful combination."

Spring Medicine

Hood's Sarsaparilla is the most popular and successful Spring Medicine.

Nearly every body needs a reliable spring medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla to expel the impurities which have accumulated in the blood during the winter, to keep up strength as the warm weather comes on, create an appetite and promote healthy digestion. Try Hood's Sarsaparilla this spring and you will be convinced that it does possess superior and peculiar merit.

A Good Appetite

"When I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I was dizzy in the morning, had a headache, and no appetite; but now I can hardly get enough cooked to eat." EMMA SHEPARD, 1 Coral Street, Worcester, Mass.

"Last spring my whole family took Hood's Sarsaparilla. The result is that all have been cured of scrofula, my little boy being entirely free from sores, and all four of my children look bright and healthy as possibly can be. I have found Hood's Sarsaparilla good for catarrh." WM. B. ATHERTON, Passaic City, N. J.

Be Sure to Get Hood's

Sarsaparilla, my child. See that they do not give you anything else. You remember it is the medicine which did mama so much good a year ago—so reliable, beneficial, pleasant to take—my favorite spring medicine.

GRAND SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

— TO THE —

People of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont.

The Atkinson House Furnishing Co., having completed their purchases for

THIS SPRING'S STOCK,

respectfully request a call from all those interested in the Furnishing and Beautifying their Homes. And we would further request that those near our Bangor Store, located on Union street, opposite the Bangor House, should call on our Manager, MR. A. J. MOREY. And those living on the line of the Knox & Lincoln R. R., in the vicinity of Rockland, we would respectfully request to call at our Store on Main street, formerly the old Linde Hotel, MR. W. A. KIMBALL, manager. And again, to those who are nearest our Auburn Store, located on Main street, MR. J. J. EMERSON the Manager, will attend to your every want in House Furnishings. And to those living at Kennebunk, Kennebunkport and Old Orchard, and towns adjacent to Biddeford, we would respectfully request them to call at our Store at the Corner of Alfred and Bacon streets, MR. HENRY P. ATKINSON, Manager. While to those who prefer to select from our Mammoth Stock, we would say come to our Store and Headquarters at the

Cor. of Middle and Pearl Streets.

In each of these Stores we carry complete lines of furnishings which we will sell for cash, or a quarter cash, and the balance by the week or month. Of course we prefer to make cash sales when we can, but at the same time it has always been our aim and object to satisfy everyone of our customers to the uttermost, whether they wished to buy for cash or otherwise. This is the House Cleaning season of the year. Old Carpets must give place to New, Old Chamber Sets should be replaced by those of later design. Parlor Suits that have been in use for some time are often moved into the sitting room, making room for the new Parlor Suit. That Range that you have been using for many years, perhaps takes more coal to run it to get the desired work from it than a new one would, consequently making you a loss every day. Now we will sell you from the very largest stocks at Lowest Prices than you can buy elsewhere, and we will sell them to you for cash or a quarter cash, and the balance by the week or month. Write for samples.

CARPETS,

Chamber Sets

We have an enormous quantity in each of our Stores. Ask your neighbors who have seen them, and they will testify to our almost endless variety, and we will Sell you Cheaper than you can buy elsewhere. We mean what we say, for all cash, quarter cash, or balance by the week or month. Write us for cuts, photographs and prices. Orders through the mail promptly attended to.

Parlor Suits

In all the Stores in Endless Variety, and a stock of 356 full Suits at our Headquarters. Prices from $31 to $400, all cash, or quarter cash, and balance by the week or month. Write us for photographs, cuts and prices.

KITCHEN RANGES

In all our Stores you will find the Quaker, New Tariff and First National, besides a host of others, but to those who wish a good range we recommend the Quaker and the New Tariff; also the First National, for a lower priced one. We have them all the way up to $50, and we sell you a range for cash, or for $10 down and the balance by the week or month. Do not delay ordering. We would rather have the range in your house than in our store house, and let you take your time to pay for it.

Window Shades and Drapery Curtains.

Lace Curtains all prices, kinds, qualities and styles. And everything to completely furnish a House, Hotel, Cottage, Church, Lodge Room or Club Room. Write us for cuts, catalogues and prices. And please do not forget that we handle the

Baldwin Refrigerator and Ice Chests,

besides other makes and kinds, but we prefer to sell the BALDWIN, as it has the Biggest Reputation of any Ice Chest or Refrigerator in the Market.

Write us for Cuts, Catalogues and Prices of this Celebrated Refrigerator, and do not delay buying because hot weather will be upon us, and you will regret it. And please remember that MR. MOREY, manager of the Bangor store; MR. KIMBALL, manager of the Rockland store; MR. EMERSON, manager of the Auburn store; and MR. ATKINSON, manager of the Biddeford store, will each show you a complete line of house furnishings and give you the same terms as would be given at the Headquarters at Portland. All goods will be delivered Freight Prepaid at your depot, and at each one of these stores you will receive the most Honorable Treatment Possible To Give A Customer, whether you wish to buy for cash, or part cash, and the balance on time.

Respectfully,
The Public's Obedient Servants,

The Atkinson House Furnishing COMPANY.

Headquarters Cor. Pearl and Middle Sts., Portland, and Branches as above quoted.

☞ Do not pay long prices when you can buy goods from us and save money. It costs you nothing to look, and very little to write. Consequently it is an easy matter to inform yourself.

ISAAC C. ATKINSON, Gen. Manager.

R., of this city, for their benefit. There will also be a matinee Saturday afternoon, the 12th. The following testimonial is from the superintendent of schools in Lebanon, Pa.:

I witnessed the exposition of the Battle of Gettysburg in Fisher's hall on Thursday evening last. The paintings are true to nature and give a realistic view of the battle so far as the same can be transmitted on canvas. General Muiholland, in whose charge these paintings are, is a pleasant speaker and gives a graphic history of the battle, which is not only highly entertaining, but instructive to both old and young. Whoever has an opportunity to see this exposition and fails to do so, has cause of regret.

Further notice will be given through the columns of this paper.

Kittery Spooks and Ghouls.

KITTERY, ME., April 25th.

Various idle, not to say malicious, people have lately been circulating unfounded stories about their neighbors and their neighbors' property, whether with the intent to depreciate the marketable value of the latter or to evince a ready acquiesence in the superstitions of the dark ages we cannot say. Neither object seems commendable. Even the newspapers have been giving expression and adding publicity to the idle and silly stories made current among a few spooneys in this village. They are of the class "who devour widows' houses." If they have no mortgage with which to accomplish it they use the tongue of slander or the breath of a ghoul.

The house which they say is "haunted" is the one formerly the home of Mr. John Rice, now owned by E. C. Spinney, Esq., lately refitted and furnished for the occupancy of his nephew, Mr. Daniel B. Cook. While adjusting a window curtain a short time since Mrs. Cook fell from a chair, injuring herself so badly that it was necessary for her to have care, and for this purpose she and her husband have been at the house of Mr. Spinney, from which place they went to their new home. Meanwhile all sorts of stories have been current, to the effect that Mrs. Cook was frightened away from her home and did not dare to return, that the household effects were being carted away privately by night, etc. And accounts of happenings when other tenants resided there years ago are revived to re-enforce the ghastly array. Persons have been knocked down with lanterns in their hands by night in the barn, (they go for the barn, too,) the piano has played tunes with no one present—at times the instrument even was not necessary—a woman has passed over the stairs out of the house or into the rooms as she pleases, whom no one knew—doors have opened and closed during the night without regard to the quiet of sleeping inmates,—and in short, a general hubbubboo has been kept up there for the past ten years, according to these accounts.

I have only to say that there is not one word of truth in the statement relating to Mr. Cook's absence from his home being occasioned by any ghostly or other unaccountable things. He will return as soon as his wife is able to do so. If one takes the trouble to refer to Mr. Durling, who lived in the haunted house several years and whose family is said to have been so much troubled, he will simply laugh at the inquiry. If the people desire to narrate such stories it would be more considerate to tell them to each other in private than to promulgate them to the injury of the feelings or property of their neighbors. Is it not time for such silly gossip to cease? We think so, for the credit of the orators, to say nothing of justice to those concerned. M.

Patriarchs Militant.

Canton Senter, Patriarchs Militant, of this city, goes to Manchester this morning to take part in the great celebration of the order there, which includes a parade, a prize degree contest in the afternoon, an exhibition prize drill in the evening, and a grand ball following the prize drill.

Base Ball.

The Walker school and Haven school nines played a game at Langdon park on Wednesday afternoon, April 25th, Manager Leonard of the Portsmouth club officiating as umpire. Five innings were played, the Haven school nine winning, eight to six. Another game will be played Saturday afternoon.

The Bostons again beat the Philadelphias on the grounds of the latter, by a score of seven to one. At Washington the home club was beaten by New York, nineteen to fifteen; at Pittsburg the Detroit club scored six runs to four for Pittsburg; and at Indianapolis the Chicagos beat the home club, three to two. This was the record of Tuesday, April 24th.

Personal.

Hon. Charles Levi Woodbury of Massachusetts was registered at the Rockingham on Wednesday night.

Mr. Hartley W. Mason was in town on Wednesday.

Mrs. E. Cushman-Tilton of Washington street is visiting friends in Boston and vicinity.

Mr. Frank S. Preston is to exhibit his trained owls and cockatoos in Concord on the evening of May 2d, at an entertainment given by the Unity club of that city.

Mr. George A. Mudge retires from the position of selling agent of the Portsmouth Brewing Co. on the 1st of May, and the positon will be taken by Mr. William H. Palmer, for several years past engaged in a similar capacity with the Eldredge Brewing Co.

Mrs. Langdon Marden, formerly of Kittery Point, has purchased of Capt. Horace Seaward a house near the post-office at the Point, and will again take up her residence in that town.

Rev. Father Murphy, formerly pastor of St. Mary's church in this city, was in Portsmouth on Wednesday, April 25th, as the guest of Rev. E. M. O'Callaghan.

Maritime Notes.

Schooner yacht Wm. H. Russell was on the beach at Point of Graves, receiving a coat of paint, Wednesday of this week. The fishing schooner Flying Cloud was being recalked by Willard M. Sears, at Russell's wharf, and the Bonita was fitting out for spring fishing, at Caswell's wharf.

The schooner Yankee, which has been at this port several years, anchored during the summer at Gangway rock, and moored winters at C. E. Walker & Co.'s wharf, took her departure on Tuesday of this week for New Haven, Conn., where she is to be employed in raising material from the wreck of the once famous excursion steamer Empire State.

Schooner Rosie & Adra, which arrived below at this port on April 23d, from Port Johnson with coal to E. F. Sise & Co., will discharge at Dover.

Ship Grandee of this port, Capt. B. F. Jacobs commanding, arrived at Manila from Yokohama, Japan, March 3d, and sailed March 10th for Cebu to load for New York.

The schooner Henry M. Clark, formerly of this port, arrived at Philadelphia from Constable Island on April 23d with her mainboom broken, flying jib stay and fore stay gone, forward chainplates on starboard side and one aft on port side carried away, and a number of sails split or blown from the boltropes.

The lighthouse board gives notice that an iron spindle thirty-two feet high, surmounted by a cylindrical iron cage, has been erected on Norion's reef, Pleasant bay, Me., in place of the iron tripod formerly there, but which was destroyed by the action of the sea.

Would it not be a good idea, while the Sagamore bridge is being rebuilt, to put a draw in it, so that small crafts could get above it without having to be dismasted?

Mrs. Hannah Evans of Epping, aged about forty-five years, was struck by a train and instantly killed at a crossing near her home on the afternoon of April 23d, while returning from Exeter. The wagon in which she was riding was broken to pieces, but the horse was not harmed. Mrs. Evans was very hard of hearing.

The Methodist conference of New Hampshire appointed S. P. Heath to the church in Greenland the current year; W. C. Bartlett to Hampton; F. E. White, Newmarket; E. R. Perkins, South Newmarket; F. M. Morgan, to supply at Seabrook.

The navy yard steam fire engine Cataract, which came to this city Tuesday evening of this week in response to the pulling in of the second alarm on account of the fire in J. C. Carr's store, arrived at the locality of the fire in fifteen minutes from the time of starting out from the yard engine house.

It was Dr. Folsom, and not Dr. Potter as stated, who attended Josiah Lovell, the apprentice who had a finger crushed in a machine in the brass shop of the Portsmouth Machine Co. on the 23d inst.

There is a good deal of work yet to be done to the Dover point bridge before it will be passable for teams. The dawdling manner in which the Boston & Maine railroad managers have carried on the repairs needed to fit the bridge for use as a highway, is in sharp contrast to the zeal with which the work was pushed to make it again ready for railroad uses after its partial demolition by the ice.

The loss by the fire in J. C. Carr's store is estimated at $12,000, exclusive of any damage to the stocks in the stores on each side. The insurance on the stock was $5000—$2000 in the New Hampshire Co., and $1000 each in the Granite State, Home Mutual of Concord, and Michigan Fire & Marine of Michigan. On the building, which is owned by Charles H. Mendum and the estate of M. B. Vennard, $1500 in the Capital Co. of Concord, and $1500 in the New Hampshire.

Mr. A. S. Carroll was busy firing seam blasts in the ledges on Sagamore road, Wednesday evening of this week, for an hour or so after the workmen had knocked off. The reports were very distinctly heard on Market square.

"Pink festival" at Rye town hall this evening in aid of the building fund of the Christian church. Numerous parties propose going down from this city, for a moonlight ride and a general good time.

Lewis E. Staples offers for this week the bargain of the season. One case all wool fancy mix dress goods at 33cts. These goods have never been sold for less than fifty cents.

The Prescription Department in Preston's Pharmacy is conducted in the most careful manner. Try Preston's Sarsaparilla.

Anti-Liquor War in Manchester.

A powerful movement against the liquor dealers of Manchester was begun on Wednesday, April 25th, under the management of a committee of an anti-liquor league of citizens, efficiently backed up by the county solicitor, the sheriff of the county and his deputies, and the city marshal. Numerous warrants were prepared, and early in the forenoon fifteen prominent saloons were visited, an inventory of their contents taken, and the proprietors notified to be in court next morning at nine o'clock. Thirteen other places were raided in the afternoon, and the projectors of the movement declare that it "means business" to the end. Many of the small concerns, on learning what was taking place, rolled their barrels into the the street and knocked in the heads, or gave the contents away by the bucketful to whoever would carry it off. The excitement created was very great.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS.

$22 TO $900. The cabinet organ was introduced in its present form by Mason & Hamlin in 1861. Other makers followed in the manufacture of these instruments; but the Mason & Hamlin Organs have always maintained their supremacy as the best in the world.

Mason & Hamlin offer, as demonstration of the unequalled excellence of their organs, the fact that at all the great World's Exhibitions, since that of Paris, 1867, in competition with best makers of all countries, they have invariably taken the highest honors. Illustrated catalogues free.

PIANOS.

Mason & Hamlin do not hesitate to make the extraordinary claim for their pianos, that they are superior to all GRAND & UPRIGHT pianos. They recognize the high excellence achieved by other makers in the art of piano building, but still claim superiority. This they attribute solely to the remarkable improvement introduced by them in the year 1882, and now known as the "MASON & HAMLIN PIANO STRINGER," by the use of which is secured the greatest possible purity and refinement of tone, together with greatly increased capacity for standing in tune, and other important advantages.

A circular, containing testimonials from three hundred purchasers, musicians and tuners, sent, together with descriptive catalogue, to any applicant.

Queer Fits and Starts.

The fits and starts—using these words in their literal meaning—of the nervous people often strike the beholder as ludicrous. The nerves of hearing of such unfortunates are painfully acute, and impinged by abrupt, unexpected noises, lead them sometimes to perform antics worthy of a jumping-jack. At the root of nervousness, in most instances, is assimilation of the food, and consequently inanition of the nerves as of the other tissues of the body. This prolonged is, of course, productive of serious nervous disease. The remedy is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, that invigorates the stomach and enables it to perform its functions properly. Soon after commencing a course of it, it will be found that the nerves grow more tranquil by day, nightly repose becomes less interrupted, and appetite more vigorous and satisfying. These are the initial indications, followed by the complete restoration of nervous vigor. The bitters also cure fever and ague, liver complaint and constipation.

W. Irving Bishop, the noted mind reader, is now an inmate of a private asylum in San Francisco. He went to California several months ago, and then appeared to be partly demented. He gave exhibitions throughout the state until his nervous prostration compelled him to go to a sanitarium, where he will probably be compelled to remain for several months.

As its name proves—it is soothing, pain-allaying and the best on earth—the Hop Plaster.

Rt. Rev. Leon Bouland, a distinguished French priest, traveller and historian, has renounced his allegiance to the Roman Catholic hierarchy, and applied for admission to the Episcopal church.

"A Wonder of Medical Science," may well be applied to Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. It is nearly half a century since this remarkable remedy was introduced to the public, and yet the immediate and enviable reputation which it gained by its wonderful cures of coughs, influenza, consumption, and all bronchial complaints, is to this day fully sustained.

The pope will shortly issue an edict strongly condemning boycotting and the Irish "plan of campaign." At least that is the story.

They make one feel as though life was worth living. Take one of Carter's Little Liver Pills after eating; it will relieve dyspepsia, aid digestion, give tone and vigor to the system.

The Atlantic Machine Works, East Boston were burned April 26th; loss $150,000. The foreman of the pattern room was fatally injured.

To be free from sick headache, biliousness, constipation, etc., use Carter's Little Liver Pills. Strictly vegetable. They gently stimulate the liver and free the stomach from bile.

The people of Vanceboro, Me., complain to the fish and game commissioners that Canadian trout fishermen have been encroaching on American ground, and illegally netting trout.

What a Pity

That so many otherwise attractive, polite, and particular people afflict their friends by the foul and disagreeable odor of their breath; it is mainly caused by disordered digestion, and can be corrected by removing the cause, by using that pure medicine, Sulphur Bitters.—Health Magazine.

Fortunate Lumber Camp Ticket Holders.

Some months ago a party working in the lumber camp of Wm. Coach, on the Sturgeon river, ordered 31 tenth tickets in The Louisiana State Lottery. One of these was a tenth of ticket No. 71,575, which won the first prize of $150,000, in the drawing of the 7th of Feb., giving the handsome sum of $15,000 to be divided. There were sixteen in the club, the tickets being sent to Geo J Johnson of Baraga. Three of the holders were of one family, being John Bodwein, his wife and child, who thus secures a good share.—L'Anse (Mich.) Sentinel, March 31.

The Population of Portsmouth

is about 15,000, and we would say at least one-half are troubled with some affection of the throat and lungs, as those complaints are, according to statistics, more numerous than others. We would advise all our readers not to neglect the opportunity to call on their druggist and get a bottle of Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs. Trial size free. Large bottles 50c and $1. Sold by all druggists. my25

"IT WAS INHERITED."

The Fearful Effect of Heredity Upon the Lives of Men and Women—A Striking Case.

"The man or woman does not live who is free from hereditary influences." This remark was made by the celebrated Dr. Vanderville, of New York, to the Rev. Dr. Brooks, at a recent convention of scientists. "I agree with you, doctor," said the divine.

"Pure blood," continued the doctor, "is the great cause of health; impaired blood the source of most diseases. It may even go back to the grand or great grand parents."

"I have in mind a prominent man," said the reverend gentleman, "General Alfred C. Monroe, of No. 1 Pemberton Square, Boston. He inherited kidney troubles from both parents, one of whom died with it. He suffered terribly from pains in the back and head, and at times when walking the dizziness became so bad that he was compelled to lay hold of some convenient post for support. He was in a most desperate condition."

"And is he so still?" asked the doctor.

"No, he is in perfect health. Dr. McGregor, I believe of Maine, who had amputated an arm for the general, cured him."

"Do you know what medicine he used?"

"I understand it was Hunt's Remedy."

"Oh, Hunt's Remedy. I know it very well," said Dr. Vanderville. "I consider it the best remedy for kidney, liver, heart troubles, and female difficulties in the world. It is in no sense a patent medicine, but a standard remedy, which deserves to be used by all intelligent people. The fact is, no blood-taint can exist when the kidneys are in perfect order, and there is where Hunt's Remedy shows its marvelous superiority."

"I only wish," said Rev. Dr. Brooks, "that all people who inherit a tendency to disease could know of this remedy of which you speak so highly and use it. I am positive it would greatly lessen suffering and death."

OH, WHAT A COLD!

This is the season for sudden changes in the weather, and a great many "take cold" either in their Head or on their Lungs, causing Coughs, Hoarseness, and Sore Throat. These troubles can be soon relieved and cured by taking Ingalls' Throat and Lung Specific, which acts directly on the Throat and Lungs, entirely removing these difficulties.

Cured his boy of Croup.

C. M. BROOKS, Lowell, Mass., says: "I take great pleasure in recommending Ingalls' Throat and Lung Specific as a cure for Coughs, Colds, and Croup. I used it in my family last winter with the best results. Two or three doses cured my little boy of Croup, for which I am very thankful."

You can cure that Cough in a short time. You can cure your Catarrh if you persist in its use, as it will stop the secretion of Catarrhal matter in the head; it will relieve Croup in from three to five minutes.

The best he ever saw.

"The best medicine for Coughs and Consumptive Complaints that ever I saw is Ingalls' Throat and Lung Specific," so says JOHN MCLAUGHLIN, of Boston.

Ingalls' Throat and Lung Specific is sold by all Druggists. Price 50 cents and $1. Prepared only by the INGALLS MEDICAL CO., Lowell, Mass.

Republican Conventions.

CONCORD, N. H., March 31st, 1888.

In accordance with the vote passed at the recent meeting of the Republican State Committee, conventions for the choice of delegates to the National Republican Convention at Chicago, on the 19th of June next, will be held as follows:

State Convention, for the choice of four delegates-at-large and four alternates, at White's Opera house, Concord, on Tuesday, May 8th, at eleven A. M.

First Congressional District Convention, for the choice of two delegates and two alternates, at White's Opera house, Concord, on Tuesday, May 8th, at 2 P. M., or immediately upon the adjournment of the State Convention.

Second Congressional District Convention, for the choice of two delegates and two alternates, at Phenix hall, Concord, on Tuesday, May 8th, at 2 P. M., or immediately upon the adjournment of the State Convention.

Classed towns, and such towns and wards as are entitled to pro-rata representation in the General Court, will each send one delegate to the State and District conventions, and all other towns and wards will be entitled to twice as many delegates as they have representatives.

The same delegates may represent their towns and wards in the State and District conventions, if properly accredited thereto, or different sets of delegates may be sent to the State and District conventions.

The caucuses should be notified sufficiently early and in such manner that the voters will know about them and have an opportunity to attend.

It is desirable that all voters, without regard to past political differences, who are now in favor of elevating and dignifying American labor, protecting home industries from ruinous foreign competition, restricting the influence of the saloon, giving free and popular education to the masses of the people, establishing a liberal system of pensions for Union soldiers, extending the commercial interests of the Nation by a liberal system of appropriations to American steamship lines, especially those engaged in the transportation of our foreign mails, securing free suffrage and an honest count of the ballot, and elevating and protecting human rights in every section of our common country, should be invited to participate in these preliminary gatherings, to the end that no voter now in sympathy with the fundamental principles of the Republican party may feel that he has been overlooked or slighted.

Arrangements have been perfected with the railroads of the state for the transportation of the delegates to the several conventions at the uniform rate of two cents per mile each way. Delegates should be careful to call attention to this when they purchase their tickets.

A meeting of the State Committee and delegates will be held in Phenix hall, Concord, on Monday evening, May 7th, at nine o'clock, to arrange the preliminaries for the State Convention of the succeeding day, after which the question of reorganizing the Republican Clubs throughout the State and also the matter of appointing the times and places for holding the usual State, Congressional, Councillor, and County Conventions will be considered.

The floor of the hall will be reserved for delegates exclusively, and the galleries will be open for spectators. Delegates can receive their tickets of admission by presenting their credentials at the rooms of the Concord Republican Club, Merchants' Block, either on Monday evening or Tuesday morning. As the greatest possible care will be observed in issuing tickets, delegates are requested to call for them in person, and at as early an hour as practicable.

Trusting that the Republicans of the State may at once get themselves in readiness for hard work and a glorious victory in the coming campaign, we are, fraternally,

J. H. GALLINGER,
Chm. Republican State Com.
FRANK D. CURRIER, Secretary.

ADAMSON'S BOTANIC COUGH BALSAM

More than twenty years ago Adamson's Botanic Balsam was introduced generally throughout New England as a remedy for Coughs, Colds and Pulmonary complaints. Since its introduction it has constantly won its way into public favor, until now it is the universal decision that ADAMSON'S BOTANIC BALSAM is the best remedy for curing Coughs, Colds and Asthma.

Notice—Get Your Full Weight!

THIS CARD is intended to call the attention of every housekeeper in the city of Portsmouth and vicinity. The Spring Cleaning time is drawing near, when every housekeeper will have more or less domestic refuse, such as rags and old rubber, and all kinds of old paper stock, to dispose of; every one wants, and ought to have, the best prices of the market, and this can be assured by seeing John O'Brien or his man, as he is about sending out his carts on the different routes, and having made a contract with parties to take all his paper stock, he will be able to pay the best prices of any man outside of Boston. If you do not see O'Brien's teams, drop a postal card to "John O'Brien, No. 1 Holmes Court," and prompt attention will be paid to the same.

N. B. Beware of unprincipled men; they will call and weigh your rags, and give you about one-half of what they really weigh. My attention has been called to six different cases of late where parties got rags in that way and the housekeeper took them back again. Weigh all your rags, and catch dishonest dealers. What I say to one I say to all—"Weigh your rags." Why should you sell your rags for ½ cent when you can get 1 cent per lb. for colored rags, 3½ cents for white, and 3 cents per lb. for your old rubber. You can get these prices by seeing John O'Brien, cash or trade. If you should enter a grocery store and call for a bag of flour, and found it four or five pounds short, you would think that was not right; and why should you not have your weight in your bag of rags? I say to you again, weigh your rags, for me, and for all.

The reason why Solomon said, that there was nothing new under the sun, was that he could not buy a good remedy to cure his stubborn cold. Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup had not been compounded then. It has long since proved itself to be the great benefaction of the nineteenth century.

In chronic cases of neuralgia, rheumatism, or gout, where the disturbing cause is a certain acid which poisons the blood, Salvation Oil should be used according to directions. This powerful pain-destroyer will in time dissolve the poison circulating in the blood, and bring relief when all others fail. Salvation Oil kills pain, and is only twenty-five cents a bottle.

"Well John, how d'e do? Long time since I saw you. You're looking remarkably hale and hearty." "Yes, my health is excellent now; but you are not looking as well as when I saw you last. What is the matter? You look—pardon me,—really cadaverous." "I know it. I have liver complaint and jaundice of the worst kind, and I cannot find anything to help me." "I know just what you need. Ingalls' Mandrake Compound will build you up in a short time. I've tried it and know. Why, man, I was as bad as you six months ago, and now look at me!" "I'll get some before I go home. A Great Battle

Is continually going on in the human system. The demon of impure blood strives to gain victory over the constitution, to ruin health, to drag victims to the grave. A good reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla is the weapon with which to defend one's self, drive the desperate enemy from the field, and restore peace and bodily health for many years. Try this peculiar medicine.

Hon. C. A. Boutelle, member of Congress from the fourth district of Maine, was on April 25th renominated by acclamation.

The exhausted and drowsy feelings, common to spring time, indicate an impure and sluggish condition of the blood, which may be remedied by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It is the most powerful, and, at the same time, most economical blood purifier known.

OUR HOME.

Home is one of the sweetest of words, and home ever should be the dearest place on earth; but how many homes are made miserable in this fast age, with its follies and extravagances. How many men provide abundantly for their families, and have wives who care little about saving what the husband has worked so hard for. If we waste not, we never need fear want. We believe in Women's Relief Corps and other societies of benefit, but does not charity begin at home? to look after the interests of our husbands, that they may have money enough to pay their debts, and not ever feel crushed as they go through life? Many men with large salaries and small families are unable to save a dollar. Now what is there to encourage them? They see that their wives spend money foolishly, and sorrow is depicted in every feature as they toil each day, hoping to realize a competence. If wives were willing to work with their heads as well as hands, this state of things would not exist. We want our husbands to live well each day, and why should not our table be just as carefully and neatly set for our families as for our guests? Give our husbands and fathers a plenty of well cooked food, a plenty of clean, well kept clothing; have our homes neat and in good case; see that they receive the attention they expect and deserve from us and the children, and they will not feel they labor in vain. The age demands our greatest zeal for the right, and a strong will power helps to accomplish much. Good planning is better than hard work. Some women are like pendulums, always on the go, and their homes—what are they like? Their husbands are of little account, only a sort of tool by which they get spending money; they care not to look well to the ways of their household, neither care for home comforts. Some women talk much about their husbands' life insurance, as if, because he has kindly provided for them after death, it is no matter how much he is tortured in financial affairs while living.

She who begins to climb the hill of fortune with the husband of her choice is a noble woman. We need to take hold of the rope on the same side with him, other wise we are constantly pulling him back. Much lies in our planning, as to whether his earnings are properly used. Reform is the order of the day, and shall we not unite our forces to have it well carried out? Let us free our husbands from debt by saving in the household; this can be done by our efforts. Some say they have no taste or tact, and cannot do this or that. Kind lady, are there not scores of self-made men in our country, and shall we allow them to eclipse us in this direction? Did any one ever attain eminence without strong effort? If we fail to do all in our power for our families, we misuse the design for which we were created as helpmates. In the past we have not only abused our husbands but our own intellects. The true lady will preside over her well-kept home like a queen; nothing wrong will escape her keen eye, and all her tact, energy and will be set in motion to make it right. The intelligent housekeeper will ever be studying, when doing one kind of work, how to do the next piece of work to the best advantage.

The young Miss of this age thinks she must have a beautiful home ere she will marry any young man; but novelty is said to be the parent of pleasure, and by a young couple much is enjoyed in making their home. Some mothers advise their daughters to choose the son of a rich man. Ah! fond mother, why not let Cupid's arrow rest where nature designed, if you value the future happiness of your child? Many who begin at the top round soon find themselves descending, and pleasure's cup oftimes has dregs that we must drink long afterwards. While the charities that soothe and heal are scattered at our feet like flowers, it is needful that we as wives and mothers think and work in the right way; help our husbands to bear life's heavy burden more than we have in the past. Life is too short to be trifling. The times demand useful labor. We can ever in many ways be doing good, for "beautiful hands are they that do the work of the noble, good and true; beautiful feet are they that go swiftly to lighten another's woe,"—and may we each at the close of this year feel that we have achieved some good results in this way of working for home interests. A WIFE.

HAMPTON, N. H., April 24th.

—Small boy to his big sister—"Edith, do you know why I think you are like a cat that has fallen into a hogshead of molasses?" Edith—"Because I'm so sweet?" Small boy—"No, but because you're so stuck up."

"Did n't know 't was Loaded"

May do for a stupid boy's excuse; but what can be said for the parent who sees his child languishing daily and fails to recognize the want of a tonic and blood-purifier? Formerly, a course of bitters, or sulphur and molasses, was the rule in well-regulated families; but now all intelligent households keep Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which is at once pleasant to the taste, and the most searching and effective blood medicine ever discovered.

Nathan S. Cleveland, 27 E. Canton st., Boston, writes: "My daughter, now 21 years old, was in perfect health until a year ago when she began to complain of fatigue, headache, debility, dizziness, indigestion, and loss of appetite. I concluded that all her complaints originated in impure blood, and induced her to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine soon restored her blood-making organs to healthy action, and in due time reestablished her former health. I find Ayer's Sarsaparilla a most valuable remedy for the lassitude and debility incident to spring time."

J. Castright, Brooklyn Power Co., Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "As a Spring Medicine, I find a splendid substitute for the old-time compounds in Ayer's Sarsaparilla, with a few doses of Ayer's Pills. After their use, I feel fresher and stronger to go through the summer."

Spring Medicine

Hood's Sarsaparilla is the most popular and successful Spring Medicine.

Nearly every body needs a reliable spring medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla to expel the impurities which have accumulated in the blood during the winter, to keep up strength as the warm weather comes on, create an appetite and promote healthy digestion. Try Hood's Sarsaparilla this spring and you will be convinced that it does possess superior and peculiar merit.

A Good Appetite

"When I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I was dizzy in the morning, had a headache, and no appetite; but now I can hardly get enough cooked to eat." EMMA SHEPARD, 1 Coral Street, Worcester, Mass.

"Last spring my whole family took Hood's Sarsaparilla. The result is that all have been cured of scrofula, my little boy being entirely free from sores, and all four of my children look bright and healthy as possibly can be. I have found Hood's Sarsaparilla good for catarrh." WM. B. ATHERTON, Passaic City, N. J.

Be Sure to Get Hood's

Sarsaparilla, my child. See that they do not give you anything else. You remember it is the medicine which did mama so much good a year ago—so reliable, beneficial, pleasant to take—my favorite spring medicine.

GRAND SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

— TO THE —

People of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont.

The Atkinson House Furnishing Co., having completed their purchases for

THIS SPRING'S STOCK,

respectfully request a call from all those interested in the Furnishing and Beautifying their Homes. And we would further request that those near our Bangor Store, located on Union street, opposite the Bangor House, should call on our Manager, MR. A. J. MOREY. And those living on the line of the Knox & Lincoln R. R., in the vicinity of Rockland, we would respectfully request to call at our Store on Main street, formerly the old Linde Hotel, MR. W. A. KIMBALL, manager. And again, to those who are nearest our Auburn Store, located on Main street, MR. J. J. EMERSON the Manager, will attend to your every want in House Furnishings. And to those living at Kennebunk, Kennebunkport and Old Orchard, and towns adjacent to Biddeford, we would respectfully request them to call at our Store at the Corner of Alfred and Bacon streets, MR. HENRY P. ATKINSON, Manager. While to those who prefer to select from our Mammoth Stock, we would say come to our Store and Headquarters at the

Cor. of Middle and Pearl Streets.

In each of these Stores we carry complete lines of furnishings which we will sell for cash, or a quarter cash, and the balance by the week or month. Of course we prefer to make cash sales when we can, but at the same time it has always been our aim and object to satisfy everyone of our customers to the uttermost, whether they wished to buy for cash or otherwise. This is the House Cleaning season of the year. Old Carpets must give place to New, Old Chamber Sets should be replaced by those of later design. Parlor Suits that have been in use for some time are often moved into the sitting room, making room for the new Parlor Suit. That Range that you have been using for many years, perhaps takes more coal to run it to get the desired work from it than a new one would, consequently making you a loss every day. Now we will sell you from the very largest stocks at Lowest Prices than you can buy elsewhere, and we will sell them to you for cash or a quarter cash, and the balance by the week or month. Write for samples.

CARPETS,

Chamber Sets

We have an enormous quantity in each of our Stores. Ask your neighbors who have seen them, and they will testify to our almost endless variety, and we will Sell you Cheaper than you can buy elsewhere. We mean what we say, for all cash, quarter cash, or balance by the week or month. Write us for cuts, photographs and prices. Orders through the mail promptly attended to.

Parlor Suits

In all the Stores in Endless Variety, and a stock of 356 full Suits at our Headquarters. Prices from $31 to $400, all cash, or quarter cash, and balance by the week or month. Write us for photographs, cuts and prices.

KITCHEN RANGES

In all our Stores you will find the Quaker, New Tariff and First National, besides a host of others, but to those who wish a good range we recommend the Quaker and the New Tariff; also the First National, for a lower priced one. We have them all the way up to $50, and we sell you a range for cash, or for $10 down and the balance by the week or month. Do not delay ordering. We would rather have the range in your house than in our store house, and let you take your time to pay for it.

Window Shades and Drapery Curtains.

Lace Curtains all prices, kinds, qualities and styles. And everything to completely furnish a House, Hotel, Cottage, Church, Lodge Room or Club Room. Write us for cuts, catalogues and prices. And please do not forget that we handle the

Baldwin Refrigerator and Ice Chests,

besides other makes and kinds, but we prefer to sell the BALDWIN, as it has the Biggest Reputation of any Ice Chest or Refrigerator in the Market.

Write us for Cuts, Catalogues and Prices of this Celebrated Refrigerator, and do not delay buying because hot weather will be upon us, and you will regret it. And please remember that MR. MOREY, manager of the Bangor store; MR. KIMBALL, manager of the Rockland store; MR. EMERSON, manager of the Auburn store; and MR. ATKINSON, manager of the Biddeford store, will each show you a complete line of house furnishings and give you the same terms as would be given at the Headquarters at Portland. All goods will be delivered Freight Prepaid at your depot, and at each one of these stores you will receive the most Honorable Treatment Possible To Give A Customer, whether you wish to buy for cash, or part cash, and the balance on time.

Respectfully,
The Public's Obedient Servants,

The Atkinson House Furnishing COMPANY.

Headquarters Cor. Pearl and Middle Sts., Portland, and Branches as above quoted.

☞ Do not pay long prices when you can buy goods from us and save money. It costs you nothing to look, and very little to write. Consequently it is an easy matter to inform yourself.

ISAAC C. ATKINSON, Gen. Manager.

All voters who propose in the coming election to support the nominees of the Republican party, are hereby invited to attend the meeting at the Republican Headquarters, Congress street, on Friday evening, April 27th, at 7:30 o'clock, to take part in the choice of delegates to the several conventions. PER ORDER.

Ward Three Caucus.

The republicans of Ward Three are requested to meet at the Spalding schoolhouse on Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock, to elect delegates to the state and congressional conventions. PER ORDER.

Ward Two Caucus.

The Republicans of ward two, including all who propose to support the republican nominations in the coming elections, are hereby notified to meet at Republican Headquarters, Congress street, Saturday evening, April 28th, to choose delegates to the State and Congressional conventions. PER ORDER.

The Cigarette Did It.

The ancient cemetrey at Point of Graves was burned over on Thursday. A woman lighted a cigarette and threw down the burning match, which quickly caused a lively blaze in the dry grass. The neighbors turned out and kept the fire from catching the wooden fences, but it ran over nearly the whole of the cemetery, and burned over the bank on the outside of the street wall. Much damage must have been done to the old gravestones in the cemetery, the heat being intense while it lasted.

Fire.

A barn on Ex-Alderman John W. Caswell's place on Lafayette road took fire early Thursday evening, April 26th, and was destroyed with all its contents, including a heifer and a colt. The cause of the fire is unknown. The barn was a small affair, located a considerable distance from the main buildings.

Another Fire.

At twenty minutes to twelve o'clock Thursday night, an alarm of fire was pulled in from Box 58, at the police station, caused by a fire in the barn of John Conlon on Penhallow street. In four minutes after the first stroke of the alarm a hose carriage passed over the Parade, and in just six minutes engine No. 3 took her station at the Market square reservoir. A few minutes later No. 2 took her station at Spring market, and No. 4 was also quickly at work, playing a good stream from the Hanover street reservoir through 1500 feet of hose. The whole department turned out with most commendable promptitude, and the fire, which was bursting through the roof when the alarm was given, was soon under control. Three horses and about 150 barrels of potatoes were safely removed from the lower floor of the building, and a young man named Warren Craddock, aided by the agent of the anti-cruelty society and another man, got out two pigs from the basement. The upper and rear parts of the barn were much burned, and the hay in the loft was turned into a sort of cooked ensilage. The loss is probably between four and five hundred dollars.

Matrimonial.

Mr. Cornelius Reagan and Miss Mary Carroll of this city were on Thursday morning of this week united in matrimony at the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Rev. E. M. O'Callaghan officiating; Miss Ellen Reagan of Boston, sister of the groom, acted as bridesmaid, and Mr. Patrick Hennessey of this city as groomsman.

Mr. Reagan is an efficient member of the city police force, and in the early evening the city marshal, assistant marshals and night watch called by invitation at the new home of Mr. Reagan and wife on Russell street, where they were royally entertained by the newly wedded pair, with whom on departing they left their best wishes for enduring happiness in their new relation.

May Parties.

The ladies of the Children's Home Sewing circle will give a May Festival in aid of the Home on Tuesday, May 1st, in Franklin theatre and Franklin hall. The entertainment in the theatre will consist of tableaux, vocal music by Miss Hayes and the Orpheus club, four scenes from "Faust" and one from "the Mikado," and "The Congress of Nations" as a finale; instrumental music by the Music hall orchestra, A. N. Labrie director. After the entertainment in the theatre Franklin hall will be opened for dancing until twelve o'clock, and ice cream and cake will be for sale. One ticket, price thirty-five cents, will admit to both theatre and hall, being shown at the entrance to the theatre, but not given up there; doors open at 7:30; theatre performance at 8:00; tickets at the theatre office.

At the May party to be given by the Nonpareil Associates on the evening of May 2d, the new Flute & Drum band, Abraham Kay leader, will perform a choice programme, consisting of a piccolo solo by Mr. Kay; a serenade, "Babies on the block," piccolo and bass; quickstep, march, medley (Land League Band,) and national hymn, by the full band.

Arbor Day at the High School.

The graduating class of the Portsmouth high school has arranged a pleasing programme for the observance of Arbor day, Saturday, April 28th. The following is the order of the exercises, commencing at ten o'clock:

Oration, by I. H. Washburne, Jr.;
Original poem, Miss Norah Gerrish;
Song, written by Miss Mabel Cotton;
Planting of a maple tree in the school yard;
Refreshments, consisting of cake and lemonade.

The observance will be strictly a class affair, and the only invited guests are the present teachers of the school and the two former assistants, Miss Hooper and Miss Flagg.

Portsmouth Amateur Orchestra.

An orchestra of the young violin pupils of Mr. B. F. Jenness, and several other young musicians, was organized on Friday, April 20th, at the home of one of the violinists, the membership being as follows: Director, James Conlon; pianist, Charles P. Moat; drummer, Harry B. Prior; fifer, Peter Emery; violinists, Edward P. Kimball, Dudley Carpenter, John Tobey, Willie Taylor and Fred B. Sides.

The ages of the members of the Portsmouth Amateur Orchestra range from ten to fifteen years.

To Housekeepers.

The time of year is at hand when it is customary to take up carpets, clean paint, and thoroughly prepare the house for the summer season. Let us suggest that you sprinkle a small quantity of Preston's Insect Powder under the carpet; it would be a wonderful preventive against moths, and for packing away winter clothing is preferred by many to camphor. Then if you pour a few teaspoonfuls of Preston's Family Amonia in a gallon of water, and clean with this your paint, we are sure you will be gratified with the result.

Base Ball.

At Washington, April 25th, Boston beat Washington, one to nothing, in eleven innings. Philadelphia beat New York, five to three, at New York.

At Exeter, April 25th, the Exeter club defeated Harvard, fifteen to nine. At Manchester the home club defeated the Hamiltons, twenty-four to three.

Personal.

Storer E. Stiles of this city has been granted a pension.

Mr. Fred Hasty of this city is passing several weeks in Dover on a visit to his brother.

Mrs. Arthur W. Walker of Middle street leaves this week for Elyria, Ohio, to pass the month of May with her parents, Mr. Parks Foster and wife.

Mr. Wm. D. Grace and wife arrived home on Wednesday evening, April 25th, from their wedding tour, and have taken up their residence on Richards avenue.

Maritime Notes.

The steamer Pinafore started from this port on Thursday morning, April 26th, at three o'clock, having in tow a scow with sixty tons of coal. She returned before noon, and went out again in the afternoon with another coal-laden scow.

The big schooner John F. Merrow, Nickerson master, which has landed thousands of tons of coal at this port during the past four or five years, will probably never come here again. She sailed from Baltimore for Boston on March 7th, and was seen off Shinnecock, Long Island, March 17th, during the blizzard, and has not since been heard from; she undoubtedly went to the bottom with all hands.

At Music hall, to-morrow evening, the ever popular actress Maggie Mitchell will appear in her new drama "Ray." This play is a sketch of Western life, but is not rough, and the dislogue and construction are the best of any piece she has played in of late years. Like most plays of this kind the heroine is at first poor but finishes up in silks and satins, but the treatment is not at all conventional. The advance sale of tickets at Goodrich's has been large, and the house will no doubt be filled.

House No. 64 Islington street was sold by auction on Thursday, the 26th inst., to Mr. Justin V. Hanscom, for $3950.

Maragaret Mather gave a most pleasing rendition of Rosalind in "As You Like It" at Music hall on Wednesday evening, the 25th inst., and was excellently supported by Mrs. Sol Smith, Milnes Levick and Frederick Paulding. The beautiful comedy was finely presented all through.

Mr. J. C. Carr will temporarily conduct his boot and shoe business in the store near his former stand, for some years known as the "five and ten cent store."

Antoine Darticos, an architect of Portland, Me., has just completed plans for four cottages to be built at Foss' beach, Rye.

The funeral of the late John B. Downs, the last native-born Gosporter to retain a residence at the Isles of Shoals, took place Thursday afternoon, April 26th, from the residence of his son John O. Downs, on Daniel street, this city, and was attended by a great number of relatives and friends, many of them from other places.

The republicans of ward one and three are reminded that their delegate caucuses are called for this evening; notification elsewhere.

Parties having for sale stone suitable for crushing, should read the city's notice in another column.

The statute gave the district attorney the same instructions long ago.

A mad dog on Baxter street, New York, April 23d, created havoc among the pedestrians, and before he was killed by a policeman had bitten four women, who are in great terror lest hydrophobia should set in. The wounds were dressed and the women sent down to Bellevue Hospital.

Concord had a $3000 fire in Chase's new block on Main street, on the night of April 24th.

The Boston & Albany railroad took an emigrant train out April 24th, that carried 900 passengers, all bound for Chicago. They came on the steamer Catalonia from Liverpool. The train that took them west was made up of twenty-three cars, was drawn by two engines, and each car bore the inscription: "Cunard Line; Liverpool via Boston to Chicago." This is the heaviest emigrant train that ever went out of Boston.

At Mobile, Ala., April 23d, there was a remarkably heavy fall of rain, 2.47 inches. It was accompanied by a fall of large hailstones, causing much damage to fruit tress and vegetables. The streets were flooded and many buildings damaged by the overflow. Almost every skylight in the city was riddled.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS.

The eminent organ was introduced in 18[illegible] present form by Mason & Hamlin in 1861. Other makers followed in the manufacture $22 TO $900. in these instruments, but the Mason & Hamlin Organs have always maintained their supremacy as the best in the world.

Mason & Hamlin offer, as demonstration of the unequalled excellence of their organs, the fact that at all the great World's Exhibitions, since that of Paris, 1867, in competition with best makers of all countries, they have invariably taken the highest honors. Illustrated catalogues free.

PIANOS

Mason & Hamlin do not hesitate to make the extraordinary claim for their pianos, GRAND & UPRIGHT, that they are superior to all others. They recognize the high excellence achieved by other leading makers in the art of piano building, but still claim superiority. This they attribute solely to the remarkable improvement introduced by them in the year 1882, and now known as the "MASON & HAMLIN PIANO SUPENGER," by the use of which is secured the greatest possible purity and refinement of tone, together with greatly increased capacity for standing in tune, and other important advantages.

A circular, containing testimonials from three hundred purchasers, musicians and tuners, sent, together with descriptive catalogue, to any applicant.

Portsmouth Republican Club.

The following is the constitution adopted by the recently organized Republican Club of this city:

ARTICLE I.—NAME AND OBJECT.

Section 1. The name of this organization shall be the REPUBLICAN CLUB of Portsmouth, New Hampshire.

Section 2. The object and purpose of this club shall be to strengthen the republican party organization, and promote by all legitimate agencies the success of the republican party and its candidates, thereby exerting the most potent influence in behalf of good government.

Section 3. This club shall not be used in any way to further the interest of any candidate for office previous to nomination, but shall reserve its force to be exerted in behalf of all candidates nominated by republican conventions.

ARTICLE II.—MEMBERSHIP.

Any person over eighteen years of age who is a republican, and in hearty sympathy with the principles of the republican party and a supporter of its candidates, shall be eligible to membership in this club.

ARTICLE III.—OFFICERS.

The officers of this club shall be a president, three vice presidents from each ward, a corresponding secretary, a recording secretary, a treasurer, and an executive committee of fifteen, consisting of three from each ward, and the president, corresponding secretary and treasurer as members ex officio. All officers shall be members of the club, and shall be elected by ballot at such time as may be prescribed in the by-laws.

ARTICLE IV. — MEETINGS, QUORUMS, ETC.

Section 1. The regular meetings of this club shall be held at the headquarters on Congress street, on the second and fourth Mondays in each month.

Section 2. Fifteen members shall constitute a quorum at any regular or duly called special meeting of the club.

ARTICLE V. — BY-LAWS, RESOLUTIONS, AMENDMENTS, ETC.

Section 1. All by-laws and resolutions of this club shall require a majority vote of the members present at any regular meeting for their adoption.

Section 2. Amendments to this constitution shall only be made upon previous notice of two weeks in writing, and shall require for their adoption an affirmative vote of two-thirds of the members present at a regular meeting. Provided, that no amendment shall at any time be made that will conflict with the provisions of the constitution of the Republican League of the United States, or the Republican League of the State of New Hampshire.

ARTICLE VI.

This club shall become and be a member of the Republican League of the State of New Hampshire, and be in all things subordinate thereto.

W. A. Daniels of Bath, Steuben county, N. Y., was, in 1863, in charge of a wagon train on one of the roads in the historic Wilderness. The forest was in flames, and Charles W. Davidson, a boy of seventeen, lay wounded on the ground in danger of immediate death by fire. Against orders and at the risk of his liberty, and perhaps life, Daniels placed the boy upon a wagon and carried him to Fredericksburg. Davidson lived to become a rich man, while Daniels lived almost in poverty at Bath, making a small income as a painter. He always refused the pecuniary aid offered him by Davidson. The latter recently died in Chicago, however, and left a fortune of $150,000 to Daniels.

Every nervous person should try Carter's Little Nerve Pills. They are made specially for nervous and dyspeptic men and women, and are just the medicine needed by all persons who, from any cause, do not sleep well, or who fail to get proper strength from their food. Cases of weak stomach, indigestion, dyspepsia, nervous and sick headache, &c., readily yield to the use of the Little Nerve Pills. In vials at 25 cents.

A Scientific Benefactor.

If a benefactor be one who "makes two blades of grass grow where but one grew before," he certainly is a benefactor who makes one hour do the service of five or six. And this is precisely what Professor A. Loisette, 237 Fifth Ave., New York, does with his marvelous system of memory development. He makes bad memories good and good ones better. He is a scientific benefactor. Write for his prospectus.

Queer Fits and Starts.

The fits and starts—using these words in their literal meaning—of the nervous people often strike the beholder as ludicrous. The nerves of hearing of such unfortunates are painfully acute, and impinged by abrupt, unexpected noises, lead them sometimes to perform antics worthy of a jumping-jack. At the root of nervousness, in most instances, is assimilation of the food, and consequently innutrition of the nerves as of the other tissues of the body. This prolonged is, of course, productive of serious nervous disease. The remedy is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, that invigorates the stomach and enables it to perform its functions properly. Soon after commencing a course of it, it will be found that the nerves grow more tranquil by day, nightly repose becomes less interrupted, and appetite more vigorous and satisfying. These are the initial indications, followed by the complete restoration of nervous vigor. The bitters also cure fever and ague, liver complaint and constipation.

"A Wonder of Medical Science," may well be applied to Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. What a Pity

That so many otherwise attractive, polite, and particular people afflict their friends by the foul and disagreeable odor of their breath; it is mainly caused by disordered digestion, and can be corrected by removing the cause, by using that pure medicine, Sulphur Bitters.—Health Magazine.

Fortunate Lumber Camp Ticket Holders.

Some months ago a party working in the lumber camps of Fish Creek, on the Saskatchewan River, purchased twelve tickets in The Louisiana State Lottery. One of these was a tenth of ticket No. 71,575, which won the first prize of $150,000, in the drawing of the 7th of Feb., giving the handsome sum of $15,000 to be divided. There were sixteen in the club, the tickets being sent to Geo J. Johnson of Baraga. Three of the holders were of one family, being John Rodwein, his wife and child, who thus secures a good share.—L'Anse (Mich.) Sentinel, March 3d.

PURIFY YOUR BLOOD.

Impurities in the blood produce diseases. Bodily and mental health depend upon a healthy condition of the blood. The blood, particularly in the spring and during the hot summer months, becomes clogged with impurities, which poison it, and generate disease. A harmless blood purifier, without a particle of mineral poison in it, such as mercury or potash, is necessary to remove these impurities and to restore the healthy tone of mind and body. The best purifier and tonic known to the world is Swift's Specific (S.S.S.). In regard to its wonderful purifying and tonic powers we give a few testimonials as follows:

Mr. Wm. A. Siebold, with Geo. P. Rowell & Co., 10 Spruce Street, New York, writes March 7th, 1887: "I feel it my duty, for the benefit of others who may be afflicted as I was, to write you this letter, which you can use as my testimony in any way you choose. I will answer any inquiry from others in relation to the facts herewith stated. In February last I suffered great pain and inconvenience from boils, all over my neck; I could not turn my head without acute pain and my blood was in poor condition. After trying all the usual remedies in such cases, and finding no relief, by the persuasion of Mr. J. W. Fears, Manager of your New York Office, I used one bottle S. S. S., and I improved rapidly and very soon I was entirely relieved of my "Job's Comforters." Now not a sign of my affliction can be seen. I feel strong and cheerful. S. S. S. is a fine tonic as proved in my case. I sleep soundly and my appetite is good.

Dr. J. N. Cheney, a well-known physician writes from Ellaville, Georgia: "I use S. S. S. in convalescent fever cases with the best results. It will, in my judgment, prevent summer dysentery, if one will take a few bottles in the spring, thus preparing the bowels for the strains of summer."

Mrs. Scott Liston, 116 Zane street (Island), Wheeling, West Virginia, writes: "Having used S. S. S. for the blood, I can safely say that it beats anything I have used to cleanse the blood and make a new being out of a person."

Mr. M. S. Hamlin, Winston, N. C., writes: "I use it every spring. It always builds me up, giving me appetite and digestion, and enabling me to stand the long, trying, enervating hot summer days. On using it I soon become strong of body and easy of mind."

Republican Conventions.

CONCORD, N. H., March 31st, 1888.

In accordance with the vote passed at the recent meeting of the Republican State Committee, conventions for the choice of delegates to the National Republican Convention at Chicago, on the 19th of June next, will be held as follows:

State Convention, for the choice of four delegates-at-large and four alternates, at White's Opera house, Concord, on Tuesday, May 8th, at eleven A. M.

First Congressional District Convention, for the choice of two delegates and two alternates, at White's Opera house, Concord, on Tuesday, May 8th, at 2 P. M., or immediately upon the adjournment of the State Convention.

Second Congressional District Convention, for the choice of two delegates and two alternates, at Phenix hall, Concord, on Tuesday, May 8th, at 2 P. M., or immediately upon the adjournment of the State Convention.

Classed towns, and such towns and wards as are entitled to pro-rata representation in the General Court, will each send one delegate to the State and District conventions, and all other towns and wards will be entitled to twice as many delegates as they have representatives.

The same delegates may represent their towns and wards in the State and District conventions, if properly accredited thereto, or different sets of delegates may be sent to the State and District conventions.

The caucuses should be notified sufficiently early and in such manner that the voters will know about them and have an opportunity to attend.

It is desirable that all voters, without regard to past political differences, who are now in favor of elevating and dignifying American labor, protecting home industries from ruinous foreign competition, restricting the influence of the saloon, giving free and popular education to the masses of the people, establishing a liberal system of pensions for Union soldiers, extending the commercial interests of the Nation by a liberal system of appropriations to American steamship lines, especially those engaged in the transportation of our foreign mails, securing free suffrage and an honest count of the ballot, and elevating and protecting human rights in every section of our common country, should be invited to participate in these preliminary gatherings, to the end that no voter now in sympathy with the fundamental principles of the Republican party may feel that he has been overlooked or slighted.

Arrangements have been perfected with the railroads of the state for the transportation of the delegates to the several conventions at the uniform rate of two cents per mile each way. Delegates should be careful to call attention to this when they purchase their tickets.

A meeting of the State Committee and delegates will be held in Phenix hall, Concord, on Monday evening, May 7th, at nine o'clock, to arrange the preliminaries for the State Convention of the succeeding day, after which the question of reorganizing the Republican Clubs throughout the State and also the matter of appointing the times and places for holding the usual State, Congressional, Councillor, and County Conventions will be considered.

The floor of the hall will be reserved for delegates exclusively, and the galleries will be open for spectators. Delegates can receive their tickets of admission by presenting their credentials at the rooms of the Concord Republican Club, Merchants' Block, either on Monday evening or Tuesday morning. As the greatest possible care will be observed in issuing tickets, delegates are requested to call for them in person, and at as early an hour as practicable.

Trusting that the Republicans of the State may at once get themselves in readiness for hard work and a glorious victory in the coming campaign, we are, fraternally,

J. H. GALLINGER,
